The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will return to page 20 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 1360.

The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1360, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929," approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), giving powers to and imposing duties on the Department of Health in connection with rehabilitation of persons with hearing or speech defects.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate briefly the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I direct the gentleman's attention to page 3 of this bill and ask him if the services there set forth to be performed by the Department of Welfare have heretofore been and presently are exercised by the Department of Public Instruction?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the services at present are under the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Instruction. This bill transfers the functions to the Department of Health.

Mr. STROUP. I stand corrected. It is the Department of Health.

Now, may I ask the gentleman if these are additional services being set up for the Department of Health over and beyond that which the Department of Public Instruction was giving to our citizens?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, these are the same services that are now being performed by the Department of Public Instruction. They, in turn, are being transferred by agreement to the Department of Health. There are no additional functions.

Mr. STROUP. Would the gentleman advise the House the reason for the transfer of this service?

Mr. POLEN. The reason for the transfer is that Public Instruction is of an educational nature, while what they are dealing with under this program is more of a health measure. It was the thinking of both Departments that it properly belongs in the Department of Health rather than the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman advise whether or not some of this health service has been handled under special education instruction?

Mr. POLEN. I think there has been cooperation, Mr. Speaker, but I do not believe it has been handled by the Department of Health.

Mr. STROUP. I note, Mr. Speaker, that the Department of Health has the authority to maintain, administer and operate rehabilitation centers. May I ask the gentleman if this means they will locate additional centers for this type of service?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding they will not, though they will have that authority. They will utilize the present centers and also, where the services are not available at regular centers, they will purchase the services.

Mr. STROUP. May I ask the gentleman if the present centers are in the public schools for this type of work?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding they are not.

Mr. STROUP. May I then ask the gentleman if this transfer of service which is of additional health nature will incur additional costs?

Mr. POLEN. No, Mr. Speaker. If you refer to page 96 of the budget, under Special Services for Pupils you will find that in the 1957-1959 biennium there was an appropriation of $593,332, and under the same Special Services for Pupils under Public Instruction it has been reduced in the proposed budget to $333,347, or a reduction of $259,985, which reflects the transfer of this function from the Department of Public Instruction to the Department of Health.

I might say, however, Mr. Speaker, that the cost of operating the program under the Department of Health, which will be approximately $250,000, was not included in the budget because while Public Instruction eliminated it from their budget due to the fact that this transfer had been worked out, it was not picked up in the budget of the Department of Health, and it will be necessary for us to make an appropriation of $250,000 to the Department of Health, which is against the reduction of $259,985 in the Department of Public Instruction's 1959-1961 budget.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for the lucidity of his explanation. I did not rise to oppose this legislation; I think it is excellent. I thank him again for his explanation, and ask everybody to be in favor of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. DAVIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. DAVIS, A. W. JOHNSON, HELM, ROYER, EWING, McCANN, LOPRESTI, Mrs. VARALLO, Messrs. FILO and ANDREWS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives June 3, 1959.

The sudden death of the Honorable Allen M. Gibson, Assistant Republican Floor Leader of this House of Representatives, at 8:40 P. M., May 25, was the cause of great sorrow to all members of the General Assembly and to the many friends and associates who have long admired his splendid legislative record since he was first elected to the House in 1944 from Warren County.

Mr. Gibson, who had suffered a heart attack within the past three weeks, died in Harrisburg. His presence in this city in spite of his illness was a token of his splendid devotion to the duties of his office. He has long labored to achieve good results by the passage of legislation based on sound concepts of public needs.

Mr. Gibson, who had retired from a successful business career, was known for his kindness and sympathetic attitude towards his fellow men. His calm attitude and courteous manner as well as his humor were points of attraction which often inspired his fellow men to achieve desirable results which would have been lost without his capable and inspirational leadership. His zeal in working for the public good, his lack of selfish interests, and his devotion to the ideals of good government were the foundations upon which he based a long and honorable public career, which will long shine as an example to others seeking public service as a method of contributing to the welfare of the nation, State and community.

Mr. Gibson's interests in addition to his business and legislative careers were centered in the Warren General Hospital, which he formerly served as a director, and membership in the Warren County Council of Boy Scouts, the American Legion, B. P. O. E., Masonic Lodge and Grange. These interests showed his broad sympathies and deep interest in beneficial group activities; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this House of Representatives extend their individual sympathy to Mrs. Allen M. Gibson and to the remaining members of the family of the Honorable Allen M. Gibson, in this, their hour of bereavement; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Allen M. Gibson at her home, 203 Fourth Avenue, Warren.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. STIMMEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. STIMMEL, MIHM, AGNEW, GIBB, DONALDSON, WILT, KAMYK, DEVLIN and FILO offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1959.

On Tuesday night, May 26, 1959, Harvey Haddix, a resident of Shaler Township, Allegheny County, pitched the greatest game ever pitched in organized baseball.

His stalwart efforts as a southpaw pitcher on behalf of the Pittsburgh Pirates in retiring thirty-six consecutive Milwaukee batters constituted twelve innings of perfectly pitched baseball.

This outstanding achievement on the part of Harvey Haddix has won the admiration of the entire sports world, as well as having gained the plaudits and acclaim of all persons who admire fine professional workmanship and delight in seeing an exceptionally fine performance accomplished through excellent effort and ability; therefore be it

Resolved, That all members of this House of Representatives hereby express their pride in the accomplishment of their fellow Pennsylvanian, Harvey Haddix, and extend their hearty congratulations to him as well as stating their sincere hope that he may long continue to give his excellent efforts to the great American national game of baseball.

Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I object to giving this resolution privileged status.

Some time or other the leadership in this House must place some bounds upon the range of resolutions which are presented. We pass resolutions about anybody who does anything in any of the legislative districts, and there are many, many legislative districts. These resolutions are absolutely in derogation of the dignity of this House as a legislative assembly.

There are 67 counties. There are 11 million people. There are probably 9 million of them who, at some time or other, do something of note and we really must some time or other determine the proper bounds of resolution to be given privileged status, which are introduced on the floor of this House. Some of them have been trifling in their statewide significance.

I simply want to voice my protest. Somebody should at some time or other introduce a resolution thanking everybody that does anything in the field of sports for all time to come. They ought to pass one resolution congratulating all the Members on their present birthday and all the birthdays to come; we ought to pass a resolution thanking everybody for everything they are going to do, and call that a day, and confine ourselves to the realm in which we properly should function. Or, have a resolution day sometime, and anybody who wants to thank anybody who knows anything or anybody, function on that day—some Thursday. Everybody get a resolution, just think them up, and if there is any neighbor that you want to pay a compliment to, bring in the resolution.

I object, Mr. Speaker, to giving this resolution privileged status at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution is filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have no further business, except to say that the House will be in session three days next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at the scheduled times.

On Monday of this coming week our newly elected Member from the city of Philadelphia will be sworn in as a Member of this House; the first order of business Monday, following the convening of the House.

There will be a Democratic caucus in the New House Caucus Room at the scheduled time of 2:30 p.m.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CROSSIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 8, 1959 at 3:30 p.m., EST.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN C. MOORE, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Coudersport, offered the following prayer:

Most gracious God and Father, we humbly beseech Thee, as for the people of this Commonwealth in general, so especially for this Senate now in Session, that Thou wouldst be pleased to direct and prosper all their works to the advancement of Thy glory, the safety, honor and welfare of Thy people, that all things may be so ordered and settled by their thoughts and endeavors, upon the best and surest foundations, that truth and justice may be established and sustained among us now and for the generations to come.

These and all other things needful for us, for our people, and all men, we ask in the Name of the Master Who taught us to pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, on May 13, 1959, the Senate of Pennsylvania passed Senate Bill No. 617 with but one dissenting vote. This legislation has to do with experiments which have been made in the expanded use of bituminous coal and the development of a road paving binder material and other products which will utilize large quantities of bituminous coal which would be a Godsend to the thousands of unemployed coal miners in southwestern Pennsylvania.

In examining the proposal made by the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, I really find that a realistic effort is being made to solve one of our most serious problems.

Almost as far back, Mr. President, as my memory goes, I can recall empty promises that have been made, and I have seen fruitless actions started to provide new uses for bituminous coal. Here, however, we have a practical proposal that is supported by a developed product which utilizes from 2,000 to 2,200 tons of coal in each mile of road paved, and can provide increased employment that is vital in our coal producing areas now.

All of us are thoroughly familiar and deeply concerned with the plight of our coal industry. Those of us who represent constituents in the bituminous producing areas in the western part of the Commonwealth have watched with growing alarm the steady decline in the number of tons of coal mined and the growing number of unemployed, knowing that there has been nothing in our power that we could do to correct the situation. The same severe problem faces us in our anthracite areas. The past year was the saddest in coal mining history. In spite of the fact that the United States has grown to be the greatest industrial nation in the world, there are fewer miners digging authracite than there were in 1870. There are fewer men producing bituminous coal than there were in 1883. Coal production in Pennsylvania has skidded to the lowest level since 1898. The future holds no promise for any great improvement in the production of coal, if coal is to be continued to be used primarily as a fuel.

This proposed enabling act is not a cure-all for the ills of the coal industry. However, the Curtiss-Wright organization with its vast research facilities and proven experience in solving difficult research problems, is offering us the facilities of their organization to expand the uses of bituminous coal. In view of the fact that Curtiss-Wright has a large industrial establishment here in Pennsylvania they have offered us, as one of the leading coal producing States of the nation, not promises of coal research and what they might do, but they have given us a group of products, number one of which is the coal based road paving binder which, in my opinion, could lead the way in turning the downward curve of employment and production upward toward economic health and possibly full employment for the residents of our coal producing areas, and I hope improved economic conditions throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, we Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, from the coal producing areas, have lived in hope that someone, some way, somehow, would find a practical solution for the problem of how to use coal for other purposes than fuel.

Mr. President, I am happy to say that approximately four years ago the Commonwealth implemented the establishment of the Curtiss-Wright research center at Quehanna, and this corporation has fulfilled all of the promises which were made at that time.

The organization, Mr. President, was requested by the entire Administration to take an interest in developing new uses for coal. For the past three years this coal utilization project has been a part of the activities of a substantial and able group of scientists and technicians. With this first step, we are quite confident that we provided not only for the present, but for the future prosperity of the 11,000,000 citizens of this Commonwealth.

I do not claim to have the knowledge necessary to technicaly evaluate the road paving material which has been developed from coal products by this company, and the company is the first to say that the road paving binder will not be completely proven until it has been tested in actual highway use. I do, Mr. President, however, have confidence in the published test results of an organization as reputable as Curtiss-Wright has proved to be in the past.

On this basis, Mr. President, I think that we have a responsibility as Legislators of this great Commonwealth to further any research that would provide us with better highways at no greater cost and reduce, possibly, the year to year cost of maintenance. When we can solve a part of our transportation problems, and at the same time, utilize coal, the research effort deserves our wholehearted support.

The initial announcement that Curtiss-Wright could make a road paving binder material with coal, and would continue to reasearch the development of other products that would utilize large quantities of coal, has created Nationwide interest. In coming to Pennsylvania, Curtiss-Wright has given us the opportunity not only to solve our problems, but to provide the leadership in solving a nationwide problem. It is only sound economic judgment, as well as a matter of pride in our position in the coal industry, that we should provide this leadership and not that some other coal producing State, such as Kentucky or West Virginia, walk away with the ball.

Mr. President, during the past decade I have seen thousands of coal miners lose their employment due to automation, which is naturally beyond their control, and I am greatly enthused when I think of the effect on the economy of southwestern Pennsylvania of a product which will immediately use 2,000 to 2,200 tons of coal in each mile of road constructed or resurfaced, and of the effects of other possible products which utilize coal on the prosperity of the coal miners and their families.

Mr. President, I have had the experience, during my long service here in the Senate, to vote for appropriations which provided for hundred of thousands of dollars of taxpayers' money to be used for coal research, and as of this date I have not received one tangible report from any university or any other institution as to any bona fide progress. Mr. President, I feel that every Member of this Senate has an obligation to review very carefully this proposal not only because Curtiss-Wright has shown that they can successfully do something with coal research and bring about an expanded use for coal, but also because they have finally shown that our private enterprise can work with government in finding new and important uses for our most abundant natural resources.

Mr. President, I anticipate strenous opposition to this legislation from the "fifth column" in government, otherwise known as the legislative engineers and commonly known as lobbyists. However, in a democratic nation such as ours, we can expect this opposition and we must be prepared to meet it. I imagine, if the truth were known, there were lobbyists in opposition to Edison's light bulb, and there were, in all probability, undercover lobbyists opposed to President Roosevelt's Manhattan Project, and, as most of you know, this brought about the creation of the atomic bomb.

Mr. President, in conclusion, I must say here, at last, is a product which in my opinion has great possibilities and deserves the support of the Members of the Senate. We, in Pennsylvania, for years have been searching for the expanded use of bituminous and anthracite coal, and this, Mr. President, I hope is the answer.

I might say, sir, that in my area of Washington and Greene Counties, a great portion of our economy is based upon the production and sale of bituminous coal. I am very much concerned about this legislation, Mr. President, because I feel there is a possibility that something can be done and I do not want to see anything thrown in its way. I, for one, Mr. President, want to say to you, to the people of Pennsylvania and to the fine men who represent the coal miners in western Pennsylvania, that I am in support of this legislation or similar legislation which will bring about a stabilized economy in western Pennsylvania. The coal miners in Pennsylvania, in my opinion, are really a great portion of the substantial citizens of Pennsylvania because during the time of national crisis, the coal miners' sons were more than happy to go to the front line. During the time when we had the sale of war bonds, I will say that in western Pennsylvania, the bituminous coal miners, to a man, invested a great portion in the security of our Nation. Therefore, we, as Members of this Senate, could do at the very least a job of legislating, if possible, a return of prosperity to western Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in connection with this so-called Curtiss-Wright expermental road material, I would like to report to the Members of the Senate that Senate Bill No. 617, as amended, is now on the First Reading Calendar in the House of Representatives. I would also like to report that we have been, in the past two weeks, working on this proposition rather assiduously. We had meetings with the leadership of the House, both Republican and Democratic, in connection with the Senate amendments which struck out the appropriation of $500,000, which was originally contained in the bill.

The bill, as you and the Members of the Senate will recall, was amended by taking that appropriation out for the reason that the experimental strips were to be constructed by the Department of Highways and that a special appropriation of funds from the Department of Highways would not be necessary. However, Mr. President, in discussing the problem, nobody knew just what the cost of a pilot plant for the production of this material might be. For that reason, it was agreed that Mr. Hurley, the President of the Curtiss-Wright Company, and some of his engineers, would be asked to attend a meeting, which was held last week in my office. At that time, it was agreed that the cost of the pilot plant would be approximately $150,000.

Mr. President, there was some question also as to whether, under the limitation of the constitutional amendment which restricts the use of Highways Funds, such a plant could be constructed out of Highway Funds. For that reason, a separate bill was prepared for introduction into the House, providing for the erection of a pilot plant by the Coal Research Board in the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries, which would be a perfectly proper and legitimate expenditure of State funds for that purpose.

We also arranged, Mr. President, to hold a meeting with the Secretary of Mines and some representatives of the—I am not sure whether the Curtiss-Wright people are going to be present or not—House, and with some of the sponsors of the bill, tomorrow morning. However, because Secretary Kennedy sent word to me that he had to be in Wilkes-Barre tomorrow, the meeting had to be delayed for a day, possibly, or probably for a few days. The purpose of that meeting is to arrive at an understanding whereby these funds, appropriated to the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries, will be used only for the purpose of constructing this pilot plant and for such further experimentation for which that plant will be available. Mr. Hurley assured us that the plant would be useful for experimental purposes in developing further uses, such as shingling, siding and various things like that which they have in mind.

Therefore, Mr. President, I want to impress upon the Members of the Senate that this matter is receiving attention and will continue to receive attention. I believe that the ultimate result will be that the Senate version of the enabling act, Mr. President, will be accepted in the House and the House Bill carrying the appropriation of sufficient moneys, but not more than sufficient moneys, will be received from the House for our attention.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 64 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics:

AMERICAN-FLAG AIR SERVICE BETWEEN PENNSYLVANIA AND THE ORIENT

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1959.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has for many years participated in the international trade and commerce of the United States and generates substantial volumes of international traffic, including passengers, cargo and mail.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is vitally interested in preserving and expanding its international trade and commerce and in providing improved transportation services for its pasengers and shippers as well as for mail.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has always enjoyed a common interest in trade with the countries of the Orient and is vitally interested in expanding trade and relations with the Orient as a means of fostering commercial and industrial development and providing increased job opportunities for its citizens.

The advent of jet air transportation will, if properly employed, remove the principal historic handicaps to major expansion of trade and relations with the countries of the Orient, namely, remoteness and high transportation costs, and will establish the Orient as the world's greatest frontier for development of international trade and travel.

Presently available air services and routes are wholly inadequate to meet the present and future needs of the Commonwealth for preservation and expansion of its trade and travel to the Orient and to maintain its competitive position with other states and areas; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in session convened, favors prompt establishment of direct, competitive American-flag air service between Pennsylvania and the principal countries of the Orient in such a manner as to insure the fullest possible realization, now and in the future, of the convenience, comfort and time and cost savings of modern jet air transportation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Attorney General, The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, The Department of Commerce and other official offices of the Commonwealth interested and affected thereby, are hereby authorized and directed to make such presentations and to take such other action as may be appropriate to present and support the aforesaid position of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania before the Civil Aeronautics Board and to such other agencies and persons as may have an interest in this matter, all with a view to securing the earliest possible adoption and implementation thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Attorney General, The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission and The Department of Commerce.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, it is not my intention to cast aspersions upon the United States Senate. However, apparently remembering the rhyme, "London Bridge is falling down," and taking it easy, we pay no attention to the fact that Independence Hall in Philadelphia is about to fall down.

Mayor Dilworth, of Philadelphia, appeared about two weeks ago before a Senate Appropriations Committee in Washington, D. C. He produced a survey of a competent firm, showing that Independence Hall, the old City Hall and old Congress Hall are in eminent danger of collapsing. Nevertheless, disregarding the urgency of the situation, the Senate Appropriations Committee failed to act upon it.

Mr. President, I feel that it is the duty of every Pennsylvanian to raise his voice in objection, and ask Congress to provide for all repairs to Congress Hall, old City Hall and old Independence Hall.

Furthermore, it is a contractual obligation, whereby the Secretary of the Interior undertook the repairs and the maintenance of Independence Hall. To go back on that promise is eminently unfair.

For this reason, Mr. President, I prepared a resolution, which presents an extension of this view and memorializes Congress to insert a stipend of $2,000,000 for the repairs of Independence Hall in its budget. I hope, Mr. President, you will refer this resolution to the appropriate committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO APPROPRIATE $2,000,000 TO COVER EMERGENCY WORK IN CONNECTION WITH INDEPENDENCE HALL, OLD CONGRESS HALL AND OLD CITY HALL IN PHILADELPHIA

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 32), which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, June 8, 1959.

In Philadelphia generally and at the Independence Hall Compound in particular, as nowhere else in the United States, Americans glory in their own history and brood over our yesteryears. History is real in Philadelphia and the Independence Hall is a reflective place of compelling tonical value in these days of perplexities and uncertainty. Pilgrims to the Independence Hall Compound at once realize that in these hallowed buildings were signed the Declaration of Independence (that title-deed of the Human Race which will forever remain a fountain of solace for mankind), the Articles of Confederation and the United States Constitution. At this sanctum sactorum of American History, Americans are seeking clues to the meaning of our times, re-examining the concepts of American Democracy that were evolved and provided as the idealogical and moral cornerstones upon which the Fathers of our Country built a great Republic and reared a mighty and ever-youthful Nation.

The ineffable majesty of the Colonial simplicity of the Independence Hall and the two adjacent buildings known as Congress Hall and old City Hall their ineluctable charm and storied past, have invariably spelled for generations of Americans rededication to democracy and inspiring patriotism.

The progress made by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in developing the Independence Mall, which is rapidly heading towards completion, and the work by the United States National Park Service, even if at a slow rate towards the establishment of the Independence National Historical Park, have contributed towards Philadelphia's rejuvenation and Renaissance. And yet, disregarding the fact that the entire compound is structurally defective and deteriorating, thus necessitating a basic reconstruction of the Independence Hall, old Congress Hall and old City Hall, that must be undertaken at an estimated cost of $2,000,000, the U. S. Senate Appropriations Committee declined several days ago favorable action upon an appropriation of $2,000,000 for ameliorative reconstruction, as suggested by Philadelphia's dynamic Mayor Richardson Dilworth.

This failure to appropriate the much-needed funds for the urgent reconstruction is untenable and in violation of Article II of an agreement entered into by the City of Philadelphia with the Federal Government to establish Indepedence national Historical Park, imposed upon the U. S. Secretary of the Interior, certain obligations relating to the maintenance and repair of the grounds and buildings which constitute part of the Independence National Historical Park.

In his plea to the U. S. Senate Appropriations Committee, Mayor Richardson Dilworth stated, inter alia, as follows:

"Unless this Congress makes an emergency appropriation to correct a critical situation which has recently been brought to our attention, our country's most treasured national shrine, the historic Independence Hall where the Declaration of Independence was signed and the surrounding buildings in which the first Continental Congress met and where our first Supreme Court has its chamber, may collapse.

I assure you that this statement, while startling, is not exaggerated. Some time back it was discovered during the course of restoration of these three buildings that there were some structural weaknesses in the walls. An independent engineering company was retained to survey the condition of the buildings. They discovered that when the buildings were first constructed that they had been built with two thin walls, separated only by space with no structural supports between them.

Let me give you some sample statements from the engineers' report:

Independence Hall—'Floors in generally poor condition . . . only approximately 25% of supporting joists considered satisfactory . . . tower floors in very poor condition mainly from dry rot and cracking . . . roof framing poor with only approximately 10% of rafters sound; trusses in poor condition, largely acting as supporting rafters since connections have failed; rotted members prevalent.'

Old Congress Hall—'Walls in poor condition . . . substantial deterioration in south portion of building; approximately one third of wall area in critical condition . . . ceiling very poor in second floor Senate Room involving historic ceiling ornament work . . . cupola in poor condition particularly in South Senate Chamber . . . trusses in south portion approaching failure, etc.'

The engineers have found that the only way to prevent the eventual collapse of these precious buildings is to erect a steel frame between the walls and fill the area between the walls with reinforced concrete.

This amounts to a basic reconstruction of these buildings. It will be costly. The estimate is $2 million. But I am sure that the people of this nation would never forgive us if we fail to take the necessary steps to preserve these great shrines for ourselves, our children and our grandchildren. The longer we delay, the greater the danger becomes.

I want to emphasize that there is not any present danger to visitors. A close check on the condition of the buildings is maintained, and visitors are admitted only if the buildings are safe to walk through. The danger is to the survival of the buildings themselves.

I hope, however, that you will regard Independence Hall and its surrounding historic buildings not as a Philadelphia shrine, but as the nation's leading shrine, to which millions of visitors from across this nation, including our school children, make a spiritual pilgrimage to renew their faith and pride in our nation."

Mayor Dilworth's call for ameliorative action to save the Independence Hall Compound from further deterioration should sear the heart of America and banish the crass indiffierence at Washington to this pressing problem so that a danger can be averted that, if neglected, may become a national tragedy.

Now be it therefore resolved, that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, in the name of the people of Pennsylvania, does hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to insert an item of $2,000,000 into the U. S. budget to cover the emergency work which must be at once undertaken to prevent the collapse of Independence Hall, old Congress Hall and old City Hall in Philadelphia, and

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the U. S. Senators from Pennsylvania, the Honorable Joseph S. Clark, Jr., and the Honorable Hugh Scott, and to members of the Pennsylvania delegation in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this is getting perhaps pleasantly monotonous, but the Miss Robison who was here, being one of our delightful Penn-State coeds, inspired me to present this resolution relative to the Penn-State Baseball Team.

Last week, four teams qualified for the regional right to participate in the College World Series, at Omaha, this week end. Those four schools were Ithaca, New York, Temple University, the University of Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania State University. I am pleased to say that Penn-State was declared the winner.

I am hoping that some of the sons of Temple University and the University of Pittsburgh will co-sponsor this resolution with me in good sportsmanship.

The only other thing I think I should say is that this group of young men, who are going to Omaha, Nebraska, are all Pennsylvanias. This is an all-Pennsylvania team and comes from such typical Pennsylvania communities as Peach Bottom, New Cumberland, Middletown, Huntingdon, Allentown, Kane, Boyerstown, Philadelphia, Schwenksville, Lehighton, Boyer, Sharon, Harrisburg, Monongahela, York, Venetia and, last but not least, the important places of DuBois and State College.

If any other Senators would like to co-sponsor this resolution, I would be happy to have them join me.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE BASEBALL TEAM OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY UPON BECOMING ELIGIBLE TO COMPETE IN THE COLLEGE WORLD SERIES AT OMAHA

Mr. HAYS offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 8, 1959.

The Senate of Pennsylvania joins all Pennsylvanians in congratulating the Baseball Team of the Pennsylvania State University for winning sectional honors and thereby becoming eligible to compete in the College World Series at Omaha beginning June 12, 1959.

Coach Joe Bedenk, originally from Mansfield and Penn State Coach since 1930 brought his team consisting of Pennsylvanians, to this highest level in Collegiate baseball for the third time since 1952. He was aided by his assistant, Charles Medlar, originally from Allentown.

The Senate, by this resolution, recognizes this high achievement of these 19 young Pennsylvanians and extends best wishes to them for a national championship in 1959. The playing squad consists of:

Robert Arner
William Benton
Thomas Durbin
Lawrence Freedman
Edward Kikla
Ronald Riese
John Adams
Harry Beans
Lawrence Beighey
Lawrence Fegley
Michael Hader
Robert Hoover
Richard Landis
Charles Caldwell
Richard DeLong
Ronald Rinker
Robert Hrobak
Robert Luff
John McSparran

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would be very happy to co-sponsor this resolution and add my name to it.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure that in addition to Senator Pechan, there are other Senators who would like to co-sponsor this resolution.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I would just like to add to this resolution, and to the remarks made by the gentleman from Centre, Senator Hays, the fact that the Pennsylvania State University Baseball Team, at the outset of this season, was composed largely of sophomores and was not expected to go anywhere. However, working under their great coach, Joe Bedenk, the team has come a long way and has done a great thing, not only for the University but also for the Comonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I think all of the Senators should extend their well wishes to the members of the team as they go out to Omaha for the World Series of College Baseball this week end.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was unanimously agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am very happy for Senator Hays and the other Members of the Senate that this resolution was unanimously adopted.

I also want to commend the Members of this Body because, perhaps, we are a little more tolerant than those Members in the House were when a similar resolution was offered last week, congratulating Harvey Haddix for his wonderful performance when he pitched twelve perfect innings for the Pittsburg Pirates. His performance not only made every Pennsylvanian happy, but I believe every sports fan and baseball fan in the United States. They were not only happy for the Pirates but for baseball, in general, and Harvey Haddix, in particular.

Mr. President, tomorrow, I want to have a resolution prepared, congratulating Harvey Haddix on his very fine performance.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 163, on third reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 28, 1937 (P. L. 1053) entitled "Public Utility Law" excluding buses owned by or under contract with school districts private or parochial schools for the transportation of school children and chaperons from the definition of common carrier by motor vehicle and contract carrier by motor vehicle in certain cases.

be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of further study.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise at this time to oppose the recommittal of this piece of legislation. It has been on the calendar for quite some time and it has been amended several times.

The only thing this legislation does, Mr. President, is provide for chaperons for the buses which haul school children around. I might say, Mr. President, that in a number of cases the privileges of some people have been abused. These young girls, who are hauled around in these school buses, late at night, need a chaperon and they need some protection. We know of incidents, in Washington County, where we feel that it is very essential that we pass this type of legislation.

I do not know what the Majority Party has found wrong with this bill, or anyone else, but I am willing to go along with any reasonable amendment. We certainly need this legislation and I do not feel the bill should be recommitted. We must have some regulations to take care of the young girls who take long trips, especially when they go to basketball and football games. If we do not pass this legislation, some of the school boards are going to do something about it. Then they will not have any athletic activities at all.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, that the purpose of my motion is not to kill the bill, nor to bury it. However, it is for the very purpose which I stated, for the purpose of further study. There have been several amendments proposed to the bill, which the Chairman of the Education Committee does not have, and we thought it best that the bill go back to commitee where it could be properly considered.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I feel that the bill could stand further study right on the calendar. I am willing to work with the Chairman of the Education Committee or anyone else. However, when this bill goes back to committee, invariably, I have been here long enough to know that it is dead.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, each and every time a bill affecting bus transportation of pupils is proposed, it either meets opposition—and justified opposition, perhaps, in most cases—from the Department of Highways, the Parent Teachers Association, the School Directors Association or from some other association. It is an extremely important problem. Every Member of this Senate is intensely interested in the safety of the school pupils of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, I have asked permission to introduce this resolution, which is sponsored by both the Majority Leader, Senator Berger, the Minority Leader, Senator Weiner, and all of the Members of the Committee now studying the Department of Public Instruction.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE FIELD OF PUPIL TRANSPORTATION

Mr WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WADE, BERGER, WEINER, PROPERT, EHRGOOD, SEYLER and HAYS offered the following resolution which was read (Serial No. 113), and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 8, 1959.

BILL ON THIRD READING

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 643, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for the use of moneys in the State School Fund of Pennsylvania for assisting public school districts and State Teachers' Colleges to comply with required safety standards in certain cases conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Council of Education the Auditor General the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Secretary of Labor and Industry and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1 lines 1 to 9, and page 2, lines 1 and 2, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Repealing 2601, 2602, 2603, 2604, 2605 and 2606, act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," transferring the monies of the State School Fund to the General Fund and making certain appropriations." Amend the bill, page 2, lines 1 to 16, page 3, lines 1 to 19, page 4, lines 1 to 20, page 5, lines 1 to 20, page 6, lines 1 to 19, and page 7, lines 1 to 17, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Section 1. Sections 2601, 2602, 2603, 2604, 2605 and 2606, act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), known as the "Public School Code of 1949" are repealed. "Section 2 All money and other property belonging to and constituting "The State School Fund of Pennsylvania" is transferred to the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, except that the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000.00) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the State Council of Education for the two fiscal years beginning June 1 1959 to use as it deems wise towards equalizing the educational advantages of the different parts of this Commonwealth and the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000.00) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of making grants to financially handicapped and distressed school districts which meet the requirements of subsection (b) of section 672 of the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), as amended, which must make repairs and alterations to school buildings in order to comply with orders of the Department of Labor and Industry." Amend Section 2, page 7, line 18, by striking out"2" and inserting 3.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 643 relates primarily to two things; namely, the State School Fund and the enforcement of the Fire and Panic Act. Senate Bill No. 643, in its present form, would divert all the money now in the State School Fund, which is a fund administered by the State Council of Education, to those school districts and to the State Teachers' Colleges of Pennsylvania, to help them comply with the enforcement of the Fire and Panic Act. This bill does two things in its present form. It practically eliminates the State School Fund and uses it in entirety to carry out compliance with the Fire and Panic Act.

Pershaps, Mr. President, both of these motives have merit, particularly the last one. However, I call to your attention the fact that in the application for these funds to the various school districts of the Commonwealth, the order of priority is simply that the person who gets there "firstest" with the "mostest" may receive all of the money. The only provision in this bill, which I can find, is that the department shall act upon these applications in the order in which they are filed. It seems to me, with the status of many of the school districts of Pennsylvania, this is not the best way to distribute this amount of money.

Therefore, Mr. President, the amendments, which have been read, would appropriate a part of the money in the State School Fund to distressed school districts, in order for those districts which cannot, because of their financial condition, provide the remedies prescribed by the Department of Labor and Industry, in connection with the Fire and Panic Act, in order that the children in those districts will be protected. Eight hundred thousand dollars of this fund will be used specifically for this purpose.

I point out to you that it seems to me and, I think, to most Pennsylvanians that this will provide for a better distribution of this fund than to distribute it in the way prescribed in the present writing of Senate Bill 643, whereby the first person there will receive the money. In all likelihood, it seems to me, the richer districts are the ones which are most likely to be prepared and able to have their applications from the Department of Public Instruction in proper form first.

Therefore, Mr. President, I submit to you that we should vote for these amendments in order to make a better distribution. The remainder of the money in the State School Fund would then go into the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which, of course—and it is no secret—we are having some trouble in maintaining. This, then, would revert to all the functions of government in Pennsylvania.

I, therefore, urge you to support the amendments.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I would like to speak a few moments on the amendments offered by Senator Hays.

First of all, it is quite important to understand that this State School Fund is made up of almost $4,000,000 and that the income therefrom is used by the State Council of Education for the purpose, as the Act explained in 1911 when it was originally passed, of equalizing educational opportunities throughout the Commonwealth. Assuming, at the most, that you would receive $100,000—and that is a large estimate of income received from this fund in any one year—I believe that all the Members of this Senate will agree that you cannot very well equalize educatioal opportunities in this Commonwealth.

Therefore, Mr. President, this fund is sitting idly by when we find the school districts of this Commonwealth in great difficulty. I know that the gentleman from Centre, Senator Hays, as a member of the Investigating Committee of the Department of Public Instruction, has heard, and I know that each Senator has heard from their various schol districts regarding the difficult times they are facing.

Here is an opportunity for the Senate and for the Legislature, as a whole, to aid those local school districts by providing funds on a matching basis to the local school districts which have to comply with orders from the Department of Labor and Industry. In other words, as I understand it, the Department of Labor and Industry estimated that there is approximately $8,000,000 in repairs and alterations imposed by these orders.

I agree with Senator Hays that this bill, Senate Bill No. 643, does eliminate, for all practical purposes, the State School Fund. It should be eliminated under this situation because if we are going to equalize educational opportunities, we must help these local school districts and this is the way we can do it.

The amendments offered by Senator Hays are merely to take $800,000 and allow the rest to go back to the General Fund. That is not helping education, except in a general over-all manner. We want to specifically use this money to aid these school districts. I know Senator Hays realizes that many districts are on the brink, as it has been so phrased, of being distressed school districts because of the tremendous increased cost. Here is one situation where we can help them.

In offering the amendments, Senator Hays mentioned "first come, first served." I am sure that Senator Hays has faith in the Superintendent of Public Instruction and in the Secretary of Labor and Industry and in the Auditor General. If he will note, on page 5 of the bill, no projects shall be undertaken until these applications, together with the plans, specifications and bid costs, have been approved by the Bureau of School Buildings. The bill reads:

" . . . applications under provisions of this Act shall be considered in the order in which they are filed with the Department of Public Instruction . . ."

However, Mr. President, after approval of that project, then it goes to this three man committee. as a result, the three man committee, composed of the Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, the Secretary of Labor and Industry and the Auditor General, can easily work this matter out by administrative action on their part, to see to it that no one gets there "firstest" with the "mostest," but that they are all treated equally. You will note that in the bill, it is on a matching basis so that we will try to take care of them all at one time, after they are all in.

I believe Senator Hays' amendments would destroy this bill. I sincerely hope that all the Members of the Senate will vote down these amendments.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my amendments at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in its order, on third reading.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 666, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 5 1933 (P. L. 364), entitled "Business Corporation Law" prohibiting the adoption or use by corporation of names that are the same as or deceptively similar to the registered fictitious names of other corporations.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out to the Members of the Senate that although this is not an earth shaking piece of legislation, there are certain inherent defects in the bill. I have given the sponsors a memorandum from the department as to why they are opposing this bill. I would like to point out, very briefly, here to some of the Members of the Senate some of the inherent problems that this bill faces.

This bill will provide that even though a proposed corporate name is not similar to that of a previously registered corporate name, it still would not be available if it conflicted with a previously registered fictitious name. For example, if I were to form a corporation and I were to write the department and ask them to reserve name "X" for my corporation as a fictitious name, and, let us say, during the lifetime of the corporation, which is perpetual, I never used this fictitious name, and along came corporation "Y" and applied to use the very same name which was okayed by the department, it could not do so because I had reserved this name as corporation "X." I think when you do that, you are delimiting the free flow of business and busines activity.

If there are some real or compelling reasons for us to enact this legislation, I would like to hear about them. If there are no reasons, I think we are doing a needless thing and something for which we may be sorry. If this bill is pased ad we have this type of problem, and we go to the department and discuss it with them, they will probably inform us that we tied their hands and they cannot do anything about a situation of this type.

I think, on that basis, either one of two things would be done with this legislation. Either it should go over for further study and remain on the calendar, or possibly the sponsors of the legislation, who may have some compelling reasons for this type of legislation, can make an appropriate amendment to take care of this difficulty, because we are amending the Business Corporation Law. It is the type of thing that is not easily corrected. It is difficult to re-amend these things once it has been done.

Mr. SHAFER. Mr. President, as my colleague, Senator Weiner, has stated, this is not particularly earth shaking legislation. However, this particular point has been discussed by the Pennsylvania Bar Association and this particular amendment to the Business Corporation Law was recommended by the Corporation Committee of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

The advantage to it is this, as I see it. We have many businesses in Pennsylvania conducted under the Fictitious Names Act, even though they are not incorporated. They have a particular name registered under the Fictitious Names Act. Without this amendment, a foreign corporation could come into the State of Pennsylvania and have an authorization to do business given to it by the department. This type of an amendment was introduced for the purpose of protecting the use of that name for the business that is already using it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong the debate on this type of legislation. However, I would just like to point out to the Members of the Senate—most of whom I believe are familiar with the procedure but in case they are not, this might be helpful—that when a corporation applies to become a corporation in this State, they usually apply to the department, which makes a search of its records and advises the corporation whether or not the name is available. If the name is available and if they meet all the other requirements, they become a corporation and are so notified.

If, after they are a corporation, they apply for a fictitious name, this name has to be registered in the county. There is no search made particularly because the corporate name is already entered and there is no reason to make a search of the fictitious name. This bill goes one step beyond that. If the corporation reserves a fictitious name, they can reserve it indefinitely. In a sense, they may be preventing someone who wants to use this name from so doing.

I think when you delimit in any way the free flow of activity between corporations or people, you are doing a needless act. I think later on you may find that it is a bad thing, a sort of retrogressive type of legislation. I do not think this is good legislation and I do not think we should enact this measure. I repeat my suggestion that I made earlier. If the sponsors feel this is a particularly necessary piece of legislation, perhaps there are some amendments needed to take care of the problem.

The fact that the Pennsylvania Bar Association is in favor of this bill does not necessarily mean that it is excellent legislation, because I find myself many times in conflict with what they think is good legislation. Unfortunately, most of the members of the Bar do not take an active part in this type of thing, so it is run by a small group of people and they may or may not be doing this for some purpose best known to themselves.

Mr. President, I do not think we should enact this type of legislation without looking to see what the consequences might be.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, in view of the arguments advanced by the Minority Leader, and to give the Members an opportunity to look it over, I request that the bill go over in its order and appear on tomorrow's Final Passage Calendar.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ASCERTAIN THE TRUTH OF THE CHARGES OF FRAUD IN THE BEAVER COUNTY HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 33), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 8, 1959.

The citizens of Pennsylvania have every right to expect the highest possible quality of public officials. The integrity of the political leaders and officials of this great Commonwealth should never have to be questioned or doubted by those to whom they are directly responsible—the people of Pennsylvania.

Recently, Auditor General Charles C. Smith charged that the State was defrauded of $55,000 through a scheme organized by a high public official, Mr. Samuel G. Neff. This most serious allegation, announced after a five-months investigation, involves kick-backs of five per cent of overpayments to favored contractors who rent road equipment to the Highway Department in Beaver County. The kick-backs allegedly go into a fund of the "Committee of 70 for Sam Neff." Mr. Neff is now manager of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, a position requiring a person of integrity, one to which the public trust can be safely remanded. Implicated in this disclosure is another employe of the State Insurance Fund, Mr. Robert Yoho, who formerly was an Assistant Superintendent of County Highways.

It should be noted that these most serious allegations come at a time when the State is considering raising the taxes imposed on it citizens. Taxpayers do not object to necessary taxes which are needed to meet the expenses of running the Commonwealth, but certainly the allegations disclosed by the Auditor General, if borne out, give the taxpayers good reason to question and doubt the integrity of the elected and appointed officials of the State. This is most unfortunate; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania requests that the Governor ascertain the truth of the charges, and, if they are true, that he immediately dismiss Mr. Samuel Neff and Mr. Robert Yoho and any others involved who are holding an office of public trust; and be it further

Resolved, That while the report of the Auditor General is being studied, the Senate of Pennsylvania respectfully requests the Governor to suspend Mr. Samuel Neff and Mr. Robert Yoho from their duties as State officials, and to further withhold their salaries until the results of the study are known and made public.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. KALMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. KALMAN, WEINER, DONOLOW, MULLIN, WALKER and MURRAY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 826, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1959 (Act No. 78), entitled "State Employes' Retirement Code of 1959," providing for payments to beneficiaries of members who die while in State service after electing an option nullified by death, to be made in the same manner as for members who die in State service without electing an option; prescribing uniform requirements after ten years of service for death benefits for the several classes of members.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, June 9, 1959, at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

JOHN S. RICE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Committee will escort the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Jones, to her seat, after which the Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

The Chair extends the thanks of the House to Judge Eagen for taking time out of a busy schedule to come to Harrisburg to administer the oath of office to our new Member.

The Chair believes he will be expressing the unanimous wishes of the Members to request our distinguished guest to say a few words.

ADDRESS BY HONORABLE MICHAEL J. EAGEN

JUDGE EAGEN. Mr. Speaker, distinguished Members of the House of Representatives, I am happy for the opportunity of extending my congratulations publicly to Mrs. Jones upon her induction into the House of Representatives and to wish her wll.

It is a happy and grat privilege for me to appear before the distinguished Members of this important body. To share the same dias with my good friend, Mr. Johnson, is certainly democracy in action, and it is certainly the way things should be done in Pennsylvania because in Pennsylvania we are Americans first, last and always.

I bring you the greetings of the wonderful people of Lackawanna County and we certainly wish you well and God speed in making decisions that will be for the betterment and greater happiness of all the people of Pennsylvania.

Thank you very much.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I suppose, fellow Members, that as the other judicial candidate on this rostrum, I should say a few words.

I want to say to Judge Eagen that while everything is lovely and cordial and gay here today, we soon will be out in the hustings peddling our wares, trying to convince the people of Pennsylvania who should be elected this fall.

Regardless of who wins, I am sure that after November we will all be good Pennsylvanians, good Americans, and put our shoulders to the wheel for a better Pennsylvania. So, I am very pleased to be here and to preside at this session.

MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader for the purpose of welcoming the new House Member.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it certainly is a distinct honor and a pleasure for myself, as well as my colleagues on this side of the House, to welcome our newly elected Member from the Fifth District of the County of Philadelphia to her seat in the House of Representatives, Mrs. Frances R. Jones, who is a member of a part of a great team of Philadelphians who are serving their constituents from the great city of Brotherly Love.

We certainly welcome Mrs. Jones, and we certainly are more than pleased that another lady has been selected to be a Member of the House of Representatives to serve in their great deliberative body. We hope that she will have many enjoyable, wonderful friendships and associates during the time that she may be a Member of this House.

Those who have served for many years are well aware that here in the House of Representatives the friendships that you create and the opportunities of discussing and talking to people in all walks of life in our great Commonwealth are memories that you shall forever carry with you after you have departed from the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Jones is elected from the Ffth District of the county of Philadelphia to a seat that her husband held for quite a few years. He was an extremely capable, conscientious Member representing the constituents of the Fifth Legislative District. We are confident that Mrs. Jones will carry on the high ideals and accomplish those items and principles which are so dear to her and the people that she represents. We certainly welcome this new Member, Mrs. Frances R. Jones, and say, it is good to have you with us. May you have a long and successful tenure as a Member from the great city of Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Majority Whip, Mrs. Varallo, for the purpose of welcoming the new House Member.

Mrs. VARALLO. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, last March, God in His wisdom saw fit to remove from our midst a great, conscientious citizen and a Legislator, Granville E. Jones.

Today we are welcoming to our midst a woman who was his inspiration, Granville's wife, Frances Jones.

Not only will Mrs. Jones assume the duties where her husband left off, but one other important thing, she also represents the recognition which women are being accorded and so rightfully deserve.

Mrs. Jones, the lady Members of the House of Representatives are most happy to have you join them and we,

in addition to the entire membership, extend a most cordial welcome to you.

Incidentally, I want to say that in 1947 I stood here and welcomed Marian Munley to the House of Representatives. This is the second lady whom I have welcomed to the House when they have been elected to the unexpired terms of their husbands. Good luck to you, Mrs. Jones.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would also like to welcome on behalf of the Republican side, the new Member, Mrs. Frances Jones.

Needless to say, we would have preferred a Republican in that seat. However, I do not know of any Democrat that we would rather welcome than Mrs. Frances Jones. We, on the Republican side, held her husband, Granville Jones, in the highest esteem. We were certainly grieved by his untimely decease.

We trust that Mrs. Jones will enjoy her career in the Legislature and be a fine, able, efficient and lovable Member as her deceased husband was, Granville Jones.

We want to welcome her in our midst today.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. We are also honored today having in our midst the family of Judge Eagen.

It gives me great pleasure to introduce Mrs. Eagen, who is sitting to my left. Would you stand please, Mrs. Eagen?

And, their two sons, Jimmy Eagen and Michael Eagen, will they please rise?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair now requests the Speaker of the House to take over the gavel.

I want to thank the Speaker for the privilege of presiding here today.

THE SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from McKean.

The Chair, in his turn, also welcomes the legislative advent of a lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Jones, and it may be, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that Mrs. Jones might be the hinge upon which great events might turn.

MISS MILKMAID OF PENNSYLVANIA, 1959, WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. As many of the listeners know, June is Dairy month. This special celebration, sponsored by the dairy interests and its allied organizations is being observed on a nationwide basis.

We are pleased to have as our guest today a young person who plays a prominent role in June Dairy Month observances here in Pennsylvania. She is Miss Beverly Mae Robinson of Clover Hills, R. D. 1, Washington County. Just two days before June Dairy Month began, on May 29, Miss Robinson, daughter of Clyde Robinson, well-known Washington County dairyman, was selected as Miss Milkmaid of Pennsylvania, 1959.

The Chair invites Miss Milkmaid of Pennsylvania to the rostrum.

Ladies and gentlemen, I present Miss Milkmaid of Pennsylvania and if she has any successors or others of the same type, I hope they will come along and I will spend the afternoon introducing them.

Miss BEVERLY MAE ROBINSON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I am pleased and honored to stand before the House of Representatives today and to bring you greetings from the entire dairy industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, all 40,000 dairy farmers, 600 milk dealers and 942,000 cows.

Thank you.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. SULLIVAN for the week because of illness.

Mr. H. G. Miller for Mr. HOLLIDAY for today.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed there is present in the hall of the House a former Member, Honorable Francis W. Bucchin, a comrade in arms for many years.

BILLS CALLED OUT OF ORDER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request unanimous consent of the House for the immediate consideration on third reading and final passage, on pages 17 and 18 of today's calendar, the following House bills, in their order:

House Bill 1704, Printer's No. 685
House Bill 1795, Printer's No. 686
House Bill 1706, Printer's No. 687
House Bill No. 1717, Printer's No. 688
House Bill No. 1741, Printer's No. 689
House Bill No. 1742, Printer's No. 690

and I ask as each bill is called, the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. Polen, to explain the figures in the bill, prior to voting on each separate bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I realize maybe I should wait until the request for unanimous consent is acted upon, but as long as you have recognized me, I just want to say we are not objecting to your requesting unanimous consent to have a special order of business on these bills, because of the fact it was explained there are various ladies on the other side who have another meeting out of town they would like to attend, and who would like to be on this roll call.

We on our side feel that in the future, however, special orders of business should only be requested in case of a type of emergency such as where the Senate is waiting for a bill, or items of that nature.

We feel that last Tuesday there were some unnecesary special orders of business called. Hereafter we intend to scrutinize special requests very carefully and will from time to time, perhaps, object to some requests:

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to keep the record clear, and state that arrangements had been made for one particular bill on here, House Bill 1717. We will explain very carefully what it means at the time we are voting on it. Arrangements were being made for the Senate to receive this bill today, and report them to the floor. But a very important meeting in Washington, D. C., called for a change in plans, and the Senate could not be held at this hour. They wanted us to do it earlier and it was impossible.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the bills as requested by Mr. McCann? Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1704, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven (Appropriation Acts page 60) entitled 'An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Department of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for two years beginning June 1 1957 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31 1957" by providing for deficiencies in appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-nine

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1704 makes a total deficiency appropriation of $27,423,390.

The amounts contained in this deficiency appropriation bill are listed on pages 4 and 5 of the budget as deficiencies.

I might state that these series of bills today clean up all the deficiency appropriations that are contained in the budget.

On the question, recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. PRICE. RESOLUTION No. 80.

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1959.

The statement by hospitalization officials that Blue Cross agencies are headed for oblivion unless a 28.6 per cent rate increase is put into operation within a month strikes an ominous note in the hands of all subscribers who depend on Blue Cross for protection.

If this statement is true, the rates must, of course, become effective as soon as possible. However, it should be noted that a substantial rate increase was recently granted to Blue Cross; and also, that notice of impending disaster was not brought to the attention of the Insurance Commissioner in time to make a complete and extensive investigation of the situation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives strongly urge the Insurance Commissioner to make, without delay, a thorough investigation of the reasons for the proposed rate increase, but to defer permission to impose a rate hike until a careful study of the facts has been completed; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Insurance Commissioner.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. STIMMEL, MIHM, AGNEW, GIBB, DONALDSON, WILT, KAMYK, DEVLIN and FILO. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1959.

On Tuesday night, May 26, 1959, Harvey Haddix, a resident of Shaler Township, Allegheny County, pitched the greatest game ever pitched in organized baseball.

His stalwart efforts as a southpaw pitcher on behalf of the Pittsburgh Pirates in retiring thirty-six consecutive Milwaukee batters constituted twelve innings of perfectly pitched baseball.

This outstanding achievement on the part of Harvey Haddix has won the admiration of the entire sports world, as well as having gained the plaudits and acclaim of all persons who admire fine professional workmanship and delight in seeing an exceptionally fine performance accomplished through excellent effort and ability; therefore be it

Resolved, That all members of this House of Representatives hereby express their pride in the accomplishment of their fellow Pennsylvanian, Harvey Haddix, and extend their hearty congratulations to him as well as stating their sincere hope that he may long continue to give his excellent efforts to the great American national game of baseball.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. McDONALD, BURNS, PRENDERGAST and J. A. O'DONNELL. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, June 3, 1959.

The entire State was shocked and saddened at the news of the horrible tragedy that occurred yesterday near Schuylkill Haven. While we mourn with the families and friends of the eleven persons who perished in the gas truck explosion, we rejoice with the parents of eighty-five school children who are alive today because of the alertness, courage and good judgment of two school bus drivers, Ronald Kramer and Russell Klahr.

Immediately prior to the explosion the two school buses were in such a position that had they remained there the children would certainly have been victims. But realizing the danger, the drivers removed the buses, Ronald Kramer driving through a field to reach safety.

It is fitting that we note the heroism of these two men; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives express our gratitude to Ronald Kramer and Russell Klahr and commend them for their wise and brave actions; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to Ronald Kramer and Russell Klahr at Auburn, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER laid before the House petitions, numerously signed, from citizens of Pennsylvania protesting the passage of legislation legalizing gambling.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCann.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 888 entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) authorizing expenditures for aviation training.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, when House Bill 888 on page 9 and House Bill 889 on page 10 were before the House for passage last Wednesday the question was raised by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, as to whether or not general funds were required for this program.

I was certain at that time and I told him I would investigate. I find now that the entire cost of this program is to be paid from the aviation fuels tax.

The purpose of the amendments as contained in these two bills is to include the phase of aviation safety programs under Act 93-A so that the Aeronautics Commission will have the power and duty to carry on an aviation safety program.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1111, Printer's No. 717,
House Bill No. 1129, Printer's No. 461,
House Bill No. 1317, Printer's No. 626,
House Bill No. 1323, Printer's No. 627, and
House Bill No. 1380, Printer's No. 599,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1384, entitled:

An Act amending "The Mental Health Act of 1951 (P. L. 533) regulating voluntary admission of minors to institutions and further regulating emergency commitments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, although I am not opposed to this bill, I want to call the attention of the Members of the House to the amendments that were put in this bill, which is another instance of the interference by the judiciary in matters that do not concern them, in my opinion.

Just because a couple of judges did not agree with taking some of their political privilege away from them, they had this bill amended in my absence to read that the court shall assign these mental patients to an institution. One of the main purposes of the bill was to allow the department to assign these patients, and justly so. I submit to you that no judge in this day and age knows to what institution to assign a mental patient where he can get the correct and right treatment. That should be the prerogative of the department and even though they say that the department can reassign them you and I know that four out of five assignments by the court are made for political reasons, and for political reasons only, to satisfy some relative or some political power who wants the patient assigned near home.

This will result in the patient being in the wrong institution probably for an indefinite length of time until the department can get around to reassigning him at an additional expense and additional inconvenience.

I think it is wrong although the bill is a good bill and I would ask that the House vote for it, I want to enter my protest on that particular point.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mrs. KERNAGHAN, Messrs. ISAACS, ODORISIO, BELL, P. J. MURPHY and LIPPINCOTT offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1959.

One of the most distinguished members of this body was recently honored for his exemplary teaching of democracy and the American way of life in the public schools in Pennsylvania. The coveted Valley Forge Freedom Foundation citation was awarded to the gentleman from Upper Darby, Dr. Clyde R. Dengler.

Dr. Dengler was one of forty-seven in the Commonwealth to receive the honor and we feel that he should be recognized by the House for the prestige he has brought upon himself and our group here assembled; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its sincere congratulations to Representative Clyde R. Dengler upon being awarded the much desired Valley Forge Freedom Foundation Citation; and be it further

Resolved, That we all try to emulate Dr. Dengler's achievement in teaching the children of our great Commonwealth what it means to live in America; and be it further

Resolved, That one copy of this resolution be forwarded to Upper Darby High School where Representative Dengler heads the music department and one copy to his wife, Pauline Dengler.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I deeply appreciate the sentiments expressed in the resolution which was offered by my colleagues from Delaware.

I am also very grateful to the Valley Forge Freedoms Foundation for the citation which they have given me as a classroom teacher.

Let me quickly hasten to add that I am not an expert in education. I do not think there is such a thing as an expert in education. Admiral Rickover has made suggestions, Dr. Conover has made suggestions, but I still maintain that no one knows too much about the educational processes involved in the development of a young person.

At some time in the future I am going to ask unanimous consent of the House to tell you something about the young people in Pensylvania. The hour is late today and I have not prepared a speech, but the tenure of my remarks will revolve around the general theme that I think our young people today are the finest in the history of our country. Thank you very much.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. LOPRESTI, Mrs. VARALLO and Mr. A. W. JOHNSON offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1959.

Our illustrious majority leader, the Honorable Stephen McCann, can now be credited with one more outstanding accomplishment. On Saturday, June 6, 1959, at 10:01 P. M. Mr. McCann's wife, Eleanor, gave birth to a blonde blue eyed baby girl who has been named Trissa Ann. This all-important event took place at the Greene County Memorial Hospital, where both mother and daughter are reported doing very nicely. The vital statistics for little Trissa Ann, indicate that she weighs eight pounds two ounces, and is twenty-one inches long; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends to Stephen and Eleanor McCann, their most hearty congratulations on the arrival of their new daughter, and expresses the wish that their future will be blessed with many more pleasant additions; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen McCann.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly want to thank all of you people, and I want to thank whoever gathered the vital statistics from the hospital.

I know Mrs. McCann and my son will certainly be very appreciative. I want to thank all of you, and to all of those who in the last few weeks noticed I have been rather jumpy and flew down your throats at times—as I said to the Speaker, Sunday night—no matter what you say, you cannot make me mad now.

Thank you very kindly, and Mrs. McCann and the rest of the McCann family thanks you very kindly.

Mr. ROVANSEK offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Philadelphia, last Friday, June 5th, was shocked by the news that a young Philadelphia police officer was brutally murdered by some person or persons unknown. This happened in my neighborhood.

The young police officer was a very close personal friend of mine. His mother was my godmother, and his wake is tonight. Because of the press of business here I was unable to attend the wake but I wanted to note in the House the deep sense of sorrow I and the rest of the citizens have because of this senseless killing.

I cannot help but reflect, Mr. Speaker, that over the past several years, the laws, both as construed by the judiciary and as passed by the legislature, have been in favor of the criminals it seems. As I look now on the intensive and extensive investigation that the Police Department is undergoing to apprehend this person, I recall very well the debate we had on the wire tapping bill, when this House saw fit to pass the bill banning wire tapping.

I certainly think that in light of the killings we have been reading about we should reflect more soberly on any legislation that would give the criminals in this Commonwealth a break.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING HARVEY HADDIX UPON HIS GREAT PITCHING PERFORMANCE ON MAY 26, 1959

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, on behalf of my colleagues in the Senate and myself, I am offering this resolution. If I may, I would like to read it:

"This is not the story of 'Casey at the Bat.' It is the story of 'Haddix on the Mount.' I draw the analogy only because both had sad endings. Casey struck out. And Haddix lost a ball game he deserved to win.

"Perhaps belatedly but, nevertheless, importantly, I believe this Senate of Pennsylvania should honor him today and write into its annals for posterity the great pitching performance of Arthur Haddix on the night of May 26 for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"On that evening, Harvey Haddix stunned the great world of our national pastime by pitching an all-time record of 12 straight innings—a perfect game—without permitting a hit or run or a man to reach first base by the opposing Milwaukee hitters.

"It was a magnificent performance which may never be equaled and he will unquestionably be remembered forever among the greats of baseball.

"That the ball game was lost in the 13th inning in no way lessens the tremendous skill and mastery of Harvey Haddix.

"Be it resolved, therefore, That the Senate of Pennsylvania today honors and congratulates Harvey Haddix for his great feat on May 26 and that this resolution be spread on our records and copies of it be forwarded immediately to him and the management of the Pittsburgh Pirates."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I just want to help the good Senator from Armstrong, Senator Pechan, in the composition of this resolution by adding, "although belated."

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the word "belatedly" is already in the resolution. As I mentioned yesterday, the Speaker of the House of Representatives refused to honor a similar resolution which was placed before it last week. Therefore, it is "belatedly," and I am glad to know that Senator DiSilvestro joins me in signing that resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was unanimously agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THAT THE STATES BE REIMBURSED FOR THE TOLL AND FREE HIGHWAYS INCORPORATED IN THE NATIONAL SYSTEM OF INTERSTATE AND DEFENSE HIGHWAYS

Messrs. CONFAIR, SCOTT, MURRAY and HAYS offered the following resolution (Serial No. 34), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 9, 1959.

Whereas, The Congress under the Provisions of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956 declared it essential in the national interest to provide for the early completion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways which shall be in the Continental United States and shall not exceed forty-one thousand miles in length; and

Whereas, The Congress provided that the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways shall be so located as to connect as directly as practicable the principal metropolitan areas, cities and industrial areas, and to serve the national defense; and

Whereas, The Congress provided that the routes be selected by joint action of the State Highway Departments of each State and the adjoining States, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Commerce; and

Whereas, To provide for the early completion of this most important National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, and for the best interests of the national economy, the States with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, selected as part of the System certain toll and free highways already constructed or in various stages of construction; and

Whereas, The selection of these toll and free highways as part of the Interstate System both expedited the use of parts of the System and obviated the immediate expenditure of certain Federal Funds; and

Whereas, The expenditure of State Funds, State Guaranteed Funds and Funds raised by bond issues placed on certain States and the users of their toll highways, a burden greater than that placed on States in which no toll or free highways had been incorporated in the Interstate System; and

Whereas, The initial recommendation and proposals to the Congress were to reimburse the States, in accordance with prescribed formulae, for the toll and free highways incorporated in the Interstate System; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has some 388.2 miles of toll and free highways with a net reimbursable value of $287,000,000.00, incorporated in the Interstate Highway System; and

Whereas, If the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is not reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the Interstate System, the result will be that the citizens, business and industry in one portion of the State will be paying toll to pursue their activities while those in other portion of the State can pursue their activities free of toll; and

Whereas, It is inequitable to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania to have contributed disproportionately to those in other States for free highways in Pennsylvania incorporated in the Interstate Highway System and for the citizens, business and industry in one portion of the Commonwealth to pay tolls to pursue their activities, while in other portions of the Commonwealth the citizens pursue similar activities free of toll; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby declares that:

a. It is only equitable and fair that the States be reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

b. The principle of the intent to reimburse the States be definitely established by the Congress as early as possible.

c. The actual reimbursement should start as soon as possible; but must in no wise interfere with the "intent of the Congress that the Interstate System be completed as nearly as practicable over a thirteen year period and that the entire system be brought to simultaneous completion." Nor should it interfere with the planned allocations to the States for the Primary, Secondary and Urban Systems.

d. The funds received by the States from the Federal Government, be utilized:

(1) To liquidate the cost of toll roads on the Interstate System, including the liquidation of any outstanding bonds constituting a valid lien against such toll roads.

(2) To construct projects on such other highways of the Federal-Aid System as each State may select, subject to the approval of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to President Dwight D. Eisenhower; Bertram D. Tallamy, Administrator, Bureau of Public Roads; Lewis L. Strauss, Secretary of Commerce; Joseph S. Clark and Hugh Scott, United States Senators from Pennsylvania; Charles A. Buckley, Chairman of the House Committee on Public Works; Dennis Chavez, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Works; and to the following congressmen: Daniel J. Flood, Ivor D. Fenton, Francis E. Walter, Alvin R. Bush, Richard M. Simpson, James E. Van Zandt, Leon H. Gavin, Carroll D. Kearns, Frank H. Clark and Walter Mumma.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, last week, Mr. Leonard A. Unger, of the Associated Press, wrote a series of four articles dealing with the situation in Pennsylvania's schools as of this time. The articles have a wealth of very pertinent information as to the problems of the local school districts and as to the dilemma in which the Commonwealth finds itself in financing the schools.

I feel that there are many people who do not receive newspapers which carry the Associated Press service. I feel there might be many Senators who would be very glad to use these articles as a guide and reference as the school program is further developed.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would request that this material, which appeared in those four articles, be made a part of the Legislative Journal.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the newspaper articles will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

WHISPERS OF BANKRUPTCY HEARD IN PENNSYLVANIA SCHOOL SYSTEM

School districts throughout Pennsylvania are now working on their budgets for the 1959-60 school year. To many veteran school officials, current efforts to balance income and outgo have have been the most trying on record. The Legislature also is faced with the problem of what to do about school finances. The Associated Press has gone into the issue in depth in a series of four articles written by Leonard A. Unger, correspondent in charge of the Harrisburg bureau.

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Whispers of bankruptcy are being heard in Pennsylvania's school system. They may rise to a shout soon.

The only quieting sound must be—as always—the rustle of dollar bills parting at a faster and faster rate from Mr. Taxpayer's pocketbook.

And, if that isn't audible in the near future, his Susie and Johnny may rise one morning and find that school is out even before it goes in.

Gov. Lawrence used the word "desperate" in describing the financial plight of the more than 2,300 school districts in the Commonwealth.

And the No. 1 schoolman in the state, Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction, cautions:

"Two-thirds of the school districts are having the most difficult time in the present generation in balancing their budgets."

Half of that number—nearly 800 school districts—already have cut back their educational programs because of tight finances, says the state superintendent.

C. N. Hanner, superintendent of the Armstrong County public schools, is even more blunt.

Unless the legislature does something soon, he asserts, hundreds of school districts will have financial problems in the next two years that cannot be solved.

"This is the most serious and involved situation that I have ever encountered in my 28 years of school administration," he tells anyone who is willing to listen.

School boards are now poring over budgets for the 1959-60 school year starting July 1. Those that aren't increasing school taxes are the exception.

Why?

One reason is that the horn of plenty in the state treasury is practically empty. The ceiling set by law on state aid, automatically increased every year since 1945, has been reached. If the legislature doesn't act, it will stay at the present level.

The second answer to the why of it is that school districts, particularly in economically distressed areas, are close or are at their taxing limitations.

Let's look at some figures. They underline the problem starkly.

In 1949, it cost 321 million dollars to operate the public school system in Pennsylvania. School districts imposed 179 million dollars in local taxes for their operations. The commonwealth helped them along with 142 million dollars in state aid.

Now, 10 years later, the over-all school bill is 839 millions a year, the cost divided between 352 at the local level and 487 millions put up by the state.

It takes only a sixth-grader to calculate that the past decade has seen school costs jump 2½ times.

What have we to show for it?

1. A young teacher getting out of college and entering the public school system in Pennsylvania is now assured by law of starting at $3,800 a year and receiving a $200 automatic pay boost each year until his salary reaches $5,000.

2. A child can expect to attend something more than a one-room schoolhouse. Prior to World War II, there were more than 2,200 of these. Now the figure has dropped to about 425. The last dozen years has seen Pennsylvania build 1,565 new schools costing more than $1,150,000,000 (B).

3. School districts are receiving 34½ million dollars in state aid every two years to help finance transportation of school children who live more than a mile and a half from school. That's five times the cost of 15 years ago but many a daily long trek through the rain and snow has ended.

4. Special classes have been introduced for handicapped children at a cost of 10 millions every two years. These classes were only a theory for most school districts prior to World War II.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS WANT STATE TO BOOST AID

Commonwealth Asked To Bear Share Of Higher Costs

(This is the second of a series of four articles dealing with the vexing problem of school finances in Pennsylvania.)

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg, June 4—(AP)—The vortex of red ink in which many of the more than 2,300 school districts in Pennsylvania are whirling is not something that occurred suddenly, unexpectedly.

You could see it coming as long as a dozen years ago.

After World War II, the legislature imposed a new system for automatic annual increases in teachers' salaries accompanied by a new formula for handing out state aid.

It's a complex formula but, basically, the money is intended to be given to school districts on the basis of need. The legislature took the position that the higher the value of real estate in a particular school district the less need it has for state aid.

Instead of counting individual teachers as was once done, the formula counts the number of pupils and calls that a teaching unit. For elementary schools, the teaching unit comprises 30 students; for secondary schools, 22.

In 1945, the lawmakers fixed the maximum amount of state aid per teaching unit at $1,800, less a certain amount that by the formula is tied into real estate values and an arbitrary figure designed to represent the local effort to meet the cost.

That maximum is now up to $5,800 and, for the first time in 14 years, frozen unless the 1959 legislature changes it. Poor districts get as much as 93 per cent of that figure for each teaching unit. A few—very few—get as little as 10 per cent.

Cost Outrun Subsidies

But actual costs of education have climbed even faster than state subsidies. Prior to World War II, it cost the taxpayers about $120 a year to educate each child in Pennsylvania's schools. Now the cost is $438.

Johnny or Susie used up about $1.47 in textbooks in 1940. In 1959, the same item costs about $5. Their teacher received an average of about $1,500 a year just before World War II. Now she gets around $5,000.

Ten years ago, there were 1½ million children in the public schools. Now there are 1,900,000. In 1969, the crop of school kids will jump to 2,100,000.

In 1949, there were 60,000 school teachers in Pennsylvania. That total is now 77,000 and for 1969 the projected figure is 89,000.

Add these swollen enrollments to the extravagance of inflation and you have the crux of the problem. It would be even worse to the taxpayer if he had to pay for the education of nearly 600,000 students in private and parochial schools.

Harold O. Speidel, assistant superintendent of Schuylkill County schools, says the answer can come only from the legislature. He wants the lawmakers to reappraise what he says is their present attitude that further school costs must be borne at the local level.

Schoolmen's Proposal

"There is a bill, House Bill 1108, in our General Assembly now which would recognize that the costs of running schools—just as the cost of everything—has gone up and that the state must continue to bear its share of that increase," he explains.

The bill is the pet of schoolmen throughout the state. It is backed by the Pennsylvania State Education Assn., Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn., Pennsylvania Parent-Teachers Assn., and the Pennsylvania Assn. of Chief School Administrators.

To them, it's the antidote for a bad case of red ink. The rub is that it would mean hiking state taxes by 223 million dollars in the next two years. That doesn't count the 400 millions already asked by Gov. Lawrence to balance his proposed $1,885,000,000 budget, half of which already is earmarked for education.

The 32-page bill that is H1108 is rife with obstruse phrases like reimbursement fraction, local effort rate, maximum instruction subsidy and the like.

Reduced to simple terms, it means that the $5,800 base for state aid per teaching unit would be increased to $9,000. And the local effort in calculating the subsidy would go up commensurately.

The theory is that the present $5,800 subsidy base is outmoded, that the actual over-all cost of a teaching unit at the elementary level is more than $7,000 and at the secondary level more than $8,000.

"The present base for state aid is grossly disproportionate to the actual cost of providing instructional services which the legislature says must be provided," says Preston O. Van Ness, executive secretary of the school directors association.

(Tomorrow: What does the Legislature think about raising more school tax dollars?)

SCHOOL CRISIS AHEAD

LEGISLATORS GLUM AT H1108 ASK WHERE THEY'LL GET CASH

(Third in a series of four articles dealing with the vexing problem of school finances in Pennsylvania)

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Try talking about increased state taxes for schools to your legislator and you would likely get a response like this:

I know there's a problem. Something should be done about it. But, gosh, where will the money come from?

Wagner Pessimistic

To Chairman Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) of the Senate Education Committee the school finance problem is remindful of a growing child.

"Its needs are never satisfied. So much money is required, you would wonder where it all goes."

That comes from a senator who is considered one of the outstanding legislative experts on education problems.

What does he think about House Bill 1108, the plan offered by school directors, administrators as the best way for the more than 2,300 school districts in Pennsylvania to balance their budgets?

"This is a real challenge," responds Wagner. "The state already is suffering from financial arthritis. I don't see where in Penn's Woods the legislature is going to lay hands on the 200 millions in additional tax dollars that H1108 would require.

Rep. Albert J. Johnson, House Republican floor leader, is even more pessimistic about the price tag on H1108.

1½ P. C. Sales Tax Boost

"This is a very, very lavish figure," he says frankly. "Nobody (in the legislature) contemplates it. Another 200 millions for schools would mean an additional 1½ per cent increase in the sales tax."

And a 5 per cent sales tax—the present rate is 3½ per cent—just isn't in the woods in the current session of the legislature, already beset by a budget-balancing dilemma.

Gov. Lawrence asked for 400 millions in new taxes to balance his proposed $1,885,000,000 budget for the next two years. With the recent hike in the sales tax to 3½ per cent and increased estimates from existing revenues, the additional tax requirements still remain at 210 millions.

Wagner wants to raise the question that school districts haven't taken full advantage of their taxing powers under the 1947 Local Tax Law.

The law was enacted to take the load off already heavily burdened real estate taxes by allowing school districts and municipalities to tax virtually anything not already taxed by the state.

But it was later watered down sharply restricting the base for local taxation. For school districts, the principal revenue under the law (popularly known as Act 481) has come from wage and per capita taxes.

May Lift Tax Limit

One restriction that the legislature may remove is a limitation that the revenue under Act 481 must not exceed what 12 mills in real estate taxes could produce.

But Preston O Van Ness, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn contends that this would not be the answer.

"I don't know how some of the worst off school districts can possibly put on more taxes," says Van Ness. "And what kind of wage taxes can be imposed in a rural district."

William E. Rodemoyer, superintendent of the Corry area school jointure, says he can see nothing but H1108. This would increase the maximum subsidy base per teaching unit from $5,800 to $9,000.

A teaching unit is 22 high school students or 30 elementary pupils. Calculated in the subsidy is a formula which involves real estate values and an arbitrary figure representing local effort toward paying school costs.

"Without H1108, he says, his school board will have to increase its 35-mill real estate tax to 45 mills in addition to retaining its $5 per capita tax and a 1 per cent wage tax.

"In the jointures of our state, no organization will be able to offer a program any more extensive than that which can be supported by the weakest district in the jointure," Rodemoyer adds.

(Tomorrow: Teachers' salaries and prospects for increasing them).

STATE AID WITHDRAWAL WOULD MEAN INCREASE IN LAND TAXES

By Leonard A. Unger

Harrisburg (AP)—Take away all state aid from Pennsylvania's more than 2,300 school districts and it would mean an average 30-mill increase in local real estate taxes.

For example, state aid for Curtin Twp. in Centre County equals more than 417 mills on assessed valuation of real estate in that township. On the other side of the coin in Wyomissing in Berks County the figure would be only 3½ mills.

In some economically distressed school district in the hard coal region, the situation is so bad that the Legislature must appropriate special funds to keep the schools open.

For these and other reasons the Pennsylvania State Education Assn., representing more than 75,000 school teachers in the state, favors more state school aid.

MADE APPRAISAL

Last December, it made a calm, comprehensive appraisal of school financing problems in the state in a report "Education in Pennsylvania—Today and Tomorrow."

Researched by a committee of 15 of the leading educators in the commonwealth, the report makes it clear that the cost of education in Pennsylvania must increase if acceptable standards are to be maintained.

Acceptable standards don't mean frills. They don't mean just readin' writin' and 'rithmetic. To use the report's language, acceptable standards mean a rounded education. It said:

"Major factors which will operate to increase the cost of education tomorrow are the increasing cost of living, smaller classes of a more practical size, extension of the school year . . . elevation of salaries and income in the teaching profession to a level comparable to those received by members of other professional groups and additional professional staff and adequate physical plants to house our present pupil population and to provide for our constantly increasing student body."

MUST BE INCREASED

Among other things, it said in effect, teachers' salaries must—and should—be increased.

The PSEA is sponsoring legislation that would increase minimum annual salaries to $4,500 for the 77,000 teachers in the state. The present minimum required by law is $3,600 a year.

A new teacher just out of college receives automatic pay boosts of $200 a year until her salary reaches $5,000. Beyond that, there is no legal compulsion to boost her salary although some districts have been granting merit increases.

The far-reaching PSEA measure would give a new teacher $4,500 a year to start and nine automatic increases of $300 a year until her salary would reach $7,200. Teachers with a master's or doctor's degree would get more. So would principals and superintendents.

The cost in the next two years for that bill would be 66 million dollars.

According to school directors, the 1961-63 cost would jump 140 million more and for 1963-65, 200 millions again.

The school directors claim, if their districts are to remain solvent should the PSEA bill become law, it would eventually mean a state subsidy based on $14,500 for each teaching unit (30 elementary pupils, 22 high school students).

The school directors are asking a state subsidy base on $9,000 just to keep up with the present law which fixes a base of $5,800.

Prospects for enactment of the PSEA legislation are dim. Chairman Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill) of the Senate Education Committee says the cost is beyond what the Legislature can afford.

"As this moment," he adds, "the harassed Legislature shows little disposition to pass such a bill."

Salary of Professionals

But the PSEA contends that a teacher, entrusted with the delicate and important task of training and shaping the mind of school kids in the state, should be paid at least the salary of other professionals.

The Pottsville Republican recently published in a column recalling events of 99 years ago:

"The Pottsville school board re-elected all 26 teachers in the borough last week. Teachers work 10 months but are paid on a 12-month basis. Total teachers' payroll: $7,822 annually (topped by Supt. J. P. Sherman's $800)."

How times have changed.

BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 260, Printer's No. 692, on third reading, go over in its order,

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 292, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" requiring additional payments by the Commonwealth on account of building rentals in certain cases where the Commonwealth owns sixty per centum or more of the land in the district.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Would you advise me, and the Members of the Senate, how you intend to vote on this bill?

Mr. WAGNER. I usually like to keep that information as a surprise element. However, at the moment, I do not mind telling you that I am inclined to vote for the bill.

Mr. WEINER. Do you think this is good legislation?

Mr. WAGNER. You did not ask me that.

Mr. WEINER. I do not want to become argumentative, but I assume that if you are going to vote in favor of a bill, you would think it is good legislation. Or, are you telling us that you think this is bad legislation and you are still going to vote in favor of it?

Mr. WAGNER. What I was about to tell you, in further elaboration, is that a couple of very good Senators sponsored this legislation. One of them is a member of the Education Committee and he presented his case before the committee. It was very favorably received. So far as I am concerned, the things which I acquire usually come from exposure. That goes for sunburn and intelligence. The very wise men who are on the Education Committee seemed to feel that the school districts that are so circumstanced need some additional help if they are to have new buildings.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman. However, I would like to ask him one other question.

Senator Wagner, do you recall, about a week ago, when we discussed the bill dealing with adult education? I think in the course of the discussion or that bill, we discussed the formula and formulae that are used by the Commonwealth in arriving at the return it allows to certain counties of the Commonwealth for educational purposes. In your opinion, sir, do you think that this bill upsets that formula or is this in keeping with the formula as we have discussed it here?

Mr. WAGNER. My recollection, Mr. President, is that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, and I did not discuss formulas, as a result of adult education. We discussed the merits of extension education within the bounds of the budget. We did, however, discuss the formula for reimbursement for the operation of the public schools. So far as this is concerned, Mr. President, here again I say our primary problem is not the education of adults, except in its relation to children. I am always inclinded to go the last mile to help children get school buildings, rather than sacrifice something for those children for the benefit of grown folks. That is as simply as I can put it and, probably, as intelligently as I can put it.

Mr. WEINER. Would you go this last mile for the children of Philadelphia?

Mr. WAGNER. I would go the last mile for the children in any part of the Commonwealth. However, I want all the children to go along.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Wagner, I hate to prevent you from sitting down. However, I believe, unless I am misquoting you, one of the things that you stated in the discussion of that bill, at that time,—the only reason I am asking questions of you is because I know you are the Chairman of the Education Committee and that these matters will come before you before this Session is over—was that we have a State Tax Equalization Board and that these matters should be left in its hands. If I am misquoting you, please correct me. However, the results, as you stated them, were that this thing would work itself out and everybody would receive a fair share. Keeping that statement in mind and keeping in mind the discussions we have had on this matter, because there are going to be other discussions involving education, do you feel this type of legislation is in conformity with what you said a week or two ago?

Mr. WAGNER. I think it is, Mr. President, perhaps with variations. However, my reference to the State Tax Equalization Board was the fact that it determined the local effort of which we are capable. It says that Senator Weiner's District is capable of providing so much of the school cost, and the Commonwealth will provide the rest. It also says that Senator Wagner's District is capable of so much support, and the Commonwealth will provide the rest. It does not say anything in that formula about what happens when the State moves in and takes that property that would ordinarily be taxable. I do not have it. Senator Berger apparently has it and if he shows up today, it might be a good idea to let him explain his experience with that. However, when the State moves in and takes half or more of our land, which we use to tax to build school buildings, then we are out in left field when it is our turn at bat.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank Senator Wagner and also advise him that Senator Berger is here with us today.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there may be some merit to this legislation. From my point of view, and it is only my point of view, I do not think there is very much merit to it.

One of the problems involved here is that it upsets the formula or formulae that are used by the Commonwealth in arriving at a reimbursement figure. What you are fundamentally doing here is giving special treatment to a separate area which no other area is being accorded. This must, of necessity, upset the basic formula or format as it was laid out by the department. Some district is going to have to suffer as a result of this type of legislation.

Mr. President, I cannot tell you whether this is a fair way of handling this problem, because I do not know the over-all picture that intimately at the moment. I hope to familiarize myself with it before this Session is finished. The only thing I would like to point out, however,—and I do not want to be telling the Philadelphia story here every time that we talk about education—is that the disproportionate amount that Philadelphia has been receiving over the years has been of such a character, and of such a nature, that I think this area, along with Pittsburgh, has been hurt and hurt badly by this type of treatment.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am willing to yield to Senator Berger if he would like to speak at this time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am willing to yield to Senator Seyler. I always enjoy his discourses.

Mr. SEYLER. I thank the gentleman. I think there is no doubt, Mr. President, that this bill provides special help beyond the normal equalization program for certain districts in the building of school buildings. I am not here at the moment to discuss the equity of that, although I think Senator Weiner has a point in saying that if we are going to provide special treatment for districts which have this kind of difficulty, due to the fact that the Commonwealth has taken over certain lands, we perhaps, considering the children, whether they live in Philadelphia or whether they live in one of our northern tier counties, should equally be interested in helping in a case where loss of industry or any other condition works a hardship.

Mr. President, I would like to point out to Senator Wagner and Senator Berger, if I may have their attention for a moment, that this bill, in spite of its undoubtedly fine purpose for the people of the district affected, would create a situation where it would be possible for the district involved to receive more money from the State than the total cost of the building, as far as that district is concerned.

Let me give you an example. I hope Senator Berger will follow me on this example. Let us take the example of a school district which is part of a jointure. They arrange to build the building and they have it approved for reimbursement by the Commonwealth, under our formula. Let us assume that the share of this particular district, which would be affected by this legislation, would be, let us say, $2,000. That would be that district's share of the total jointure's rentals, if you follow me. Let us say, also, for easy computation, that it had a reimbursement fraction of sixty, which is not unusual. I think probably in some of the districts like this, they might have a higher fraction. However, for the sake of argument, let us say it has sixty. Then the Commonwealth's share would be approximately $1,200. The State, under our present law, would pay to the district $1,200 of that $2,000, which is the district's share of the rental. In addition to that, according to this legislation, it would receive fifty per cent of its share of the rental, which is another $1,000. This would mean that a district owing $2,000 a year, as rental on that building, would receive from the Commonwealth $2,200.

Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentlemen who sponsored this legislation that it would pay such a district to build a lot of buildings. If they build enough, they might be able to run the total cost of their school district on it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. Senator Seyler, this is in no way intended to be a pointed question. I hoped that I would be able to have the answer myself by reference to the History. I would inquire, Mr. President, of the gentleman, how did he vote on this bill in the last Session.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I do not recall. I would be glad to be advised by anyone who has the Legislative Journal from last Session.

Mr. BERGER. I had hoped to be able to provide the answer myself. However, as I recall it, this particular bill passed here without any opposition last Session.

Mr. SEYLER. Pending information, Mr. President, I will not venture a guess.

Mr. BERGER. Very well.

Mr. SEYLER. However, whether I voted for it the last time or not, Mr. President, it seems to me objectionable to pay a district, on behalf of rental, more money than its total bill for rental. It leaves them not paying anything, and leaves them $200 ahead on the instance I cited. If they had a reimbursement fraction of eighty or ninety, as is quite possible in this type of district, they would actually be making more money on the deal than I cited.

Certainly, we do not want to start the precedent of the State supporting the school districts so that the school districts make a profit in the building of buildings. We are willing to go along and pay part of the bill, and maybe in a district like this we should pay a large part of the bill, but I do not think we should ever be in a position of paying a district, on account of rental for buildings, more than the rental costs them.

Mr. BERGER. There is no question about it, Mr. President. I do not believe this bill would have that result. In explanation, however, I want to say to the Members of the Senate that a thoroughly accurate canvass, I believe by the Department of Public Instruction, indicated that there are two districts in the State that might be in this situation. Senator Confair informs me that he might have one, but the one to which I refer, I believe, is in Elk County and may no longer be in that situation because of the population requirement here, which is twenty-five or less to the square mile

At the time this was under discussion, there were just two districts. One is the joint district of Austin, I believe, and the constituent school districts are in the very southernmost part of the county, as I recall it. Over seventy-five per cent of the area down there is owned by the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There certainly is a population ratio of less than twenty-five to the square mile. Whether or not this is special legislation in favor of that type of district, the fact remains that it is unable to pay its share in the jointure of the rentals for the school which is required under the county plan. This is the only way it can be pulled out of the hole. If there is any question about the district receiving more money than its share of the rental would be, I hope that it will be corrected. However, when the bill was drawn, it certainly was not intended to be in that form.

This is the same as it was in the prior Session, and the situation has not changed. In fact, I would say that maybe there are fewer in population down in those districts than there were at that time.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would suggest, in the interest of being safe on this, that the Senator might consider a provision in the bill which would say that in no case can a district receive more money from the State than the total amount of its rental. In other words, I do not even object to paying the whole cost of a building by the State, but I do have an objection, even if it is in only a few districts, to paying a district more money than it actually needs to meet its obligation.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would certainly go along with that. If I read the language correctly, or certainly the intent of the bill, if the reimbursement should be $2,000, the fifty per cent would be one-half of eight hundred dollars, I would gather. However, if there is any question, in the interest of time, I would be glad to accept your amendments or provide them myself to prevent any possibility of a district getting any more money than its share of the rental.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. Certainly, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. On page 3, Senator, it says, "fifty per centum of the district's share of the rental," and in the case of $2,000, that seems to me to clearly say that they would receive, in addition to all other moneys paid, $1,000.

Mr. BERGER. I cannot agree.

Mr. SEYLER. I do not see how else you could read that statement.

Mr. BERGER. No, it would be the remaining portion of the rental, certainly Senator, that the district would be required to pay. It would not amount to the whole amount of the rental.

Mr. President, Senator Wagner requests that we be at ease for just a moment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, so that there shall be no doubt whatever as to the result of this bill, I would request that Senate Bill No. 292, Printer's No. 907, on final passage, go over in order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none. The bill will appear on Monday's Final Passage Calendar.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 295, Printer's No. 544; and

Senate Bill No. 351, Printer's No. 853.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 390, entitled:

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 583, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225) entitled "The Game Law" increasing the number of special dog training area permits which may be issued in any one county.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHADY. I want to draw to the attention of this group, Mr. President, that this bill is a "may" bill and any county that does not care to have these areas set aside, does not have to do so. This bill permits these areas to be set aside if they are so desired. The amount of land taken for public hunting is at a minimum or insignificant.

I also draw to your attention that all the dog lovers who think of training the hounds, and of man's best friend, are interested in this bill. It is big business. It increases the business not only of the locale where the area is set aside, but it involves travel, conventions and trials throughout the country, transportation and lodgings, and various local, State and international field trials.

The true beagler keeps his dogs properly licensed, registered, kenneled, clean and healthy, and under control at all times. The idea is to increase the care and training of dogs used in hunting.

The big thing is that there seems to be an objection on the part of one or two counties which have a different sportsmen's organization than the State sportsmen's organization. As a result, they feel that they should object on behalf of their county. This objection, I feel, is invalid, because it is a "may" bill. If their county does not wish it, they just do not have to apply for it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—36

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. HELM, A. W. JOHNSON, HAMILTON and Stone. RESOLUTION No. 81.

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1959.

It has been charged by Auditor General Charles C. Smith that highway equipment contractors in Beaver County were forced to kick back five per cent of their state-rental payments "ostensibly as political contributions" to the personal political organization of Samuel G. Neff.

The Auditor General has also said, "From all of the information examined during the course of this audit, it is the absolute opinion of the Department of the Auditor General that the operations of the Department of Highways in the County of Beaver represents the poorest type of management that has come to the attention of this department.

Further, it is the opinion of this department that, through the various manipulations * * * funds of the Commonwealth were either wastefully expended or miscredited to persons who were not entitled to receive the same."

Such charges made by a responsible State officer against another State official are indeed grave, and merit a thorough investigation in order to protect the interests of the tax-paying public: therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Justice is hereby requested to:

(1) Investigate the expenditure of State highway funds in Beaver County;

(2) Investigate all highway districts for proof of any other evidence of misapplication of highway funds;

(3) Institute any actions at law necessary to see that justice is done as a result of findings made during the investigations of the Department of Justice; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor of Pennsylvania is requested to suspend Samuel G. Neff from his present position as manager of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund until completion of the investigation by the Department of Justice of the expenditure of highway funds in Beaver County; and be it further

Resolved, That it is hereby recommended by this House of Representatives that the expenditure of State highway funds in Beaver County be suspended until completion of the investigation in Beaver County by the Department of Justice.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. FARABAUGH, ROVANSEK, KORNS and BUCHANAN.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 82.

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1959.

The laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating to the safety of persons employed, housed or assembled in public buildings and other buildings and structures which accommodate a number of persons are in many instances obsolete and badly in need of revision.

Due to the advances which have been made throughout the years in the design and construction of buildings and the means of protecting such buildings and the persons therein, the same cannot be adequately governed by an act adopted over thirty years ago; therefore, be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study of the act of April 27, 1927 (P. L. 465), sometimes referred to as the "Fire and Panic Act," and the amendments thereto, and related laws, for the purpose of recommending an extensive revision and modernization thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. AGNEW. I have been asked to advise, Mr. Speaker, that these amendments have been cleared with both sides, and are in the nature of technical amendments which the Committee put in yesterday but which did not fit, so they must be offered again on the Floor of the House. We ask all Members on both sides to support these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Messrs. WALSH, AGNEW, DONALDSON and FILO offered amendments to Section 12.

Mr. WALSH. I wish to report that the amendments offered have been cleared with both sides.

The SPEAKER. Are the amendments offered in opposition? Are they amendments to the section that has already been amended?

Mr. WALSH. No, they are not.

The amendments offered by Mr. Walsh were read as follows:

Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page , line , by inserting after "13.1" (a)

Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page , line , by striking out "APPROVE OR"

The question shall be in the following form:

Shall the county commissioners of Allegheny County be authorized to levy taxes and appropriate money in such amounts annually as the county commissioners deem proper to the Port Authority of Allegheny County for the purpose of operating a transportation system?

Yes.....

No.....

If a majority of the electors of the county voting on the question vote "yes" the county commissioners shall approve the original or revised plan of integrated operation of mass transportation, and if the majority of the electors of the county voting on the question vote "no" or if the number of votes cast by the electors of the county on the question are evenly divided, the county commissioners shall not approve the original or revised plan of integrated operation of mass transportation.

Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page , line , by inserting before "Upon" (c)

Amend Sec. 12 (Sec. 13.1), page , line 14, by inserting before "THE" (c)

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, in order to conserve time, these four amendments are being offered by the gentlemen from Allegheny, Mr. Donaldson, Mr. Agnew, Mr. Filo and myself.

This is the first time an authority of this kind has been offered to the electorate. This authority is far reaching. We feel the people of Allegheny County—and I say Allegheny County does not constitute just the city of Pittsburgh—should be given the right to vote whether or not they want this kind of authority. We recognize that perhaps in Pittsburgh they might have a transportation problem, but that is not true of a lot of places in the county. So I respectively ask that the people of Allegheny County be given the right of home rule. Let them vote whether or not they want such an authority.

We have been told by the proponents of this bill that this has been in committee or hashed around for a period of two years. If that be true, then I feel the people of Allegheny County should be given the opportunity to study the work of this drafting committee over the last two years.

The proponents will tell you there is a crying need for this means of transportation. If that be true, if the people of Allegheny County are so incensed that they need this, I do not think anybody should fear to let them express their opinion at the polls. This is the democratic way.

I ask the Members on both sides of the House to let us have home rule, and let the people outside of Pittsburgh themselves decide whether or not they want such mass transportation.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I rise in opposition to the offered amendments. The problem that this House Bill 1297 is trying to correct has been kicked around for many years. This problem to our community, to our county, is nothing new. We have had experts and many people who studied this problem and they came out with a bill that would correct the situation, and the referendum amendments would only be a block to the corrective method that this bill would do.

Now to make it short and sweet, I would put it this way, referendums are weapons for special interest groups who utilize and pervert these for their own purpose. The silent masses are never able to express their true feelings. Often times referendums have destroyed good legislation. I, in my conscience, and I hope that other legislators feel the same, feel that this is a good bill and we, in conscience, can support it because it will take care of a problem that has been haunting Allegheny County for many years, economically and otherwise.

Mr. DONALDSON. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I rise in support of the referendum amendments co-sponsored by two gentlemen from Allegheny County on the Democratic side and Representative Agnew and I on the Republican side. I think that the referendum concept is particularly important in this piece of legislation.

I would like to explain to the Members of the House that this bill constitutes a new concept in authority financing in the law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Heretofore authorities have been dependent for their money on toll revenues. If it were a water authority, of course, it would be the water rents charged to the consumers; if it were a sewer authority, it would be the sewer rents charged to the particular people who own the sewers.

However, apparently the proponents of this bill feel that a transportation authority cannot operate exclusively on the revenues to be derived from the traveling public in the way of fares. Therefore they have provided in this bill to supplement the income of the authority, that is, the normal income which the authority would receive from the fares paid by passengers and that the county commissioners of Allegheny County can contribute in unlimited sums of money from current taxation or from general obligation bonds for the purpose of subsidizing this authority. Therefore it seems to me that this question is very much akin to the question of bond issues as we normally see them and as they are submitted to the electorate. If the people of Allegheny County believe that mass transportation is important enough to require subsidation in unlimited amounts by the county commissioners, then they can still vote on the referendum and the bill will roll. Otherwise, of course, if the people feel that we should not be creating a new governmental function, then the people can so express themselves, and we will have to look for other means to solve our transportation problems.

Now the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, suggests that various studies have been undertaken for a period of a couple years. If that is the case, then the authors of those studies had a duty to present to the Members of the General Assembly the facts and figures that they have uncovered. To date they have not offered any such facts or figures, and from our own research it would appear that perhaps the reason they hesitate so to do is that the facts and figures for transit authority operations in other parts of this nation are very discouraging.

I have a long list of transit authority operations that I could recite to this House. It indicates that in each instance the authority has required ever increasing annual subsidies from the taxpayers of the community and notwithstanding the passengers who travel on the authorities' equipment have decreased each and every year.

For example, the Chicago Transit Authority, which has been in operation for 11 years, is now requesting from the General Assembly of Illinois the right to collect $19 million annually for the subsidation of that system; they are requesting the right to levy a one cent a gallon tax on all of the motorists of Cook County, Illinois, and the right to levy a 5 mills property tax on all the real estate in Illinois.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I bring the attention of the Chair that the gentleman is not discussing the amendments which are before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to be lenient in confining the range of discussion. The Chair would hold that citing relevant cases in other comparable cases might give point to his argument. If he strays too far afield, the Chair will ask him to confine and keep his argument pertinent.

The Sergeant-at-Arms will terminate the long continued conversation in the rear of the House. It is a displeasing discourtesy upon the part of guests to engage in prolonged conversation when Members of this House are addressing the House. The Chair instructs the Sergeant-at-Arms to see that this conversation is discontinued.

Mr. DONALDSON. I would apoligize to the gentleman from Allegheny and to the Chair and to the Members of the House if I digressed too far, but the facts and figures of mass transportation systems are very important to this bill and to the amendment that is being offered. We have had great difficulty getting them and therefore I have been trying to submit them.

The point, Mr. Speaker, is, should the people of Allegheny County undertake a new governmental function as this bill involves, or should they have an opportunity to express themselves by means of a referendum as to whether or not they wish to undertake a new and, from the experience that we have had, very costly, very expensive type of governmental operation. I say let us submit that question to the electorate of Allegheny County and be guided by their decision.

The referendum is particularly important in Allegheny County because under our political situation there now we will definitely have a new majority on the board of county commissioners next year, since one of the present majority members is not running for reelection. Therefore when they asked us to submit to the judgment of the county commissioners, we do not even know who that majority would be and therefore we ask all of the Members on both sides to support this referendum amendment.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, in my very brief tenure in this House I have learned that one of the ways used to throw a roadblock, or to bring about dilatory and delaying tactics to any pieces of legislation is to ask for a referendum. That again is what is happening here.

I think that as Members of the Legislature we have the problem of deciding whether or not a mass transportation authority is for the good, or is not for the good of the citizens of Allegheny County. I think that the idea of a referendum in some instances may be good but I think that we are abdicating our position as Members of the General Assembly if we dodge this issue by giving it to the people to vote upon.

If the legislation as proposed is not good, then it can be defeated by a majority in this House, but I honestly prevail upon the Members to defeat the referendum amendment and let the Members of this House vote either for or against this legislation.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb, has a very cogent point when he intimates that not all matters can be submitted to a popular referendum, that we are representatives of the people and upon our shoulders falls the responsibility of casting votes on proposed matters of legislation no matter how controversial.

We agree with the gentleman, Mr. Lamb. However, I must point out why this is the exception to the general rule. What this bill does, in effect, is authorize the port authority of Allegheny County to make a two year study, to make an integrated plan for a public transportation system in Allegheny County. As of right now we have no facts. We do not know what the fares will be. We do not know what the service will be. We do not know the method of buying out the existing transportation system. We do not know what this will cost in public money.

For that reason we have attempted to amend this bill by providing for a referendum. When this port authority, composed of outstanding citizens of Allegheny County, has completed its two year study, then, through the public press, the Members of the Legislature and all other persons will know just what the facts are. To ask the Legislature to vote yes or no on this bill now is asking us to vote blindly in the dark, to buy a pig in a poke. That is why we favor a referendum. Let the facts be developed. Give the people the facts; the people will make a wise choice.

In answer to Mr. Kamyk, the gentleman from Allegheny, who said a referendum is the device of special interest groups to delay, to stall, to defeat a proposal, let me say this: The downtown commercial interests in Allegheny County and towntown Pittsburgh are for this bill without a referendum. It seems to me that is one special interest group that is not in favor of a referendum. The banking interests in Allegheny County are for this bill without a referendum: I call them a special interest group. How can the gentleman refer to the people as a special interest group? We are just asking the people to authorize the expenditure of public money in Allegheny County for the operation of a transportation system. We ask you to let the people vote on it. After all, it is their money. It is in the nature of a bond issue. We want the people of Allegheny County to say either yes or no on whether the county commissioners shall levy taxes and appropriate money annually to the port authority to operate a transportation system. Never let it be said that the people are a special inerest group for, if it is, I shall be glad to be one of the Representatives who favor special interest groups.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, desire to be recognized?

Mr. KAMYK. I yield to Mr. Walsh, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, yields to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walsh.

Mr. WALSH. Thank you, Mr. Kamyk.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, it has been brought out here about the ills of a referendum. Just recently Pennsylvania was on the verge of an innovation. His Excellency, the Governor, said that if a horse racing bill was submitted to the electorate of Pensylvania, he would sign the bill. He would after the referendum.

Another instance: Just recently we asked the electorate of Pennsylvania whether or not it wanted to pay a bonus to the Korean war veterans. There was no special interest.

In my tenure up here I have seen a lot of special interests, but I have never seen any lobbyist up here for the Korean veterans. Still that bill passed. I feel that in justice to the people of Allegheny County, they should be given the right to say whether they are going to have more taxes heaped on their heads.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the proponents of this referendum amendment have gone far afield in discussing this bill; however, the amendments may be such that cause you to go far afield.

They stated very eloquently to leave it up to the will of the people. They have given examples. Well, I could give examples on the other side. There were examples when special interests used their financial backing and their prestige and influence to defeat good legislation. All we have to do is go back to a so-called graduated income tax, where we were going to amend the Constitution to permit a graduated income tax in the state of Pennsylvania, and what happened then? After we passed the necessary resolutions for two Sessions, and the amendment finally got on the ballot, what happened? I saw two-page ads appear in the newspapers that if you are voting for the Constitutional amendments you are voting for an income tax.

Another referedum example: The public school system in the busy city of Pittsburgh. We passed the referendum then. It was for a good cause, a tax so that public schools could have enough money to run the schools with, the public schools. That too was defeated.

Now I do not know who used their influence then, but perhaps there were some people who would be hurt by paying that kind of tax.

So I fear if this referendum amendment passes it may, it could defeat the bill, and I in good conscience think this legislation is necessary for Allegheny County in order to have a good, coordinated transit system.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. WALSH and AGNEW and were as follows:

On the question,

MOTION OF RECOMMITT

Mr. WALSH. At this time, Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 1297 be referred back to the Committee on Cities—Counties Second Class and Second Class A for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I am surprised that this motion is coming at this time, after we have debated various amendments and so forth. The bill seems to be in pretty good shape for the benefit of the people of Allegheny County. For that reason I rise to oppose the gentleman's motion to recommit and I ask the Members of the House to vote the motion down.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 317, entitled as follows:

An Act prohibiting the erection and maintenance of certain advertising devices along highways on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. * * *

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. Comer asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 5 (1), Page 5, Line 2 by adding after the word "erected" the words "or authorized".

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 12, by inserting after "commercial" And provided further, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to signs, posters or banners which identify a business activity, the owner thereof or the product sold by persons, corporations or associations which maintain business places at various locations throughout the Commonwealth when (i) such person, corporation or association maintains standard or similar buildings color schemes and types and locations of identification signs, posters and banners at each such place of business; (ii) such signs, posters or banners are attached to or upon the building or erected in the area in which such business activity is carried on; and (iii) access to any such place of business is available only from roads which are not a part of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways notwithstanding that such signs posters or banners are located within six hundred sixty feet of or are visible from any highway which is a part of such system.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman agree that these are simply corrections to the text, or are they constructive amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, from what I have seen of them they are destructive amendments.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain the purpose of the amendments which are added to page 3 of the bill?

Mr. COMER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

This one amendment, Mr. Speaker, provides for service stations such as are presently on the turnpike. If the gentleman from Allegheny will check with the Chief Clerk he will find that these amendments that I proposed today were given to me by request.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well then, who requested them, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. COMER. I think that is out of order, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia take the responsibility for these amendments or does he know nothing about them?

Mr. COMER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Alright. What do these amendments mean then, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COMER. Just as I said, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I am looking for enlightenment and I will ask this question. Do these amendments not mean that anybody who is in business in the state of Pennsylvania, of any type, have the right to have a billboard upon an inter-state highway?

Mr. COMER. They do not. This amendment provides, as I said, for our present stations on the turnpike whether it be Esso, Standard Oil, Sunoco or any of our other popular make gasolines, where they provide a station there will be signs above them. That is what this amendment takes care of.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, indicate to me wherein the amendments state that they apply only to gasoline stations or where gasoline is used? Mr. Speaker, am I not correct in stating that there is no word "gasoline" in there?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I would say this, that was the intent of this amendment. Of course, the gentleman from Allegheny can take different meanings from the amendment, that is his privilege. That is however, the intent of the amendment.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill is interpreted by the court it is not what I think, but what an average citizen or a judge would think. Now, what does it mean in plain English?

Well, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia and although I have only had a few seconds examination of the amendment, I ask consent to speak on it in opposition to the amendment.

Mr. Speaker, on my quick examination of these amendments, they merely make a bill which was destroyed by an amendment in committee much worse. It will allow any business in the state of Pennsylvania to have billboards upon a new state highway.

If we are aware of what happened when the bill was reported from Committee, it aroused such widespread opposition from the administration, particularly the Honorable David L. Lawrence, the Governor of this Commonwealth, and the Honorable Park H. Martin, the Secretary of Highways, who stated clearly and without reservation that the bill as amended would deprive this state of from $5 to $10 million in federal aid. The addition of this particular amendment would destroy any possibility of getting this aid to a greater degree.

I was awaiting with anticipation the administration amendments which would correct the bill to its original state. Apparently they are not here. However, I would request any person who believes that the erection of billboards upon interstate highways is against the best interests of the citizens of this Commonwealth, to vote against this amendment.

I call to the particular attention of the Members on the other side of the House that a vote for this amendment is a vote against the policies which were enunciated and fought for by our Governor during his campaign for election in 1958.

I ask for a roll call, Mr. Speaker

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. GOLDSTEIN and AGNEW and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

(During the Calling of the roll)

The SPEAKER. Many Members are not answering to their names. That is a very grievous offense because it would tempt the Speaker, or the desk, if they were prejudiced, when Members do not answer to put them down one way or another.

The Chair wants the control of the vote always to be in the hands of the House, and Members to answer so distinctly to their names that even though the desk were so inclined to put a bill across, it could not do it. I do not want votes lost because Members do not answer; and I do not want even administration bills put across because Members do not answer. The Members, will please answer.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 345, entitled:

An Act amending "The Borough Code," approved May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519), authorizing the annexation of certain territory in a township which territory is contiguous to and owned by the borough.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Haudenshield,	Murray, P. G.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 460, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 21, 1953 (P. L. 1254), entitled "An act establishing a uniform fee for services of records of deeds in counties of the third * * * and eighth classes," changing certain fees.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 2, line 9 by striking out "the" and inserting:

or photostats the maximum

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 9 and 10 by striking out "fifty cents (50¢) plus one dollar ($1) for each page reproduced" and inserting:

six dollars and fifty cents ($6.50)

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, at the present time the recording of deeds and mortgages in the Commonwealth provides for a minimum fee of $3.50. Our recorder of Deeds charges one cent for every four words in these instruments.

These amendments will merely make it that a maximum fee of $6.50 will now be charged in those instances where the Recorder of deeds reproduces by photostating the instruments.

We feel this is a fair and reasonable charge. Many FHA and Veterans' Administration mortgages contain thousands of words. When they are photostated it is no extra cost on the county, and therefore we feel we should establish a maximum charge of $6.50.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, was it not the intent of House Bill 460, Printer's No. 553, as originally drawn, to set up a uniform per page price for the recording of deeds, mortgages and other instruments in those 20-some odd counties, excluding Philadelphia and Allegheny, which use mechancial reproduction or photostat machines to record these instruments?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. No, Mr. Speaker, that was not the original intent of the proposal in this bill. The original intent for proposing this bill was so that when deeds or mortgages are recorded by photostating or reproduction we should certainly not charge the FHA and GI mortgages such fees as $11 and $12 when they require no extra effort or cost on the recorders. Therefore this bill is merely intended to bring down the cost of recording GI and FHA mortgages when there is actually no additional cost for recording these mortgages.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Do I understand then the proponent of this amendment admits there are recorders' offices in the 65 counties of Pennsylvania which this act will affect which presently charge more than $6.50 for certain instruments?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Yes, Mr. Speaker, that is so. However, I might say that when this fee was established, this $11 or $12 fee, we were entering these FHA and GI mortgages by the transcription method, by typing them out in the indenture books. But now that we photostat them in most of these counties, I certainly think this is a fair and reasonable fee to be charged.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the proponent of this measure, this amendment, then, to say that because we have modernized some 20-odd recorder of deeds' offices in Pennsylvania to use these modern methods, that we should charge less for certain documents because regardless of how many words are on a page, it is still a page when you photograph it or photostat it? Is that the gentleman's contention?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, that is substantially correct. I feel that inasmuch as we are merely photostating these records, whether they are standard mortgages or GI mortgages, we should charge a fee certainly in the same price range, and I feel that somewhere between $3.50 and $6.50, at the recorders' discretion, is the best possible method of cost.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the proponent of this amendment, then, to say that we are now leaving it to the discretion of the 65 recorders of deeds to establish a price for each deed, mortgage, release, assignment, or any other instrument, to range between $3.50 and $6.50, with no guide to designate what price to put on a particular instrument?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. No, Mr. Speaker, I call the gentleman's attention to the fact that this bill originally, and still does read one cent for every four words transcribed.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the proponement of this amendment is not for the progressive steps which some counties have taken, but wants them, even though they photostat or photograph, to spend their time counting each line of print to see whether there are four words, and multiplying it by one cent to see how much they should charge?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Well, certainly they do not do that now. They know how many words are in a standard form of mortgage, and in our county they have established that price at $4.50. It costs no more to record by a photostat method an FHA or GI mortgage which has four pages with many thousands of words than it does to record a standard mortgage. I feel savings from these improved methods of recording certainly should be passed on to the taxpayer, and the people who are purchasing property and placing things on the record.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the gentleman has agreed there are certain documents which are presently being recorded in our 65 recorders' offices which cost in excess of $6.50. I would assume then the gentleman would admit that this bill, if passed, as amended, or if this amendment is passed, it would reduce the income of at least some of the recorder of deeds' offices in Pennsylvania. Is this correct?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. And I certainly think automation and improved methods in any industry or any business should certainly benefit the person they are serving, especially when it is a governmental agency.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Does the genltman from Washington have any idea what this will cost in—let's get a county close to home—Bucks County? What will this cost the recorder of deeds in Bucks County? Do you know, Mr. Murphy?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Unfortunately, I have never searched titles nor handled property deals in Bucks County. I leave that to the eminent barristers of that Bar, so I do not know how many GI mortgages or FHA mortgages they record. I know that in my county the difference in the income to our record of deeds will be very little and he is quite happy that he will have a standard fee. He intends to charge $4.50 across the board for photostating every four-page mortgage.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know, as a broad general policy whether the proponents of this amendment believe that the recorder of deeds office should be a self-sustaining governmental operation or whether it should be subsidized with the county taxpayers' funds?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. I certainly believe that any governmental agency that can be self-sustaining should be kept that way. Up until this point our recorder of deeds offices by and large have been self-sustaining. Of course, in many instances these recording machines that they are purchasing are purchased with county funds and not immediately reimbursed by the recording fees.

I certainly agree with you and I might remind you that in your own county they charge $6.50 for recording a deed or a mortgage, and this bill will permit your recorder of deeds to continue recording deeds and mortgages at $6.50, whereas in my county, which is a fourth class county, and in many other counties, we charge $4.50, and our recorders can continue to service their people and charge them only $4.50.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman agree with me that it is possible that many of the county recorders of deeds offices may begin to operate in the red if this amendment is passed and then the bill itself becomes law?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. No, I certainly do not feel that today we have that many FHA and GI mortgages going through to substantially change the income of any county recorder's office merely by giving these people the same break as anyone else who has a standard mortgage. I do not care if you are reproducing. This only applies when you are photostating the instrument itself. When you are recording a deed or a mortgage and you have four pages, it costs the same to record four pages of a standard mortgage as it does for four pages of an FHA mortgage, even though the wording is, of coruse, substantially different.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, am I correct that the minimum charge under this bill even as marked will remain $3.50?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is correct. The minimum charge will remain at $3.50.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, from a reading of House Bill 460 as originally proposed before this amendment, it seems obvious to me that the intent of this legislation, and I think it is a good intent, was to put a flat per page charge on an instrument in those offices which have modernized and use modern, up-to-date photographic or photostatic equipment, the theory being that in the days when we copied by hand or typed them that it mattered how many words were on a page; but when you merely photograph or photostat them, it would not matter whether there are fifty words on a page or five thousand.

Therefore, the bill as originally written, at least I thought, served a good purpose. However, this amendment would rip out that good purpose.

Further, in regard to the amount now set forth, I became interested in this and I contacted the recorders of deeds in the 65 counties of Pennsylvania affected by this legislation, Philadelphia and Allegheny not included. I have heard from the recorders of deeds of over 23 counties.

I have heard from Erie, Fayette, Chester, York, Crawford, Cumberland, Lycoming, Clinton, Montgomery, Lehigh, Indiana, Venango, McKean, Sullivan, Montour, Delaware, Westmoreland, Warren, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Adams, Bucks, Beaver, Susquehanna, Luzerne, Jefferson and Northumberland.

I think that the counties not heard from are those which do not use photographic or photostatic methods. These communications are unanimous. They are opposed to this bill as presently written. The price of $6.50, which would be a maximum price, is too little for them to operate their offices in the black.

Further, the present minimum of $3.50 is too low. They either would like to see this bill and its amendments not passed, or they wish amendments to this bill which would increase the minimum fee on any instrument and increase the per page price for each instrument.

I ask that each and every Member of this House, if they have not already contacted their own recorder of deeds, to at least get in touch with them so that if this bill does come to a vote they will be voting intelligently upon it. I ask that this present amendment be defeated.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. It is quite true that the correspondence he had is in opposition to this House bill, and I think that the gentleman from Bucks should inform us that that correspondence was all dated prior to this amendment. It was with the greatest respect I have for the gentleman from Bucks that I submit these amendments so that we can eliminate the problem that we have.

In his county they charge $6.50, his the recorder wants to continue doing so. I my county we charge $4.50, our recorder wants to continue doing so, we don't want to raise the price, we don't want to raise or lower his price, and that is why I submit these amendments. I am sure if he will take another survey, the letters will come back approving this bill as amended.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. The communication that I received indicate only what the average cost of recording an instrument is.

This average is arrived at by recording certain instruments for $3.50, certain instruments for $4.50 but many instruments for $9, $10, $11 and $12 so that the average comes down to close to $6 or $6.50—the average. This bill would prevent any instrument from being charged the rate over $6.50.

The gentleman erroneously reports that my Recorder of Deeds presently charges $6.50. This is not true. We have a variable rate but the average needed for all instruments in order for our office to operate in the black—and I think this is true all over the State—is approximately $5.50 to $6 per instrument. This means one page instruments or fifteen page instruments. You must have that average to operate a recorder of deeds office economically.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. To offer amendments to House Bill No. 460, Printer's No. 553. They have been presented to both sides and I do not believe that they are agreed to.

The SPEAKER. May I say to the gentleman, the bill has been agreed to.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I believe the amendments have been agreed to but not the bill.

The SPEAKER. The bill has been agreed to.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. I stand corrected, sir. I understood the gentleman offered amendments to this bill. The amendments have been passed but I do not believe the bill has been passed.

The SPEAKER. The bill as has been amended has been agreed to. When the bill comes up for final passage, if the gentleman asks and obtains, as I am sure he can, unanimous consent to offer amendments, the Chair will cooperate.

The SPEAKER. I am informed of an agreement made by the Majority Leader of which I was not informed. The understanding was, as I now learn, that Mr. Murphy would offer his amendments and then the gentleman from Bucks would offer his amendments, if the amendments are not in agreement. If the gentleman is amending the amendments which the House adopted, he can not do it today, but if he is amending another section then he is in order.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, to be quite honest there are two amendments. I believe that one does not amend the section offered by Mr. Murphy but I believe—

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman send these amendments to the desk?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. I want to clear a point here. I had a copy of Mr. Williams' amendments and I believe one part of his amendments deals with the same part as Mr. Murphy's amendments. Therefore, Mr. Murphy's amendments were offered first, if they were adopted, his amendments certainly could be offered but the bill should be printed and if his amendments conflict with one part of the amendment—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Bucks is going to amend the amendments offered by the gentleman from Washington and that is going to take time.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I agree with Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the gentleman offer his amendments tomorrow when the bill is in print and so it can be decided how they apply.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 514 Printer's No. 674

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 635, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), changing the time within which notice of a hearing is issued and requiring notice of violations as a pre-requisite to imposition of a penalty suspension or revocation.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 734 Printer's No. 680

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 870, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" aproved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), prohibiting the posting of signs upon trees or utility poles.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, will one of the sponsors consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Weidner.

Mr. WEIDNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, does this bill apply to political signs?

Mr. WEIDNER. Yes, it does—any signs.

Mr. EILBERG. Does it apply to signs that are presently fastened to trees and utility poles?

Mr. WEIDNER. It will. It will affect all signs such as that. All signs are supposed to be removed. It will affect them in the future.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the bill does not say that any signs presently attached must be removed, does it?

Mr. WEIDNER. The only signs, I think, that you will see today on trees, especially in the rural areas are those which were posted last November during the political campaign or possibly during the primary election, that is, political cards and so forth. That is the point I am trying to accomplish as much as trying to save the trees themselves.

Mr. EILBERG. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that there are probably thousands and thousands of signs posted now throughout this Commonwealth resulting from the last or prior elections?

Mr. WEIDNER. That is true.

Mr. EILBERG. Does this bill, Mr. Speaker, apply to a candidate for political office if someone else erects the sign for him?

Mr. WEIDNER. I think it would apply in all cases that whoever would post the sign would be held responsible, or would be held liable.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, doesn't the bill say that whoever pastes or attaches the sign rather than anyone such as the candidate who may not do it himself?

Mr. WEIDNER. Well, I guess this bill has been amended twice. It was amended in Committee, and the original purpose was to prohibit such signs being placed on trees at any time. The only reason or purpose I had in mind by presenting this bill was to actually preserve the trees themselves as there has been so much abuse in that respect. For that reason I introduced the bill at the request of many people.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, is it not possible that the candidate for political office might give some posters to a political worker, and an over-zealous worker might attach a sign without the consent or permission of the candidate?

Mr. WEIDNER. That is possible, of course.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, also, with respect to the purpose of the gentleman and in respect to the damage done to trees and so forth, is that not already covered by the malicious mischief sections of the Penal Code?

Mr. WEIDNER. It did not include trees; it did include so far as some utility poles were concerned.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not answering my question. My question is, if malicious mischief is done to a tree or the personal property of another, isn't that already covered as an offense within the Penal Code?

Mr. WEIDNER. It was my understanding that it was not when I inquired in the Reference Bureau.

I dare say that in addition to the question that you have just asked, that any political candidate who has any posters to be posted should instruct those individuals who are posting that such a law now exists if this becomes a law.

Mr. EILBERG. But, Mr. Speaker, if the political worker puts up the poster in spite of, or contrary to, the instructions, according to the gentleman, the candidate would nevertheless be held responsible and could be subject to arrest for the misdeamnor described in this bill. Isn't that so, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. WEIDNER. I think you are right and that is what I am trying to accomplish.

Mr. EILBERG. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "ayes" appear to have it.

Whereupon, division was called for, ninety-seven Members having voted in the affirmative and seventy-one in the negative, the motion was agreed to.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 53

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House, House Resolution No. 53 which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 6, 1959.

Whereas, Good business climate is hereby defined as follows:

1. Fair and equitable treatment in legislation and administrative regulation for all segments of Pennsylvania's economy.
2. A framework of government, the support of which adds no greater cost to doing business than the cost of government imposed by other industrial states.
3. Equitable tax policies, and restriction of the cost of government to reasonable levels.
4. Fair treatment for all in legislation and administration of labor-management relations affairs.
5. Fostering, in the public interests, an economic atmosphere which will enable Pennsylvania's agriculture and industry to compete for out-of-state markets, remembering that wide marketing of Pennsylvania products brings wealth into the State, thereby raising the standard of living of all of our people; and

Whereas, For reasons hereinafter set forth, it will be critically important for Pennsylvania to create and maintain a good business climate; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania's population is increasing at the rate of about 60,000 persons per year; and

Whereas, The capital investment necessary to provide jobs for the expected 20,000 new workers each year will be in excess of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) annually; and

Whereas, Industry and agriculture are the prime movers of the rest of the business economy; and

Whereas, Healthy industry broadens the tax base, thereby providing much-needed revenues for community facilities and government services for all our people; and

RESOLUTION

Mr. WHITTAKER offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

COMMITTEE QUORUMS

The SPEAKER. We are approaching a very busy period as far as consideration of our calendars is concerned. If it so turns out that important Committees are not able to present a quorum, it is a matter concerning which the House will have to take official notice.

We can require the attendance of Members, and if we develop professional absentees from important Committee meetings, we cannot function without prompt attention to Committee business, and I repeat that if we are unable to assemble quorums at important Committee meetings, the Chair will lay the matter officially before the House for such action as its judgment may deem expedient.

At the beginning of every session there are Members of the House who desire appointments because of seniority, or because of other reasons on important Committees, and apparently the only reason they want to be appointed to those Committees is that they may have their name on a letterhead. They get on the letterhead and that is the last official function they perform sometimes as members of these Committees.

WOMEN'S GUILD, CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOR, BALTIMORE, WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the House of the Women's Guild, Church of Our Savior, Baltimore, Maryland.

WELCOME

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes that there is another delegation, unfortunately the name and place from which that delegation comes has not been filed with the Chair, but will the members of that other school delegation please rise?

The Chair thanks the delegation.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., June 15, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The 1957-59 biennium has ended. We can report the actual experience of cash receipts and expenditures during that period. Thus, we are in a better position to review the 1959-61 estimates than was the case in January, in April, or even late in May.

It should be realized these estimates depend entirely on the fluctuations in the national economy. Thus, the most realistic projections of anticipated tax revenues are merely projections made by competent fiscal experts.

During the first five months of this Administration, we have made it a strict policy to be current, from month to month, in our revenue projections and in the reports of actual collections.

Because of these procedures, we were able to report, last Thursday, that 1959-61 revenue from existing taxes for the Motor Fund is expected to be $9.3 million greater than was anticipated when the Special Funds Budget was presented to the Legislature on May 6.

This amount is in addition to the $5.3 million of extra revenue which Motor Fund taxes produced in the 1957-59 biennium above the official estimates. Beyond that, reduced expenditures during the past two years produced another $1.5 million in the cash balance over the official estimate.

Totally, the additional monies amount to $16.1 million.

In the latest review of yields from existing taxes, the financial experts also projected improvements in the revenue which would be produced by the recommended one-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax. Originally, it was expected to yield $56.8 million for a 22-month period. Now, in light of actual collections during the past biennium, it is estimated that the revenue from this source will be $62 million for the same time period.

By adding this increase to the $16.1 million, the total comes to $21.3 million.

This Administration also is recommending to the Legislature that the unencumbered balances in the two Disaster Funds of 1955, totaling $13 million be lapsed and made available for general highway purposes.

With the recommended lapses and with the improved revenue picture, a total of $34.3 million in monies would be available to offset the difference of $35 million, which was the expected yield of the license plate increase. Thus it is possible to withdraw the recommendation that the fee for license plates be increased by five dollars.

Needless to say, I am happy to be able to report an improved revenue statement, which makes it possible to reduce the need for recommended new revenues for highway purposes.

It should be evident, however, that in order to carry out the necessary highway construction and maintenance program we will need the same total amount of money which was recommended in my budget message to the General Assembly.

I want to emphasize also that these funds can be produced only if the recommended increases in the gasoline tax and in the drivers' license fee are enacted.

You can't have one without the other. To produce its anticipated yield, the boost in the gasoline tax must be effective on July 1st.

By employing the funds now restricted for disaster purposes for general highways use, we are relying upon a non-recurring cash item. In other words, while this $13 million will help bring the 1959-61 highways budget into balance, it will not be avaliable to us again in the next biennium. However, I am anxious to keep the request for new tax sources at a minimum and I am, therefore, recommending the freezing of these funds for general highway purposes.

The General Assembly has the pledge of this Administration—and demonstrations to back this pledge—that it has not, and will not, conceal nor delay the fiscal facts of life.

In keeping with this principle, we have given the State Legislature a continuing accounting of the State's fiscal position. This is a departure from past practices, but I am certain you will agree that it is an improvement.

I trust the General Assembly will recognize this as a sincere, conscientious and businesslike approach to the problems of the Commonwealth.

I hope, also, that the General Assembly will accept these efforts in the spirit in which they are offered, and that it will respond in kind.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

The PRESIDENT. Copies of this communication will be found on the desk of each Member.

4. Fair treatment for all in legislation and administration of labor-management relations affairs.

5. Fostering, in the public interest, an economic atmosphere which will enable Pennsylvania's agriculture and industry to compete for out-of-state markets, remembering that wide marketing of Pennsylvania products brings wealth into the State, thereby raising the standard of living of all of our people; and

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a Joint Resolution and six bills relating to education.

I think we should alert all those who are interested in education to the significance of these proposals and to their origin.

The resolution and the six bills are co-sponsored, in addition to myself, by Senator Elliott, Senator Ruth and Senator Hays. They are the outgrowth of studies that have been made continuingly by committees in the Joint State Government Commission, dealing with the problem of the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Council of Education.

While I do not wish to discuss the contents of the bills, I would like to advise those who are interested that the Joint Resolution proposes to amend the Constitution of Pennsylvania and would remove the Superintendent of Public Instruction as a constitutional officer and provide for his election by the State Council of Education. It would call for the appointment, by the Governor, of the State Council of Education, comprising nine members of staggered terms, who would have the duty to elect the Pennsylvania Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The bills would then divide the State Council of Education, making it an administrative agency which would deal with general education, higher education and vocational education. There is a bill included to care for vocational education, which would be the formal acceptance by the Legislature of the provisions of the George Dean Act of the Federal Congress relating to vocational education.

These, Mr. President, are of far-reaching significance. They will probably create varied reactions. However, I think it should be made abundantly clear that they have nothing to do with current personalities or current situations. It is a philosophy which has grown out of very intensive study regarding the most important segment of our State operations.

With those words, Mr. President, I am introducing and presenting to the Chair A Joint Resolution and six bills.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

GUESTS OF SENATOR ZEHNDER H. CONFAIR PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I have the privilege of introducing to the Chair, and to the Members of the Senate, some of my friends, who are visiting us today, from Lycoming County.

These people are quite the hunters and each year we have a big game hunters' dinner. These men go out and shoot much game and many bears, about which Mr. Dilworth speaks, and we freeze the game. This group of visitors consists of my game group. There is only one mistake, and that is that we have one man who is a Democrat. All the rest are Republicans.

I would like for them to stand and be recognized by the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. We are glad to welcome all of the very nice Republicans and also that very nice Democrat.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, the finest new hospital facilities in Greater Philadelphia were dedicated and opened to the public last week by the Albert Einstein Medical Center, Northern Division, at York and Tabor Roads, in Philadelphia.

The streamlined Paley Clinic and the ultra-modern medical-surgical building, together, represent an eight and one-half million dollar expansion of one of America's great hospital plants.

Mr. President, the dedication of these additions to the Albert Einstein Medical Center, which is apparently striving to provide the best of medical and surgical care without regard to creed, color or nationality, is indeed an important milestone in the fight against disease and suffering.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THOSE PERSONS WHO MADE POSSIBLE THE NEW ADDITIONS TO THE ALBERT EINSTEIN MEDICAL CENTER

Mr. SILVERT offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 15, 1959.

The days of June 11, 12, 13 and 14, 1959 marked the dedication of imposing new clinic and medical-surgical buildings at the Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. These extensive additions to an already famed institution provide the most modern and forward-looking facilities in the Philadelphia area for the care of the sick, the injured and the convalescent.

The Board of Trustees and other officers of the Albert Einstein Medical Center are certainly worthy of our sincere congratulations for their unselfish and boundless will to serve the public. The people of the Philadelphia area, who contributed toward these sorely-needed new facilities, are also to be highly commended, as the investment of eight and one-half million dollars thereby represented was nearly all raised in the Philadelphia area from individual contributors.

The dedication of these additions to the Albert Einstein Medical Center, which is striving untiringly to provide the best of medical and surgical care, without regard to creed, color or nationality, is indeed an important milestone in the fight against disease and suffering; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby extends its congratulations to all those persons who made possible the new additions to the Albert Einstein Medical Center and expresses its appreciation for the outstanding spirit of public service which they have demonstrated; and, be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Paul J. Johnson, President; to Samuel H. Daroff, Chairman of the Board of Trustees; and to Dr. Pascal F. Lucchesi, Medical Director; of the Albert Einstein Medical Center.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise in support of this resolution.

On Sunday morning, Mrs. Lane and I had the privilege of attending the official dedication of the Albert Einstein Medical Center. The Governor of Pennsylvania was the principal speaker at the dedication. We also had the privilege of reviewing and touring the new institution and seeing all of its improvements.

I might say to the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania that, in my opinion, this is one of the greatest medical improvements which has taken place in Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

URGING THE PEOPLE OF THE COMMONWEALTH TO VISIT THE SENATE MUSEUM BETWEEN JUNE 9 TO VIEW THE EXHIBITION PRESENTED BY STUDENTS OF ALLENTOWN HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. VAN SANT offered the following resolution which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 15, 1959.

From June 9 until July 9, the Museum Building should be the focal point for anyone interested in art and creative design. During that time, the students of Allentown High School will have on exhibition a wonderful display showing silhouettes, fashion drawings, counter change designs, water colors, collages, oils, pastal paintings, wall hangings and mosaic designs. Such an exhibition displaying the talents of the students of the school is one that should be visited by everyone in the Commonwealth.

The theme of the showing is "Creativity '59" and it is a comprehensive exhibit of original and creative art by 235 students of Allentown High School. The exhibit is dedicated to Clarrisa Breinig as a farewell tribute on her retirement as art supervisor for the school. Clarrisa Breinig has devoted no less than 40 years of her life teaching art and its related fields to the students of the Allentown school district. Certainly she deserves the tribute that is being bestowed upon her.

The man who has been selected to replace Clarrisa Breinig is Mr. David T. Lehman of Camp Hill. Mr. Lehman's job will be made easier because of the creative ability the students he will be teaching possess. With Mr. Lehman's background, he will be able to continue the great work of his predecessor.

The instructor of the students who are presenting this exhibition should be praised, too. If it wasn't for the untiring efforts and foresight of James P. Musselman, a showing such as this would not be possible.

Naturally, the 235 students who did the work deserve the highest praise. The display of their creative thinking could only be accomplished by hard work and devotion to their ideas; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend its personal invitation to all the people of the Commonwealth to visit the State Museum between June 9 and July 9 and see the exhibition entitled "Creativity '59" as presented by the students of Allentown High School; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate extend its congratulations and extreme praise to all the students and members of the faculty for their wonderful display; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the principal of Allentown High School, Clifford Bartholomew; to the retiring art supervisor, Clarrisa Breinig; to the new art supervisor David T. Lehman and to the art instructor, James P. Musselman.

FLAG DAY—1959

Messrs. McCREESH, MILLER and KALMAN offered the following resolution (Serial No. 35), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 15, 1959.

On Flag Day, fifteen years ago, the Allied Expeditionary Forces, after having successfully landed on the shores of France on June 6, 1944, had penetrated several miles inland and were engaged in fierce combat with the German Army, in order to consolidate the Allied position on the European Continent.

Now that we are living in an atmosphere of relative peace and tranquility, it is easy to forget the tremendous price which those Americans and their Allies paid. Many of them never returned to their beloved friends and country. Many others returned, bearing the deep scars of battle, both on their bodies and in their minds.

The sacrificies of Service Men in the great wars in which this Nation has participated, in order to preserve its national life and integrity and to keep aloft the torch of freedom and democracy, should give us new pride in the flag which now serves as a banner and hope of freedom and democracy throughout the world; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania, on this Flag Day following the Fifteenth Anniversary of the Allied landing in France, and in recognition of the outstanding valor of the men who fought those historic battles to preserve our way of life, rededicates itself, both as a body and as individuals, to the principles of freedom and democracy; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby proclaims anew its fierce and justifiable pride in the flag of this Nation and pledges its everlasting devotion to "Old Glory" as the symbol of nationality to which we all give our allegiance; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, Major General Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., as a representative of all of the veterans from this Commonwealth who served in our great fight for freedom, in order to make known to them our undying gratitude for their sacrifices.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 103, Printer's No. 231, entitled "An act amending the act of August 9, 1955 (P. be recalled from the Senate for the purpose of further amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, some months ago, there was a committee selected from the Appropriations Committee to hold hearings on the budget of Pennsylvania. From the Democratic side, there was Senator Ruth, Senator Sarraf, myself and others. We attended every one of those meetings. I understood that after we had completed the hearings, there would be an executive meeting at which time the Minority Party in Pennsylvania would be heard when it came to cutting the budget.

According to the public press,—being specific, the morning Harrisburg paper—the Majority Leader in the Senate of Pennsylvania is quoted as saying that they plan to cut the General Fund Budget at least $40,000,000 and possibly $60,000,000.

I believe, in all fairness, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that we, of the Democratic side, should have knowledge as to where they are going to cut this budget. I feel, too, that the people of Pennsylvania should have that information. I feel it is the responsibility of the Majority Party that issued this release to get on the floor of this Senate now and tell us where they are going to cut the $40,000,000 or possibly $60,000,000, because we, as members of this special committee, have not received any information and have not been considered. As a matter of fact, we do not know what is going on. It seems to me that Senator Ruth, Senator Sarraf and myself have spent many, many days very wastefully because we do not know a thing. If the Majority Party feels it is justified to cut $60,000,000 from the budget, I would like to hear where they are going to cut it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I was observant of the gentleman's remarks of just a moment ago. I am going to say, at this time, that I will not ask unanimous consent to make a statement now because I am not going to make one when it would not be within the proper order of business. Had I been on my toes, I would have objected because there is a regular order under which that type of statement should be made.

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 292, Printer's No. 907, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 666, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 5, 1933 (P. L. 364), entitled "Business Corporation Law," prohibiting the adoption or use by corporations of names that are the same as or deceptively similar to the registered fictitious names of other corporations.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill has been on our Calendar for a number of weeks. The reason for this, as I understood it the last time we discussed the bill, was in order that the sponsors might take this up with the department, which had some rather serious objections to this legislation. I do not want to take the time of this Body, in view of the fact that we have a very long Calendar today, to repeat the remarks I made earlier in regard to this. However, I think it would be amiss on my part not to make some comment on this bill before the Members have an opportunity to vote on it.

Senate Bill No. 666 prevents the issuance of a corporate name if it is similar to a registered fictitious name of another foreign, corporate or domestic corporation in business in Pennsylvania. At the present time, a corporate name must not bear a deceptive similarity to an existing corporate name.

One of the other features in this bill that is objectionable is the fact that a corporation could reserve for itself a fictitious name and prevent anyone else from using it even though they may never use the name during the entire lifetime of the corporation, and, as we all know, the purpose of a corporation is that they have an endless life, an immortality in so far as man is able to give it that. Therefore, it goes on existing forever, which is a hardship to some people who might be in the same business or who might want to use this name or have some need of it. I also feel that it would work a hardship on some corporation or some business that might have some need to operate under this statute.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth has made his views known on this matter. I respectfully suggest to the sponsors that they take up these objections with the Secretary, and perhaps by that time this matter may be cleared up.

In view of that, if these objections are not cleared up and we proceed to consider this measure, I would ask my colleagues to vote "no," because we would be doing a harmful thing in so far as some of the Members of this Body may find themselves going to the Secretary of the Commonwealth at a later date, after this bill is passed, to try to correct a matter that we may have instituted in the first instance. It is for that reason that I ask my colleagues to vote "no" unless there is a desire to reconsider the action on this bill.

Mr. BERGER. If I understand it, the purpose of this bill, as in all of these bills, is to prevent interferences and deception of the public by using a deceptively similar name, either in a corporation or a business that holds itself out as an entity rather than name the individuals who constitute the ownership of the business. It is merely to prevent that confusion and to prevent the use of a name which is similar to another one already in use, either by a corporation or by a registered fictitious name business.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, what the Majority Leader said is true, except that the bill goes a little bit further than the position he has taken. It would further permit a corporate name to be reserved indefinitely by merely registering it under the Corporate Fictitious Name Act, which cannot be done at the present time unless a corporation is actually formed under a name and continues to remain an active corporation.

The hiatus is left when a corporation no longer is doing business in this State or is not doing business anywhere else, and has this fictitious name which someone else could use to advantage or could use as a going corporation. Then you say to these corporations, either the new ones to be formed or those already in existence, that they cannot use this name because someone else has it, regardless of whether they are active or inactive.

I think all of us have found ourselves in the position when we have to go to the Secretary to find out if a name is available or is presently being used, in which event, regardless of what the situation might be, he will have to tell you the name cannot be used. I think this bill restricts business and restricts movement. I think, for that reason, we should be against any type of activity which restricts the activity of corporations or people trying to do business.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred):

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 260, entitled:

An Act creating and establishing the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee; providing for its membership; prescribing its powers, functions and duties * * *.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, there is a slight error on page 9 of this bill. Otherwise, it seems to be in order. However, because of my wishing to correct it before sending it to the House, I request that House Bill No. 260, Printer's No. 750, go over in its order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 373, Printer's No. 956, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, reserving the right to object, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. FLEMING. Senator Weiner, may I ask why you are requesting that this bill go over in order again?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir. This is the first time that this bill has been back on the Calendar since it came from the Committee on Appropriations. have received a communication from the Department of Public Instruction, asking me to hold this bill because they are awaiting a report from the Department of Justice concerning its constitutionality and, also, whether there is enough money in the bill to accomplish what the bill is setting out to do. There seems to be some doubt in some quarters as to whether the $75,000 appropriation is adequate to meet what is intended in the bill.

I feel that Senator Fleming, like myself, would not want to enact something which might be just an empty shell, which has no flesh to it, and would be unable to do the job that we expect it to do.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman and I have no objection to the bill going over in order.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 587, entitled:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 734, entitled:

An Act providing for combining trusts for the benefit of employes of the same employer upon approval by the court having jurisdiction of any one of such trusts.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, desipte the sponsor, this is good legislation. The basic purpose of this type of legislation is to combine into a single fund where there may be numerous trust funds to take care of employee groups or employee problems. I think it would save considerable money for some of these funds that may now be in separate units to be put altogether and to allocate them where they are all for a single purpose, even though they may be divided into separate groups.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote for this bill.

And the question recurring,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 64, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, to which was referred on June 8, 1959, the following resolution from the House of Representatives, reported the same without amendment as follows:

AMERICAN-FLAG AIR SERVICE BETWEEN PENNSYLVANIA AND THE ORIENT

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1959.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has for many years participated in the international trade and commerce of the United States and generates substantial volumes of

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is vitally interested in preserving and expanding its international trade and commerce and in providing improved transportation services for its passengers and shippers as well as for mail.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has always enjoyed a common interest in trade with the countries of the Orient and is vitally interested inexpanding trade and relations with the Orient as a means of fostering commercial and industrial development and providing increased job opportunities for its citizens.

The advent of jet air transportation will, if properly employed, remove the principal historic handicaps to major expansion of trade and relations with the countries of the Orient, namely, remoteness and high transportation costs, and will establish the Orient as the world's greatest frontier for development of international trade and travel.

Presently available air services and routes are wholly inadequate to meet the present and future needs of the Commonwealth for preservation and expansion of its trade and travel to the Orient and to maintain its competitive position with other states and areas; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in session convened, favors prompt establishment of direct, competitive American-flag air service between Pennsylvania and the principal countries of the Orient in such a manner as to insure the fullest possible realization, now and in the future, of the convenience, comfort and time and cost savings of modern jet air transportation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Attorney General, The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, The Department of Commerce and other official offices of the Commonwealth interested and affected thereby, are hereby authorized and directed to make such presentations and to take such other action as may be appropriate to present and support the aforesaid position of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania before the Civil Aeronautics Board and to such other agencies and persons as may have an interest in this matter, all with a view to securing the earliest possible adoption and implementation thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Attorney General, The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission and The Department of Commerce.

The PRESIDENT. This resolution will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may we revert to the order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances for just a moment?

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, we may. Is there any objection?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, have we passed the order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances?

The PRESIDENT. We have.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would respectfully call the attention of the Chair to the fact that we have a rule in the Senate that we try to adjourn by 6:00 o'clock p.m. That rule was made because of the tremendous pressure that some of our Members found was upon them when it got past their mealtime. As far as I am concerned, I have no objection to staying here and listening to the well-chosen words that the Senator might wish to offer. However, I do believe it would be proper, and I do it with apologies, for me to object to reverting to that order of business, at this time, which we have passed because tomorrow we will have ample time to hear the Senator. I am sure the Senator will agree with me that it would be proper, at this time, to put ourselves in line for adjournment.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the eloquence of the Majority Leader has more or less persuaded me. However, I reserve the right tomorrow at sometime or other to have a few answers to some very important questions.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure, Senator Lane, that we will be glad to hear you tomorrow.

BILL SIGNED

FLAG DAY

In the House of Representatives, June 15, 1959.

On the 14th day of June, 1777, the Continental Congress of the United States adopted the "Stars and Stripes" as the symbol of our nation. This flag, which originally represented a few young and struggling colonies, presently flies over the most prosperous and powerful nation of the world. Now, 182 years after its adoption, the field of stars has grown from 13 to 49, with the bright prospect of another addition in the near future.

The "Stars and Stripes" have become known and respected throughout the world as a banner of democracy; a standard of freedom; and a symbol of justice and liberty; therefore be it

Resolved, That on this 182nd observance of Flag Day, we pause to pay respect to our flag; and be it further

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. WHITTAKER, PURSLEY, BURNS, BRETH, YETTER and VARNER.

RESOLUTION No. 83.

In the House of Representatives, June 10, 1959.

Whereas, The Congress under the Provisions of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956 declared it essential in the national interest to provide for the early completion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways which shall be in the Continental United States and shall not exceed forty-one thousand miles in length; and

Whereas, The Congress provided that the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways shall be so located as to connect as directly as practicable the principal metropolitan areas, cities and industrial areas, and to serve the national defense; and

Whereas, The Congress provided that the routes be selected by joint action of the State Highway Departments of each State and the adjoining States, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Commerce; and

Whereas, To provide for the early completion of this most important National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, and for the best interests of the national economy, the States with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, selected as part of the System certain toll and free highways already constructed or in various stages of construction; and

Whereas, The selection of these toll and free highways as part of the Interstate System both expedited the use of parts of the System and obviated the immediate expenditure of certain Federal Funds; and

Whereas, The expenditure of the State Funds, State Guaranteed Funds and Funds raised by bond issues placed on certain States and the users of their toll highways, a burden greater than that placed on States in which no toll or free highways had been incorporated in the Interstate System; and

Whereas, The initial recommendation and proposals to the Congress were to reimburse the States, in accordance with prescribed formulae, for the toll and free highways incorporated in the Interstate System; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has some 388.2 miles of toll and free highway with a net reimbursable value of $287,000,000.00, incorporated in the Interstate Highway System; and

Whereas, If the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is not reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the Interstate System, the result will be the citizens, business and industry in one portion of the State will be paying toll to pursue their activities while those in other portions of the State can pursue their activities free of toll; and

Whereas, It is inequitable to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania to have contributed disproportionately to those in other States for free highways in Pennsylvania incorporated in the Interstate Highway System and for the citizens, business and industry in one portion of the Commonwealth to pay tolls to pursue their activities, while in other portions of the Commonwealth the citizens pursue similar activities free of toll; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby declares that:

a. It is only equitable and fair that the States be reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

b. The Principal of the intent to reimburse the States be definitely established by the Congress as early as possible.

c. The actual reimbursement should start as soon as possible; but must in nowise interfere with the "intent of the Congress that the Interstate System be completed as nearly as practicable over a thirteen year period and that the entire system be brought to simultaneous completion." Nor should it interfere with the planned allocations to the States for the Primary, Secondary and Urban Systems.

d. The funds received by the States from the Federal Government, be utilized:

(1) To liquidate the cost of toll roads on the Interstate System, including the liquidation of any outstanding bonds constituting a valid lien against such toll roads.

(2) To construct projects on such other highways of the Federal-Aid System as each State may select, subject to the approval of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to President Dwight D. Eisenhower; Bertram D. Tallamy, Administrator, Bureau of Public Roads; Lewis L. Strauss, Secretary of Commerce; Joseph S. Clark and Hugh Scott, United States Senators from Pennsylvania; Charles A. Buckley, Chairman of the House Committee on Public Works; Dennis Chavez, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Works; and to the following congressmen: Daniel J. Flood, Ivor D. Fenton, Francis E. Walter, Alvin R. Bush, Richard M. Simpson, James E. Van Zandt, Leon H. Gavin, Carroll D. Kearns, Frank M. Clark and Walter Mumma.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BUDGET MESSAGE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 15, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The 1957-59 biennium has ended. We can report the actual experience of cash receipts and expenditures during that period. Thus, we are in a better position to review the 1959-61 estimates than was the case in January, in April, or even late in May.

It should be realized these estimates depend entirely on the fluctuations in the national economy. Thus, the most realistic projections of anticipated tax revenues are merely projections made by competent fiscal experts.

During the first five months of this Administration, we have made it a strict policy to be current, from month to month, in our revenue projections and in the reports of actual collections.

Because of these procedures, we were able to report, last Thursday, that 1959-61 revenue from existing taxes for the Motor Fund is expected to be $9.3 million greater than was anticipated when the Special Funds Budget was presented to the Legislature on May 6.

This amount is in addition to the $5.3 million of extra revenue which Motor Fund taxes produced in the 1957-59 biennium above the official estimates. Beyond that, reduced expenditures during the past two years produced another $1.5 million in the cash balance over the official estimate.

Totally, the additional monies amount to $16.1 million.

In the latest review of yields from existing taxes, the financial experts also projected improvements in the revenue which would be produced by the recommended one-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax. Originally, it was expected to yield $56.8 million for a 22-month period. Now, in light of actual collections during the past biennium, it is estimated that the revenue from this source will be $62 million for the same time period.

By adding this increase to the $16.1 million, the total comes to $21.3 million.

This Administration also is recommending to the Legislature that the unencumbered balances in the two Disaster Funds of 1955, totaling $13 million be lapsed and made available for general highway purposes.

With the recommended lapses and with the improved revenue picture, a total of $34.3 million in monies would be available to offset the difference of $35 milion, which was the expected yield of the license plate increase. Thus it is possible to withdraw the recommendations that the fee for license plates be increased by five dollars.

Needless to say, I am happy to be able to report an improved revenue statement, which makes it possible to reduce the need for recommended new revenues for highway purposes.

It should be evident, however, that in order to carry out the necessary highway construction and maintenance program we will need the same total amount of money which was recommended in my budget message to the General Assembly.

I want to emphasize also that these funds can be produced only if the recommended increases in the gasoline tax and in the drivers' license fee are enacted.

You can't have one without the other. To produce its anticipated yield, the boost in the gasoline tax must be effective on July 1st.

By employing the funds now restricted for disaster purposes for general highways use, we are relying upon a non-recurring cash item. In other words, while this $13 million will help bring the 1959-61 highways budget into balance, it will not be available to us again in the next biennium. However, I am anxious to keep the request for new tax sources at a minimum and I am, therefore, recommending the freeing of these funds for general highway purposes.

The General Assembly has the pledge of this Administration—and demonstrations to back this pledge—that it has not, and will not, conceal nor delay the fiscal facts of life.

In keeping with this principle, we have given the State Legislature a continuing accounting of the State's fiscal position. This is a departure from past practices, but I am certain you will agree that it is an improvement.

I trust the General Assembly will recognize this as a sincere, conscientious and businesslike approach to the problems of the Commonwealth.

I hope, also, that the General Assembly will accept these efforts in the spirit in which they are offered, and that it will respond in kind.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SPEAKER, on March 2, 1959, we received the Governor's budget. Since that time I have been constantly reviewing it, talking to Department heads, the Budget Secretary, and we held hearings on the budget which started on April 28, and finished on June 10.

Today I made a report to the Committee on Appropriations of my proposed budget revisions. The Committee adopted these revisions, but it is only fair to state that members of the minority, due to the fact that it might commit them, voted against the motion. One of the majority Members voted against it because of cuts that have been made.

I have attempted to be very factual in consideration of this budget, and at this time I would like to report that this report arrives at total reductions in the budget of $19,072,780. At the same time we have made increases of $7,147,725, or a net decrease of $11,925,055.

I will briefly review the changes we have made.

We have increased the office of the Lieutenant Governor $7,250 to bring the salaries of that office in line with other Senatorial salaries.

In the Department of Agriculture we have eliminated one of the open live stock shows, and reduced the appropriation for that purpose from $100,000 to $50,000, or a decrease of $50,000. In the item on control of stem rust, which is more commonly known as eradication of the barberry bush, we have increased the appropriation from $30,000 to $40,000 so as to equal the matching funds available to the counties from the federal government, or a net increase of $10,000.

In the grants to Agriculture organizations, which was a new program calling for $250,000 in the budget, we reduced it to $50,000 or a decrease of $200,000.

In the general government operations of the Department of Agriculture, a particular item of the marketing activities, there was a new item of $270,000. We reduced that to $130,000, or a decrease of $140,000.

In the Department of Health we have increased the appropriation $250,000 to take care of the transfer of speech and hearing under House Bill 1360 from the Department of Public Instruction to the Department of Health. This item was not included in either budget.

In Mines and Mineral Industries we have corrected an eror in the Auditor General's appropriation, a decrease of $33,327,

In the Department of Public Instruction the general governmental operations, and in particular the school of administrative services, we have increased this item $50,000. This Bureau in 1955 received $650,000, in 1957-59 received $477,000, and in this budget the recommendation was for $454,000. It is my opinion that this Bureau, which approves and checks the distribution of over $700 million of Commonwealth funds, should have a more adequate staff. For that reason we have increased it $50,000.

Under the National Defense Education Act, a new program, the amount budgeted was $3.5 million. That has been reduced to $943,534, or a decrease of $2,556, 466. This appropriation of $943,534 will enable the Commonwealth to receive federal funds of $8,845,970.

Under Teaching Unit Subsidies we have reduced it from $539,755,000 to $531,036,488, or a decrease of $8,718,512. That is due to the fact that the original amount contained in the budget was based on estimates. We now have the final figures for one year, and the other is more realistically estimated. We feel we can operate within that amount. We have added an item of $15,000 to teaching unit subsidies because of passage of House Bill 195 for reimbursement for migratory children.

The item Authority Rentals we have reduced from $54,415,000 to $48,915,000, a reduction of $5.5 million. This again was due to the fact the original budget figure was based upon estimates. We now have the full year in, and we feel this item is more realistic, and will take care of the amount for Authority Rentals.

Under Closed Schools we have increased the amount from $2,162,000 to $4.9 million, an increase of $2,738,000. The reason for this increase is that the amount contained in the budget is based upon a change in the formula as contained in House Bill 1444, and I have been advised by the Majority Leader that there is no chance of passage of this bill, and therefore we have restored the amount based upon the actual number of closed schools we now have.

Under Special Education for handicaped pupils, the amount budgeted was $18,150,000. We again have the actual figures for the one year, and based upon a realistic estimated amount for the second year, we have increased this to $21,335,000, or an increase of $3,185,000.

For the Department of Public Instruction for aid to Community Colleges, which is a new item in the budget and called for $1 million, we have reduced that amount to $300,000, or a decrease of $700,000, because it is felt that amount will enable the program to get started, and the full amount could not be spent within the biennium.

We have increased from 0 to $90,000 the Johnson Industrial School. That item was inadvertently omitted from the budget because the school had failed to properly ask for it at that time, so we have reinstated it.

In the Department of Public Welfare, the Elwyn Training school, we have changed it from $2,442,000 to $2,343,000 which is again based on actual figures, or a decrease of $99,000.

The next three items, the Homes for the Aging we reduced $208,225, reimbursement to Counties. Children and Youths, we reduced $472,000, and the Subsidies for the Blind we reduced $90,250. However, those are not decreases. They are only decreases in those particular appropriations because we intend to provide line by line appropriations to the state-aided homes, as we have in the past, for exactly the same amount of those three items of $770,475.

On the Youth Development Homes, the new item of $200,000 we have eliminated with a decrease of $200,000 because of the high cost involved of 40 beds to provide for 40 boys, which we felt was not realistic.

In the Department of State, under General Governmental Operations, we have increased the appropriation for the Registration of Corporations $30,000 in order that they can be brought up-to-date.

The Council of State Governments, we have increased from $75,000 to $77,000, or an increase of $2,000 to take care of the Commonwealth's assessment and share.

Under the Judiciary Board of Examiners, we have reduced the amount from $195,000 to $90,000, or a decrease of $105,000 because the amount requested was not needed.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the appropriations contained in the budget as presented by the Governor amounted to $1,729,333,480. The net reduction of $11,925,055 reduces the appropriations to $1,717,408,425, and we add to that amount the latest deficit figures, which are now correct, of $141,598,685.13, and which would make this budget total $1,859,700,110.13, or a decrease of $48,005,243.87.

We feel—at least I feel—that additional money is needed for aid to the schools and to the hospitals. It is our hope that funds will be made available so we can at least increase the maximum subsidy base from $5,800 to $6,000, which would take approximately $28 million. It is also our hope that we might increase the reimbursement to hospitals from $9.00 to $10.00 a day, which would take approximately $4 million, or an increase of $32 million.

There are certain areas in this budget which various Members have discussed and asked about, such as the state-aided schools, medical schools, universities, which in the budget amounted to $71,588,737. In this atomic age, it is my feeling that this amount should not be reduced and I have included it for the amount recommended by the Governor. I might state that the various institutions, the schools, the universities, feel that it is not sufficient. However, that is a question for this House to decide.

I have spent much time over this budget. I do not claim to be an expert on the budget, but I believe that I have given it as thorough a going over as it is possible to do and it is my recommendation that the amounts I have read to you today are the absolute minimum upon which this Commonwealth can successfully operate and maintain the services to the people of this Commonwealth. I do suggest for your consideration that we look into the situation of providing additional money for the schools of Pennsylvania and additional money for the hospitals of Pennsylvania.

STATEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON: Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly reply to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

I am not going to try today to make any comment on his proposed decreases in the budget for the simple reason that we on this side of the House have been working very closely with the Senate Finance Committee, the sub-committee that is, of the State Senate who have made an equally searching study of the budget and we are meeting again tonight at 9:00 o'clock. We were with them last night until midnight and suffice it to say the Senate sub-committee together with the members of the House Appropriations Committee on this side who have been meeting, will have budget recommendations which I would say go far beyond what Mr. Polen has recommended in his report here today.

Everything around here is rather kaleidoscopic, It keeps changing all the time, like that poem, "It is like the snow upon the river, a monument white, then gone forever." I do not know what your budget needs are. I am sorry I do not know how much money the taxes will bring in. One day we think the figure is right, then the next day it is wrong. I do not know what is going to come up tomorrow—I do not know what tomorrow will bring.

We, the Republican Party, have followed a policy of watch and wait and see and investigate. I think up to this point it has paid off handsomely for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. Last evening in our meeting with the Senate group we came up with a deficit figure of not $178 million as was originally announced by Governor Lawrence back in early March, but a new figure of around $122 million, by two items, one of $9.1 million reflecting on the last biennium having to do with the support of public schools, the other a $10 million figure having to do with over-stating of the rentals for the state school building authority and the local authority. In other words, just in that one category alone, if our figures stand up and we have been assured that they will, we have cut $57 million out of that deficit by staying here, watching and studying this situation and perusing it until we feel that $122 million or maybe even less will be the figure of the deficit.

Then we want to know about this deficit of $122 million, if that is the figure. Is that a true deficit? As I stated here is it accounts payable, is it commitments made, or is it just money that has been spent out of previous bank accounts which maybe the taxpayer should be called upon in this two year period to replenish. Also, we have been making a study of the budget item by item. I understand that you are going to do away with the line budget this time, and that you are just going to give lump sum appropriations again to the several departments, rather than a categorical line budget. We will not agree with that. If you do it in the House I am sure in the Senate they will put it back to a line budget rather than the bulk budget as we have been used to in the past.

I can see where the House and Senate committee of conference on appropriation bills are going to have a lot of work to do. That is where the fight no doubt will be made. You say you are going to cut the budget here $11 million. The Senate I believe last night announced that they have a $60 million figure in mind. That is quite a difference between your two items. It will, of course, mean conference committees wherein the Senate will try to justify their position to the House conferees, and maybe they will arrive at a middle ground.

Also, while we have been talking about it, saving money, I attended the hearing last Monday night of the Secretary of Highways with the Appropriations Committee. There were a lot of things came out of that Committee that the people do not know about, that have not been in the public press. For instance, I said to the Secretary of Highways, along with the other Republican Members who were there, you are showing tonight a $55 million estimated bank balance as of midnight, May 31st. This is now the 8th of June, why didn't you give us tonight the figure right to the penny? The Treasury Department has it, I said, and I understand that the figure is greatly in excess of $55 million. He turned to the Comptroller and he said, "No, no, we found that we have more liabilities than we planned on, and $55 million is just about right." Then, on cross examination, it was found that the matching figure for federal aid will only be $88 million this biennium. It was $72.5 million last biennium, or a difference of around $16.5 million. In other words of the $117 million in new taxes that Park Martin wants, $16.5 million is all that will be necessary for the increase in the cost of federal aid, and the rest will go for increases elsewhere in his budget. I thought—and I had not seriously studied the budget—and I previously made the statement that we would not pre-judge the budget until we had a chance to examine it, I was of the opinion and I am sure that a great many on our side were of the opinion, that the $117 million in new taxes for highways was almost entirely needed for federal aid and unless we gave them money, millions of dollars would be lost in federal aid. No, we found out that only $16.5 million in new money was needed. There was $13 million in the bridge fund which was not needed and there would be about $5 million more in gasoline tax revenues coming in during this biennium which would make the $16.5 million. So, if we did not do anything there would be money to match federal aid.

Then, what happened? We had no more than gotten out of town this week when the Governor makes public his statement that he had discovered that there is $35 million more in the Highway Department fund. I say, why didn't those Highway people on Monday night, in front of the Appropriations Committee, when they were asked the question, is there more money in this budget than you are seeing in these obsolete figures that you issued in April, why didn't they come out and say, why yes, there is $35 million more. It certainly was peculiarly within the minds of everyone there that there was $35 million more that they could play with than they were willing to admit last Monday night. They waited until this Legislature got out of town on Wednesday and the Governor issued this statement which was read today.

That is the reason I say things are kaleidoscopic around here. You do not know from day to day which figures to believe. I say to the people of this state, I know the newspapers are saying you Republicans vote taxes and give Lawrence this new budget, but I say they are all wrong because we have been trying to do an honest job here, let the people know what is going on, find out honestly if the money is needed, find out about these taxes, how much new tax revenue is needed.

There has not been any time lost and therefore, in closing, I want to say we are going to have our figures about the budget and we will not hurt anyone, I am sure, with the contemplated budget cuts. We will meet you in the conference committee; that is where we will have to meet on appropriations.

I am not going to say anything about taxes here today. Nobody knows how much new revenue is needed with this tremendous burst in business prosperity. I do not know how much money is needed and I do not think Governor Lawrence knows how much new tax revenue he needs at this point. How do I know but that maybe tomorrow another $30 million will pop up here that nobody knew about? Therefore, I think we have done a good job for the people of this state in staying here and examining and looking and searching into things.

I am hoping, however, before long we will have it all totaled up. When we have a figure we will get before this microphone and give it to this House of Representatives, how much money we think is realistically needed. And then I believe we will do this, we will ask the Majority Leader to stand up and admit publicly whether he has the votes to pass the tax program, whether the Democratic party in this House has the responsibility to pass a revenue program which the people entrusted in their care when they elected them to the majority last fall, and if the Majority Leader gets up and says, "I am sorry we have failed we cannot do it," then I will have to bring that message back to the House Republican caucus. Whether they will then be willing to enact a tax program will be entirely up to the House Republican caucus as to what they intend to do.

STATEMENT BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, some of the things that amaze a person as days go by is the fact that the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations has given you a very pin-pointed report. A report in which you said, "Give us the report of your Appropriations Committee so that we can talk about the needs of Pennsylvania." That report is in the hands of every member of the Appropriation Committee. Perhaps there may be differences of opinion, but on this we can rather well agree, that at this point you have no report except the report that the Senate will prepare. We have our report and are willing to stand in front of the people of Pennsylvania as to the services that we believe the state should furnish and pay for with the necessary tax measurers.

Now at this point I think for some reason the Minority Leader failed to recognize that the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations twice stated that in addition to this money we are talking about, additional revenue for public schools, hospitals and universities was needed. Perhaps we can wait an awful long time, because if you want me to say here again today publicly that I do not have the votes to pass every Hood-Kennedy Tax measure on the House calendar then I will repeat it.

There is no question about it, we will have the votes for four measures from the 108 Democratic Members of this House when our friend from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, comes back here to vote with us. There is no question but that we will have the votes for personal property tax, for the bank shares, for the gross receipts on the gas companies, on those taxes, and those votes we have.

If you want me to pin-point the other measures I will repeat publicly again that we do not have the votes within the membership on this side of the House to enact by 106 votes each of the other tax measures. But I think again we will say to you that at no time have you faced your responsibility about providing tax measures which would also help to produce revenue which each day was continued to be lost during the month of May, in the sales tax and other measures, and certainly a loss in revenue from the first day of June, which I think you can pretty well agree as to the amount, for if you estimate this revenue greater than is estimated in the report then the loss of revenue would certainly be greater per day.

I think it is time that we really sit down and agree as to what we intend to do for the budget of Pennsylvania, for our schools, our hospitals, our mental health programs and then our differences we can try to compromise. You know that we have approximately $1.5 billion or $1.6 billion of tax measures enacted at the present time. You know the area of difference that exists. You know the amount and if you were to reduce the budget, as the Senate says, by $60 million there is no question that it would then be approximately $1.8 billion or approximately that figure. There is no question there is still a difference of new tax measures that must be provided. But we say to you that we have wanted to talk to you week after week, day after day, to try to resolve these problems, and we again say to you we want to, because we share that responsibility and we believe that at no time in this administration will you ever find that in any part of the fiscal management, or the figures dealing with the finances of the Commonwealth, that the reports are not rendered accurately and very quickly on anything that ever may be asked by any Member of the House or the Senate. In fact there is more fiscal information disseminated to every Member of the House and Senate each month than was ever sent to any Members in the past. Actually we, of course, admit that we would hope that the deficiencies would continue to be reduced, and for each reduction we would be able to provide the new tax revenues to take care of our public schools, our hospitals and our higher educational institutions. So if you are asking me publicly, we share the responsibility and we ask to meet with you, get together, discuss this situation to enact the proper tax program to finance this budget and to place this Commonwealth on a sound financial structure for the next two years.

STATEMENT BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say in reply to the Majority Leader, that we have failed to face up to our responsibility and enact new taxes, our so-called responsibility, put it that way, to enact new taxes.

What have we been doing all this time? We have not been worrying about putting on new taxes. We have been worrying about saving the people money. We have been worrying about cutting this deficit from $178 million down to our new figure of $122 million. We have been busy smoking out a new figure for the Highway Department, a reduction of $35 million. I do not believe that the people of Pennsylvania will condemn us for that.

Now as to these taxes that you seek to have enacted, a good share of them are taxes on an annual basis and have no relation to a day to day collection. I grant you if we provide additional funds within the framework of the sales tax we are losing money effective the first day of June, that goes without saying, but I think if you will look at what has taken place up to this point I believe the Republican party by doing what they have done have done a great service to the people of this state.

I am hoping by the time this session ends that the people will say to us, we compliment you on a job well done, a watch dog job very, very well performed. You have been a good asset to the people of Pennsylvania.

That is what we are looking forward to. We certainly are not going to let business break down, that is the business of government. I am expecting to get a new estimated revenue wherein the take from existing taxes will be estimated to be at least $1.7 billion, which is $50 million more than any of us has ever realized. If that is true, that is a tremendous figure and will be a savings to the people, especially when we consider the fact that we have not put on new taxes during this period.

So do not get excited. We are finally getting to the point where we will soon have our figures, and naturally we will have to face up to our responsibilities, and as you have given us your figures we will publicly give you ours.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 148, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), prohibiting unprotected abandoned mines and quarries in places accessible to children.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on final passage?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to oppose the motion to recommit this bill.

The bill is designed to protect the many thousands of children throughout our state, especially in my county, who have been exposed to the problem of open quarry pits and drain ditches that have been left unprotected.

In my county we have had a loss of upward of seven young boys and girls who have drowned or died because of this neglect. The bill prescribes that safeguard measures be maintained by fence, guards or other safety measures provided for by the Department of Labor and Industry on quarries, drainage ditches and areas accessible to children.

I feel it is imperative that we who think much more of our children and their lives should oppose this motion to recommit, and roll the bill for final passage.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I request a division.

Seventy-four Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred ten in the negative, the question was to determined in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I shall.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether this bill would apply to lands owned by the county commissioners or the county treasurers and held by them for delinquent taxes?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, it would if it was deemed by the Department of Labor and Industry, to be a danger to children in the area in which it was located.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Would this mean then that the Department of Labor and Industry could impose a fine or a penalty on the county commissioners if they did not erect fences around abandoned quarries and so on?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides that they should either maintain fences or provide guards in a manner prescribed by the Department of Labor and Industry for such abandoned quarries or ditches, or to take such adequate safeguards against children falling into such abandoned quarries and drainage ditches. It would be possible that they would be fined, or proceedings moved against them, if they did not provide for something under the law as prescribed by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. In other words this would then give the State Department of Labor and Industry control over the local municipalities, or the local counties if they fail to carry out the rules and regulations adopted by the Department, is that correct?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I would assume the county commissioner and the counties are responsible people and would not violate the law.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Does the gentleman have any statistics available indicating how many such quarries and drainage ditches there are that must be fenced in if the Department of Labor and Industry so rules?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I do not have any factual statistics or data as to how many quarries and ditches would come under that category. Our main concern is to protect the children of this state from the pitfalls of these quarries and ditches.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that under the general police powers local municipalities have the power today to adopt ordinances in their own jurisdiction to require the fencing in of abandoned quarries and drainage ditches?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, if they have, it is without my knowledge, and if they do they are not performing their duties in requiring such a thing.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Does the gentleman know whether or not they have such power?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I said within my knowledge at this point I do not know if they have such power.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, it seems to me this is bad legislation. Here we are telling the state how it can regulate local counties and local municipalities.

I believe, furthermore, that local townships and other municipalities presently have the power under their police power to regulate dangerous conditions such as unfenced quarries. It seems to me the local municipalities are in a better position to determine whether or not a quarry should be fenced in. It seems also to me very unfair to require county commissioners to go to the tremendous expense of this if the Department of Labor and Industry so decides, when they may have a great many abandoned quarries and other property such as that in the county that are not on a tax-paying basis, in which the owners have failed to pay taxes for many years.

I think this is bad legislation and ask all Members to vote against it.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, for the information of the House, this bill is a fairly simple bill. It is designed to protect the lives of our children throughout the state.

It does a number of things, and it tries to be fair. It provides that you can either fence, if it is necessary, provide guards if it is necessary, or provide other adequate safeguards only if the quarries or drainage ditches are accessible to children.

Specifically, an instance that I know of, very near to my home and very close to the hearts of my constituents, an area where a quarry was constructed in a residential section where the back yards of many hundreds of homes face an unprotected area where the children can toddle and fall into this pit. It has come to a point with us today whether or not dollars are more important to us, or the lives of our children.

Mr. Speaker, in behalf of the children of our state, and to help make a safer state, I ask all the Members of the House to vote for this bill.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman from Bucks consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has mentioned there were several children who, I believe, drowned in his county. Is the gentleman prepared to state how many of these abandoned mines or quarries where these children lost their lives were fenced in, if any, if he knows?

Mr. GALLAGHER. The particular quarries I know of, in which these seven children drowned, were not fenced in.

Mr STECKEL. Did this all occur at one instance, the seven children at one time?

Mr. GALLAGHER. No, this happened over a period of about eighteen months.

Mr. STECKEL. All in the same quarry?

Mr. GALLAGHER. In the same quarry for about five of the children. Two of the others, I believe, drowned in another quarry nearby.

Mr. STECKEL. Do you have any information as to whether these deaths occurred in fenced-in quarries or whether they were not fenced in? Is there any source of information at which you can arrive?

Mr. GALLAGHER. The information I have, Mr. Speaker, is that the children who drowned were drowned in quarries that were not fenced.

Mr. STECKEL. Is there any rule or regulation which would distinguish in this bill between a pond, a lake, or a water-filled quarry that has been abandoned?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, it clearly states any abandoned or operative quarry or drainage ditch in any place accessible to children as determined by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Mr. STECKEL. Would this apply for instance to the State Recreational Area in Cumberland County, which I believe is divided into four holes which is now operated as a swimming pool?

Mr. GALLAGHER. It would hardly pertain to that if it is governed by the Department of Labor and Industry. It would not be an area that would be dangerous to children.

Mr. STECKEL. Then the discretion rests entirely with the Department of Labor and Industry?

Mr. GALLAGHER. On the proposed legislation, Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. STECKEL. Is it at all possible for a property owner under this act to divest himself of title to a piece of property which is worth less than the cost of fencing in the quarry?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, that is a question that is hard to answer as to the exact cost today, but I must repeat, it does not mandate fences. It provides that fences or guards or such adequate safeguards must be taken.

Mr. STECKEL. Under the bill on page 3, or under the bill as drawn, it reads that on the petition of any resident the court can issue a manatory injunction requiring compliance with the act, with the result that a property owner may be required to spend more money under a manatory injunction to fence in an abandoned quarry than the real estate was worth in the first instance, and yet he is not able to divest himself of that real estate.

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct, that the citizen of the county in which the quarry or drainage ditch is located should have the right to petition the court of the county for the issuance of a mandatory injunction requiring compliance of this act. I think the act is specifically one designed to maintain a state level of maintenance of these properties and just to fine them $100 and that is all, is not sufficient. As for imprisonment of 60 days, why, some operators would be very happy to pay a $100 and just not put the fence up. We want to establish a safe-guard for our children in these places that are accessible to them.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, just one more question. All of these children who were drowned in these quarries and suffered this terrible loss of life, they were all, however, trespassers on the property, were they not?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I would assume they were, but when you tell a seven- or eight-year-old boy that he is trespasser when he tries to be Robinson Crusoe when he goes out on a raft, it is pretty difficult.

Mr. STECKEL. Thank you.

There are many areas in this Commonwealth where the prosperity of prior quarrying and mining has passed the area by, where the areas are filled and these drainage ditches, quarries, swimming holes, water holes are the type of hazard described in this bill.

Many property holders have acquired tracts which were formerly mining or quarrying tracts. They have acquired them at sales, tax sales, and so on, and to require that such a property owner cannot even divest himself of the property in the event that the Department of Labor and Industry, in its discretion, wants to enforce the building offences; cannot divest himself of the property as he can if he is subject to a lien for sewer or street improvements, cannot let the porperty be sold, but must under the court build a fence that is required of him, even though the property be worth only $100 or $200, is an infringement of property rights in this state which we have never seen before, and I ask all the Members of this House to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Let us pray.

"O God, our help in ages past; our hope for years to come."

Look with Thy favor, we beseech Thee, upon this Body of chosen leaders as they guide this great Commonwealth. As their problems become more complex and pressures mount, keep their visions clear and their thinking above petty selfish lines.

Guide Thou their thinking in all matters, O Lord, and may each Senator retain his sense of decency and his vision of Thy justice.

We ask now Thy blessing upon these, our leaders over us, but under Thee.

We pray in Jesus' Name, Amen.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair would like to state that the Falling Spring Church of Chambersburg is this year celebrating their 225th Anniversary. That is a long time to preach in one church.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 53 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BERGER from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred on June 15, 1959, the following resolution from the House of Representatives, reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

BUSINESS, INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE, ITS EFFECT UPON THE BUSINESS CLIMATE

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1959.

Whereas, Good business climate is hereby defined as follows:

1. Fair and equitable treatment in legislation and administrative regulation for all segments of Pennsylvania's economy.

2. A framework of government, the support of which adds no greater cost to doing business than the cost of government imposed by other industrial states.

3. Equitable tax policies, and restriction of the cost of government to reasonable levels.

4. Fair treatment for all in legislation and administration of labor-management relations affairs.

5. Fostering, in the public interest, an economic atmosphere which will enable Pennsylvania's agriculture and industry to compete for out-of-state markets, remembering that wide marketing of Pennsylvania products brings wealth into the State, thereby raising the standard of living of all of our people; and

Whereas, For reasons hereinafter set forth, it will be critically important for Pennsylvania to create and maintain a good business climate; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania's population is increasing at the rate of about 60,000 persons per year; and

Whereas, The capital investment necessary to provide jobs for the expected 20,000 new workers each year will be in excess of three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) annually; and

Whereas, Industry and agriculture are the prime movers of the rest of the business economy; and

Whereas, Healthy industry broadens the tax base, thereby providing much-needed revenues for community facilities and government services for all our people; and

Whereas, In this era of rapid industrial expansion and relocation throughout the United States, industries, selecting locations, are vitally concerned about the comparative business climates among the states; and

Whereas, A good business climate attracts needed industrial payrolls, while a bad business climate tends to deter new payrolls from coming to a state and to drive established payrolls away; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania henceforth shall examine all proposed legislation relating to business, industry and agriculture in terms of its effect upon the business climate of the State, and shall determine whether such legislation may have any future discriminating or deterring effect upon the investment of capital and the creation of needed payrolls in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly hereby request the Governor, and the head of each department, board and commission in the State government to examine their own discretionary actions and orders in any way relating to business, industry and agriculture in terms of the effect of such governmental action upon the business climate in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives and Secretary of the Senate are hereby directed to transmit suitable copies of this resolution to the Governor, and to the head of each department, board and commission in the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. This resolution will appear on Monday's Calendar.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 65, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entited "The Borough Code" changing the provisions reating to bond required in awarding contracts.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, for the purpose of this discussion, I am not taking a position on this bill. However, I would like to point out to the Members of the Senate that I believe the bill removes, in a sense, one of the safeguards which is instituted. This applies to Senate Bill No. 65 and the following bills on the Calendar, to and including Senate Bill No. 73.

When people contract jobs with a borough, township or any of these areas of local government, they are required to post a bond. This bond insures that the work will be done, either by the man performing the job or, in lieu thereof, the company which posted the bond will come in and finish the job if it is not done properly or is not done according to the original contract.

Unless I misread this bill, Mr. President, the requirement of a bond, where the local government is purchasing motor vehicles or other pieces of equipment, is unnecessary.

Mr. President, I would be very happy if someone would explain a question to me. For example, if the township or borough were to buy a fleet of automobiles and the dealer would deliver possibly half of these automobiles and, thereafter, were the dealer to go bankrupt, have a fire or be stricken by some other kind of a calamity and was unable to complete the transaction, are we not, in a sense, removing one of the safeguards that the people have at the local government level?

I just question the wisdom of doing this type of thing.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this applies only to motor vehicles and, I believe, similar equipment. It appeared to us that apparently the only safeguard of the bond was that of delivery, actually, because on motor vehicles and that type of equipment there is a dealer's warranty undoubtedly demanded by the municipality. In the instance which Senator Weiner described, although there is some possibility that that might occur, I question very much—in fact, I would say it was practically an impossibility—that the dealer would have received his money for the motor vehicles which he had not delivered under the contract with the municipality. Hence, I do not believe that is a real danger in this particular type of thing.

The cost of the bond, I believe, was also added to the cost of the municipality in acquiring the motor vehicles and, therefore, raised the amount that the municipality had to pay when it purchased an automobile, truck or anything like that.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not pleading the cause of the insurance men here today. However, is this not one of the pieces of insurance which is bought to insure performance. Is it not of some value to all of us to buy a piece of insurance in the hope that a catastrophe will never strike, but if it does, we are somewhat insulated against the ultimate loss that might occur to any one of us?

I do not think that a borough or township is in any different position than an individual who makes the same type of transaction. It is a position similar to a man buying a piece of real estate. If he does not buy insurance at the time he signs the agreement and if the real estate should burn to the ground, he would suffer the loss because he has an equitable interest in the real estate. The money spent for insurance actually increases the man's over-all purchase price, but he is insuring or insulating himself against some loss that might or might not occur.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, of course, there is something to be said on all sides of a question like this, but the factor that appears to be the most persuasive in this is that there is a point in insurance where the cost of the premium is too high to justify the coverage. This evidently has some persuasion in this type of bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not sure about The Borough Code, but it is already written in some of the other codes in regard to the purchase of vehicles, and, generally speaking, a bond is not required. As a matter of fact, most of this material is patented or copyrighted and the prices are supposed to be generally the same. In most cases, when a municipality purchases a vehicle, they will make a deposit when they sign the contract, and after the vehicle is delivered and accepted by the political subdivision, the balance due is paid.

I think this is just spelled out in the bill here to prevent any confusion which might exist, because this legislation applies to labor and materials. I think it is good legislation.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, one of the items that we did not talk about here is the item of delivery of the ultimate object that is being purchased, which may also be insured by the bond. I am just a little bit worried about taking away from some of the local governments some of the protection they have for the people who pay taxes in that local community. I think, in a sense, we might be opening the door to a problem which is not now present, but may later on become present as a result of removing this type of safeguard that was very wisely put into the law originally. I think when you open the door to do that type of thing, you are creating a problem of which we may not be able to foresee all of the ramifications and implications.

I would also like to point out that when a borough or township purchases vehicles, they usually get a price which takes care of it. This is known as a fleet price in the field and, as a result of this, they can receive an object or a piece of equipment at a lesser price than we would have to pay if we purchased it on an individual basis.

I think that where you have a bond, not only getting a price that you can afford and also a good price, but you are insuring that that price remains the same until you actually get the object. Without this, I think you are losing that protection.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in reading this bill, I would just like to read one section here for the information of the Members. It reads:

"The successful bidder when advertising is required herein shall be required to furnish a bond with suitable reasonable requirements guaranteeing the work to be done with sufficient surety in the amount of fifty per cetnum" that is, fifty per cent—"of the amount of the liability under the contract within twenty days after the contract has been awarded unless council shall prescribe a shorter period of not less than ten days and upon failure to furnish such bond with such time the previous award shall be void . . ."

I think it spells it out quite completely, and the reason for the fifty per cent is, as the Majority Leader explained, that if you had one hundred per cent surety on a contract, the expense of the completion bond or the performance bond would be prohibitive.

It seems to me that all this bill is doing is cutting down the expense, because the bidder naturally is going to attach the cost of the performance bond onto his bid and thus make the bid that much higher. I cannot see a thing wrong with this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 373, Printer's No. 956, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am not making a formal objection to the bill going over in its order. However, I want to point out that yesterday we were ready to vote on this bill and at the request of the other side, the bill was put over in order. Today, we have the same situation and we reiterate that we would line very much to vote on this bill today. However, at the request of the gentleman from York, Senator Syeler, we are acceding to the bill going over in order until Monday, but we would like it understood that on Monday, there will be a vote taken on this bill.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I share the sentiments expressed by my colleague, Senator Berger. I would prefer to have a vote on this bill today.

This bill, actually, is the same bill that went through the 1957 Session and died on the grapevine during the last week of the Legislature in that Session. I am afraid that too many slowdowns in voting on this bill may result in the same thing that happened during the last Session, and that is that the Session will end before it comes to a vote.

Mr. President, I certainly urge that the final vote be taken on this bill in this Body next Monday, and no later.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in order to make my position definitely clear, I am willing to vote for this bill today or next Monday. I want my constituents to know that I am strongly in support of this legislation.

I am happy to know that the Majority Leader said there will be a vote on it next Monday. He can certainly count on my vote for this legislation.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

At this time, the Official Senate Photograph will now be taken. Will all the Senators and others please take their seats?

(The Official Senate Photograph was then taken.)

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE ON THE ANNIVERSARY OF ITS TWENTIETH BIRTHDAY ON JULY 1, 1959 AND DESIGNATING IT AS THE PENNSYLVANIA THEATRE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WEINER, KELLER and BERGER offered the following resolution which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 16, 1959.

Whereas, The Bucks County Playhouse, located in New Hope, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, has attained a position of pre-eminence in the world of the threatre over the past twenty years and while so doing has brought great honor to the State of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Bucks County Playhouse is recognized throughout the nation as a leader in its field, maintaining an artistic tradition that brings great credit to itself and to the State of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Bucks County Playhouse attracts to the State annually thousands of visitors who would not otherwise come and who leave to spread the fame of the playhouse and to tell of the beauty and attractions of the State of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Bucks County Playhouse has maintained its position through the years by bringing to the public the finest theatrical entertainment at all times, presented on an artistic and moral level which has been above reproach and a credit to our State; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate offer its congratulations to the Bucks County Playhouse on the anniversary of its twentieth birthday on July 1, 1959, and that henceforth from that date it be designated as the Pennsylvania Theatre, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, Pennsylvania.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears non.e

Mr. TAYLOR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 863, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to Dauphin County for defraying expenses incurred by Dauphin County in connection with the trial of certain employees and officials of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING CONGRESS TO INCLUDE AN APPROPRIATION FOR SURVEYS OF FRENCH CREEK BASIN IN THE FLOOD CONTROL OMNIBUS BILL

Mr. SHAFER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAFER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 36), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 16, 1959.

A disastrous flood occurred in the month of January of 1959, inundating one-third of the city of Meadville, Pennsylvania, and resulting in property damage of over five and one-half million dollars. This is the fourteenth flood which has occurred in that area during the last twenty-two years.

The French Creek Valley is an important industrial area and its potential, if French Creek is controlled, is limitless.

The expenditure of $49,900 in making surveys of the French Creek Basin by the United States Army Corps of Engineers can be the first long step toward turning this presently depressed area into a prosperous community, contributing heavily to the revenues of the Government of the United States; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania commend this course of action to the Congress of the United States; that we urge the appropriate committees in each house of Congress to include an appropriation of $49,900 for surveys of the French Creek Basin in the forthcoming Flood Control Omnibus Bill; and that we urge every Senator and

Representative to vote for that appropriation and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Governor of Pennsylvania in order that he may bring it to the attention of the Congress of the United States.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 36, ADOPTED

Mr. SHAFER asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 418, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "The Second Class Township Code" authorizing townships to remove snow from and cinder State highways under certain conditions and providing for reimbursement to the township by the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in looking over this legislation, I am wondering just who would determine when a State road is completely closed.

I notice in Senate Bill No. 418, Printer's No. 450, under the amendment, it says the township shall:

> "Have authority to remove snow from and cinder any State highway or portion thereof located within the township that is closed for longer than fifteen hours due to accumulated snow."

How do you determine "closed"? Is a road closed by the fact that there may be quite a lot of snow on the highway and the road is still passable? Who is going to determine whether or not the road is actually closed? What authority is going to determine that? I have heard this term used many, many times in regard to highways. They claim that a road is closed when there is one-way traffic. Are the township commissioners going to certify that a road is closed completely? Will it mean that a road is closed completely or will it mean that there is snow on the highway and it might be slippery?

The PRESIDENT. Is the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, desirous of interrogating?

Mr. LANE. No. I would like someone to explain that.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the term "closed" does not have a very vague meaning. I would say that a highway would be considered closed when traffic cannot move over it. In that event, if it has been closed for as long as fifteen hours, somebody should open it up if the Department of Highways does not. If the township road supervisors are there to do it, they should be able to do it and get paid for the men they have to hire in order to help them. That is about as much as I can say about this bill. It looks pretty good to me.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wanted to hear the Majority Leader make that statement because he is setting forth the legislative intent. According to his statement, he says that when a vehicle cannot travel on the highway, then it is closed. That will not mean that when there is snow on the highway and it is not properly cindered, that it is a closed highway. In some cases, cinders which are placed upon the highway are blown off by the elements. In this particular case, Senator Berger has clarified this legislation and, therefore, I will vote for it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the Department of Highways is opposing this legislation because the effect of this bill, in a sense, would deprive the department of any control over expenditures by local governments. I am sure that the local governments do not want to incur any expense or financial responsibility involved under the provisions of this bill if nobody is going to pick up the tab afterwards.

If I understand this correctly, I thing the present procedure is that the department now asks the local governments to take whatever actions are necessary in order to clear these highways and, thereafter, either pays them or takes whatever action they see fit, according to the arrangements which have been made.

What you are doing in this bill is that you are reversing the procedure. You are now allowing the local governments to take this action and then you are saying to them, in effect, "You are now asking the State to pay you and it must pay you because you have waited the alleged time." Whether fifteen hours is the sine qua non, which decides whether the local governments are paid or not, is a question to me. There is nothing magic about the number fifteen; it might be twenty or it might be twelve. I think this is just further legislating at the local level. I think sometimes some of us—and I know I am—are completely without the desired information in order to vote intelligently on this type of bill.

In lieu of that, Mr. President, the Department of Highways has stated that it is opposed to this legislation and feels that it is bad legislation. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues, in support of the Department of Highways, to vote "no."

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I found another defect in this bill. As a matter of fact, this would only apply to second class townships. We have rural roads in first class townships and we have rural roads in boroughs. Therefor, Mr. President, since this bill just applies to second class townships, I think it is sort of discriminatory. You are giving the second class townships the authority to remove snow and cinder the highways. However, it is not applicable to boroughs, first class townships nor cities, which also have rural roads.

Therefore, Mr. President, I can see right now that there is something wrong here. Senator Wade is on the floor and, perhaps, he can explain it to us.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the bill, as the title points out, is an amendment to the Second Class Township Code. Therefore, it could not apply to first class townships or boroughs. The remedy to Senator Lane's problem would simply be to introduce a bill of like moment to apply to first class townships and boroughs.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, of course, such amendments are not in this particular piece of legislation and I think cities are eliminated, too. In some cases, there are sections of city roads, especially in third class cities, which would have that particular problem.

Mr. President, I believe this bill should either be recommitted or carried over or someone should work on some amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, has already stated that with the explanation I made, he was going to vote for the bill. Of course, if Senator Lane has changed his mind, that is all right.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I reviewed the title of the bill and when I saw that it applied only to second class townships, it seems to me to be special legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to make an observation here. It appears that I have been speaking against the bills sponsored by these particular sponsors. I want to say here and now that I endorse this legislation. I think this is a good bill. I think once in awhile we do get some good legislation out, and I want to be the first one to let the Senate know about it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Rpresentatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 442, entitled:

An Act fixing the time of taking when the power of eminent domain is exercised by the Commonwealth its agencies or political subdivisions or by authorities imposing duties on recorders of deeds and providing for recording fees.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have a communication here from the Department of Highways, and it reads as follows:

"This bill would require the Department to draft individual plot descriptions of land taken in eminent domain proceedings. This bill would certainly delay Department's operations and substantially increase costs of highway construction. The present system, whereby the Governor signs the condemnation plan, listing the names of the owners of the land to be condemned and provides for the filing and indexing with the Recorder of Deeds in the appropriate County, gives the land owner adequate notice as to the condemnation proceedings. The Department of Highways, therefore, opposes the passage of Senate Bill No. 442," due to the cost and the extra amount of work that would be required in carrying out this legislation.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this may entail some additional work on the part of the Highways Department in that they would have to record their descriptions of the land which is to be taken in any condemnation proceeding. However, the information and the convenience to the people involved, and to the people in the community, would seem to me to outweigh the additional work that the Department might have to perform in order to record their descriptions.

Consequently, I believe for that reason the bill merits support, and I would ask my colleagues to vote for it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILL No. 1359 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up out of order, from page 9 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1359, Printer's No. 754.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1359, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228), entitled as amended "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" exempting food and beverage from the tax when the purchase price therefor is fifty cents or less.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I might observe that House Bill No. 1359 is the amendment to the Sales and Use Tax Bill which exempts from taxation, food and beverages when the purchase price is fifty cents or less.

Mr. President, this amendment takes out of the bill a portion of the revenue which was provided in it, in the Sales Tax, which was sent over from the House and was an Administration tax bill.

We, on this side, cast five votes in favor of that whole bill. I would like to call to the attention of my colleagues, and the people of Pennsylvania, that this is the first break in the tax program sponsored by the Administration and that we, on this side, feel this amendment, exempting fifty cents or less from the Sales Tax, is salutary and it should have been done in the first place. However, Mr. President, we voted for the bill as it came from the House in accordance with our understanding that we were assuming our proper responsibility for the State's revenues.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, for the second time today, I find myself in agreement with Senator Berger. I certainly hope that everyone votes for this bill. I think it was harsh to impose a tax on meals or purchases in a restaurant of fifteen or twenty cents. I think it hurt the people who can least afford to pay, and I am certainly hopeful that everyone will vote for this exemption.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I would like to make a brief statement for the record in urging my colleagues to support this bill. In the original Sales Tax Bill of 1955, we intended to amend it by imposing the food tax at a price of one dollar. However, it was not agreeable. We agreed finally on a fifty cent minimum on the food tax.

At the time of the Sales Tax Bill, which has been referred to by our Majority Leader, it was my intent to offer an amendment to the Sales Tax Bill. However, because of a fixed agreement, it was decided that we would not amend the Sales Tax Bill in that form.

Later, I, with Senator Mallery of Blair County, sponsored a bill similar to House Bill No. 1359, upon which we are to vote today. It was my intent not only to give some tax relief to the people on public assistance, but also to the school children who are operating today on limited budgets. It is kind of a sad situation when a youngster goes to a football game, or after school stops for a snack, and has to pay a penny tax on a hot dog.

Therefore, I am wholeheartedly supporting House Bill No. 1359 and I urge all to vote for it.

Mr. LANE. I might say, Mr. President, I, too, am happy to vote for this amendment. The Majority Leader made the statement that this is the first break in the Governor's tax program, or words to that effect.

We, too, have an interest in those who are in the lower income groups. We have an interest in those on public assistance, as the previous speaker mentioned. However, it seems to me that according to reports in the newspapers, the Majority Party in the Senate is determined to cut down the amount of money those on public assistance might receive. Therefore, I am very happy, indeed, to vote for this Legislation because it will help those people along a little bit.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, it seems that an injustice, which originated in the House, is being corrected finally by the House and, we, in the Senate. It seems unfair to tax persons who are purchasing meals under fifty cents, as originally was planned by this bill, and yet not to vote for a bill that will place an imposition of a tax upon the sale of liquor, beer, tobacco and automobile trade-ins. If the Members of the House are not going to vote for that type of legislation, it seemed to me, at the outset also unfair to lower the amount on meals

I am very happy to vote to correct this injustice. I also will vote for the other bills if they come over.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think this legislation serves two purposes. Not only is it laudable legislation and an amendment to the Act, but it is also going to make all the Members very happy.

Shall the bill pass finally?

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 552, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 27, 1927 (P. L. 465) entitled as amended "Fire Safety Building Regulation Law" further regulating ways of egress in certain buildings.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. Prestident, I think this is a rather important piece of legislation. I think that I would just like to take a minute or two to point out to the Members of this Body that, at the present time, practically all types of buildings, with the exception of private residents, have two means of egress located inside of the buildings. They are required to have them in public places or places used by the public, generally. One of them must be an enclosed stair tower of fire resistant construction.

This bill will eliminate the requirement that one staircase be a fire tower, as I just described, if there is an automatic sprinkler system and the corridors have cut-offs consisting of fire doors and walls of, at least, one hour of fire resistive construction.

I think we should all consider, just a moment, what the use of a sprinkler system is, what the use of a means of egress is and why this should be protected. A sprinkler system is devised primarily for the purpose of protecting the building. The Fire and Panic Law—and this is part of the legislation from which they are trying to get exempted—was enacted to safeguard the lives of persons occupying a building in the event of fire, panic or both. The prime intent, as the Fire and Panic Law now reads, is to provide a means by which a person can vacate a building in the event of fire or other conditions of that type, and also within a reasonable amount of time in order for them to get out alive. The sprinkler system would not prevent the spreading of gases or smoke, which is the real killer in any fire. Most of the people who die, die from the inhalation of smoke or hot fumes. A sprinkler system is of no value unless the entire building is being sprinkled at that time.

Mr. President, I hope that I am wrong, but I think that possibly the basis for introducing this bill—it only pertains to third class cities, with populations of approximately 135,000 or less—may have been inspired because of the school inspection program, and they are trying to get this unit of buildings out from under that.

Mr. President, I do not think this is the proper method of doing it. I think the most of instituting a sprinkler system is rather expensive. I think, in many instances, they do not work too well. I would hate to see this legislation pass here and if we had a fire, in accordance with the terms of this legislation, I think all of us who might have voted for this type of legislation might be very sorry about it. We may feel that we did a very wrong thing. I do not think this is good legislation. I do not think it is going to take care of the problem which is set out in this bill.

I would just like to point out one other thing, Mr. President. In order to have a proper sprinkler system, you must have a water tower that can provide the adequate pressure to cover the entire area. This usually means strengthening the roof or the upper floors of a building. This can mean a greater expense than it would cost to encase a staircase with fire resistant material.

For that reason, Mr. President, I am going to ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this legislation. If you are going to do it for third class cities, I think you should amend the bill and do it for the entire Commonwealth. Whatever is good for a third class city certainly would be good for a second class, second class A or first class city.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, this bill was inspired and requested by the various fire safety councils throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in view of the great disaster which occurred in the city of Chicago. It is designed to bring all the regulations of the State, with regard to fire, in conformity with the Federal standards. That is all that this bill does. It is very constructive because it eliminates unnecessary expense which can be avoided by a uniformity, in accordance with the Federal rules.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to point out to the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass, that the Department of Labor and Industry, which I spoke to about this matter, said that fire resistive stair enclosures are recommended by the National Underwriters of the National Fire Protection Association, and all national associations dealing with the problems of fire safety. They say that a sprinkler system, in addition thereto, would be all right.

I would say to the gentleman from Erie that if this is a good thing, I do not think we should be selfish about it. I think we all should have the benefit of it throughout the entire Commonwealth. Why limit it to only third class cities? If Senator Blass would want to offer an amendment of that type to the bill, and have the Members vote for it, I think that might be laudable if he feels it is that good.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate at all, but I understood the Minority Leader to say that this would eliminate one of the now required two exits. However, that is not my reading of the bill.

It simply says:

". . . at least one of the two required interior stairs shall be an enclosed stair tower of fire-resistive construction except that where there is an approved system of automatic sprinklers and corridors leading to stairs are provided with cut-offs consisting of fire walls and doors of at least one hour fire-resistive construction no such stair tower shall be required . . ."

There are still two means of egress provided, except that this would take the place of the fire tower and, if constructed in accordance with the standards of the National Fire Association, would be acceptable in the place of the fire tower.

I assume, also, that any installation of sprinklers would have to be approved under the same standards, as well as those of the Department of Labor and Industry. It would be unlikely that such a system would not be adequate to take care of an emergency, should it arise in instances of this sort. Of course, we are all anxious to do everything to provide safety for the children in schools.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out to the Majority Floor Leader that, in my discussion of the bill, I stated there are present in all buildings, except private residences, two means of agress located inside, I also stated that the requirements are that they both be of fire resistive material.

This bill says you only need to have one means of egress if you have a sprinkler system. Therefore, you are doing away with one of those other means of egress.

Builders, being the type of people they are, and people who have buildings built, being the type of people they are, are not going to spend any extra money if they do not have to. This may be a means of saving. I do not say it is cutting a corner, but I think it comes pretty close to it.

Mr. President, if we can do those things to insure even the saving of a single life in a building where a tragedy or disaster might occur, I think we should do it and not narrow the area.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I find myself in complete agreement with the statements made by the Minority Leader, except that I do want to point out that the only thing which this bill does is that it eliminates the necessity for an enclosed stair tower if there is an approved system of automatic sprinklers and the corridors, leading to the stairs, are provided with cutoffs consisting of fire walls and doors.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not going to prolong this tennis match very much longer. However, I would like to ask just one question of the Members of the Senate. They can answer it for themselves when they vote for this bill. Would they want to go down the only remaining exit, which is not of fire resistive material, and, mayhap, the sprinkler system is not working too well or is not in operation, as many of us have seen at many disasters? Perhaps by voting for this bill, they can answer that question for themselves. I certainly hope this never happens to them. However, if they ever find themselves in that position, they, and no one else, will be the ones who have put themselves in that position.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I must say that this bill does not say that one of the remaining exists does not have to be of fire resistive material or equipped with automatic sprinklers. It only says that if you have the stairs equipped that way, then you do not have to have one of them a fire tower.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it would still reduce it down to one stairway, plus a sprinkler system and not two stairways, plus a sprinkler system If nobody objects to it, I am in favor of two stairways, plus a sprinkler system. However, when you reduce it down to one stairway, which is fire resistive, and a sprinkler system, and you cut off another one of the stairways or stairway exits in another part of the building, I think you are doing an injury to the people.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 64 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from page 19 of today's Calendar, House Concurrent Resolution No. 64, Printer's No. 691.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

AMERICAN-FLAG AIR SERVICE BETWEEN PENNSYLVANIA AND THE ORIENT

In the House of Representatives, May 5, 1959.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has for many years participated in the international trade and commerce of the United States and generates substantial volumes of international traffic, including passengers, cargo and mail.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is vitally interested in preserving and expanding its international trade and commerce and in providing improved transportation services for its passengers and shippers as well as for mail.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has always enjoyed a common interest in trade with the countries of the Orient and is vitally interested in expanding trade and relations with the Orient as a means of fostering commercial and industrial development and providing increased job opportunities for its citizens.

The advent of jet air transportation will, if properly employed, remove the principal historic handicaps to major expansion of trade and relations with the countries of the Orient, namely, remoteness and high transportation costs, and will establish the Orient as the world's greatest frontier for development of international trade and travel.

Presently available air services and routes are wholly inadequate to meet the present and future needs of the Commonwealth for preservation and expansion of its trade and travel to the Orient and to maintain its competitive position with other states and areas; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in session convened, favors prompt establishment of direct, competitive American-flag air service between Pennsylvania and the principal countries of the Orient in such a manner as to insure the fullest possible realization, now and in the future, of the convenience, comfort and time and cost savings of modern jet air transportation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Attorney General, The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, The Department of Commerce and other official offices of the Commonwealth interested and affected thereby, are hereby authorized and directed to make such presentations and to take such other action as may be appropriate to present and support the aforesaid position of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania before the Civil Aeronautics Board and to such other agencies and persons as may have an interest in this matter, all with a view to securing the earliest possible adoption and implementation thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Attorney General, The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission and The Department of Commerce.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has requested the occupant of the Chair to preside temporarily.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

O God, as we cherish Thy great friendship and the companionship of Thy dear Son, help us to cultivate the many friendships which are ours to enjoy day by day in the busyness of life. May we never use these fellow-companions for our own selfish ends, but challenge us to expend ourselves for their welfare and happiness. Bless the fellowship of this hour as we recognize Thy high calling to the affairs of state, and bless our continuing fellowship during the remainder of this day. Nourish and strengthen the ties which bind us one to the other, but especially enrich and empower our eternal fellowship with Thee. In Jesus' blessed name. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mrs. VARALLO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, not so long ago Jack Cummings, in his own inimitable manner, wrote in his famous column about the free cheese which was removed from our Philadelphia hotels and restaurants. As a result, he benefitted by his own admission, in receiving samples of cheese including some samples from Wisconsin.

The bill which I am introducing will, I hope, rectify this situation by keeping free cheese in circulation and the purchase of this commodity within the state.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mrs. MARKLEY, Messrs. STECKEL, STIMMEL and FRANK. RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, June 15, 1959.

From June 9 until July 9, the Museum Building should be the focal point for anyone interested in art and creative design. During that time the students of Allentown High School will have on exhibition a wonderful display showing silhouettes, fashion drawings, counter change designs, water colors, collages, oils, pastel paintings, wall hangings and mosaic designs. Such an exhibition displaying the talents of the students of the school is one that should be visited by everyone in the Commonwealth.

The theme of the showing is "Creativity '59" and it is a comprehensive exhibit of original and creative art by 235 students of Allentown High School. The exhibit is dedicated to Clarrisa Breinig as a farewell tribute on her retirement as art supervisor for the chool. Clarrisa Breinig has devoted no less than 40 years of her life teaching art and its related fields to the students of the Allentown school district. Certinly she deserves the tribute that is being bestowed upon her.

The man who has been selected to replace Clarrisa Breinig is Mr. David T. Lehman of Camp Hill. Mr. Lehman's job will be made easier because of the creative ability the students he will be teaching possess. With Mr. Lehman's background, he will be able to continue the great work of his predecessor.

The instructor of the students who are presenting this exhibition should be praised too. If it wasn't for the untiring efforts and foresight of James P. Musselman, a showing such as this would not be possible.

Naturally, the 235 students who did the work deserve the highest praise. The display of their creative thinking could only be accomplished by hard work and devotion to their ideas; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its personal invitation to all the people of the Commonwealth to visit the State Museum between June 9 and July 9 and see the exhibition entitled "Creativity '59" as presented by the students of Allentown High School; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its congratulations and extreme praise to all the students and members of the faculty for their wonderful display; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the principal of Allentown High School, Clifford Bartholomew; to the retiring art supervisor, Clarrisa Breinig; to the new art supervisor David T. Lehman and to the art instructor, James P. Musselman.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 333, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors" increasing jurisdiction of aldermen and justices of the peace in civil actions arising from use of vehicles.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. GAILEY offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1303), page 3, line 19; page 4, line 1, by striking out "five hundred dollars ($500.00)" and inserting: "two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1303), page 4, line 2, by inserting after "peace": "notwithstanding any act to the contrary."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, the bill known as House Bill No. 333 which is before us today is a bill of vast importance to many people of our Commonwealth although it would not appear so on the face of it. This is a bill which will raise the jurisdiction of justices of the peace and aldermen from the present limit in trespass cases, which are cases involving usually automobile accidents, from $300 to $500.

The amendments which I have offered today strike out the raise, and in fact reduces the amount of their jurisdiction by $50 to $250. I think these amendments will serve to help one of the most abused portions of our judicial system here in Pennsylvania. It has often been said among lawyers that JP does not stand for Justice of the Peace, it stands for "Judgment for Plaintiff."

I would submit to the House that there are many good justices of the peace, many good members of the minor judiciary practicing here in our Commonwealth. On the other hand there are many, and you know them as well as I, who abuse their judicial office. It would seem to me that this Legislature would not be wise to increase their jurisdiction so that more cases may be brought before them and dealt with summarily.

As I was saying, it would seem to me that the best ends of justice in the Commonwealth will be served by reducing somewhat the amount by which members of the minor judiciary may consider cases instead of increasing it. I would suggest that they have not moved with the times. There was a time many years ago when these courts were the only courts where small claims could really get a proper hearing, but with the advent of arbitration acts our courts of common pleas have been relieved of the burden of a lot of relatively small claims and claims in the area of $300 to $500 to $1,000 have received a prompt and very ample hearing.

I hope that the Members of the House will see fit to support these amendments, and then to pass the bill as amended.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to oppose these amendments. The only thing that this bill does is to bring the jurisdiction in trespass under the vehicle code up to the general jurisdiction of the justices of the peace and the aldermen in this Commonwealth. The jurisdiction in assumpsit is $500. The jurisdiction in trespass, the general jurisdiction is $500. This as before stated would only level off the jurisdiction in trespass under the vehicle code to the same amount, namely $500.

Many of the counties recognize this jurisdiction even in accident cases involving motor vehicles. A few of the smaller counties the courts do not, as I believe will be brought out on this floor by another sponsor of this bill.

This bill passed the House and passed the Senate in the 1957 session and was vetoed by the Governor at a time after the General Assembly had adjourned, and if I may so comment, the gentleman was a little veto happy. He vetoed numerous measures, I believe over a hundred of them.

I ask the ladies and gentlemen on both sides of this House to vote down this amendment. Incidentally the bill has the support of the Pennsylvania Magistrates' Association.

I ask for a roll call vote.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, I, too, rise in opposition to the suggested amendments.

In the county of Allegheny the members of the minor judiciary have jurisdiction in trespass and assumpsit, and are not limited by this provision of the vehicle code to the $300 limitation which House Bill 333 proposes to raise to make uniform with the Act of 1955, December 9, setting the jurisdiction uniformity at $500 in these types of actions.

I think the proposal included in these amendments is nothing more in effect than to lower the jurisdiction of the minor judiciary when in fact we have bills in the hopper in this House under my sponsorship to raise such jurisdiction.

I ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote against these amendments.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I, too, rise to oppose the amendments to this bill.

As one of the gentleman speakers said, instead of benefiting the general public this bill would do the opposite; it would not be beneficial.

That is what this bill will do for the general public. At the present time we have a $300 jurisdiction where the judiciary may act and this is raised to $500. I could go on and re-state the statement of the former speaker, but I would just like to make this one brief statement. If you buy an automobile today, you pay more than what you did four years ago. Then, too, they are constructed entirely differently than they were at that time. Then you probably bought just a part of the fender, a part of a hood. Today they are so constructed that if you have an accident, or someone happens to hit you, you would buy the side of a car which costs much more. Inasmuch as the alderman or justice of the peace or magistrate has jurisdiction in civil cases they should also have jurisdiction over the automobile in civil cases.

I ask the Members on both sides not to vote for these amendments because we should not go backwards but forwards.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, any action which can be taken by this House to curtail the greed and power of the minor judiciary is salutary. I therefore ask all people who are interested in reforming the minor judiciary to vote in favor of this amendment.

We must recognize the facts of life. Many cases are brought into squires' offices where they should never have been instituted. In our county, if you live in the Borough of Leetsdale, you may be sued in the borough of Port Vue and compelled to defend your course of action 35 miles away.

We have now pending in the House and Senate bills to put the minor judiciary on a salary basis. Whenever the fee system is abolished we can give them judicial jurisdiction. As long as we have a fee system, which is a throw back to the 17th century let us stop their power.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the amendment.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, since Mr. Filo sits right beside me, I do not know why he need do it so publicly. I would be glad to talk it over with him there, but, yes, I will consent.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would rather have it in the record.

Mr. Speaker, is it not true that presently in the state throughout most of the counties there is a clamor for additional judges?

Mr. GAILEY. I believe that is so, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. If these amendments by the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, were accepted, is it not true that more cases would be thrown into court, and as a result we would have a greater backlog of cases in these courts?

Mr. GAILEY. No, I do not feel that is true, Mr. Speaker.

If I may explain, this is true because most of the counties now have the arbitration system under which members of the bar are impaneled as a panel of arbitrators to sit and hear cases, usually in an amount under $2,000. I know in our County of York they have been performing this service very well. There is no backlog in our common pleas court so far as civil jury trial cases are concerned. I do not feel this will cause any additional burden on the courts of common pleas of our state.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I feel differently and I feel that all the House Members should vote these amendments down.

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. ISAACS and TOMPKINS and were as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 755

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 969, entitled:

An Act amending the "1937 Magistrates' Court Act" approved June 15, 1937 (P. L. 1743) providing for the appointment of an acting chief magistrate.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Frascella.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Frascella, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. FRASCELLA. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. Is it the purpose of this bill for the chief magistrate to appoint a chief magistrate to replace him while he is away?

Mr. FRASCELLA. Mr. Speaker, I wish he would repeat the question; I could not hear him.

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, is it the purpose of this bill for the chief magistrate to appoint the chief magistrate while he is away or absent from his office?

Mr. FRASCELLA. Mr. Speaker, again I cannot clearly understand the question, but I assume he is speaking of what the duties would be of the chief magistrate in appointing an acting magistrate.

The purpose of the bill is, in the absence or incapacity of the chief magistrate to act or function, a deputy would be in a position to do it for him.

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. Does the Governor have the sole right to appoint chief magistrates?

Mr. FRASCELLA. I believe the Governor does.

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I think this bill takes the right away from the Governor, and therefore, I ask all the Members of the House to vote against it.

Mr. FRASCELLA. Mr. Speaker, I disagree with my colleague from Philadelphia. This bill does not take away the right of the Governor to appoint a chief magistrate.

Under this bill the deputy chief shall be appointed by the chief magistrate, and only by him, in the event of a vacancy of the chief magistrate through death or any other inability to perform his functions. I believe the Governor still has the right to appoint the chief magistrate.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1015, Printer's No. 762,

House Bill No. 1072, Printer's No. 765 and

House Bill No. 1185, Printer's No. 814

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1380, entitled:

An Act declaring the policy of the Commonwealth with regard to discriminatory practices in educational institutions based upon race religion color ancestry or national origin prohibiting such discriminatory practices providing for procedure and enforcement providing for judicial review providing for administration by the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission in the Department of Labor and Industry and defining its functions, powers and duties hereunder.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to speak on House Bill 1380, known as the Fair Educational Opportunities Act knowing full well that what I say will be of little moment in years to come, or, for that matter, today. Yet I must say them in defense of the principles of God and our Constitution in which I believe.

That the Christian is bound to the law of the brotherhood of man is irrefutable. That all Americans are bound to the law that all men are created equal cannot be argued. These principles are the foundation of our government of laws, not of men, and is the only bulwark again despotism.

With these basic religious and constitutional footings as a background, we cannot ignore the prejudices that are rampant throughout our country. That these prejudices threaten the very fabric of our system is self-evident.

The issue is, then, not whether this law is constitutional or morally right because on this there can be no question. Rather it is whether or not the government of the people shall continue to refuse to recognize the existence of these prejudices.

What is a prejudice? A prejudice is a like or dislike not based upon fact. I am mindful that most prejudices are based upon the human frailty that we like to feel superior to someone, and I realize that the only attack that can be made upon this is with the weapon of humility. However, the recognition by government of the existence of the prejudice and a positive prohibition of action by its citizens in furthering it is an absolute must.

I believe we must look at the everyday life of our citizens and then take action to eliminate any evidence of discrimination based upon prejudice.

The battle is on for the minds of free men throughout the world. Sputnik was the Pearl Harbor of the American educational field. It proved to the United States and the world that even a captive mind could invent.

We cannot afford to sit in the arm chair of complacency while the best brains that this country has are denied the use of our colleges and universities because of discrimination.

Enrico Fermi, Einstein, Salk. Rickover, Edison, Bell,

Booker T. Washington, Carver—these names ring out as inventive geniuses without regard to race, color, creed or national origin.

I ask the people of this Commonwealth to consider this basic question. Is it justifiable under any moral, religious, or legal rule to require any race, creed or color to die for their country and yet require them to accept a secondary role in the community? No longer can we endure this disgraceful condition.

America today is faced with a grave crisis—whether to go forward with bold action or to decline in abysmal failure—a failure that will admit defeat to the atheistic, dictatorial ideology of communism.

The rights afforded minorities determine the rights of the majority. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of this House to support this bill for themselves, their people and posterity.

On the question recurring,

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mrs. HENZEL filed the following reasons for her vote on House Bill 1380.

Because of the fact that this bill does not protect the freedom to operate in a manner commensurate with the basic principles by which are privately endowed, church related, non-state aided or state supported institutions, I cannot support this legislation.

Most of such privately endowed, church related colleges are presently pursuing in their own constructive manner the wiping out of discrimination at the same time that they are assured the freedom to maintain or create the kind of cultural, religious and academic atmosphere they wish. This should be continued. Under this bill most of these privately endowed church related colleges will be "policed" by this legislation.

My support would have gone wholeheartedly to legislation that would have liquidated such control over state-aided or state-supported institutions or protected those which depend upon grants of a religious or private nature to sustain them.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I offer for the record my comments on House Bill No. 1380.

House Bill 1380 declares the policy of this Commonwealth with regard to discriminatory practices in educational institutions based on race, religious color or national origin and prohibits such discriminatory practices.

The Commission under which it functions—Fair Employment Practice Commission—already exists in the Department of Labor and Industry.

The bill emphasizes education instead of filing complaints and omits any criminal penalties. It deals with fair educational practices. The Commission makes annual visits to each institutions of post secondary grades to examine the practices and procedures in the selection of students. It resorts to conciliation holds hearings and issues cease and desist orders. Under the cease and desist order, the identity of the institution is not revealed. It does not apply to religious institutions.

The schools themselves should welcome this legislation in order to lay to rest unfounded rumors.

With the future influx of college students, equality of educational oportunities requires that all qualified students be admitted.

That overcrowdedness has occurred there is no doubt. The situation is urgent. Arithmetic measures this urgency. College enrollment in the state has increased by 100,000. The boys and girls of our war years have already been born. We don't have to estimate their number. Pennsylvania must do its share for the youth of our state.

It is dreadful that some of us are blindfolded and fail to look into the future. We hope that someday we can look back on our beliefs with horrified wonder in the same way as we look at the Fair Employment Practice Bill.

Living in our communities of brotherhood we should respect and accept our responsibility, our decency and

God granted privileges and give our children an equal opportunity to reduce chaos to order.

I ask that this fair educational opportunity bill permitting equal educational opportunities for all be passed.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 923, Printer's No. 350

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to the order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 959, entitled:

An Act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. CURWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Fisheries.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1058, Printer's No. 763 and

House Bill No. 1059, Printer's No. 764

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1076, entitled as follows:

An Act empowerng the Commonwealth to acquire land and operate burial grounds for the disposal of radioactive materials.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill No. 1076, Printer's No. 773, the Minority Leader, Mr. Johnson, asked me to check very carefully regarding the cost, if any.

Mr. Polen, the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations informed me that no additional funds will be required for any additional personnel in the Department of Health. There would certainly have to be an appropriation necessary and separate action if land had to be purchased at some time in some areas dealing with disposal of radio active material, but the bill itself does not call for any additional cost as far as the Department of Health is concerned pertaining to personnel for handling or enforcing House Bill No. 1076, Printer's No. 773. Is that clear?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1355, entitled as follows:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) prohibiting the reduction of a charge of larceny to a charge of shoplifting.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, consent to be interrogated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, what is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the shoplifting act provides that shoplifting shall be a summary offense. The remedy in the act is concurrent with the Penal Code which makes shoplifting a felony, larceny. What has been happening in Philadelphia in many cases is that one is arrested and charged with the crime of larceny and the magistrate will dismiss the charge of larceny and find the defendant guilty of shoplifting only, fine him $25, which is the minimum fine described by the shoplifting act, and the defandant is free.

Very often the magistrate does not know that the individual defendant before him is a professional shoplifter. We have a very real problem with professional shoplifters in Philadelphia and we are particularly anxious to stop this practice to the extent that we can.

If the charge of larceny appears on the charge sheet before the magistrate, he must then, under this bill, dispose of the case on the basis of larceny, either discharge the defendant, a prima facie case not having been made out, or else hold the individual for court. I say further, if the defendant is charged with the summary offense of shoplifting, then the magistrate may, of course, dispose of the case on those grounds.

Mr. McCORMACK. Isn't it a fact, Mr. Speaker, when we passed this amendment to the Penal Code two years ago that the department stores were very much in favor of it because of the fact that it would expedite matters and they wanted to give discretion to the magistrates?

Mr. EILBERG. That is true, Mr. Speaker.

I would say that the primary purpose of the bill was not to give discretion to the magistrates. The primary purpose was to eliminate the enormous bulk of malicious prosecutions which were being brought. The penalty provision was entirely secondary.

I will say to you further that I have been in touch with numerous department stores throughout the state, I have had correspondence from them, and they are in favor of the proposal that we have set forth here.

I might say that we are not eliminating the shoplifting charge as such. If the charge of shoplifting is brought, say for a first offender, the magistrate may still very properly dispose of the case on those grounds. We are concerned with the repeat violators, who, having been fined $25, have a license, in effect, to get out and continue their nefarious practice until they are caught again.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, does this bill, Mr. Speaker, have any provision for second offenders?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, it does not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, do you think, Mr. Speaker, the proper way to amend this would be to provide that when a person has previously been convicted of shoplifting, then he must be indicted for larceny?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, this would automatically happen under this bill, for presumably the prosecuting authorities would prosecute for larceny if the offender has been convicted before.

I might say further, the reason for the form of the bill as it is now is that we have consulted with representatives from different parts of the state and they feel that this is a proper way of handling the situation. There would be more opposition, I am certain, if the proposition as offered by Mr. McCormack were embodied in the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, under this bill, Mr. Speaker, winding up, does anybody have discretion now, if this bill were passed, to decide whether or not to bring an information or file a complaint alleging larceny or shoplifting?

Mr. EILBERG. Yes. The discretion would remain on the part of the person who would sign the information or complaint.

Mr. McCORMACK Do they not have that discretion now?

Mr. EILBERG. They have a discretion now, but the evil that we are trying to eradicate by this bill is the practice which has developed. Apparently, many of the minor judiciary feel that they have the power to reduce the crime of larceny to shoplifting. This, I believe, is not so but we are making this very clear in the present bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Does not the prosecuting attorney have a record at the preliminary hearing of the person who has been arrested under the present system?

Mr. EILBERG. If there is a district attorney present, he normally has the record, but not in all cases.

Mr. McCORMACK. There is a district attorney present at all the divisional police courts, at least in Philadelphia; is that not correct?

Mr. EILBERG. As a former district attorney, I can say that we tried to man the divisional courts but very often were not able to do so.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I remember distinctly when this amendment to the Penal Code was passed, there was quite a bit of support for the bill for the reason that the store detectives and others had to work unnecessarily and had to go into court on a follow-up on a larceny indictment, and this would enable them to control shoplifters very effectively. There was no alternative at that time but to prosecute them on the larceny charge. Now we gave that to them and they are back again saying that they do not want that now. They want these persons to be held for larceny. I think we should either do one thing or the other.

When I voted against the bill two years ago I foresaw that this action would happen, and I think now that we ought to require that the person be indicted with larency and that we do away with the shoplifting charge. Since this bill will not do that I am going to vote against it.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to conclude with this thought. I have been in touch with the law enforcement authorities; that is, the police primarily, and the store detectives in the Philadelphia area. They have had a very frustrating experience in the last couple of years since this bill was enacted. They go to great pains to apprehend shoplifters, many of them professional and they know them as such, and then the person arrested is discharged on payment of a $25 fine. This is absolutely demoralizing so far as our police department is concerned.

I would say further, Mr. Speaker, we are not taking any discretion away from anyone in this case. It is up to the prosecuting authority to prosecute for shoplifting or larceny, or both. Then if the magistrate decides there is no case of larceny, he may discharge the person. Or he may even settle the case under another statute which permits settlement of larceny cases where the amount involved is $200 or less. If a charge against an individual is both shoplifting and larceny, appearing on the same complaint, the magistrate may find there is no prima facie case of larceny and find the defendant guilty of shoplifting alone. On the other hand, as I said, if there is a prima facie case of larceny he is held for court.

I think this bill is extremely important for the morale of our law enforcement people in the Philadelphia area.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia consent to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, if this bill were to pass, would the crime of shoplifting be eliminated?

Mr. EILBERG. It would not be eliminated, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true, under the present law, that the crime of shoplifting is cumulative to the crime of larceny?

Mr. EILBERG. I believe that is incorrect, Mr. Speaker. There is nothing in the law which indicates that shoplifting is a lesser included offense of the crime of larceny.

As I said, Mr. Speaker, in my earlier remarks, some of our minor judiciaries are taking it that way, but there is certainly nothing I know of that makes it a lesser included offense.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will read page 3 of the bill, it says it is cumulative. If it be cumulative, is it not true if you get a big time shoplifter and you dismiss him on a charge of shoplifting that you can within the statute of limitations re-arrest him on a charge of larceny?

Would the gentleman read the bill, the bottom of page 3 as the law reads today? It says the offenses "shall not be exclusive," and the offenses shall be cumulative. Is that not right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. EILBERG. Where does the word "cumulative" appear?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. "And shall be in addition to previously existing offenses." That means cumulative in common English.

Mr. EILBERG. I think the gentleman is making an interpretation which is not present in the section.

The section says, and I shall read it:

"The offenses for which penalties and the presumptions are herein provided shall not be exclusive and shall be in addition to previously existing offenses and such rights and presumptions as were heretofore provided by law."

Now, Mr. Speaker, what that means is that under this Act we created the summary offense of shoplifting, and at the same time we said in effect, in these lines 14, 15, 16 and 17, that the crime of larceny was nevertheless also possible under the same circumstances.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Eilberg.

Of course, we lawyers in Pittsburgh often disagree with the Philadelphia lawyers, and my opinion is that it is a cumulative offense. You will face the situation sometime where some poor mother who is charged with stealing a trinket from a department store will have to be held for court on a charge of larceny. The charge of shoplifting was designed to eliminate minor offenders, and my contention is that the passage of this bill would only tend to create confusion, and not give the minor judiciary in this instance proper discretionary power.

Mr. EILBERG. I should like to point out that so far as the type of case Mr. Goldstein is referring to, I have no doubt that whether it is the police in Pittsburgh or the police in Philadelphia, or anywhere else in the state, the offense charged will certainly be shoplifting. No one is going to prosecute a mother, widow and so forth for the felony of larceny where it is a first violation. We are trying here only to create a situation where, as I said, we can hold some of these professional shoplifters for court, whereas they are now virtually all being discharged on payment of a $25 fine.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I made my point clear or not, but I would like to reemphasize my point that a person who shoplifts is guilty of larceny under the Penal Code, and there is, at the present time, discretion.

I say to avoid the problems that presently exist, there is no reason in the world why any person arrested and accused of stealing wares and goods from a store should not be prosecuted for larceny, and when the person has the record or the conviction for larceny, let the court which tries the case mete the punishment. Certainly the punishment should fit the crime. If the person is a first offender, or if it is a hardship case, there is no reason in the world why the judge will not take that into consideration, and dispose of the case.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is requesting the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to preside temporarily.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1397, entitled:

An Act amending the "Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act" approved June 1, 1937 (P. L. 1168) changing the definition of employer.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Minority Leader has informed me that they did not have an opportunity to caucus and cover this bill. Therefore, I have requested that the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano, be given a right to explain the bill on the floor of the House as to the possibility of voting on the bill at the present time.

We have tried to get 1397 in a position for vote for a matter of a couple of weeks and we would apreciate if we could do this today.

So, Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, this bill is intended to broaden the definition of employer so as to include other than those who are engaged in industry, commerce, trades, business or production. It is intended to physically include non-profit organizations that would have employes. I mean the business in which they are engaged is a profit to the organization.

As you notice, it does not change the definition in regard to employes who are employed by the Commonwealth, or the United States, or those which are employed by hospitals and charitable institutions. The intention, of course, is to broaden the definition.

It does not change the unit rule or any other provisions of the act regarding those who come under the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1726, entitled as follows:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) authorizing the Department of Property and Suplies to acquire title to real property and to provide for the construction of public buildings thereon by rental purchase contracts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, what is the purpose of this bill?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to permit the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to do what commercial enterprises have been doing for the last few years.

This would permit the Commonwealth to acquire buildings for the use of its various departments, without the necessity of laying out investment funds as we would have to do at the present time. In other words, they would use private capital to build a building for their various departments and bureaus as needed. Then at the end of a lease period of from ten to twenty-five years, the building would be conveyed to the Commonwealth without any further consideration.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, could this not at present be done through the General State Authority?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. No, I do not believe so.

Mr. BELL. Why not?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Well, we do have other purposes as well which you would not have if you used the General State Authority.

Mr. BELL. Which purposes?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. One of the purposes is that the federal government presently has funds available to certain of our bureaus and departments which engage in lease-purchase agreements which are not available at the present time to these departments because under our law we cannot engage in this kind of a device.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, could not our General State Authority laws be amended to permit General State Authority money to be used for this purpose?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Well, you would not get the advantage of the federal funds by so doing.

Mr. BELL. If our laws are amended to permit General State Authority funds to be used for these purposes, did you say these federal funds would not be available?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. That is my understanding.

Mr. BELL. If it were possible to get the federal funds and using the General State Authority, would it not be cheaper to the Commonwealth?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would say no. I am not fully qualified, I would imagine to go into discourse with you, but it is my understanding that this device just as it saves commercial enterprises a great deal of money, would likewise save the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a great deal of money, even more so than by use of the General State Authority.

Mr. BELL. Thank you, Mr. Schwartz.

I rise to oppose this bill because at this time I am not clear in my own mind that you can build buildings with private money at a cheaper rate than you can build buildings with the General State Authority. Therefore, I am voting no.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, we are crying for tax sources in the state of Pennsylvania, and I want to call the attention of everybody here that the minute the Commonwealth goes into possession of any real estate some big real estate development corporation will be free of paying any taxes or assessments whatsoever.

This can cost local districts millions of dollars in lost taxes during the term of the leases.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

STATEMENT BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1726, Printer's No. 790, is a piece of legislation proposed and introduced at the request of the Republican Members of this House in which they objected to the rental charges being paid across Pennsylvania and that this would be a savings in the Commonwealth. This piece of legislation would have to be enacted before the Commonwealth could do this.

There are Members sitting in this House on the other side who know very emphatically of this detail and the money saver that this piece of legislation would eventually save the Commonwealth. At their request it was introduced and adopted as an administration measure and I am most pleased at the vote today.

Mr. Speaker, I hope that the future bills which will be a saving to the Commonwealth will meet the same kind reception that this bill has received here today.

STATEMENT BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, what the Majority Leader had to say about the Republicans demanding this bill was news to me. I do not know.

Yesterday when we caucused on the bill I asked the Members on our side if anybody know just what the bill did, how far-reaching the bill would be and if they would please stand up and explain the bill. Unfortunately, all we could do was to relate to the caucus what the bill itself provided for, the real background, and nobody in our caucus got up and said, well, that is a bill we demanded, that we have conjured up, and it has been adopted.

I am wondering if the Majority Leader is not mistaken. Yesterday we had over a hundred bills that we tried to caucus on so we would not have to call a caucus tdoay or tomorow. Of necessity we had to give some bills not as good an explanation as others, and I feel that the Majority Leader today, up at the desk, when I stated I did not really know what the bill provided for and would he please have Mr. Schwartz stand up and explain the bill, he said he would, and which was not done here today. I am sure that the Majority Leader, with the knowledge that he had particularly within his own mind about the bill probably owed us a duty to stand up and explain this bill to us. If it is a money saver and is a bill that should be passed, we, of course, should have voted for it today. If, after reinvestigation of the bill, it is absolutely necessary and a good bill, certainly we will provide the votes to revive it. I am afraid we have voted today under a misapprehension if what the Majority Leader says is true, but I do not know of anybody on our side who demanded the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Perhaps I should clear the point about demanding the bill, and I should clear the point that they demanded the principle that is involved in the bill.

On this particular bill, No. 1726, no one demanded the bill, but I think if they will check carefully they will find on their side of the House those people who requested the principle involved in this bill. If I was in error in not explaining the bill—we covered it in our caucus—I apologize, but I am positive that the original idea, the principle involved in House Bill 1726, I give credit to you people as to where it originated.

Mr. Speaker, we agreed that at 2:30 we would have our last roll call today, no matter what position we had on the calendar.

I would like to now call up the bills that need amendments so that we can move on, and therefore, request unanimous consent of the House to be given permission to pass over the bills except the ones I call for amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection the Chair will follow the procedure outlined by the Majority Leader, and all bills will be passed over in order except those bills called up by the Majority Leader.

Mr. WOOD offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

Mr. YATRON offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, pursuant to a resolution passed in both this House and the Senate in 1957, the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate appointed three members of a committee to investigate the Board of Pardons. That resolution provided that they should investigate cases that go back to January 4, 1950.

In Washington on Thursday, or rather on Friday morning, there appeared a story in the paper concerning the Senate Rackets Committee, wherein a John LaRocca, a notorious criminal out of Pittsburgh who was reputed to have been given a pardon, and that pardon was reputed to have been back-dated by the then Governor, John Fine. The implication was that there was something irregular about that. As a result of that the naturalization department was not able to deport this notorious criminal.

Now, to my knowledge, although the investigating committee had the authority, there was never any question brought up before those hearings of the investigating committee concerning this John LaRocca.

I think in fairness we should clear the air and a resolution should be introduced, or whatever else is necessary, to have the former Governor appear and testify, and also the Members who were on the Board of Pardons during his administration.

If a resolution is not forthcoming, I want the opportunity of introducing one myself.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. RIGBY, BOWER and A. W. JOHNSON.
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 84.

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1959.

The problems of older workers have become a serious threat to the well being of our economy. In many instances, men and women forty years of age are considered too old for new employment. One reason for this discrimination is the high cost of including persons over forty years of age in pension plans.

It is the duty of government to serve its citizens by solving those problems which individual citizens or groups of citizens cannot themselves solve. The high cost of workers and industry in planning pension systems for various groups has recently reached an all time high. This is frequently due to a lack in continuity of persons in a particular system which has been established. The worker in particular, often suffers. If he loses his rights in one retirement system, he must seek to establish rights in another system. This can only be done at a cost which he cannot personally assume or at an overburdening expense to the industry which would otherwise seek his services and make use of skills which the worker has acquired through many years of experience. Overcoming this problem will do much to aid our economy by lessening costs to employers, protecting and continuing acquired rights of individual workers, lessening costs to the public by helping attain a full employment which distributes tax costs among greater numbers of taxpayers, and enables individual employes to transfer from one industry to another where their talents and experience will lead to greater present remuneration without the sacrifice of greater pension system payments and expenses and without less in future retirement benefits at that age when productive labor is no longer possible and the cost of living remains high; therefore be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate methods and ways of establishing a State-wide retirement or pension system to cover and benefit all persons working in Pennsylvania, which will include an actuarily sound basis of contribution by employers and employes, and which will guarantee adequate payments to employes despite changes in costs of living; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations in effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. HORST, Mrs. B. Z. MILLER,
Messrs. WOOD and ESHLEMAN.
RESOLUTION No. 85.

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1959.

Whereas, there has been organized recently a statewide society known as The Theodore Burr Bridge Society of Pennsylvania, a nonprofit organization devoted to the collection of information on and the restoration and preservation of the remaining covered bridges of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania has been long known as the state of bridges, and has remaining more covered wooden bridges than any other single state; and

Whereas, these remaining covered wooden bridges are fast disappearing due to neglect, highway relocations, and replacement with modern bridges; and

Whereas the majority of the remaining covered wooden bridges, with a moderate expenditure of money, could be reenforced and repaired thereby making them useful rather than being allowed to deteriorate; and

Whereas, it is generally recognized that these bridges have a great attraction for the tourist and they could be preserved as landmarks of the earlier history of Pennsylvania transportation, which is a benefit to the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, this situation fully justifies increased attention to the restoration and preservation whereever possible of the remaining covered wooden bridges of Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby calls upon the Department of Highways of the State of Pennsylvania to bend every effort to aid in the protection and the preservation of the covered wooden bridges of Pennsylvania and to avoid in every possible instance the destruction or removal of any such bridge still standing and a part of the highway system of the Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be directed to the Secretary of Highways as representing the concern of the House of Representatives with this problem.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. YATRON. RESOLUTION No. 86.

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1959.

The safety of our children while being transported to and from school is of paramount importance to all of us. The existing laws relating to the operation of school buses and the duties of the drivers of other vehicles approaching school buses were enacted conscientiously and with the safety of the children and the traveling public in mind. Practical experience, however, has proven that in some instances the requirements of existing law have caused serious accidents.

Throughout the United States the laws relating to school buses widely vary on when and where buses are allowed to load or discharge children; when approaching vehicles are required to stop; and what lights are required on buses and when these lights must be placed in operation.

In order to bring about greater safety on our highways it is imperative that a comparative analysis be made of the laws relating to the operation of school buses in the various states and that our laws be revised to correspond with the requirements which have proven most effective; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the laws of Pennsylvania relating to the operation of school buses, and to compare and evaluate such laws with the laws of other states; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report to the next regular session of the General Assembly of its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 64

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1959.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has for many years participated in the international trade and commerce of the United States and generates substantial volumes of international traffic including passengers cargo and mail.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is vitally interested in preserving and expanding its international trade and commerce and in providing improved transportation services for its passengers and shippers as well as for man.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has always enjoyed a common interest in trade with the countries of the Orient and is vitally interested in expanding trade and relations with the Orient as a means of fostering commercial and industrial development and providing increased job opportunities for its citizens.

The advent of jet air transportation will if properly employed remove the principal historic handicaps to major expansion of trade and relations with the countries of the Orient namely remoteness and high transportation costs and will establish the Orient as the world's greatest frontier for development of international trade and travel.

Presently available air services and routes are wholly inadequate to meet the present and future needs of the Commonwealth for preservation and expansion of its trade and travel to the Orient and to maintain its competitive position with other states and areas therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in session convened favors prompt establishment of direct competitive American-flag air service between Pennsylvania and the principal countries of the Orient in such a manner as to insure the fullest possible realization now and in the future of the convenience comfort and time and cost savings of modern jet air transportation and be it further

Resolved That the Attorney General The Pennsylvania Areonautics Commission The Department of Commerce and other official offices of the Commonwealth interested and affected thereby are hereby authorized and directed to make such presentations and to take such other action as may be appropriate to present and support the aforesaid position of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania before the Civil Aeronautics Board and to such other agencies and persons as may have an interest in this matter all with a view to securing the earliest possible adoption and implementation thereof and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Attorney General The Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission and The Department of Commerce.

CHESTER Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House 58 members of the Y. M. C. A. of the City of Chester. They are the guests of the Messrs. Bell and Isaacs of Delaware County.

JUDGE C. M. PALMER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the Hall of the House of a former Member of this House, now President Judge of Schuylkill County. He was a Member of this House in the 1915, 1917, 1919 Sessions. He is a former Member of the Congress, former District Attorney, and he has been a Judge for some 25 years.

The Chair invites His Honor, the President Judge of Schuylkill County to the rostrum, and I am sure the Members of this House would appreciate a few words from him.

The Majority and Minority Leaders will escort Judge Palmer to the rostrum.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, Judge Palmer.

ADDRESS OF JUDGE C. M. PALMER

JUDGE PALMER. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I am greatly complimented by being permitted to make a few remarks. The only thing the Speaker left out in going over my record was that he failed to tell you I am also a member of the West End Fire Company in Pottsville.

This day brings back many, many happy days in the long ago. In 1915 Martin Brumbaugh was Governor of Pennsylvania and there were many high-classed, as there are now, in this group. I regard it always as a pleasure to come back and see the Members, most of whom were not born when I first came here.

I do not like to see a divided Assembly, as even do the people, but of course I understand your problem. As in the statement made by that great General, leader and patriot, Ulysses S. Grant, you have taken a stand and you are going to stay here and fight it out if it takes all summer. I hope when the fall comes around you will have agreed.

I think that a fair arbitrator feels that there must be services rendered the institutions of Pennsylvania, and I agree. It is very difficult to agree just where to fix that tax, but I hope that harmony will finally prevail amongst all of you. I am sure that you are going to make a fine record ultimately.

It was a great pleasure for me to come here.

The SPEAKER. It is remarkable how some of us have survived. The learned Judge could recall many chapters back in the days when the paper known as The North American was a power in this state, and he could also recall many occasions upon which it was my privilege as a member of the North American Staff to castigate and lambast the leaders in Schuylkill County.

All that is forgotten. Time has cast its ivy over past discords.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Amended House Bill returned for concurrence No. 1023.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we would like to establish a policy in the House pertaining to House bills since the resolution has been passed that all bills not amended are read the first time.

Under this situation the House bills move to second reading and each of the respective parties do not have an opportunity to caucus on a bill on second reading. Therefore, we want to establish a policy that bills may move to third reading without caucusing but amendments to the bills would be handled on third reading in the very same manner as necessary on second reading. That means there would be no objection to offering amendments to a bill on third reading, but controversial amendments would certainly be debated and voted upon according to the amendments.

Of course, unless we did this, there would be no real advantage in reporting and reading a bill the first time. We want to establish this as a policy so that each of the Members in the respective caucuses will know, rather than requesting that a bill be held over on second reading since they did not get to caucus or talk on the bill in their respective caucuses.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the gentleman's suggesiton applies to both House and Senate bills?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it applies both to House and Senate bills.

The SPEAKER. What is the pleasure of the Majority Leader as to the calendar?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we are ready to begin on the second reading calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that not all of the bills on the second reading calendar have arrived from the printer and that we could, therefore, to better advantage, proceed with the third reading bills or bills on final passage.

The Chair has also been informed that the bills have been printed but have not been filed.

Mr. McCANN. If the bills are on their way here, which I understand they are, it would be most satisfactory to begin on page 6 with bills on final passage.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 45, Printer's No. 821, and

House Bill No. 117, Printer's No. 822,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the erection and maintenance of certain advertising devices along highways on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways * * *.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 13, by striking out "in" and inserting: "if"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 15, by striking out "this act shall not apply to" and inserting: "the Secretary of Highways may, in his discretion, exempt from the provisions of this act"

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 20, by inserting after "system" "Provided, however, That such advertising devices shall be approved by the Secretary of Highways as to their size and number."

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, lines 2 to 4, by striking out "located within six hundred sixty" in line 2, all of line 3, and "of Interstate and Defense Highways" in line 4, and inserting: "prohobited by section 2 of this act"

Amend Sec. 4, page 4, lines 16 and 17, by striking out "provided funds for" in line 16, and all of line 17.

Amend Bill, page 9, by inserting after line 18: "Section 11. Effective Date. This act shall take effect immediately.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I have a series of amendments which I would like to have considered. If both of these amendments are considered today, it would probably create confusion. What will the procedure be should the amendments submitted by Mr. McCann pass? Would I have the opportunity then to present mine?

The SPEAKER. In the opinion of the Speaker, we would dispose of the amendments submitted by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann. If they were adopted they would go into the bill and the bill would then be reprinted for the further consideration of the House. By unanimous consent, or by a majority vote, the gentleman from Allegheny could then offer amendments to the amended bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I ask consent to speak upon the amendments as submitted by Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER. Just a further point: If the amendments offered by the gentleman from Greene fall, then the gentleman from Allegheny could offer his amendments today.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Yes, I understand that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would be most pleased to explain the amendments offered to House Bill 317, Printer's No. 755.

On page 2 of the bill, on line 13, the first word is an error; "in" is corrected to "if."

On line 15 of page 2, section 2, "the Secretary of Highways may in his discretion exempt from the provisions of this act" is inserted, and that part of section 2 then is completed.

Section 3 is the section which permits the various sign posters identified with business activities, provided however that such advertising devices shall be approved by the Secretary of Highways as to their size and number.

Mr. Speaker, another change in the amendment has to do with, in section 3, the prohibition in section 2 of this bill.

Also, in section 4, striking out "providing funds for such purposes as shall be appropriated by the General Assembly," since we do not appropriate highway funds by a General Assembly act.

The last change in the amendments is the effective date of the act, dealing with "effective immediately."

Now these amendments to House Bill 317 do specifically this: Number one, the billboards would be banned on interstate defense highways in which the right of way is to be acquired or has been acquired since July 1, 1956. Therefore the interstate defense highway system which is already built, or the right of way exists, there would be no ban on the billboards on those highways since there is no money in the federal act for removal of any of that portion.

The provisions of the amendments inserted into House Bill 317, in the opinion of many attorneys, meets the requirements of the federal act dealing with the banning of billboards providing for federal funds.

Basically the amendments are not great in any respect, and the bill as it originally appeared in Printer's No. 755 is almost correct in every section except as dealing with the Secretary of Highways being given discretion to exempt from the provisions of the act, and also as to designating the number and size of advertising devices which would be approved under section 4 of this proposed act.

I request that all of the Members of the House consider very carefully, and support the amendments to House Bill 317, for this is a compromise trying to hold the billboard situation in a position in which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would be eligible for federal funds, and still not take away outdoor advertising from the areas in which it now exists, and to authorize them when no federal funds would be available to remove such outdoor advertising.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. SPeaker, in the first instance I want to make one point very clear. I do believe these amendments have improved the bill, which was almost destroyed heretofore.

The gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, indicates that the opinion of some lawyers concludes that this would qualify the Commonwealth for additional subsidy. I believe the bill as it is now drawn and as amended is not as clear as it should be, and for that reason I am opposing the amendments.

I believe also that when the state of Pennsylvania has the opportunity of receiving five to ten million dollars we should not compromise on a vital issue like this. If I interpret the remarks of Mr. McCann correctly, he says this situation has given rise to amendments which are a compromise to preserve the scenic beauty of the new interstate highway and to protect the billboard industry. There is nothing in this bill which ever prohibited the erection of billboards upon preexisting highways, so that argument has no basis in fact.

I may be anticipating the argument on my amendments, but the national policy outlined by the federal government stated that the policy was to preserve not only scenic beauty but to create a situation for the safety of the public. This particular bill as amended only contemplates preserving scenic beauty. Whether or not that would be sufficient to sustain the bill on a constitutional basis is very doubtful. When we have an issue of this character, I say let us make certain the Commonwealth will receive the funds required.

The amendments which I intended to submit either today or on the following legislative day will certainly make it absolutely certain that the Commonwealth will receive the funds, and that the billboard industry will be protected in accordance with the federal act.

It is a very difficult subject to explain, but I believe that in order to qualify without any question we must follow the policies and national standard outlined in the federal act. In this particular situation, and under these amendments, the Secretary of Highways is given discretionary power. Now the Secretary of Highways may be a very, very strong advocate of scenic beauty and the public safety. On the other hand he may be an opponent of that principle. The federal act contemplates bilateral agreements between the Secretary of Commerce of the Unitd States and the Secretary of Highways. If this particular bill would provide for the bilateral agreements then we would have a fool-proof bill, and it is for that reason that I oppose these amendments. And I am glad the Majority party is now trying to follow up the outlined policy to a limited degree as stated by the Governor and by the Secretary of Highways. I ask for a roll call vote on this amendment.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, so that there would be no misunderstanding on the amendments that I have offered to this bill: Number 1, we met from 8:00 o'clock until almost midnight last night. There is no question that whatever shape the bill may be in in the end, that an agreement must be made between the Secretary of Commerce and the designated secretaries of the various States or Commonwealths. In our case it is the Secretary of Highways.

Whether the gentleman would be an opponent or proponent of outdoor advertising would still be an issue as the result of an agreement between the United States, the Federal Government, under the Public Law, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I repeat again, the opinion of the attorneys that the Secretary of Highways may, at his discretion, exempt from the provisions of the act, that that is legal, will stand up, within the agreement of the federal act; that action of the Secretary of Highways, having the discretionary powers of designating the number and size of outdoor advertising devices under Section 4 of the bill, will be legal and will stand up in the agreement of the public Law.

I ask that everyone support these amendments because,

Number 1, it is our position at this point that we are establishing a position in which we do not agree upon the removal of outdoor advertising signs on existing highways on which there is no federal money of any kind in any act to pay for anything. Therefore, we are staying within the federal act trying to make Pennsylvania meet the necessary law in agreement so that we will be eligible for federal funds for interstate defense system highways in which the right-of-way is to be acquired or has been acquired since July 1, 1956.

To make it rather specific, if an interstate defense system is now and has been in operation within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and it has billboards on that highway, and the right-of-way was acquired before July 1, 1956, if you were to ban all the billboards on that highway, you could do it if you wanted to, but you would not receive any federal help or any federal money, unless they change the federal law in Washington and provided the additional funds to do that.

Therefore, we are trying to do what we think is best for Pennsylvania in these amendments, and I will admit that the attorneys are going to argue left and right on this position. I would like to say that my advice on the position of making this legal was certainly from a staff of attorneys. Therefore I ask that the House support these amendments inserted into the bill.

I again would like to repeat for the record, certainly Mr. Goldstein will have the opportunity to offer his amendments, which I told him yesterday, when the bill is printed because he might have to change some of the lines and sections for the new print number.

Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to a roll call.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

The SPEAKER. The Minority Leader yields to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise solely to make a brief statement in connection with these amendments.

I feel very strongly that the Members of this House should have the opportunity to vote upon a bill banning billboards, which is in proper form and which will meet the minimum federal standards set up in the federal highway act. In my opinion, and I have been close to the argument back and forth, the so-called compromise and all the discussions in connection with these various amendments, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, do not put that bill in proper form.

I accordingly ask that the Members of the House vote against these amendments so that we may then consider amendments which will, in my opinion, make the bill a proper bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Leader consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall be glad to be interrogated on the amendments that are offered today.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, am I in order to interrogate the Majority Leader as to the statement he made that the bill is legally sufficient?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would hold that the questioning should be confined within the compass of the amendments, and any statement which the Majority Leader has made in connection therewith.

Mr. BELL. I thank the Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, when the Majority Leader stated that he had consulted with certain attorneys as to the legal sufficiency of this bill, did the Majority Leader consult with them as to the legal sufficiency of the purposes as contained in Section 1 of the bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I did. Section 1, the legislative findings?

Mr. BELL. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. I did, sir.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, did the Majority Leader discuss with these attorneys the point of law that the police powers sometimes are not interpreted as covering aesthetic beauty or similar values?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, you will find the majority of the legislative findings, word for word, in the federal act.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I am referring to Pennsylvania's Constitution.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this particular piece of legislation has to be written so that it is agreeable and applicable to the federal act to make Pennsylvania available for the federal funds. I did not question anyone about the Constitution of Pennsylvania, but there is no question at all that all the attorneys agreed upon Section 1.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I am just raising this point at this time because it may come up later. I am in serious doubt as to the constiutionality of the act as it has been amended.

I was one of the original sponsors and it is my humble opinion that the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth has to do with the safety or similar factors of the public, and that there is some constitutional question as to the aesthetic value.

Mr. Speaker, I would assume that before it comes to a vote the Majority Leader would look into that point from the point of constitutionality.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly will try to look into it, regarding the constitutionality of Section 1 of House Bill 317.

Mr. BELL. I thank the Speaker and I thank the Majority Leader for a fair statement.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad that the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, raised the constitutional feature as to the intent. I believe that the lawyers who consulted with the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, failed to read the federal act. I will read it in toto.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wants to be very careful that the discussion here is confined within the proper range of the amendments, because if we get debating matters that are relevant when the bill comes up for final passage, we may be here all afternoon.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, then I will merely state one thing, Mr. Speaker. The purpose clause of the legislative findings of this act as now amended, if it is passed, is as follows:

> "It is in the public interest to regulate the use of advertising devices adjacent to the national system of interstate and defense highways for the protection of the scenic beauty bordering on such highways."

That confines the legislative intent to scenic beauty. Now to conform with the national act, the Congressional findings are as follows . . .

The SPEAKER. Is that section affected in any way by the pending amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. No, Mr. Speaker, but I believe in order to get a full view of the subject-matter, with your indulgence, it will be only 30 seconds. I believe the Members would like to hear it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. It reads as follows . . .

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell me what page he is reading, please? I have the act too.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. The first section I read was Section 1 of the Printer's bill No. 755, which states the legislative intent.

Mr. McCANN. What page, Mr. Speaker, please?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Page 2.

Mr. McCANN. Thank you.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is Section 1. Now, if you recall the progress of this bill, Section 1 was amended, I think, about four or five weeks ago.

Here is the Congressional intent and I know that Mr. McCann is sincere in trying to get out a workable and legal bill. It reads as follows:

> "To promote the safety, convenience and enjoyment of public travel and the free flow of interstate commerce and to protect the public investment in the national system of interstate and defense highways, it is declared to be in the public interest to encourage and assist the States to control the use of land, and to improve areas adjacent to the interstate system by controlling the erection and maintenance of outdoor advertising, signs, displays and devices, adjacent to that system."

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very distinctly of the opinion that the questions the gentleman from Allegheny raises will be relevant when the amended bill appears before the House.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I just wanted to call that to your attention. Thank you very much.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, has requested a roll call. I have no objections to a roll call. I ask the membership to vote "aye" in favor of these amendments, and I repeat again, the bill will not be brought to a vote, so Mr. Goldstein may check the bill after it is amended and printed so he may offer his amendments.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, would I be in order if I answered Mr. Goldstein?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the interrogation or the discussion should be confined within the range of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Greene. The gentleman from Philadelphia, when the amended bill appears before the House for consideration, will then be in a position to question the stand taken by the gentleman from Allegheny, if the gentleman from Allegheny maintains that stand. However, if the House so elects, it can give the gentleman from Philadelphia permission to speak at this time, according to his will.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask unanimous consent of the House, at the time, to make a statement? Would that be in order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objections. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, as everyone in this House knows, as always on this type of controversial bill, it has taken many hours of work to build House Bill 317, so, in plain words, everyone may live with it.

In aswer to Mr. Goldstein, Mr. Speaker, these amendments that created 317 into Printer's No. 755, the Highways Committee and I agreed in regard to the search that Mr. Goldstein referred to and I will read what we had agreed upon:

There was no evidence presented to support the legislative findings set forth in House Bill 317, Printer's No. 69, Section 1, as originally drafted. It seemed unwise and unfair to slander a legitimate industry which not only provides jobs but promotes sales, for the basic purpose behind this bill is to obtain federal bonus money in the amount of one-half of one percent as a federal contribution to the construction of the national system of interstate defense highways.

This amendment in no way interferes with that purpose.

Mr. Speaker, I will not take the time of the House to go on further because I believe the proper time will be when this bill is brought up for final passage. Therefore, I ask the Members on both sides of the House to support these amendments.

Mr. BELL. To make a very brief statement. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote yes on these amendments. I do not think that they go far enough but I feel that they are a step in the right direction.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I believe, Mr. Speaker, we are all vitally interested in this billboard bill. Not only for the reasons that have been stated, but also because of the money that is involved. We al want a good and a good workable bill.

Personally I can not see any reason why this morning we should not perhaps adopt these amendments and get them written into the bill so that at our caucus on Monday we can look at the bill the way Mr. McCann has amended it.

Mr. Goldstein has amendments, I think he has a very vital amendment, which goes to the preamble which sets up the area in which they intend to operate in regulating billboards. The Supreme Court of the United States in various billboard cases in upholding the regulation of billboards has set out the area in which you do control billboards and I do not recall that they have ever said that to preserve the aesthetic nature of the surroundings is a legimate exercise of the police power. But as I say I am inclined to vote for the amendments for purposes of seeing the bill in print, then I would like to have Mr. Goldstein give us his amendments to our caucus on Monday and give it to the Democratic caucus and maybe with the bill as amended today, and with the suggestions of Mr. Goldstein to make it a constitutional bill, we may end up before the week is out next week with a bill that we can all vote for.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I withdraw my request for a roll call. As I indicated I think the bill is an improved bill. I will have my opportunity to further improve it when it comes up next week, and I will be satisfied with a voice vote on the motion.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, since we will not have a roll call, and I understood this is the first roll call, I will make whatever motion is necessary for the purposes of a roll.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that we probably will get a more representative response from the membership and a truer record of the status of the House at the present time if we make this the first roll call.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I then request a roll call vote.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. McCANN and POLEN, and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS filed the following reasons for voting against the amendments on House Bill No. 317.

These amendments do not result in a bill which will prohibit billboards on Federal Interstate Highways and will result in attacks on the constitutionality of this bill because paragraphs one of the bill has been destroyed by the removal of the "safety purposes" of the bill and the bill will probably fall if restricted solely to aesthetic purposes.

I believe we need a strong bill complying with the Federal Act and this is not such a bill but rather the emaciated skelton of such a bill.

Pennsylvania will therefore lose $10,000,000.00 of Federal Funds.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 623, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) prescribing penalties for using obscene or offensive language over telephones or repeatedly by telephone annoying molesting or harassing another.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1015, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) prohibiting the use of fire extinguishers containing carbon tetrachloride in school buildings and school buses and providing penalties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on final passage?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. YATRON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion to recommit House Bill 1015.

I feel we have a good, sound piece of legislation and I am opposing its recommittal, because I feel that the most important problem we have to deal with here is the saving of human lives.

In the Reading School District, in which I am a member of the School Board, we have already removed all fire extinguishers from schools and school buses that have carbon tetrachloride in the fire extinguisher. And that was at the request of Mr. Howard Heckman, who is the Berks County building inspector for the Department of Labor and Industry and Mr. Russell C. Clump, who is the Superintendent of Buildings for the Reading School District.

I have before me here a copy of the "Fire Fighter" of September, 1957 which points out case after case why this carbon tetrachloride should be banned, citing how people have died from it time after time.

In the city of Reading we had a fire not too long ago, a few years ago, of an automobile and one of our State troopers—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

The question before the House is on a motion to recommit and it does not go to the merits of the bill.

Mr. YATRON. I apoligize, Mr. Speaker.

I ask that the Members vote against recommitting House Bill 1015.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks and the gentleman from Cameron inform the Chair whether they prefer a voice vote, division or roll call?

Mr. YATRON. A voice vote.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I will settle for a division, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron. Will the gentleman consent to be interrogated?

Mr. YATRON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides the use of fire extinguishers containing a toxic formula. Is there any pertinent definition as to what constitutes a toxic formula?

Mr. YATRON. Mr. Speaker, I did not amend this bill. I believe the amendments came from someone on your side that stipulated "toxic formulae." Originally I had carbon tetrachloride, which I understand, is among the toxic formulae.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to have some definition as to what constitutes a "toxic formula." The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stewart seems to indicate he has some knowledge on it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. STEWART. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I do not have a copy of this bill with the latest Printer's number.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not think a lot of other Members do either.

The SPEAKER. Do the Members generally have a copy of this bill with the latest Printer's number?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Sergeants were distributing the bill and I got the signal that they had completed. Is it not in the book now? The last one in the book.

Mr. STEWART. It is there.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the bill is in the books but not in the binders.

Mr. BELL. I personally have no bills from Printer's No. 821 to 831. And I believe the others in this section do not have those same bills.

The SPEAKER. If the Members do not all have copies of the bill, the bill will be passed over temporarily until those who do not have bills have been able to obtain them.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we do not have to pass this bill over temporarily.

Why does he not have a copy? They must have missed him. It is in the book. I am sorry they did not get them all in the books.

I apologize. They are on their desks.

The SPEAKER. Will the Members who positively do not have copies of the bill, please rise and the Chair will see that they are furnished with copies immediately.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am still in the process of interrogating.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron and apologizes. He thought he was through with his interrogation. The interrogation will proceed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman, Mr. Yatron, has no definition as to what constitutes a toxic formula?

Mr. YATRON. Well, Mr. Speaker, the information that I have received is it is any formula that emits a gas or a fume that will cause serious illness or death. Toxic means poisonous. Carbon tetrachloride is a poisonous gas.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman then indicate to us any fluid that would not be toxic . . .

Mr. TOMPKINS—that would not be poisonous?

Mr. YATRON. CO^3.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And CO^2 is what in our language?

Mr. YATRON. Carbon oxide.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is not that a poisonous gas?

Mr. YATRON. Pardon, sir?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is not that a poisonous gas?

Mr. YATRON. Oh, I do not know. I yield to Dr. Boies. I believe that he, perhaps,—I yield to Dr. Boies.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks yields to the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Boies.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I do not pretend to be an authority in any matter of chemistry, but I am under the impression that CO^1 is the toxic formula and CO^2 is non-toxic.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is that the only element that the gentleman from Allegheny can suggest?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I repeat, I am not an authority on the subject, and I do not feel capable of answering such questions.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, would this refer to a toxic substance that would have to be taken internally or by inhalation or by some contact with the surface, or what?

Mr. BOIES. They tell me it would be by inhalation, Mr. Speaker.

The intent of the bill, as the gentleman well knows, is to avoid these substances which endanger human life. And whether or not he has in mind any other formula, I do not know, but if this bill was intended to eliminate carbon tet, he knows and I know and everybody else knows, that it is a very, very dangerous substance. It has been proved time and time again and as far as asking me to find if I have any other formula, I am absolutely unable to do it. I do know from my personal experience and knowledge that the danger from carbon tet is very great.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, is it the design of this bill to prevent any substances that—or prevent substances only which would be fatal and also substances which might render a person ill but not be fatal?

Mr. BOIES. Well, for that question, Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that he interrogate Mr. Yatron again. I do not know the extent . . .

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, may I question the good doctor from Allegheny again?

Are there substances considered to be toxic which are not fatal but are perhaps sickening?

Mr. BOIES. Oh yes, there certainly are.

But this bill, the original intent is that carbon tet is not only sickening but fatal.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman not think that there should be a little better detail in the bill as to what toxic formulae are intended to be banned by this bill. Would not a toxic formula cover a tremendous field if you really get down into the technicalities of it?

Mr. BOIES. It certainly would, in my opinion, Mr. Speaker. I am sure, as stated by the sponsor of the bill, that the amendments came from the side of the gentleman who is doing the interrogating. And as far as the sponsor of the bill is concerned I am sure he would be happy to put it back into its original form.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, I do not know where the bill originated. I have no knowldege of that, but the bill in its present form does make that provision.

That is all, Mr. Speaker, from the gentleman from Allegheny.

I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron, further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. YATRON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the bill was amended from making it effective, September 1, 1960, the time within which the provisions of the bill have to be carried out, to make it effective immediately.

Now, I would like to ask the gentleman what the purpose of that amendment was.

Mr. YATRON. To save lives, Mr. Speaker.

I do not feel that it would be a very great expense to the school districts to substitute a dry chemical—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. I would ask the gentleman from Berks if he would yield, inasmuch as I was the one who sponsored that amendment and I would be glad to explain the reasons for it.

Would the gentleman from Berks yield?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. YATRON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the Minority Whip's question I would like to say that when the bill first appeared the effective date, I believe, was September 1, 1960.

Now it seemed to me that since this is an amendment to the Penal Code and since it has been declared the policy by this bill that a toxic formula used in fire extinguishers sometimes causes serious illness or fatalities, the mere fact that a school district has a quantity of fire extinguishers with carbon tet or a toxic formula in them should not be a factor. Once we decide that it is dangerous to human life to use such a formula we should make the effective date immediately, regardless of the additional cost that might be imposed upon a school district that has an over-supply of fire extinguishers. That is the reason for the effective date immediately amendment.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what he thinks the cost of this bill would be to the schools of Philadelphia.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the point was raised before as to what it would cost the school district of Philadelphia; I do not know in dollars and cents but I am certainly not interested in what it would cost the school district additionally, because if this endangers life and health of children and adults, I think we ought to make it effective immediately regardless of the cost.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, rise?

Mr. A. M. LEE. To get in the act, Mr. Speaker. I have the answer to the question asked by the gentleman from—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee?

Mr. McCORMACK. I will be glad to, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. But however, I am reminded by the Parliamentarian who is usually correct, that the gentleman from Cameron is in present command of the floor, and can only yield it to the gentleman from Philadelphia temporarily. As soon as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, retires to his seat the command of the floor returns to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, who may or may not yield.

The Chair must say the best fire extinguisher it ever heard about was H_2O, and it has the advantage of being good to drink.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Thompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. We thank the Speaker for that very ample discourse on Parliamentary procedure.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I am reliably informed that it would cost the School District of Philadelphia approximately $2,000 to replace the few carbon tetrachloride extinguishers they now have.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the Majority Leader rise?

Mr. McCANN. Would the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit me to give a little detail on a situation here? It would help to enlighten the subject.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, enlightment is what we are after and I will yield to anyone who can do that.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker if any of the Members of the House have ever gone through one of the fire courses sponsored by industry, such as I have for a great number of years, number one, you know your first carbon tetrachloride fire extinguishers were mainly located in the area in which electrical equipment is located in a building. It used to be used mainly in an electrical fire.

Now most extinguishers in a building today, if they are of the large type, are soda acid compound which are in the building, and simply by turning it over the result in the extinguisher creates a pressure which is used in a fire. This bill does not apply to that.

Secondly, these carbon tetrachloride extinguishers in all fire-fighting organizations and industries, have been removed for quite some time. They have gone to liquid or powder in another field, mainly powder extinguishers which would smother the fire and are forced under air pressure simply by turning over the extinguisher. I think any person here who belongs to any fire company knows that on your fire truck you have the powder extinguishers which you use for automobile fires, gasoline fires, oil fires, and fires of that nature.

Therefore, what are we doing? We are just eliminating this one field. In the field of toxic acid I will not answer what all it may cover, but in the field of fire extinguishers there are only two items in the ten years that I attended from the industry that I worked for, paid to go to the fire schools in Pittsburgh year after year, and there were only two liquids toxic extinguishers in use. One was carbon tetrachloride; the other was a carbon material dealing with the same item which created fumes when placed on a hot metal, and the inhalation of the fumes is what killed the people. Now, in the industry that I worked for for a great number of years, where we had a tremendous number of electrical fires, we, on our own, eliminated carbon tetrachloride, and the industry itself did so because of the insurance costs on injuries and deaths and it was certainly wise to eliminate it. If they did it, then my friends, we certainly ought to eliminate it in the schools of Pennsylvania.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, whether or not soda acid would not be toxic to the eyes, the eyesight?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Tompkins, certainly it would if you were spraying the soda acid extinguisher in the face of a person, but the soda acid material sprayed out of the extinguisher on a fire, even if it were a hot mental, does not create the fume when it hits the hot metal or the fire in which the inhalation of the fumes will cause you an injury. That is the important part of that type of extinguisher, which I think you will find approved in practically every industrial building and many public buildings throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They have to be checked or recharged on a regular inspection.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, would that type of fire extinguisher material then be permissible under this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I say that it is permissible because it is not a toxic formula and, if in anyway it was, I feel confident that it would not fall within the realms of this bill to eliminate those fire extinguishers.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman. Now I am after further enlightment as to certain provisions of this bill and I would like to go back to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron. Maybe he could answer the questions.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cameron desires to further interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron. The gentleman from Cameron will proceed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. On lines 9, 10 and 11 of this bill the language is, "Any person having immediate control over such buildings or buses who permits them to be equipped or to have such fire extinguishers available for use therein or who purchases them is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Are you intending by this that the mere act of purchase itself, whether or not it would be used for that purpose, shall constitute a crime under this bil?

Mr. WATRON. I am not quite sure what you are trying to ask me, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Look at line 11, It says, "For use therein or who purchase them." Now the language of the bill would indicate that the mere act of purchase itself would constitute an offense under this bill. It does not follow through with the appropriate language that the Courts would require, but the phrase for "such use * * *"

Mr. YATRON. Well, they should not purchase it at all. Otherwise, why would they purchase it?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The way it is written in the bill, the mere act of purchase, whether they use them in there or whether they use them for some other purpose, constitutes an offense under this bill.

Mr. YATRON. We are only talking about school buildings and school buses.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The bill does not say that, Mr. Yatron.

Mr. YATRON. It says, "in school buildings or buses"

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then you proceed, on line 10 and 11, to say, "Any person having immediate control over such buildings or buses who permits them to be equipped or to have such fire extinguishers available for use therein,—"You bring" the use therein "under the question of use, but under the question of purchases you don't say "purchase for that use." You merely say "purchase" you make the act of purchase itself a crime under the bill.

Mr. YATRON. That's all it is used for anyhow, Mr. Tompkins. What else would they use it for?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, I don't know but here you are setting up a provision in a bill whereby if a school board goes out and purchases some fire extinguishers with toxic formula, whether they put them in the building or whether they put them in the buses or not, you make the mere act of purchase a crime under this bill.

Mr. YATRON. Mr. Tompkins, may I ask you a question?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes.

Mr. YATRON. Can you give me another reason why anyone would purchase a fire extinguisher other than to put out a fire?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I don't know whether they would or not. The way the bill is written, the mere act of purcase itself constitutes an offense and, furthermore, I would be fully in favor of bringing in the party who sells it. Why would you take the man who sells this stuff off the hook? Your bill doesn't provide any penalties for the man who sells it. It only provides for the man who purchases it.

Mr. YATRON. I yield to Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Tompkins, on page 2, where can you read into the bill anything except fire extinguishers dealing with the toxic formula?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is true but you make an offense of the use in either the buildings or the buses required. Then you proceed and make the purchase of such material a crime but you don't say that it is a purchase for use therein. You make the mere act of purchase, whether they use it for something else or not, a crime under the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Well, Mr. Tompkins, let us put the question this way and see if we can help one another here. Is there some part of this bill that you believe should be amended to accomplish this very purpose, since I dont think anyone can disagree as to the carbon tetrachloride fire extinguishers being a rather harmful item when used in fires?

The SPEAKER. I wonder whether the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, who has been making signs, might possibly desire to be recognized and, if he does, will the Majority Leader yield to the gentleman from Dauphin.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Tompkins has the floor.

The SPEAKER. Yes, the Chair had forgotten. Mr. Tompkins still commands the floor. If the gentleman from Dauphin desires to be heard, will the gentleman from Cameron yield?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall be very happy to, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, preliminarily, I want to say I basically support the idea of this bill. Unfortunately, this bill is sloppily and poorly drafted.

The way the toxic formula is incorporated into this bill means anything containing a toxic formula. Not whether the toxicity arises from the use but merely whether it is a toxic formula.

Secondly, I believe Mr. Tompkins and the Majority Whip are absolutely correct. We are going too far. We are making the purchase of fire extinguishers containing this formula a crime when that is not the purpose of this bill. We want to make it a crime to purchase them for the purpose of putting them in schools, but we do not want to make it a crime if someone wants to purchase them; let them purchase them.

I earnestly request this House to recommit this bill or hold the bill so that appropriate amendments can be drafted to it and we have a decent and proper bill to accomplish the purpose which many of us desire to have accomplished.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps the gentleman from Berks, the gentleman from Dauphin and the gentleman from Cameron will get together and draft something acceptable. The Chair will entertain whatever motion may be made.

For what purpose does the gentleman from Blair rise?

Mr. AUKER. For the purpose of making a brief statement on the bill, I would sincerely request the gentleman from Cameron to yield.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I yield, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. AUKER. I agree with the purpose of the bill, especially after the very able explanation made by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

However, I wondered about the effective date of this bill, and that is what a lot of us are objecting to in the bill.

Suppose this bill becomes effective immediately and all the fire extinguishers employing this formula, this tetrachloride, are immediately removed, and before they can be replaced, and there are going to be a lot of them that will have to be replaced over the state, and suppose they cannot get them replaced immediately and there is no fire extinguisher. Then are you not letting yourself in for a greater danger of having no protection whatsoever?

If the gentleman who sponsors the bill would make an effective date of even September 1, 1960, I think you would get a lot more support for your bill. I do not think that is unreasonable for after all schools are going out of session now and they are not going to be too widely used either in the schools or on school buses, between now and September 1.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the Majority Leader rise?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that the thinking has been as follows: We are now at a certain date in June. The greatest . . .

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron yield?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I always yield to the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCANN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you, Mr. Tompkins.

The thinking was that the majority of schools in Pennsylvania have completed their school for this year. School buses are not in operation at the present time.

The inspection of the school buses occurs during the month of August when the State Police in every area inspect all the school buses prior to the school year, correct? School opens normally late in August or early in September; areas differ as to starting time. This is now into June. If this bill passes the Senate and would become law it would be in proper time immediately for those school buses which stand State Police inspection, when? From the first to the fourth week in August all over Pennsylvania, bar none.

So I think it was most proper as to the timing, making it effective immediately. If you said this law was effective September 1, or did not have an effective date, your school buses would be inspected, then the law would go into effect, and they would have to be inspected again. I think we are trying to do what is right in this situation, and anyone who cannot agree with that thinking must study what would happen if you changed it, unless you wanted to prolong it another full year.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I agree with everything the gentleman from Greene says.

I agree generally with the purposes of the bill and what they are trying to accomplish. What I have been trying to bring out here this morning is that there are certain features of this bill that are very ambiguous, do not constitute the best legislation that I feel this House is capable of producing, and I would therefore ask * * *.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry, rise?

Mr. MERRY. If Mr. Tompkins would yield, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron yield to the gentleman from Crawford?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would appreciate finishing the statement I started, and then I will be very happy to yield.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not yield at this time.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I was about to suggest because of the reasons I have mentioned that between now and next Monday is not too long a time, and it is not going to jeopardize any of the bus inspections by those few days. The Senate could not act on it before that time, we are presupposing in Mr. McCann's presentation that the Senate is going to pass this bill very promptly, and I would suggest that this bill be passed over for today and let us go to work on it and see if we cannot make a good bill out of it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I think the request of Mr. Tompkins is certainly satisfactory. If our position is still the same we can argue the situation, but I believe it will be right to give him the opportunity until Monday and the sponsor, Mr. Yatron, from Berks, certainly concurs.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Now Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Greene tell me what kind of a fire extinguisher could be put into a school bus to be inspected this August, and if 3,000 or 4,000 of them could be made available before school bus inspection time?

Mr. McCANN. I do not think there would be a bit of trouble. No. 1, if you will check with your own fire company and your own fire marshall in your area, you will find powder extinguishers used for vehicles, trucks, gas and oil fires, approved and recommended by all the national fire fighting organizations and all the bureaus of standards. I can not answer for the company that manufactures them, and I am not in any business selling any, but I am sure they have a supply available.

Mr. MERRY. I am particularly pleading for the school children that we haul every year to school. I also have had a great deal of experience with so-called CO 2 fire extinguishers in the shop, airport, and places like that. What happens? Too many people test the CO 2's when you are not looking, and then when you have a fire there is nothing in them. On our mobile equipment such as trucks, airplanes, motor boats and school buses, it seems that the National Fire Underwriters have allowed us to use carbon tetrachloride for a good many years. We are not dealing with an entirely closed room when we raise the hood of a school bus, when the carburetor has backfired and has caught fire under there, a little, quick jerk with pyrene puts the fire out and that is why the fellows who inspect the school buses insist on a pyrene fire extinguisher in them.

Electrical fires under the dashboard have been put out very conveniently with our pyrenes over the last good many years and I do not believe that we want to put on a school bus at the present time a fire extinguisher that is impossible for the driver to tell how much or if any fluid is in it. The CO 2's you have to take to the Post Office or a fine scale in order to know whether it is empty or full, or else you go ahead and blow the valve on it and you waste just that much more.

I am particularly interested in the safety of the school children in the state of Pennsylvania. So help me, I want a fire extinguisher that the bus driver can take out of its hanger, test it, or shake it and know he has a protective fluid in there if that bus catches fire if he is out on the run with the school children. That is why I do not like this.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I would like for you to carefully check again . . .

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey rise?

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make—note of what I have noticed in this debate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would remind the gentleman from Philadelphia that the gentleman from Cameron is still in control of the floor. I think he yielded to the Majority Leader. Now if the Majority Leader will yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia . . .

Mr. HEAVEY. It will only take a second, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey, will proceed.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, these fire extinguishers should not be in the schools, and the Philadelphia Board of Education only has to spend a few thousand dollars to get rid of them, I do not know why they are waiting for a law to be passed by this Assembly to get rid of them.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, rather than take the time of the House, because I certainly can answer Mr. Heavey's question very well, and I can certainly go into the points very carefully, but there has been an agreement here now to pass the bill over, and I would like to have it placed on the Final Passage Postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1697, entitled as follows:

An Act amending the "Legal Holiday Law" approved May 31, 1893 (P. L. 188) providing that certain holidays shall be observed on Monday.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YETTER. Mr. Speaker, for a number of years various groups have advocated the so-called Monday Holiday Plan to shift the observance of some of our holidays to Monday, which would result in three day weekends.

The principal reason advanced for such a change is the fact that the advantages of holidays are limited in such instances where, by chance, the traditional day of observance falls on other than a Monday or Friday. More specifically, the following arguments are presented by the proponents of the Monday Holiday Plan.

First, that a three day weekend would give the working man or woman a longer continuous period for relaxation or travel; two, that the plan is conducive to safer driving because a greater amount of time is available for traveling; three, that the three day weekend results in substantial savings through the elimination of midweek shutdowns in our schools, offices and industrial plants.

Proposals have been made to shift the observance of every legal holiday to Monday. However, strong opposition has been registered to a shift in the observance of holidays which have particular religious or historical significance. For that reason this bill is concerned only with such holidays as are not likely to encounter such resistance.

The only holidays affected in this bill are Lincoln's Birthday, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Flag Day, Columbus Day and Veterans' Day, which six days are pretty well distributed over the entire year.

This bill has strong support from labor and industrial groups all over the Commonwealth. Our neighbor states have been working on like legislation for some time. A similar bill was passed in the New Jersey House in 1957. Other states are waiting for us to take the first step.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the support of all the Members of the House.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose, and to express my personal opposition to this particular bill.

This to my mind constitutes tampering of the same type that was severely criticized, and rightfully so I think, many, many years ago when they talked about moving Thanksgiving Day around. This bill is, to me at least, particularly bad insofar as it extends the holidays so that we have, five or six times a year, a recurrence of the Memorial Day tragedy which is an every year occurrence.

The proponents of this bill would indicate to the House that this would give people time to travel more slowly in their journeys and on their travels. I suggest that with an additional day they would perhaps go somewhat farther, and in an effort to get back to their homes would travel somewhat faster. But my particular opposition to this bill is that here we have an isolated example of one state moving holidays around, which is not joined in by other states or by the federal government.

I think I expressed myself in caucus the other day when we discussed this bill. It would mean, say for example George Washington's Birthday normally fell on Thursday, that on Monday I could buy no liquor and on Thursday I could not get any mail.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill and would like to state my reasons very briefly.

When these particular days numerated in this bill were declared legal holidays in this state, they were done so to commemorate great historical events or to make a permanent and lasting record of indebtedness to those individuals whom we honored. It was not to give the working man a day off, but it was solely to dedicate those particular events.

It seems to me if we change this to provide for a three day holiday or three day weekend that we are getting away from the original purpose behind such holidays. I therefore feel that out of respect to the memory of those great individuals we should preserve as a holiday the particular day on which the event occurred.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the bill, briefly because it is neither logicl nor chronological. I cannot oppose a bill giving the laboring man or the worker, whether a state employe or anyone else, a day off at certain times. For example, there are bills, one that I introduced, where when a holiday falls on a Saturday perhaps you could celebrate it and observe it on a Friday. You have a long weekend at that time. But when you have the holiday falling on a Wednesday or a Thursday, and you say celebrate it on a Monday, I think much confusion can arise. This is not logical or chronological, therefore I say oppose this bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Philadelphia is emerging now again as one of the cultural centers of the United States. One of the phases of this emergence is the Philadelphia Dell, which has become an institution known throughout the United States.

In the Senate, June 22, 1959.

Philadelphia's Robin Hood Dell has brought superb music in one of the world's loveliest settings to some 400,000 music lovers each year.

The Dell has introduced to its audiences many premier conductors, instrumenalists and vocalists, and has sponsored the careers of young talent.

All twenty-one of the outstanding summer music concerts are free-through the "Philadelphia Plan."

Under the "Plan," Philadelphia's City Administration accepted a responsibility to sustain the cultural needs of its constituency, and, together with a private group, the "Friends of the Dell," provides funds annually to present the superlative concert series.

Robin Hood Dell, which has reflected honor on the City of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is commencing its thirtieth year of fine and free concerts; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That we do hereby salute the Robin Hood Dell, proferring our gratitude and appreciation for its heartening cultural contribution.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I also want to second that motion. However, I was handed some information, released by the Governor's Office, which I think might be of interest to the Members of the Senate. The release is dated today and reads as follows:

> "Governor David L. Lawrence today asked the Legislature to take 'prompt action' in passing H. B. 1723, which provides for work to develop road building material from coal.
> "The Governor, in making his request, revealed that Bituminous Coal Research, Inc. of Pittsburgh has advised Highways Secretary Park H. Martin that it is 'actively interested in demonstrating the use of coal by-products for road building,' adding that it is believed that such a development could produce 'significant savings in road building costs.'
> "Under terms of H. B. 1723, $150,000 would be provided to the Coal Research Board 'for research and development of a process for the use of coal for road building material.'
> "The Department of Mines and Mineral Industries has approved this bill and, through the Coal Research Board, is anxious to engage in this work,' Governor Lawrence said. 'In addition, proper safeguards can be employed to protect the Commonwealth's full interests in conducting this research and development work. Under terms of S. B. 617, the Highways Department is authorized to use the material developed in experimental tests to determine its feasibility. In view of these facts, and because I am informed that, contrary to previous reports, this kind of research has not been proved unworkable in the past, it seems to me that the Legislature should take prompt action to implement this project, which could well provide new hope and new markets for the coal industry in Pennsylvania.'"

I thought you should know that the Governor is in support of this program.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 260, entitled:

An Act creating and establishing the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee providing for its membership prescribing its powers functions and duties providing for the appointment of a legislative analyst clerical legal accounting and other personnel and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill and I am going to ask my colleagues to vote for it. However, I think we should be cognizant here of what this legislation can mean and what we are doing. If properly administered, this can be a boon to the Members of the Legislature. If it is improperly administered or handled, it can become a real chain around the necks of the administrative officers and the department heads.

In effect, we are creating a super budget bureau, made up of Legislators. This will, in a sense, give the Members of the Legislature an opportunity to see what is going on or, at least, have some idea about how these figures are arrived at. I think this is good, I think this is educational and I think it will help the Members of the Legislature.

Whoever might be serving in this Legislature, whether it be the present make-up or whether it be other Members who may follow us, we must be ever vigilant to see that this legislation does not become an inquisition or become a board which will constantly annoy the department heads and try to hinder the work they are attempting on behalf of the Administration, regardless of who the Administration might be.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I can agree with the Minority Leader in what he said, but I also want to add to it that this legislation, to my mind, is about fifty years past due. We should always have had some sort of a legislative budget committee to inform the Members of the Legislature, in Session and out of Session, as to the status of expenditures of the moneys which have been appropriated by the General Assembly. This is a step forward. I assure the Minority Leader, and my colleagues in the Senate and in the House, that the intent of this bill is to make more efficient the operations of government through an orderly and constant watch upon the expenditures of the departments, and giving the Legislators the information which they need to intelligently approach fiscal matters.

I am sure that the committee that is set up under this bill will function for the benefit of the Legislature at all times and will not hinder, in any way, the administration of government.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I find myself off the reservation from both of our Leaders, Senator Berger and Senator Weiner, this afternoon, somewhere out in left field. In my brief experience here, as I understand this bill, this is a kind of watchdog legislation because we are becoming annoyed with the deficits which we have each biennium. However, I would ask you to think, perhaps, of the Biblical admonition,—I should have checked this with the gentleman from Berks, Senator Ruth—which goes something like, "First remove the mote within thine own eye."

As I read from the report of the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the month of May, I find that he reports that the actual revenues of the General Fund for this period amounted to $1,412,000,000, or $89,-000,000 less than had been anticipated. This deficit of cash receipts is related principally to failure of sales and corporation taxes to produce revenues originally estimated from these sources. Of course, it seems to me that this is primarily a matter for the Legislative Branch and not primarily a matter for the Executive Branch.

I wish to remind my colleagues of this General Assembly that I also think that this year, for example, we have deficiency appropriations in the Department of Public Instruction for teaching units, for transportation, for handicapped children, despite the fact that two years ago the best estimates of the Department of Public Instruction, in these three categories, were reduced by us, who are the very Members of this General Assembly. It, therefore, seems to me that instead of trying to shift the onus, as I think this bill would do,—and, perhaps, I am wrong —to the Executive Branch of the Government, that most of the onus for the deficits in recent years falls to the fact that we have not taken the advice, generally, of the departments of the Executive Branch, plus the fact that we have been prone to overemphasize or overestimate the income from our tax program.

Bsides, this bill sets up another office, another bureau, or $200,000. As for me, I would rather see the $200,000 in the budget go to some kind of services for children or people in need.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, it appears to me that this bill will be invaluable both to the Executive and to the Legislative Branches. I want to point out, particularly, that this bill, as it came to us from the House, contained the sponsorship of Representative Wood, Representative Johnson, Representative Andrews and Representative McCann. In the Senate, it has likewise received the most complete nonpartisan approval, in so far as discussions concerning the format of the bill are concerned.

The bill is so drawn, Mr. President, that it will never be weighted, one side or the other, by political preferment. It will always provide that there shall be an equal number represented upon this Legislative Budget Committee of Democratic and Republican people.

Consequently, Mr. President, it is the intent of this Legislature to provide a continuing service to the Members of the Legislature in budgetary and fiscal matters. As far as any interference with the Administrative Branch is concerned, there is no intent to do so and I am sure that it will never so develop.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I would favor this bill under the old system, or the system as it exists now. However, this November, the people of Pennsylvania will approve an amendment to the Constitution whereby we will have Annual Sessions. When we have Biennial Sessions, there would be logic behind this bill. When we have Annual Sessions, during the interim it would not be a necessity and it would be illogical.

Furthermore, in my opinion, this measure militates against the basic principles of American government; namely, the separation of the branches of the government. Each one is supreme in its own sphere.

Finally, I have in mind a famous adage of Voltaire, who said that he would rather have an official legislate and Gabriel execute than vice versa.

This may be a good measure, but what would happen if the man in charge would be an official? How are we going to control him from interferring with the various branches of government?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I think this bill is a great step forward toward good government in Pennsylvania. In the past twenty-five years or so, the Executive arm of government has too often attained a supremacy over the Legislative arm of government. I think one of our problems, in the time I have been here, is that we have not had sufficient independent analysis by statisticians, accountants, auditors, research men and whatnot. We have had, in too many cases, to take on faith, estimates of income from taxes, estimates of necessary expenses, and the budget in toto prepared by the Budget Bureau, which is, of course, under the control of the Executive arm of government.

I agree with Mr. Berger that this is not a matter of partisan politics. This could not be demonstrated any better than by the fact that the sponsors are the leaders of both parties in the House of Representatives.

I think that any self-respecting Member of the General Assembly would be for this legislation because it will provide him with more facts and better information, and enable us to make a better judgment in our votes on all legislation in the future.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am inclined to agree very much with Senator McMenamin. I recall years ago that under the leadership of Senator Dent, when we were in the minority here, as far as the Administration was concerned, we battled for legislation of this type. I believe that this legislation is patterned after the fiscal operations of the Federal Government. I believe that the Legislature, itself, is regaining some of its stature and authority by the passage of this type of legislation because we, as Members of the Senate and those who represent the people in the House of Representativs, have the responsibility of raising the taxes. I believe that the Legislature certainly should have some supervision over the operation of the various departments when it comes to fiscal affairs.

I believe this is good legislation, and I am quite optimistic that it is going to be a great help to every Member of this Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, since I am going to vote against this bill, I would like to state briefly my reasons therefor.

First of all, Mr. President, I agree with Senator Stiefel that this bill presents the possibility of a serious inroad upon the separation of powers, which to a large degree is the genius of American government. I do not want the Legislature to take on Executive powers. I believe that our duty is legislative and we should restrict our activities to that.

Secondly, I am opposed to setting up bureaucracy where it is not warranted. I object generally to setting up duplicating agencies. The Legislature now has the Joint State Government Commission, a very efficient, very effective agency, and I do not understand what powers are given in this bill, or what ability to perform a job is given in this bill, which could not be done within the legitimate limits of legislative power by our presently established Joint State Government Commission. I believe that our Joint State Government Commission has, presently, all of the powers necessary to do the job it is desirable to do in this area.

Therefore, it seems to me foolish to inflict upon the people another commission which would duplicate the abilities of a presently functioning agency, and which would be at an additional cost to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I just want to say one word in connection with the remarks of the gentleman who last spoke and also Senator Stiefel.

This is not in any sense an invasion or a violation of our system of government of checks and balances. It seems to me that over the past number of years under both types of Administrations, Republican and Democratic, both the Legislative and the Executive Branches have stressed the checking, and we hope that this bill will at least help us to get into balance.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 351, on third reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "The Vehicle Code" providing for suspension and revocation of operator's licenses and learner's permits by the Secretary of Revenue on a point system based on offenses and violations and providing for appeals from such suspensions and revocations.

be placed on the Third Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 373, entitled:

An Act relating to motion picture films reels or stereoptican views or slides providing a system of listing the first showing of each film reel or view and a system of registration of exhibitors sellers lessors and users of films reels or views disapproval of films reels or views which are obscene or unsuitable for children and of advertising matter used in connection therewith imposing powers and duties upon the Pennsylvania State Board of Motion Picture Control and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting after "a": "35 mm or wider"; Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 5, by inserting after "film"; "and to 16 mm film when it is exhibited in regular theatres or drive-in theatres"; Amend Sec. 14, page 7, line 17, by striking out "by" and inserting: "or for."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendments is to clearly exclude from the bill organizations and activities which, I believe, it was never the intent of the people who drew up the bill to include.

These films that are mentioned here are several different sizes and are probably familiar to most of the Members. However, I will just run through them. They are thirty-five millimeter and larger, and those are the films that are ordinarily shown in commercial movies. The thirty-five millimeter refers to the width of the film. There are also sixteen millimeters which is commonly the size used for smaller machines, and for showing in various types of noncommercial groups and organizations. Then there are smaller films which are mostly in the area of home movies.

The proposed amendments, Mr. President, exclude from the terms of the bill sixteen millimeter films which are not to be shown for commercial purposes; sixteen millimeter and smaller films which are not to be used for commercial purposes. The reason for doing this is to see to it that the groups in our Commonwealth who show films of this sort are not obliged to pay the registration fee, and in the case of new films to give the forty-eight hours notice and to pay the fee for the examination of these films.

I think there is no doubt that nobody had in mind including such films in the bill. There are some who argue that the type of films I am referring to are already excluded. However, the feeling of the industry, of the people who work in this area, is that this is not correct.

It is my opinion, Mr. President, that if the bill remains as is and is passed, the following organizations will be included under the terms of the bill and would be forced to go through the registration and the other regulations I have mentioned without any real purpose. These organizations are such as the following:

Boy and Girl Scouts, prisons, trade association, governments, Chambers of Commerce, service clubs, youth organizations, fire companies, farm and grange organizations, banks and stores, veterans' organizations, health associations, business and industry, civic and community groups. Sixteen Millimeter Film Libraries, homes for the aged and other similar groups.

It will be argued in reply, I am sure, that the bill makes specific exemption of films which are to be used purely for, as the bill says, educational and charitable purposes. However, I am referring to films, Mr. President, which are used for organizations such as I have described and which are used in many cases for entertainment purposes.

Contributing to the desirable use of these films by the groups in the Commonwealth, we have in our Commonwealth and industry which will be, of course, severely affected also. We have in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 171 film libraries which will be affected, and sixty-two of these film libraries will have to operate under the full provisions of this bill. Twenty-seven business firms who are engaged in the business of supplying such audio-visual films, film strips and slides, will also be affected. These firms have a total inventory of more than 30,000 films which are available on a rental basis.

I do not believe it was the purpose to include these people, and I think it is only fair that we should amend the bill to specifically exempt them.

You may hear, in reply, a constitutional argument against these amendments. I have heard them, so I anticipate it by speaking of it now. The argument is that if we made this specific exemption, this would be a violation of the uniformity provision of the Constitution. I do not think this can be taken seriously, Mr. President. First of all, I would point out that there are hundreds of laws which make similar exemptions without violating the Constitution. An example that I can give you is the Sales Tax Law, in which commercial films are subject to tax and noncommercial films are not.

I would also like to point out to you that if that allegation is correct, that such an exemption would make this bill unconstitutional, then, Mr. President, it is already unconstitutional because we have specifically exempted ". . . films commonly known as industrial business institutional, advertising or training films or films concerned exclusively with the advancement of law, medicine and other professions provided that any such film is not exhibited in theatres or in public places of entertainment commonly used as such . . ."

Mr. President, if it is argued that the exemptions we seek under these amendments would make the bill unconstitutional, then I would say that certainly the provision of the present bill which I have read already makes the bill unconstitutional.

My plea, Mr. President, is for the Members to vote for these amendments. I cannot see, in any way, that they will harm the purpose of the bill, and they will make it possible for a Pennsylvania industry to continue to function and to give service. They will make it possible for many organizations in Pennsylvania to continue to have a program based on the use of films, film strips and other audio-visual aids without being harassed by these restrictions which were never meant to apply to them.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, my colleague, Senator Barr, I understand wanted to say something on the subject of constitutionality. However, I am sure he will say what I am about to say, and that is that I understand, by word of mouth only, that the Attorney General today did express the opinion that if these amendments were adopted, the bill would be unconstitutional.

Further, on the amendments, I would like to say that I am certain no one who reads this broad, generic language of the exemptions can reasonably conclude that the Boy Scouts and each of the other organizations which were named by my colleague from York, Senator Seyler, are intended to be included under this bill. It is my belief, and our intention, to exclude each and every one of those organizations.

I cannot understand how the Boy Scouts or the Girl Scouts are involved in the first place, in the reading of this bill. Certainly, they are not concerned with the type of movies that this bill is designed to try to eliminate in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would urge my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I yield to the Majority Leader.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I wish to rise to agree with Senator McMenamin on the interpretation of Section 14, on page 7 of this bill.

It certainly is not the legislative intent nor does the language of the bill justify an interpretation to the effect that any of the groups mentioned by Senator Seyler would be included as being restricted by this bill. We feel that if any industry would be harmed by this bill, we would definitely try to alleviate that. However, we honestly and sincerely feel that the bill, in its present form, would do no violence to any good, legitimate industry operating in Pennsylvania and that the bill definately excludes such people as have been mentioned in this debate.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would also urge my colleagues to vote "no" on the amendments.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I wish to draw to the attention of this Body that the amendments try to make a classification between noncommercial films and commercial films, based upon thirty-five millimeters or more, or thirty-five millimeters or less. The absurdity of the classification is best demonstrated by the fact that most of the outdoor movies and the European films are made on sixteen millimeter widths or less. All the Brigitte Bardot pictures appear on sixteen millimeter widths. To say that because they are only sixteen inches, it makes them uncommercial is surely absurd or, at least, farfetched.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the previous speaker has the advantage of me. I have never seen a Brigitte Bardot movie, and I did not realize that they were on sixteen millimeter films. However, I would say to Senator Mahady that if he will read the amendments, he will find that they only exclude sixteen millimeter films or smaller, if they are not to be used for comercial purposes.

In anticipation of the fact that these amendments may not pass. I would like to interrogate, for the purpose of the record, the Majority Leader, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman has already said this, but I wish to have it specifically in the record as an indication of legislative intent, in the event that the amendments fail and the bill is passed.

Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Berger if, in his opinion, it is not the intent of this Senate to include the list of organizations which I previously read, under the terms of the bill. It is not intended to apply to the selling, leasing, loaning, exhibiting or use of any film or view by or for any of those organizations. Is that correct?

Mr. BERGER. I better find the list because it is quite extensive.

Mr. SEYLER. I will read the list, if you do not have it.

Mr. BERGER. I have the list.

Mr. President, I am sure that the intent of this bill is not to interfere in any wise with any films which would assist in the education, the training or the edification of any of the members of such organizations as were enumerated by Senator Seyler.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am sure that Senator Berger realizes that all of these organizations, at one time or another, use films for the purpose of entertainment or recreation, let us say. Would the gentleman from Potter say that it is not the intent to include such films under the terms of this bill?

Mr. BERGER. I replied, Mr. President, and I repeat, that I am certain that it is the legislative intent not to include any films for education, training or edification of the members of such groups as were enumerated by Senator Seyler.

Furthermore, Mr. President, I want to say that it would be very difficult to differentiate between training, education and entertainment in such programs as are represented by this group of organizations. All of those programs are intended and do go to the training and education of those groups, youth and otherwise.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger. However, I am afraid I cannot consider it a satisfactory answer. I regret to say that I am afraid that the film industry, the industry which supplies this type of film and the organizations which use them, according to the gentleman's answer, will still be included under the terms of the bill whenever they use films which are not for educational, charitable or edification purposes of the members.

For that reason, Mr. President, I am sorry to say that I still believe the amendments are necessary.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I think it is pretty obvious that I would oppose this bill as it stands, unamended, on at least one score. I would like to discuss the bill a little further. I would like to mention to the Members at least some of the areas that I believe they should give consideration to before deciding to vote affirmatively for this bill.

First of all, Mr. President, the question of constitutionality arises in this bill. One aspect of that has already been mentioned, and that is the fact that it—apparently judging from the arguments of the gentlemen who opposed the amendments—violates the uniformity part of the Constitution in its present provisions. Now I realize, Mr. President, that in so far as the reasons why the former censorship law of Pennsylvania was declared unconstitutional there has been an effort on the part of the people who are interested in providing a new bill to try to adopt language which they hope would pass a constitutional test. I think the present status of the bill with regard to these areas is, at best, very doubtful.

I have read a very fine brief by one of the gentlemen, who I understand was largely instrumental in preparing this bill, and the substance of this brief is that they have, wherever possible, attempted to adopt such language which apparently is sanctioned by the court in its decision setting aside the previous law. However, I read another brief which, to my mind, demonstrates that there is a serious question of constitutionality still remaining in the bill. In the first place, Mr. President, the vagueness of the terms is still present. We still have in the bill such words as "obscene," "incites to crime," "prurient of interest" and "unsuitable for children."

These terms, Mr. President, which are very subjective, convey various meanings that one person or another person may assign to them. These are words which would make it very difficult for any censorship board to operate with because of their vagueness, which will also make it very difficult, when the bill ultimately comes before the courts, to make it possible for the courts to rule on the specific corpus of the case before them. For that reason, I believe, Mr. President, this bill is likely to remain unconstitutional because we might ask ourselves, as reasonable persons, just what these words mean.

As we read the works of Dickens, Shakespeare, Joyce, Hemingway, Oliver, Faulkner and other authors which are considered classical, and as we see their words translated into films, we may ask ourselves, "Do these films, which portray the passions of human beings in the highest possible artistic manner, incite to crime? Can they be called obscene?" There is even a question as to whether parts of the Holy Writ, our Bible, may not appear to be of prurient interest to some people whose natures are such that they would find that kind of interest therein, and the question is, Mr. President, shall we set up a Censorship Board which will have the responsibility of deciding questions such as this, questions which are basically subjective questions, but decide them as to you and all the other citizens of this Commonwealth.

Now some people say, "Whether it is constitutional or not, let's vote for it." I wonder if this Legislature should pass bills when there is a question of constitutionality involved. In practical effect, this means that we go ahead and then at some later date, have the court reject such legislation and drop it. In the meanwhile, we will have wasted a lot of money, time and energy in doing something which was very dubious in the first place.

The second consideration I would like to ask the Members to think about before they give an affirmative answer to this bill is, apart from a feeling we have that we protect the morals of others, although, you know, Mr. President, it is a strange thing that we never feel we need this protection ourselves. It is always some other weaker person who needs it. We set up a Censorship Board which presumably is of such fine eclat, and different from the rest of us, that it can afford to look at all these obscene, prurient and unsuitable films and get no reaction while the rest of us do. But apart from such a feeling, that we have a mission to protect the morals of other persons who are weaker than ourselves, do we really need censorship other than to satisfy that feeling?

I have made an attempt, Mr. President, to survey the crime statistics that were available to me, and which I was able to obtain, to see whether, as a matter of fact, since the dropping of the censorship bill in this State and in all the other States as a result of the Supreme Court's decision, there has been a tremendous surge of crime and we have suffered a great deterioration in our morals. I am happy to say, Mr. President, that the figures which I have been able to get do not support such a thesis, and they would indicate that we have not suffered any great loss in morality or any great increase in crime during the period when these laws were invalid.

Let me first of all cite you some figures which I have for the cities of the United States, and these are F.B.I. figures and they are for 1957 and 1958. They indicate that all crime, in the United States cities indicated, increased by three-tenths of one per cent during those years when there were no censorship laws to protect our morals and to protect us from an upsurge of crime. Now this is a small percentage, particularly in view of the fact that the gain in population over the same period is larger than the gain in crime. I have some figures for Pennsylvania for the same period, which were assembled by the State Police, and they indicate—incidentally, these figures cover about one-fifth of the total crime picture in the State. We do not have complete statistics.

I might stop here, Mr. President, to say that in my research I was a bit appalled at the lack of data that is available. With the F.B.I. figures, no adequate breakdown is available so that they could be used to apply to particular States, and the same thing is true to a large degree with our State figures. Ouside of the State Police figures, I was not able to find any central assembly of figures. However, our State Police data for the same period indicates that there was an increase of five-tenths of one per cent over the same period.

As a matter of fact, in the first three months of the year 1958-1959, there was a decrease of 21.4%. They are the latest crime statistics that are available.

Juvenile delinquency is one area which one would think, from the proponents of this bill, would be extremely sensitive to what kind of movies are shown. I find that in the years 1958-1959, according to our State figures, there was an actual decrease of 13.6% in the amount of juvenile crime during the period when we did not have the protection of the Censorship Law and the Censorship Board.

Mr. President, I would not argue from these figures that this proves that we can claim that the absence of censorship improves morals and makes for less crime. At least, however, I would argue that there is apparently no relationship between the lack of censorship and the incidence of crime either in the cities of the United States or in Pennsylvania. For that reason, Mr. President, I think we should hesitate, all other things being equal, to decide whether we need a statute like this. It is a case of weighing possible good and possible need, against possible harm.

As you know, we have in our present Penal Code adequate protection against obscenity, whether it be in films, in writing or in any other form. It is quite possible for local or State authorities to stop the showing of any movie against which there are complaints on the grounds of obscenity or the other reasons cited in this bill.

The Censorship Law, not only in Pennsylvania but in other States, was wiped out by the Supreme Court decision. At the time of the Hallmark Decision, which was the decision which ended our Censorship Law, there were four States which had censorship acts. In the interim, all of these States have depended on criminal statutes dealing with obscenity. Since that time, five States have enacted censorship laws. Those States are Kansas, Florida, Maryland, New York and Virginia. Three of those States, Mr. President, had a higher incidence of crime, in the period when they had censorship laws and we did not, than Pennsylvania. Only two of them had a slightly lower incidence of crime.

What does this censorship bill do? It appoints three people to look at films about which there are complaints and to cut out the parts which they decide are unfit for you to see. What kind of people are they? Are they some special type of persons who have some special powers to difine what is good for you and for me? Are they people who are above the damage to morals that may be caused to you or me? Will it not hurt their morals? All of us like a scapegoat. All of us cherish sometimes, I think to our bosoms, the thought that we will be safe if only somebody will pass a law, if somebody will set up some kind of a shield. I would say, Mr. President, that this is an illusive thing. It is one of those illusions that comfort us, but has no rational basis.

I would like the Members of this Senate to consider a very serious part of this bill, it seems to me, and that is the subject of television. I do not know what this bill does so far as the showing of movies on television is concerned. I have had two different legal opinions. On the face of the bill, I am informed, it would apply, if it were passed, to films shown on television, particularly if they originate in our Commonwealth. I am told, on the other hand, that there are court decisions which would make it not apply to television. In the event that it does apply to television, it is my opinion that this law would be unenforceable. It would certainly be unenforceable on those films which originate in television stations outside of the Commonwealth, or even those which are carried on a network that originates in centers outside of Pennsylvania, and even on those which originate in the State. I believe, also, on the same basis, this law would be unconstitutional as applied to such sources. However, let us make the assumption that the law does not apply to television. If the law does not apply to television, Mr. President, then we are saying, "It is all right to show any movies you want on television, but you cannot show them in theaters."

"If this is true, what are the moral grounds on which such a decision is made? Is someone saying that the same films are less harmful if you see them in your own home than when you see them in a movie theater? Some people will argue that you can get up and turn off the television. Of course, you can, but it is much easier not to get dressed, go out and hunt a parking place, and pay to go into a theater. Therefore, for heaven's sakes, if we are trying to protect people from movies that are going to harm them, let us not let them come into our homes.

A second serious point of view on this matter is the fact that the movie industry, which is no secret, is an industry which is presently a declining industry. Why is it declining? Certainly, one major factor is the fact that television has become a national habit. Mr. President, if we are interested in protecting—at least not discriminating against—one industry as opposed to another, then it seems to me that we should not be anxious to pass a law which, in effect, will place a tax and a disability on one industry, discriminate against one industry, and in favor of another industry.

Therefore, Mr. President, in either case, whether it is argued that this does not apply to television or whether it does, there are serious problems presented by this bill. The problems are enough to warrant opposition.

I said that this bill will cost $70,000 per year to the Commonwealth, although I have heard recently that it was the opinion of the department that would have to work with this board and carry on its activities that $70,000 would not be enough per year. At any rate, not all of this, of course, will be paid by the Commonwealth because some of it will come out of registration fees and the fees for seeing movies. However, these, remember again, are a tax on an industry whose chief rival, television, would be spared that tax.

Why is there so much interest in this bill? One possible suggestion has been made that it would set up a situation which would result in a few more political jobs. I doubt whether this is true. However, it is worth considering. If you have another bureau or commission set up, which will require members of the board, clerical help and other types of assistance, certainly this is one thing which we should consider. We should consider the possibility of sparing the taxpayers another such commission if it does not serve a useful purpose or if it is not needed.

In short, Mr. President, I would ask the Members to consider these reasons. I, personally, am going to vote "no" for the following reasons, just to review them:

First of all, I believe the question of constitutionality is a serious one. I think the vagueness in the bill, the failure of it in at least one respect to meet the court's test of language would probably make the bill unconstitutional.

Secondly, I submit to you, Mr. President, that no case has been made with any dire results being incurred because of lack of censorship during the period when it was invalid and inoperative. I would like to hear, if there are any such facts. I have sought them and I cannot find any. Only five States out of fifty, at the present time, have censorship laws. I have no reason to believe that all these other States are in terrible shape, as far as their morals and crimes are concerned. In fact, as I said earlier, the statistics available to me indicate that this is definitely not true.

I also think that the provisions of our present Penal Code are adequate. They can be enforced. They can stop any movie from being shown, against which there are complaints and until such time as the court has the ability to determine whether the complaints are warranted.

Next, I think censorship is basically an immoral thing. In effect, it is setting up one group of people which has the purpose of making subjective judgments. They must be subjective about works of art, which are offensive to them, but which quite possibly may not be offensive nor injurious to many other people.

Then there is the question of television. I think we should seriously consider whether we want to take sides with one industry and help to drive another industry out of existence.

Finally, Mr. President, I would say that I can realize very easily the feeling that many people have about this. I realize it is a question which is charged with great emotion I have tried to limit my arguments to rational grounds. I realize that all of us come into this world naked, not only physically but psychologically and mentally. We find, in going through life, many obstacles and frustrations. Probably it does us good and bolsters our ego and makes it more possible for us to live if we have the feeling that we, in this respect, are superior to others. It makes us feel superior to be able to determine what other people should do and what is good for them. I respect the institutional desire that many people have to see that there are controls. However, I submit, Mr. President, that by all the evidence, there is no need for this legislation and weighing in balance its possible good effects against the possible evils and the possible cost, this bill is not necessary and should not be passed.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, the hour is late and if I may be very brief, I would like to say just a few remarks in favor of this bill, and if I can, at least in part, answer the arguments expressed so eloquently by Senator Seyler.

First of all, on the constitutionally of the bill. Mr. President, I am informed that the Attorney General of Pennsylvania believes that the bill is constitutional. Today I received a telegram from a professor of Constitutional Law, William B. Ball, at the Law School of Villanova University, as I think other Members have, expressing that the bill, in his opinion is constitutional.

Mr. President, there is some objection made as to the vagueness of the wording. Mr. President, we could discuss philosophy of law and semantics from now until midnight and perhaps not change anyone's mind on their preconceived ideas as of this moment.

Let me say that it is difficult to write any law and to use words in it that mean the same thing to every citizen, every one of the 11,000,000 citizens in Pennsylvania. We, as Legislators, know that perhaps as well as any group of people in the Commonwealth.

I would also like to point out that most of our litigation in the courts today involves automobiles accidents. More than fifty per cent of the cases being tried at any one time in Pennsylvania involve claims for damages arising out of auto accidents. Those claims are based on the legal theory of negligence. What is negligence? This is probably the most vague phrase, as defined in Pennsylvania, as could ever be found anywhere. Negligence in Pennsylvania is defined as, one is negligent when he fails to do something he should have done or did something he should not have done What, Mr. President, just baldly or by itself, could be more vague than that phrase? Of course, negligence is related in some cases to frameworks of exact statutes, such as the Motor Vehicle Code and so on.

Of course, obscenity and other words in this bill are related to other standard and absolute values. However, this is the way most laws have to be written, with words to start with.

We certainly frankly say also that this bill does not apply to television films. By specific judicial decree and law, television film is under the exclusive control of the Federal Communications Commission.

Without going into any lengthy discussion of the philosophy of this present Supreme Court of the United States, suffice it to say that not only in the field of censorship, but in other fields of State legislative activity in recent years, they have said that the States cannot legislate. One case which comes to my mind immediately is the case of the Communist leader in western Pennsylvania, where the Supreme Court freed the conviction of this Communist leader and declared at that time our Pennsylvania Sedition Law unconstitutional Within the past month, our United States Supreme Court has indicated it may be changing its mind somewhat in the field of sedition.

However, to say that the censorship laws of all the States have been declared unconstitutional for one reason or another is certainly not to say that we, as Legislators, cannot try to write an act that will meet the standards set down by the United States Supreme Court. That is certainly one of the things that has been done here. It is not, to my mind, a worthy argument to use against the bill; that a bill has never been written to meet the decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

One of the chief problems that caused, in the view of this Court, many State acts to be invalid was precensorship. This bill eliminates any attempt at precensoring a movie.

As Legislators, I suppose that our duties—at least a portion of our thoughts—should be directed toward enacting into law, rules and regulations that the people of this Commonwealth by their own thoughts, convictions and the customs of the society in which they live want enacted into law.

I cannot remember any bill that has brought so much correspondence to my mailbox here. I think that I can say safely that I have received more correspondence in favor of this bill, or on this bill, than on all of the other pieces of legislation put together that I have considered or have had letters on in the past nine years.

It is also well to consider, if the philosphy of law is raised, that what might be considered a crime in Pennsylvania or in the United States is not necessarily a crime in another country. Other countries and other societies have laws making certain acts crimes which we do not consider crimes in this country. This is not an argument against this bill.

I think one of the most vicious arguments I can ever hear on legislation in this Assembly is that we should not do this because Kansas or Arizona or Montana or some other state does not have it, and five minutes or a later we hear the same argument in reverse; that we should pass this bill because this is exactly the bill they have in Massachusetts or New Hampshire. I think that we, as Pennsylvanias, should be able to decide for ourselves without, of course, forgetting the need for uniformity in commercial transactions and matters of that sort. Certainly we, as Pennsylvania Legislators, can stand on our own decisions as to whether or not legislation is good or bad for Pennsylvania.

Mr. Seyler did list several States that have re-enacted censorship acts. I think there is a great deal of legislation in state legislatures all over the nation, endeavoring to write bills such as this that will provide some minimum censorship.

The need for this censorship is shown by the letters we have received from all kinds of groups and organizations in Pennsylvania. I had no idea when I became a sponsor of this measure this year that there was such an apparent widespread need for this legislation. The response has been tremendous.

A great deal has been said and heard in recent years about juvenile delinquency and crime and its association with movies. Many people, who are more expert on the subject than I, seem to feel that there is a connection. Let me read, on the question of the criminal aspect of it, a statement or a portion of a statement by J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, dated May 1, 1958. This is a release captioned, "To All Law Enforcement Officials in the United States." He says, if I may just read the first paragraph:

> "As a law enforcement officer and as an American citizen, I feel dutybound to speak out against a dangerous trend which is manifesting itself in the field of film and television entertainment. In the face of the Nation's terrifying juvenile crime wave, we are threatened with a flood of movies and television presentations which flaunt indecency and applaud lawlessness. Not since the days when thousands filed past the bier of the infamous John Dillinger and made his home a virtual shrine have we witnessed such a brazen affront to our national conscience.
> "As an illustration, two brothers, aged 10 and 12, who a few weeks ago terrorized a town in Oklahoma in a shooting spree that left one man dead and two others wounded, told the police they got the idea from watching television and movie crime stories."

Mr. Hoover goes on with other examples, and says this further: "I deplore censorship . . ." I think all of us can agree with the statements of Senator Seyler in this respect, and the difficulty in one man deciding what is or is not proper. However, let me quote again from Mr. Hoover:

> "I deplore censorship—and certainly law enforcement officials have no right to dictate what should or should not be shown on the rectangular screens. They do have, however, the obligation to insist on the observance of the moral law which binds men in all matters. They also have the right to speak out when law enforcement is held up to ridicule," and so on.

Mr. President, let me read briefly from a review of a motion picture which appeared not too long ago in Philadelphia. This review is apparently by the movie critic of the Philadelphia Inquirer, a Mildred Martin, who goes on to describe the horror film that was being shown. "The Horrors of the Black Museum," I guess is the name of the picture at a movie house in Philadelphia. I do not know that any movie critic has ever been considered a pollyanna, and, therefore, I am sure that if she were shocked by it, reasonable citizens certainly have a right to be concerned. She starts by saying:

> "Something frightful is going on at the Fox, in CinemaScope, Eastman Color and decked with a visual gadget called 'Hypnovista'!"

She describes the motion picture in very unlaudatory terms and concludes with this phrase:

> "WARNING: However fond your children may be of screen horror, don't let them see this one."

This from a movie critic.

This is a letter from a doctor in Philadelphia, who says in part:

> "Senator, whether we like it or not, we adults of this generation face a great responsibility—TO YOUTH. Our children should be protected against this mental poison by every legitimate and democratic means . . ."

A letter from the Corresponding Secretary of The Child Study Club in Ridley Park, Pennsylvania, reads:

> "Dear Senator McMenamin:
> "Our Organization is vastly interested in anything that affects our children. We feel that the motion pictures definitely should be censored and obscenity abolished as completely as possible."

From the District Attorney's Office in Philadelphia, the Chief County Detective, who writes as Chairman of the Public Relations Committee of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Police Chiefs' Association in regard to Senate Bill No. 373, states:

> "It is time something of this nature was done.
> "I want you to know that I am wholeheartedly behind your efforts in having this much needed bill put through."

I further received a letter from the Philadelphia Citizen's Committee Against Obscenity, in which they also express support for the bill.

Listen to a letter from a Mrs. Emrick, Director of The Lutheran Settlement House in Philadelphia:

> "We are grateful for your courageous stand and constant fight to eliminate the traffic in smut and obscene literature.
> "We assure you of our sincere support" and hope for early final action on Senate Bill No. 373.

Similarly, in a letter from Mrs. Bernard E. Willard, Chairman of the Elk County Federation of Womens Clubs:

> "May I congratulate you and the other gentlemen working" to secure the passage of Senate Bill No. 373.
> "There has been a growing concern among club women in Elk and Cameron Counties, and many others also, about the quality of motion pictures and their advertising matter . . .
> "Through the courtesy of Senator George B. Stevenson I received two copies of Bill No. 373. At a dinner meeting of members of the Elk County Federation of Womens Clubs, at which members of the Cameron County Federation were guests, we discussed the Act you have introduced and the enclosed resolution was unanimously adopted . . .
> "May we hope that the Bill will be reported out of committee at an early date and that the necessary support will be forthcoming from your colleagues to vote it into law."

And so on, Mr. President; letters, telegrams, petitions from womens groups, church organizations, parent-teacher associations and citizens from all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who realize that it is high time that some effort be made to write into the law of Pennsylvania an act which will try to eliminate the extreme obscenity and vulgarity that has been appearing too often in motion picture films recently.

I urge the Members of the Senate to give an affirmative vote for this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am going to take one more moment here to speak on Senate Bill No. 373, now that it has passed. Many here voted for it.

It is a pity that we have a matter of this type and of this nature, where you are dealing with free speech as one of the elements thereof. It is one of the things certainly worthy of some real consideration, because the people who preceded us in this Country went into this matter very thoroughly and, in their infinite wisdom, amended the Constitution to take care of this particular type of problem, and the courts have so held.

One of the things I would like to point out for the Members of this Body, without taking unduly of their time, is the cause and effect of what this legislation will do. I think that all of us will agree that juvenile delinquency is not caused by movies, comic books or any other type of situation. I think the general authorities have held, and also people who deal in psychiatry, that youngsters who go wrong or get into any difficulty do so because they come from a disturbed home atmosphere, and that the people in that home are not meeting their responsibilities. Thus, a youngster is cast out into the world and causes some difficulty, some problem, and society causes itself to look around and find out what is the reason for this particular difficulty. Therefore, we pick on the movies, we pick on the comic books, we pick on many, many other factors, none of which is the real and basic factor that got this youngster into the difficulty to begin with.

I think that any anti-social behavior of youngsters that occurs in our communities is the result of not the movies, but is a direct result of a lack of direction by the parents, by the people directly responsible for raising that human being.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 53 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from page 18 of today's Calendar, House Concurrent Resolution No. 53, Printer's No. 761.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

BUSINESS, INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE, ITS EFFECT UPON THE BUSINESS CLIMATE

In the House of Representatives, April 7, 1959.

Whereas, Good business climate is hereby defined as follows:

1. Fair and equitable treatment in legislation and administrative regulation for all segments of Pennsylvania's economy.

2. A framework of government, the support of which adds no greater cost to doing business than the cost of government imposed by other industrial states.

3. Equitable tax policies, and restriction of the cost of government to reasonable levels.

4. Fair treatment for all in legislation and administration of labor-management relations affairs.

5. Fostering, in the public interest, an economic atmosphere which will enable Pennsylvania's agriculture and industry to compete for out-of-state markets, remembering that wide marketing of Pennsylvania products brings wealth into the State, thereby raising the standard of living of all of our people; and

Whereas, For reasons hereinafter set forth, it will be critically important for Pennsylvania to create and maintain a good business climate; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania's population is increasing at the rate of about 60,000 persons per year; and

Whereas, The capital investment necessary to provide jobs for the expected 20,000 new workers each year will be in excess of three hundred million dollars ($300,00,000) annually; and

Whereas, Industry and agriculture are the prime movers of the rest of the business economy; and

Whereas, Healthy industry broadens the tax base, thereby providing much-needed revenues for community facilities and government services for all our people; and

Whereas, In this era of rapid industrial expansion and relocation throughout the United States, industries, selecting locations, are vitally concerned about the comparative business climates among the states; and

Whereas, A good business climate attracts needed industrial payrolls, while a bad business climate tends to deter new payrolls from coming to a state and to drive established payrolls away; now therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania henceforth shall examine all proposed legislation relating to business, industry and agriculture in terms of its effect upon the business climate of the State, and shall determine whether such legislation may have any future discriminating or deterring effect upon the investment of capital and the creation of needed payrolls in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly hereby request the Governor, and the head of each department, board and commission in the State government to examine their own discretionary actions and orders in any way relating to business, industry and agriculture in terms of the effect of such governmental action upon the business climate in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives and Secretary of the Senate are hereby directed to transmit suitable copies of this resolution to the Governor, and to the head of each department, board and commission in the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 53

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 27 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from page 18 of today's Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 27.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE RATE-MAKING POLICY AND THE PROPOSED EXPENDITURES OF THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY SANITARY AUTHORITY

In the Senate, May 4, 1959.

When completed and in operation, the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority will provide a large part of the sewage service in Allegheny County.

It has been claimed that work on this Authority is progressing slowly in an inefficient and careless manner with the resulting excessive expenditures and waste.

The charge has been made that organized groups of Allegheny County citizens, who will be affected by this new service, have received discourteous and arrogant treatment from personnel of the Authority. These citizens have been given no indication of the purpose for which undetermined sums of money have been spent nor is there any indication of the amounts to be spent in the future. Certain communities in the Allegheny Valley have complained that the proposed rates are unjust, unfair and expensive, and that the Authority has acted in a discriminatory manner as to the rates for these communities.

If any of these allegations are true, it is the duty of the Senate to take swift remedial action to prevent continued abuse of the extraordinary powers entrusted to the Authority, curb unnecessary spending, supply property owners with necessary information that would allow them to be fully prepared for the added expense entailed in joining the new system and prevent unjust rates from being imposed on the citizens of Allegheny County; therefore be it Resolved, that the President pro Tempore of the Senate appoint five members of the Senate who shall constitute a committee to investigate the rate-making policy and the past and proposed expenditures of the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority; and be it further Resolved, that the committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before them. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce books, papers, records or documents shall shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further Resolved, that the committee make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Senate at the earliest possible date before the adjournment of this Session of the General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 27, ADOPTED

Mr. KOPRIVER, Jr. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the motion,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Kopriver.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kopriver, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, Jr. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Kopriver, have you complied with the order of the Sanitary Water Board to have your plans in their office no later than the fifteenth of this month?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. As far as I know, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. If you are the mayor of the city, how can you say, "as far as you know"? I mean, do you know or do you not know?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Senator Barr, I reluctantly appointed an authority over a year ago. It is in their hands.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this is going to take some time. I hate to do it, but it is so necessary.

I think that the gentleman is in the wrong place with his resolution. He should have it in the Courts of Allegheny County because the Senate has nothing to do with investigating a sanitary authority. If he would read the Act under which it was established, he would know that there is where any questions are to be taken.

I am reluctant to say this, but I am convinced, in my own mind, that the gentleman, the Mayor of the City of Duquesne, is trying to hide behind the fact that he has done nothing to comply with the law of the State, which was an amendment to the La Rue Act of 1937 during the Administration of James Henderson Duff. The operation of the Sanitary Water Authority in my opinion will stand up under the closest scrutiny. I am not concerned at all about that part, because every cent of expenditure that is made by the Sanitary Authority has to be approved by the Mellon National Bank, the trustees under the trust indenture.

Our system is already in partial operation in Allegheny County. I think about ninety-seven municipalities have joined it. It was put into operation just about three years after the beginning of construction. At the time, it was widely announced that that was their target date and I think this is one of the few times that a thing like this was completed on time.

It does not require much explanation to point out that any investigation of a $100,000,000 project would consume several months. It would take place just at a time when we are trying to tie all the loose ends together to finally complete the construction undertaken by the Sanitary Authority. So that you will know, for the benefit of the Members of the Senate, $85,000,000 worth of these bonds have been sold and we have plans for $15,000,000 more to be sold.

During such investigation, of course, the time of our key personnel—I am talking about the Authority now—would no doubt be totally consumed by collecting and testifying on the data which would be required by any Senatorial Committee This is why such an investigation would cripple the operation of the Authority and would serve no useful purpose.

As I say again, I am not trying to stop an investigation, but the gentleman is in the wrong place with his request. He should have it in the Courts of Allegheny County.

I do not know whether the Republican Caucus has taken any action on this or not, but I do not intend to ask that question. I can find that out when the vote is taken. I do know this. I think some of the members over there are reluctant to probably vote against one of their fellow Senators, but that is their prerogative and none of my business.

I would like to give you a brief history of Duquesne's refusal to accept service from the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority. Number one is the original county-wide program. In addition to many letters written by the Sanitary Authority to the City of Duquesne, of which Mr. Kopriver is Mayor, prior to March 9, 1949, a long letter of that date was sent to Mayor Kopriver and Councilmen Kowalis, Babic, Pial and Bires. After reviewing the previous history of the Sanitary Authority's activities, the letter contained this statement:

> "We appeal to you to avoid further delay in the execution of the contract form which you have had in your possession since December 3, 1948."

On April 6, 1949, four copies of the revised final form of agreement were sent to Louis C. Burstin, Esquire, who was the Solicitor for the City of Duquesne, requesting execution. The City took no action and sent no answer to the Authority. Since that time, the county-wide program has been turned down by the City of Duquesne, and ninety-seven boroughs and townships have joined with the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority in our county.

Question two is Project Z, the present completed sewerage system. The Sanitary Authority wrote the Mayor and Members of Council of the City of Duquesne under date of July 29, 1949, by registered mail, advertising them that the City of Pittsburgh was tired waiting for the other municipalities to sign a long-term agreement with the Sanitary Authority for the county-wide program and, therefore, had decided to have the Authority prepare a plan for serving the City of Pittsburgh and such other municipalities as could be tied in to the project without increasing the cost to the City of Pittsburgh.

The Sanitary Authority suggested, in the letter to Mayor Kopriver and the Councilmen, that it would be glad to prepare a separate plan to serve the City of Duquesne and adjacent municipalities. No reply was received to this letter, but on March 18, 1950, the Authority received a copy of a letter signed by R. B. Dell, —D-e-l-l—City Engineer for Duquesne, advising the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that they had employed consulting engineers to prepare a preliminary report for a separate project for the City of Duquesne and a portion of West Mifflin Borough.

As late as April 6, 1954, the Sanitary Authority wrote a letter to Mayor Kopriver advising that it had completed its plans for Project Z, and that they had been sent to the State Sanitary Water Board for approval. In this letter the Authority said, and I quote:

> "If you are to be served by the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority it would require only a river crossing to Duquesne to connect with our Braddock tunnel intercepting sewer. We are accordingly repeating our invitation to you to join the Sanitary Authority while it is still possible. . . . Please understand that once construction has begun after completion of the plans, last minute changes cannot be made. We now are urging you to give this matter your immediate consideration."

Under date of July 21, 1954, the City Clerk of the City of Duquesne wrote the Sanitary Authority, and I quote from his letter:

> "However, one of the main obstacles to joining with your system is the fact that we have become obligated to the Federal Government which has advanced to us the sum of $34,000.00 without interest, for a portion of the cost of preparation of construction plans for our proposed sewer system and plant.
> "In the event we should decide to join with the Authority will you please advise us whether this obligation will be assumed by the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority."

The Authority advised Mayor Kopriver, by a letter dated July 26, 1954, that it could not assume such obligations as the Mayor requested.

Finally, under date of August 28, 1954, the City Clerk of the City of Duquesne advised the Sanitary Authority:

> "With reference to your letter of July 26, 1954 on the subject of the City of Duquesne's joining the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority sewage disposal program, please be advised that after serious consideration, City Council has decided to proceed with the construction of its own plant."

This is 1954. This letter in its entirety is as follows:

> City of Duquesne
> Frank Kopriver, Jr., Mayor
> Duquesne, Pennsylvania
> August 18, 1954
> "Allegheny County Sanitary Authority
> Mr. J. F. Laboon, Chairman
> 502 City County Building
> Pittsburgh, Pa.
> "Dear Sir:
> "With reference to your letter of July 26, 1954, on the subject of the City of Duquesne joining in the Allegheny County sewage disposal program, please be advised that after serious consideration, City Council has decided to proceed with the construction of its own plant.
> "Among other reasons for not joining with your Authority, is the uncertainity as to the exact charge to the City of Duquesne of the cost of construction and interest rates and the hazard incident to centralization of such tremendous project.
> "We thank you for your past courtesies and cooperation.
> "Yours very truly,"
> /s/ "Chas. E. Dorman
> "City Clerk"

As a consequence of their refusal to join the Sanitary Authority, the City of Duquesne was not included in the Project Z construction program.

Now what I am about to say I think is very important for every Member of the Senate on both sides to hear, and I think this is what lies behind this resolution. I do not think the Senate is the place to bring the things that you did not do in your town, and for which you suffer.

According to information as of July 1958, estimates made by the consulting engineers for the City of Dequesne indicated that the average cost to the householder for services to be supplied by the City's own system of sewerage will be forty-four dollars per year in contrast to the Sanitary Authority's charge of eighteen dollars per year for the same service.

The City of Duquesne has done nothing about building its own sewerage plant except for some plans. The State has set a dead line of June 15, 1959 for Dequesne to start construction, but you know this is not happening.

Senator Kopriver, is it true that if you would have joined the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority, the charge per year for the same service that we would be giving for eighteen dollars will now be costing the people of Duquesne forty-four dollars?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, is he still interrogating me? He made such a long statement.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the gentleman now permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator is willing to be interrogated.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Ask the question again, will you please, Senator Barr?

The PRESIDENT. He lost track of the question.

Mr. BARR. Is it not true that if you proceed now with your plans, the cost to each person in the City of Duquesne will be forty-four dollars per year, but if you had joined the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority for the same services, the charge would have been only eighteen dollars per year?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I do not think that is true. I do not want to get into a long discourse and bring in the record because that is unnecessary. Senator Barr, I am the Mayor of Duquesne. That is true. I was there; were you? I am the Mayor of Duquesne. Do not forget, Senator Barr, that certain cities and communities in the Commonwealth were given a chance to receive Federal money and State money toward the first sanitary plans for Allegheny County or any other county.

Duquesne gave up its share of moneys to the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority and, after quite some study, we were told that we were out of bounds and they would not be able to take care of Dusquesne. Then we got our own engineers to take care of our own problem. That went for McKeesport, as well as Clairton and surrounding towns. We had to hire engineers. We hired engineers from Harrisburg, Gannett, Fleming, Corddry and Carpenter, Inc., to make such a survey. By the time the survey was finished, Mr. Laboon came.

Mr. President, I did not mean to not address the Chair, but I want to explain to Senator Barr just what went on. At the time Mr. Laboon came to our Council and said that we could then join the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority, I said to him, "What about the $40,000 we owe now for the plans?" He replied "I do not care what you do with those. It is up to you. You can amortize it over forty years, if you have to." If we have to pay $40,000 for a set of plans, we might as well have our own sanitary authority.

If you remember, in 1955, I introduced a bill in this Senate, which was passed and signed by the Governor, to make bonded revenue bonds legal. It was not until just about two months ago, in the case of Ephrata, that those bonds became legal. There is some question today but, nevertheless, it is now law. That is what we were waiting on, to do it ourselves without an authority. I have always been opposed to an authority, Senator Barr. I must say this to you. It is my word against Mr. Laboon's word. I have nothing to say about Mr. Laboon. He is supposed to be a good engineer. I am not questioning that. I suppose the future will tell whether he is a good engineer or not, with a $100,000,000 affair in Allegheny County.

Do not forget. If I had $100,000,000 in bonds, I would make sure it was run right. Do not forget this,—because you were here before I was a Member of the Senate—that the State contributed toward the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority, $499,633.75 and the Federal Government, $87,800.

If we have the right to create authorities by law in Pennsylvania, there is nothing which says that we cannot investigate them. I do not know if it is the largest authority in Pennsylvania, but it is one of the largest, involving $100,000,000, I understand. All I am trying to do is to find out in the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority, why the people on the outside of Pittsburgh pay more than the people in Pittsburgh.

Remember, Senator Barr, you live in Pittsburgh, and I know that, and I live on the outside of Pittsburgh but in the county. I come from one of the largest districts in Allegheny County, and you know that. I am only trying to find out why. I do not know why you or anyone else would question, if as you say everything is in order, an investigation at this time. That is all we are asking for. If there is a secret deal for Pittsburgh to take care of their rates and make the rest of the county pay, that is what we are going to try and find out. That is all it is. I am not trying to embarrass Laboon. All he has been trying to do is embarrass me. I have got broad shoulders. It does not worry me a bit.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not know about the differences between Senator Kopriver and this gentleman he is talking about who, I understand, is the Executive Director and Chief Engineer. All I know is that I do have copies of the letters that were sent by Senator Kopriver and by his Borough Solicitor and Borough Engineer, plus the letters which were sent back and forth from the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority. However, the point I am trying to make is that you had from 1949 until 1954 to join the Sanitary Authority. Now, because you did not join it, it is going to cost the people of Duquesne forty-four dollars per year instead of eighteen dollars per year.

As far as the rates are concerned, I am not the man who sets the rates, but if you have any trouble with the rates, you have the opportunity of redress in the Court of Comon Pleas, and we all know that. People have invested $85,000,000 in bonds and I think the Senate of Pennsylvania owes something to those people, rather than one man who is the Mayor of a small city in a large county. I do not blame him; I blame his City Council. I believe the Council has been derelict in its duty by not obeying the law. The law was not a Democratic law. It was the thing which Jim Duff rode into the United States Senate on; namely, the amendment to the LaRue Act of 1937. Here Senator Kopriver is, as a Republican Senator and a Republican Mayor, and he and his City Council are not doing their duty. Senator Kopriver is coming to the Senate of Pensylvania to wash his dirty linens. I think he is doing it with poor taste.

I am going to vote against this resolution. However, if you gentlemen want to pass it, that is all right with me, but you will get nowhere. The only place you can go with your investigation is to the Court of Common Pleas. There are a few good attorneys sitting over there and you can ask them whether this is not true.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I hesitate to disagree with any piece of legislation or resolution which my good colleague from Allegheny County, Senator Kopriver, might introduce. However, I find myself in opposition to this resolution, posibly in a little different vein than that which Senator Barr opposed it.

I do not feel that the Senate of Pennsylvania has any right to enter into this type of investigation. Certainly, it would appear to me that if there is something wrong with the Sanitary Authority, and it is possible that there is, or if there is something wrong with the way it is operating, or if there is something wrong with the way the Executive Director of that Authority handles the office in meeting with the officials of the various municipalities in Allegheny County, then, the first recourse, in my opinion, would be to the members of that Sanitary Authority in Allegheny County. Very, very reputable gentlemen compose that body. If anyone is not satisfied with the way the Authority members are acting, then I would suggest that they go to the appointing power, the County Commissioners of Allegheny County, and object to them regarding the actions of the Authority which they have appointed.

Thirdly, if there is something wrong with the rates that have been established or if there is something wrong with the treatment that any city, borough or township in Allegheny County is being accorded by the rates that are set up and given to them by the Executive Director or by any portion of the Authority, I would say that their redress then would be in a Court of Equity, in Allegheny County, where it could be completely adjudicated. If the rates are wrong, the court then would surely order them to be rectified.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I am afraid that we will start a precedent here in the Senate of Pennsylvania, if we embark on this type of investigation, that we may live to regret. In my opinion, we certainly have no right to make this type of an investigation. Were it something that we had directly appointed, then we would have the right to investigate. However, in this particular field, it is my opinion that we have no right to go into it. I feel, if we pass this resolution, we would establish a precedent that in future years may live to haunt the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, within the last month, I believe the District Attorney in Beaver County condemned the law because of the suggestion of having the Courts of Common Pleas pass upon the rates of these various authorities in the Commonwealth. There is no machinery in the Courts of Common Pleas to do this. We have a right to create an authority and we have a right to investigate. I have spoken to judges and lawyers and they all agree that we have a right to investigate, once the General Assembly sets it up.

Mr. President, I would ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not want to get my oar into this because it is an Allegheny County problem. However, I do not believe that Senator Kopriver has answered the one question I think which Senator Barr asked him namely, the question in regard to why he did not file his petition in the courts of Allegheny County. Senator Fleming hit the nail on the head when he stated if we commence investigating Authorities here in the Senate of Pennsylvania and if this resolution is adopted, then we certainly are establishing a precedent. We will be here until this time next year, investigating Authorities and other operations of local government.

Mr. President, I believe that this resolution should not be brought before this Senate. After reading the resolution, I also believe that it is terribly vague. I do not know the details nor anything about the rates. However, it is specifically written into the law that the courts in the counties wherein the Authorities are located have the power to do the regulating. Therefore, in this resolution, there is a question as to whether or not we, in the Senate of Pennsylvania, shall investigate the rates charged by that authority. If the courts of Allegheny County do not have the machinery to investigate the rates there, how in the world do you expect the Senate of Pennsylvania to have the machinery? The Public Utilities Commission has no jurisdiction. I am quite sure that the Senate of Pensylvania does not have the machinery to investigate rates in Allegheny County or any other county.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. McCORMACK.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 87.

In the House of Representatives, June 17, 1959.

Whereas, during a recent hearing before the U. S. Senate Rackets Committee, testimony was produced by an investigator for the committee that one John LaRocca was granted a pardon by Governor John Fine on December 27, 1954 and

Whereas, it was further disclosed that the said pardon was backdated to May, 1954, and as a consequence of this latter action the said John LaRocca, against whom deportation proceeding had been pending at that time, was able to avoid deportation and

Whereas, the inference drawn from said testimony was that Governor Fine acted in an irregular manner in backdating said pardon, and

Whereas, Governor Fine should be given the opportunity of refuting said unfavorable inference and informing the citizens of this Commonwealth as to the reasons for his conduct in this case, therefore be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House and the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate, who together shall constitute a joint committee, and be authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of the action of the Board of Pardons and Governor Fine in connection with the pardon of John LaRocca. The committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the committee to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed sixty days.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. SCHAAF, POLASKI, CURWOOD, O'DELL, BRETH, WILLARD, Mrs. DONAHUE and Mr. PRENDERGAST. RESOLUTION No. 88.

In the House of Representatives, June 17, 1959.

The Great Lakes have long served these United States as arteries of commerce, havens for recreation, and sources of food.

Shrewd bargaining and blessed foresight caused Pennsylvania statesmen to secure the Erie Triangle more than one hundred fifty years ago, thus giving this Commonwealth access to and a port on the Great Lakes.

Through the years, the port of Erie has been a great center of commercial fishing. The wall-eye, yellow and blue pike are recognized as delicacies throughout the eastern United States. To an even greater extent, the famed Lake Erie Whitefish is known and sought after throughout the world.

As late as 1950, more than thirty commercial fish tugs operated out of the port of Erie, thus affording employment for many, and license fees in substantial amounts paid to the Pennsylvania Fish Commission.

Untold numbers of vacationers and sportsmen journeyed to Erie each summer to enjoy night-fishing for Lake Erie's bounty.

At the present time, but two commercial fish tugs operate reguarly out of Erie. For the week ending May 30, 1959, crew members of one of these tugs earned the paltry amount of $8.50 each for over sixty hours labor over the depths of a once great lake. Recreational fishing has deteriorated to the extent that not a single bid was made on a fishing "party" boat exposed to public auction in Erie on June 4, 1959.

Sportsmen and commercial fishermen attribute the decline of fishing to many factors including the following:

1. Pollution of Lake Erie by industrial titans inadequately controlled by governmental bodies.
2. Dredging operations directed towards sand removal for commercial use, which dredging is conducted over sand bars which are the natural spawning grounds for fish, particularly pike.
3. Intentional depositing of silt and refuse upon these same sand bar, likewise disrupting and destroying the spawning efforts of fish.
4. Outright poaching in Commonwealth waters by fishermen of other states and other countries.
5. Uncontrolled natural propagation of the smelt, a small but canibalistic fish, which feeds on the fry of other fish.
6. To a lesser extent at present, the ravages of the lamprey eel.
7. According to the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, "environmental conditions, propagation, early survival, water temperatures . . . and the competition with other species for food and space."
8. The cessation by the Fish Commission of hatchery operations in Erie whereby previously fry and fingerlings were hatched in hundreds of thousands for stocking Commonwealth waters off Erie County.

Whatever the reason, fishing out of Erie has declined. Never since 1919 has the catch of fish been so poor as now; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake an immediate and comprehensive study as a background for the preparation of legislation enforceable in Commonwealth waters which would alleviate in any degree the conditions above recited to determine the feasibility of an interstate compact or agreement with other states, the borders of which are on the Great Lakes, particularly Lake Erie, so as to improve fishing by concerted effort; to appraise the powers, functions and limitations of agencies of the Federal government so that Commonwealth leadership can be asserted if such is deemed necessary; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commision report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair, the Chief Clerk, the Parliamentarian and various Members have noted with increasing interest, some of them with concern, the growing battlements that separate the membership from the Chair and from the desk, battlements behind which any Member who wants to do so can hide. They are ging higher and higher.

The Chair wants to say that there are some half a dozen different ways by means of which this unsightly array can be done away with, but every one of the methods that could be suggested can only succeed if they have the benefit of the complete cooperation of every Member of the House.

The Chair will suggest to the Majority Caucus Chairman and the Minority Caucus Chairman that at an appropriate time they call attention to the various ways by means of which these stacks of bills could be very, very materially reduced and, after having discussed the matter, each Caucus appoint a committee of three to confer with the Chief Clerk, the Parliamentarian and the Chair as to the methods that they consider most effective.

It would be very, very nice if every Member of the House, as he came into the Hall of the House, could have with him just a little stack of every bill that was on the Calendar; for instance, if when he came in today, every Member had a little stack, a little bundle, of every bill that was on the calendar today. I have down on my desk such a compilation. Of course,, I do not do it all myself. Then I have another compilation on my desk, compiled by the Chief Clerk.

The Chief Clerk is now conducting a series of experiments to find out how many man-hours, or girl-hours, or woman-hours it takes at this time to compile a stack of bills, with markers between first reading bills, second reading bills, bills on final passage, but that bundle of bills would be absolutely useless unless the Members cooperated and kept it up-to-date day by day.

At any rate, the Chair is suggesting to the respective Caucuses that, if they want to, they discuss the thing and each Caucus appoint a committee of three to take the matter up with the Chief Clerk, the Parliamentarian and the Chair, and maybe we can work out something. Of course, if you like the way it is, just keep it.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been propositioned. Here is an opportunity for every Member of the House to get on TV.

A Representative of one of the Pittsburgh stations is here and would like to take a quick picture, not one with a lot of paraphernalia and bright lights. Now, will the gentleman from Allegheny who brought the TV man here produce his artist?

Amend Sec. 10, page 9, line 18 by striking out "after conviction".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I yield to the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the Majority Leader rise?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, to House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 851.

I would prefer, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, would make his statement regarding the amendments he is offering. I would like to oppose the amendments as they have been presented to me by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader has requested that I explain the purpose of these amendments. The purpose of these amendments is to make certain that House Bill No. 317 will be constitutional when it meets the tests in the courts of our land.

We are all aware that there are certain elements in this state who are opposed to the passage of this bill. They have a legitimate right so to do.

The most primary amendments I have is on legislative finding. If this bill is passed as it is on Printer's No. 851 and the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania or the Supreme Court of the United States is asked to test its constitutionality, it must be based strictly upon the basis of a esthetic beauty because that is the sole legislative finding.

I find no case anywhere in the United States which states that regulation of billboards, or zoning laws, may be based strictly upon a esthetic beauty. Every one of these cases rests upon the police power, public safety, and matters of that character.

As our former Majority Leader one time said, and our former Speaker, Charlie Smith, "What are you up to?" What are you up to in an amendment of this character? Are you trying to pass a bill which will never enable the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to obtain five to ten millions of dollars? Are you scuttling the program of Governor Lawrence, who during his tour of this state said he was in favor of a proper billboard act?

Now that in brief is the reason why these legislative findings must be passed. If you sincerely believe in the purpose of this bill, you should vote for this particular amendment.

In addition, I have other amendments and these amendments are tied in with the federal act. As I veiw this act, any action by the Secretary of Highways must be concurred in by the Secretary of Commerce of the United States. The Secretary of Highways cannot take unilateral action on any matters. It must be by bilateral agreement. And the purpose of that is to maintain the interstate highways on a national standard, and if we say right now that we are giving this matter to the Secretary of Highways alone, I again say that this is an amendment such as the amendment that was passed last week which also was of doubtful validity insofar as getting five to ten million dollars is concerned.

Now insofar as the right of the billboard industry to legitimately carry out its purposes on interstate highways, my bill as amended does not prevent that. They will have the right to erect billboards within twelve miles of the place of business, subject to regulations jointly agreed to by the Secretary of Highways and the Secretary of Commerce of the United States. What is wrong with such type of amendment?

Lastly, my amendment provides for this, and I think the true character of the bill is best demonstrated by this particular sentence in House Bill 317, Printer's No. 851. The bill as originally drawn said:

> Each day a device is maintained in violation of this act shall constitute a separate offense.

The penalty for a violation of this act is only $100.

So how did they amend this bill to make it innocuous? They put in this particular language.

> Each day a device is maintained in violation of this act after conviction shall constitute a separate offense.

Any lawyer and any layman knows that "after conviction" means a final adjudication. If somebody violates this act in 1957, takes an appeal to the Common Pleas Court of Allegheny County or the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania or the Supreme Court of the United States, which may take a period of two years, he would be subject only to $100 fine.

I would like to know from the proponents of this particular amendment why there is this amendment. If some poor citizen violates a city ordinance, he is subject to paying $50 a day for each and every violation. Why should not the multi-million-dollar billboard business be subject to the same penalty?

That is the reason I am for this bill. I want you people on the Democratic side to stand behind your Governor and, when I see how you vote, I will know whether you and the Democratic administration are giving lip service to one of your platforms.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments to House Bill 317. Here is a layman who is going to tangle with one of Allegheny County's leading attorneys, the man who has been honored by the Chamber of Commerce as being one of its outstanding citizens. He asks, what we are up to.

Well, since I am a layman, I used a staff of six attorneys. This staff of six attorneys found, briefly, the following: Number 1, that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania rendered a decision in the case of Bilbar Construction Company vs. Easttown Township, 393 Pa. 62 (1958). Noting that aesthetic considerations have progressively become more and more persuasive as sustaining reasons for the exercise of the police power."

Then you will find that the Supreme Court of the United States in Berman vs. Parker, 348 U.S. 26, again used this very same scope.

In the last few years perhaps there have been decisions rendered which cover this situation.

The gentleman from Allegheny asks: What are we up to? Number 1, this is what we are up to: We would like to have a piece of legislation that would insure the Secretary of Highways within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, being the designated official, having the right to ban billboards on interstate defense highways in which the right-of-way has been acquired or to be acquired after July 1, 1956.

We do not believe we ought to pay state money to remove billboards where there is not going to be any federal money to help pay for it; that we have not given to the billboard industry all the things that they asked for in any scope of the mind or imagination.

These amendments that have been offered by Mr. Goldstein would do many more things.

On Section 3 it would remove entirely that portion relating to the so-called industry boards, pertaining to service stations which have standard features, such as the major oil companies, which we amended to permit the Secretary of Highways to designate the size and the number. Do you think for a moment that the billboard industry wanted that? Do you think that the industry which has these billboards wanted that? The answer is "No". This was a compromise that I myself tried to work out in conjunction with many other people, trying to make this particular piece of legislation fit the platform pledges of the two parties, to guarantee to Pennsylvania the federal money to the state, and to permit this bill to do that without removing billboards where there is no federal money. We personnally feel that by doing this you are spending additional state money for which you receive no reimbursment.

Mr. Speaker, we are not up to a single thing, only trying to fulfill a pledge and make it workable here in Pennsylvania. In fact, to find out how difficult this situation may be, I would advise that many gentlemen check the various states of this union and tell me how many states have adopted this, and how many have rejected it from its inception within the Federal Highways Act.

Here this afternoon the amendments the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, has offered would be pretty well the amendments dealing with the Roadside Council's position, in which we would try to remove a greater portion of the billboards in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House do oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, would the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall certainly consent to be interrogated, if the gentleman will be kind enough to consider my position as a layman on the legal matters.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. McCann. This is a question that a layman can answer.

Can you tell me, Mr. Speaker, why the words "after conviction" were inserted in this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the words were inserted in the bill to permit a way in which these particular convictions can be realized. We are not trying to find a way to destroy or render an industry helpless by a series of convictions. This is still a matter in which the agreement between the designated agent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in this case, the Secretary of Highways, and the designated proper agent in law, which is the Secretary of Commerce, in a bilateral agreement would have to execute before the state would be eligible for funds.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since you refer to the bilateral agreement, and since my amendments clearly state that every matter is subject to bilateral agreement, then what reason would there be to oppose such an amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the main reason to oppose such an amendment is that these amendments to the particular bill that are offered here today are amendments which would tend to change the concept of the bill, to change the sections of the bill and to eliminate certain portions of sections that do specific items, and, therefore, since the bill has been agreed to, we would prefer not to amend the bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the bill with the amendments submitted today conforms almost identically with the purposes and exceptions allowed in the Federal Act? Is that not true?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that would be just as true as the bill itself, Printer's No. 851, now agrees with the Federal Act and the changes to the Federal Act, including the '58 federal changes.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to get into a legal question, so I will not ask any further questions. Thank you, Mr. McCann.

In conclusion, I want to say that Mr. McCann, the gentleman from Greene, had his battery of six lawyers, and I only had my little law book back in Allegheny County, and from my examination of the cases I feel that my opinion is sound. I also feel that where you have a bill which is of doubtful constitutionality, I can see no constructive reason why you cannot make a so-called good bill better.

That is the point in this particular case. We should make certain that the bill is a good bill, and I will reluctantly be compelled to vote against the bill on final passage because I cannot, unless it is amended, see voting for a bill of doubful constitutionality.

Mr. McCann has stated that the law said that aesthetic value is persuasive of the exercise of police power. That is a very important word, persuasive, but the police power was not eliminated from the purpose of the cases which were examined by the Supreme Court. I am certain in this particular case police power is eliminated and only aesthetics are referred to. My amendments refer to police power.

I ask for a roll call on these amendments.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I listened with interest to what the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann said about the constitutionality of the exercise of the police power on the basis of aesthetics It is my understanding that the Supreme Court of Pensylvania in years past has said that they have not a sufficient basis for the exercise of the police power.

It is my further understanding that in a recent case they said that aesthetics along with other bases may furnish a proper basis for the exercise of the police powers. In other words, aesthetics must be in conjunction with something else, because it seems to me that aesthetics is a rather tedious concept. I could conceive of a situation where they might put on billboards, Renoir's or Michael Angelo's or some other beautiful old masters and they might be just about the most aesthetic thing you could find in the world. Therefore, what is the standard and what is the test? Is it proper to exercise the police power to ban such pictures along the highways?

I would just like to say this in connection with the bill. I think that in all probability in its present form it is unconstitutional. I feel as far as the legislative findings, which are embodied in the amendments submitted by Mr. Goldstein, are so vital to this bill that without them we will have absolutely nothing.

Therefore I, as well as Mr. Goldstein, feel that unless these amendments are adopted I must vote against the bill. I certainly urge every Member of the House to vote for a decent bill, a bill which is in accordance with the pledges of both major political parties. I urge all of you to support Mr. Goldstein's amendments.

Mr. GAILEY. Will the gentleman from Allegheny allow himself to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentleman from York?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire whether or not these amendments are lengthy.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Lengthy? No, they are not lengthy.

Mr. GAILEY. I think, Mr. Speaker, that most of us have not had the opportunity actually to see them. I would ask the gentleman whether or not he would be willing, for the benefit of those of us who have not, to read to us his amendments as offered.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would be glad to do so.

If you will go to Section 1 Printer's No. 851, which has the legislative findings and states there should be "for the protection of scenic beauty," that is to be eliminated and in lieu thereof, after line 1, is to be inserted in legislative findings > it to be in the public interest and for the public welfare to promote the safety, convenience and enjoyment of public travel and the free flow of intrastate and interstate commerce, to protect the public investment in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways and to preserve scenic beauty adjacent to such system by controlling the erection and maintenance of advertising signs, displays and devices adjacent to that system."

These legislative findings are taken almost word for word from the Congressional Act of 1956. That is Part 1 of the amendments.

Part 2 of the amendments strikes out on Page 2, Lines 15 to 20 and all of page 3, and in lieu thereof the following is substituted:

> "If under the provisions of Public Law 627 of the Federal Highways Act of 1956, and consistent with the national policy outlined in said Act, the Secretary of Highways enter in to an agreement to such effect, segments of the Interstate System which traverse incorporated municipalities where in the use of real property adjacent to the interstate system is clearly established by municipal ordinance as industrial or commercial, may be exempted from the provisions of this Act."

That portion of the amendment is intended to protect the billboard business in the city of Philadelphia, the city of Pittsburgh and other commercial areas where it is clearly established as industrial or commercial. They are not to be prevented from having billboards in those areas, and by agreement between the Secretary of Highways and the United States Secretary of Commerce that is made posible.

Then the amendment to Section 5, Page 5, Line 4, by inserting in the begining of that Section:

> When in the opinion of the Secretary of Highways and subject to agreements with the United States Secretary of Commerce, it will serve the public interest the."

The rest of the Section reads the same. The items set forth in that section are the types of advertising which are allowable under the Act of Congress of 1956.

The last portion of my amendment clearly applies to striking out the words "after conviction."

I hope I have made myself clear on a bill very difficult to explain. If there are any questions any person wishes to ask me, I will be glad to answer them.

Mr. GAILEY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, after reviewing the various Printer's Nos. on bill 317 and listening to the amendments as read by the gentleman from Allegheny, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not these amendments substantially conform to House Bill 317 as it first appeared, and as it was endorsed by the administration.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, my opinion is that House Bill 317 as amended by the amendments proposed by me today is almost identical with the administration bill.

My recollection of the bill as first introduced is that it provided for legislative findings including safety and similar matters. I am really trying to make whole the bill which was destroyed to a great extent.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, further along the same lines. The gentleman's amendment to Section 1, the legislative findings are those legislative findings that the gentleman is now attempting to include in this bill substantially the same as they appeared in the first bill, I believe it was Printer's No. 69?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I think they are substantially, excepting that I took the language from the Federal Act so there would be no question of conforming with the request of the Secretary of Commerce of the United States.

Mr. McCORMACK. Inasmuch as there has been a question raised as to whether or not the legislative findings under the present bill would make it unconstitutional, has the gentleman any explanation as to why the legislative findings were changed?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I know nothing except mere surmise.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am sorry, I did not hear that.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I can only guess, Mr. McCormack; I do not know.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, would you care to render a statement? What is your guess?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. My guess is that the amendments were introduced for the purpose of making it posible to give the opponents of this bill a good chance of having it declared unconstitutional in the courts of this state.

Mr. McCORMACK. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to rise to oppose these amendments and at the same time repeat myself as to the statement I made the other day regarding what was just said, in regard to section 1.

There was no evidence presented to either me or the Committee to support the legislative findings set forth in Section 1 as originally drafted and it seemed unwise to slander a legitimate industry which not only provides jobs but promotes sales.

Further the basic purpose behind the bill is to obtain federal bonus money in the amount of one-half of one percent of the federál contribution to the construction of the national system of interstate highways.

This amendment in no way interferes with that purpose, as the Majority Leader, Mr. McCann, said a while ago. I say that this is a good bill as we have it drawn up now. Industry and labor can live with it and I ask that these amendments be defeated.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Just briefly in response to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, if the bill is unconstitutional, Mr. Speaker, there is not going to be any federal money.

Mr. BLAIR. May I interrogate Mr. Comer from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLAIR. In my mind one of the most important issues has been ignored so far in this debate.

With or without these amendments, does the bill in its present form or hereafter as amended, still qualify the state for participation in the federal funds?

Mr. COMER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLAIR. With or without the amendments?

Mr. COMER. With Mr. Goldstein's amendments which we were just speaking of.

Mr. BLAIR. To participate in federal funds?

Mr. COMER. The way the bill is drawn now, we can participate in the federal program.

Mr. BLAIR. We can. Thank you.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, are we voting on merely the amendments regarding the legislative intent or declaration, or are we voting on that one plus the one with reference to the powers of the Secretary of Commerce of the United States?

The SPEAKER. The question has not been divided. Both issues are presented in the amendments upon which the House has been asked to vote.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. If it is possible, I would like to have the legislative intent voted on separately, because that is the vital part of my amendments. Then I might be able to agree on roll call votes for the other amendments thereafter, if that is posible.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order to ask for a division of the question. Does the Chair hear objections? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 1 to 5 by striking out "that" in line 1 all of lines 2 to 5 and inserting: "it to be in the public interest and for the public welfare to promote the safety, convenience and enjoyment of public travel and the free flow of intrastate and interstate commerce, to protect the public investment in the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, and to preserve scenic beauty adjacent to such system by controlling the erection and maintenance of advertising signs, displays and devices adjacent to that system."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. GOLDSTEIN and STEVENS and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. AUKER filed the following reasons for his vote on amendments to House Bill No. 317.

The wording of this amendment is not sufficient to make constitutional the particular section sought to be amended, under the general police power of either the Federal or state governments, of protecting the public safety, health and welfare of the people, let alone the traveling public in motor vehicles.

To me it is merely an attempt to give the courts a leeway to declare it constitutional by having legislative backing; in other words to give the courts an "out" when under every legal analysis, reasoning and logic, the courts would not have a leg on which to stand, to so warp the meaning of "Police Powers" under safety, health and welfare of the people, as to declare such legislative enactment constitutional.

It is a travesty on constitutional government to undertake such procedure as these amendments. Rights of the individual property owners, abutting on such highways, are thrown right out the window and completely disregarded. It is bad legislation in its worst form.

The amendments were read as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, lines 15 to 20; page 3, lines 1 to 18 by striking out "provided however that THE" in line 15, all of lines 16 to 20, page 2 and all of lines 1 to 18, page 3 and inserting:

"If under the provisions of Public Law 627 the Federal Highways Act of 1956 and consistent with the national policy outlined in said act the Secretary of Commerce of the United States and the Secretary of Highways enter into an agreement to such effect, segments of the Interstate System which traverse incorporated municipalities wherein the use of real property adjacent to the interstate system is clearly established by municipal ordinance as industrial or commercial, may be exempted from the provisions of this act."

Amend Sec. 5, page 5, line 4 by striking out "The" and inserting:

"When in the opinion of the Secretary of Highways and subject to agreements with the United States Secretary of Commerce it will serve the public interest, the"

Amend Sec. 10, page 9, line 18 by striking out "after conviction".

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

MR. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill, Mr. Bell?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman, Mr. Bell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, insofar as the bill has been pretty much chopped up, I would like to yield to Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. May I remind the Chair, Mr. Goldstein is not a sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Whom does the gentleman desire to interrogate?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Bell, unless he would . . .

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the bill has been pretty much emasculated, I will not permit myself to be interrogated as a sponsor, because the bill we are presently voting on is not the same bill that we put in.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman declines to be interrogated.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. I would like to interrogate then, Mrs. B. Z. Miller, who, I believe, is a sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the lady, Mrs. B. Z. Miller, permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. B. Z. MILLER. I introduced the original bill, Mr. Speaker, but I have had nothing to do with the amendments, so I cannot speak on the bill. I am sorry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The lady refuses to be interrogated.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, do I understand both of these sponsors now have withdrawn their sponsorship and are opposed to the bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is not what the Members stated. They refuse to be interrogated.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. May I then interrogate Mr. Comer, another sponsor of the bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Can the gentleman from Philadelphia inform me whether the basic purpose for introduction of this legislation was for aesthetic reasons or for financial benefits to the Commonwealth?

Mr. COMER. I believe, more or less, for financial benefit, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Well then, can the gentleman inform me if the Commonwealth will now have to condemn 1,320 feet for right-of-way along and adjacent to the Federal Interstate System? Is that correct?

Mr. COMER. If it was constructed since 1956, yes.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. In other words, as I understand then, any property that has been condemned since July 1, 1956 must now be condemned for this purpose also?

Mr. COMER. Right.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Prior to introduction of the bill, may I ask if the Committee on Highways or the Committee on Appropriations made an itemized or an estimated cost of condemnation proceedings for the taking of this amount of property?

Mr. COMER. Well, they would not consider this, Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that this would be all federal money, or approximately all federal money.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. As I understand it, it will be only 90 percent federal money and 10 percent state funds, is that correct?

Mr. COMER. That is correct.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, then the committee is not able to inform us what the cost will be to the Commonwealth, that is, what the Commonwealth's 10 percent share will be?

Mr. COMER. That is correct.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. So, we do not know then whether or not we have sufficient funds in the Highway fund or whether we will have to pass additional taxes on top of what has already been asked for? Is that correct?

Mr. COMER. That could be.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. May I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia how many miles of interstate highways which we have will be so affected?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, in answering that question, I was present at the hearings of the Appropiration Committee when the Highway Department was making their recommendations for their budget. I have requested the same information and I am now awaiting that.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. The Department of Highways has not furnished you with that information, is that correct?

Mr. COMER. That is correct.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Thank you very much, Mr. Comer.

Mr. COMER. Right.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, it would appear as though we are being asked today to run through, very hurriedly, a bill which could cost the Commonwealth, the Department of Highways fund, a considerable amount of money. We have been given no valid reason here on the floor for supporting such legislation, except that in the bill it reads something about it being nice and scenic.

We are now asked to spend money that we apparently do not have, because we are being told we have deficits. We need additional funds for matching federal allocations already. We will now need more additional funds to match the appropriations for the condemning of this land. We do not know how much land is being affected; we do not know the cost of that land; we are merely being asked to vote for this bill for the scenic beauty of Pennsylvania.

I might also state that we have no guarantee from the federal government that we will receive any reimbursement for the condemning or taking of land for advertising purposes. At the present time in the Congress of the United States, there is a great deal of hubbub over amending this bill to remove this. We are told that we must wait for this money. We are perhaps entitled to $5 or 6 million in federal funds which we must accept over a period of 13 years, and even that is on a yearly or annual appropriation in Congress. Therefore, if next year they have a change of face in Washington, D.C., and decide not to appropriate the money to pay the states for these condemnations, we will then be left holding the financial bag again.

I might also say, Mr. Speaker, I believe a great deal of research must first be made before we summarily enter upon this field and take over 1,320 feet of ground. I have that figured up, with the help of a schoolmaster. Per mile it will mean approximately 7 million square feet of, usually, farm land and, of course, when we come into our municipalities we have a more serious problem. Yet we are asked to go ahead and buy up this property, or make some condemnation of it, without knowing the cost.

We are given by the federal government until July 1, 1961 to make up our minds whether or not we want this additional one-half of one percent, and I suggest that we must do a great deal of research between now and July 1, 1961. Perhaps during our next session of the Legislature, after that research has been made and our questions have been answered, then we can enact this bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I think we debated the bill very carefully in the past. We have covered these situations that the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy, has presented here today. There is no question that the Secretary of Highways in conjunction with the Secretary of Commerce would have to enter into the agreement. The Federal money is certainly provided for in the right-of-ways dealing with the 90-10.

Mr. Speaker, there is no question there is no bonus money at the present time available for distribution, but this type of legislation would certainly have to be passed to make the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Secretary of Highways eligible, and for this state to participate in this program.

I ask that the membership vote "Aye" on House Bill 317, Printer's No. 851, now ready for final passage vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS filed the following reasons for voting against amendments to House Bill No. 317:

I voted for House Bill 317 because I have pledged to vote for anti-billboard legislation so that the new Federal Interstate Highways would not be cluttered with billboards and so Pennsylvania could receive a $10,000,000 bonus from the Federal government.

Unfortunately I believe my vote is useless because this bill when and if it becomes law will be fought by the billboard interests and will undoubtedly be held to be unconstitutional. The powerful interests opposed to this law fought it by amending it so that its stated purpose is not broad enough to allow the law to be upheld when tested by the courts.

The Democratic leadership has been clever but I trust the people will understand what has been done. I am sure the many Womens' Clubs of Pennsylvania will soon learn what has been done to them and who really tried to serve their interests.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 810, entitled:

An Act amending "The Second Class Township Code," approved May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103), authorizing the establishment of a Shade Tree Commission and providing for its personnel powers and duties.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1185, Printer's No. 814

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

THE SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 309, entitled:

An Act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly fixing the number, qualifications, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representativs providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filling vacancies, fixing the salary of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau providing for compilation and publication of lists of officers and employes and their compensation and making appropriation.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will one of the gentleman who is sponsoring this Senate bill consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. The sponsors, I presume, dwell and live and function and perform their statesmanlike functions in another chamber.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I shall try to pinch-hit for one of the Senators, if the gentleman wants to interrogate me.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, I think the people of Westmoreland made a mistake in not elevating the gentleman to the other House.

Mr. PETROSKY. Cut out the flattery, it will not get you anywhere; you know that.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with Senate Bill 309, how much additional state funds will this bill cost the taxpayers?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the figures available. However, the gentleman recognizes that the difference in the bill would be the actual amount of the raises in the various categories.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, Mr. Speaker, that is rather enlightening. We are waiting for a side-bar conference.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I am advised by the Appropriations Committee Chairman that the impact of Bill No. 309 financially as concerns the House, in the event each of the positions would be filled, would be $369,000.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true, since we are passing a joint bill, that this particular bill for the House and Senate will cost the taxpayers an additional amount in excess of $500,000?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is a possibility in the event the full import of the bill was used, but the gentleman must recognize in the event that any portions of the bill were not used, then of course the appropriation would be lapsed the same as any other appropriation.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Westmoreland seemed to indicate that the jobs provided for under a measure of such a constructive character are not to be filled, is that not correct?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct, some of them are not. In the past there have been some funds lapsed—funds that were appropriated for the House.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Speaker, indicate how many persons are on the House payroll at the present time?

Mr. PETROSKY. One hundred and twenty-three.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is it not true that this bill provides for an increase in the House payroll to 256?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. And is it not true that the present Senate payroll is 126, and that the bill contemplates an increase to 163.

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is all. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Speaking on a bill of this character sometimes is embarrassing.

Preliminarily I want to point out very clearly and distinctly that if this bill fails, and I hope it does, for the rank and file of the ordinary employes, the working employes, those we have recognized from time to time we want them to get a good, clear, cost of living salary. Many of the salaries here are of a meager character, and we feel that instead of increasing the payroll we should have the same number of employes with higher salaries.

I was talking to one of my colleagues in the House today and I pointed out to him that this bill provides for 20 pages, and I only see seats for 10 of them, all young gentlemen working their way through high school and college and I have no desire to impugn their ability, but certainly 20 pages are not needed here.

The bill provides for a secretary to the secretary of the caucus for the Republicans, a secretary to the secretary of the caucus for the majority side. It also provides for a secretary for the Majority Whip, and a secretary for the Minority Whip. It also provides for an assistant to the Parliamentarian, and an assistant to the assistant.

I could go on and on and on, and I say briefly this is not the type of bipartisan legislation we should be interested in now. From time to time we have been voting against feather bedding bills. This is feather bedding on a legislative basis.

How can we in good conscience vote for appropriations in excess of a half million dollars when we have not resolved our tax program? The people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are going to look at us with great criticism and say that we, the Members of the Legislature, have not provided for the public schools, have not provided for mental welfare, and yet we provide for boondoggling in the House of Representatives and in the Senate.

I think that the leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties early in this Session provided for a standard of conduct—the standard of conduct to be measured whether legislation should be passed, and let me read this standard of conduct:

One of our leaders on the Republican side said:

> The Republican party yardstick for measuring legislation should be as follows: Is it right? Is it good for all the people? Will it work? Can the taxpayers afford it?

Then our Speaker, on January 6, 1959, said

> We accept that formula and will vie with you gentlemen on my left in our allegiance to such a basic test.

Let us get together on a bipartisan basis and do something for the taxpayers of the Commonwealth and vote against this bill.

Mr. HELM. Just to keep the record straight, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to ask the gentleman if he was quoting his positions from Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 991?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN: I am quoting from Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 991.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman tell me where in that bill it shows that there is a secretary to the secretary of the Republican Caucus or the Democratic Caucus?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. It is such a difficult bill to analyze. I know there is one for the secretary of the Minority Whip and the Majority Whip. Is that not true, Mr. Helm?

Mr. HELM. There is a secretary for those officers but the gentleman stated there is one for the secretary of the Republican Caucus and the secretary of the Democratic Caucus.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, I believe it to be in there, but I could be mistaken. It is a bill which was drawn up in a very mysterious manner. Instead of amending the preexisting legislation, you created a new bill which required hours of night study to find out what you were trying to get at. So if I am mistaken, it would not be the first time.

Mr. HELM. I would just like to keep the record straight, and for the information of the gentleman, there is no secretary of the respective Caucuses.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in my seven years' experience in the Legislature I have never before seen a bill that was so skillfully, so adroitly and so ably managed. This bill from its inception was nurtured with the care a mother would give her child that was just born.

It was on the calendar and it was off the calendar. There were suggestions made, and there were corrections made to make it more palatable.

It is very embarrassing to me to get up here and speak about the part-time jobs and about the amount of money received for those part-time jobs. But I have a responsibility, and my responsibility is to the taxpayers of this Commonwealth. If there is one theme they are unanimously singing today, it is that we want economy in government. We have got to cut the cost of operating this vast system we have in Pennsylvania and throughout the United States as government.

Yes, I know there will be statements made that there are people here for whom increases are provided who are not getting a decent wage, and I agree with them. There are per diem people on this payroll who are not receiving enough money to support themselves or their families, and I think that is terrible. But I think in the same sense it is hypocrisy to couple a wage increase for those per diem employes with an increase for people who are on the payroll and who do not do a good and fair day's work.

I can very well name the positions in 309 that are overpaid today. They are not the little men who come in here and work day to day and work hard; there are positions on there that are tremendously overrated, and we are giving them a further increase. I think it is not right. And we are asked, because of the many equitable features of the bill, to pass it.

I do not want to mention any positions because it is embarrassing to me. But when you compare similar jobs with those on this legislative payroll, and I am speaking of the Senate and the House, they defy comparison.

We have a bill here creating a library system in Pennsylvania for the first time. The librarians in Pennsylvania are receiving considerably less than the librarian is receiving in the Senate today. I think it is a $12,000 job. It is disgraceful. And do you know further that we are not even allowed to take a book out of the Senate Library? I, for one, have come down here many times to do some research on bills on the calendar, and tried to take a book out and bring it to the floor of the House—

The SPEAKER. The Chair would caution the gentleman that he is privileged to attack the House, the officers of the House, but he is not privileged on the floor to criticize the actions of the other Chamber.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I apologize if I have violated the rules. I was just making a statement against what I think is erroneous policy, and I therefore will not pursue that further.

That is why I say it is rather embarrassing to debate this bill, because you have to single out particular positions. If it applied to the future and not to the present, I would be better able to do that.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is privileged to question the salary of any employe of the House, but he is not privileged to question the salary paid to those who work in another place.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I want to say further that we have tax bills on this calendar that have been languishing here for weeks; we cannot pass them. We have vital appropriations that have to be passed for the mental hospitals, and we cannot pass those. Yet we are bringing out this bill that is going to saddle the taxpayers with more money at a time when they do not want to pay more taxes.

I think it is wrong. I think it is shameful. I cannot see how we can conscientiously vote in favor of this bill, despite the merits of some of these daily increases. I think it is deplorable, and I am right in the middle here because I am treading on a lot of toes. I probably will not be able to look a straight face at some of the men whom I am facing whose salaries will be increased.

But I think, Mr. Speaker, that finally we are letting the tail wag the dog. We are Members of the General Assembly. We get $6,000. Now there are a lot of men who lose money here, including myself. We come up here, we are dedicated to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we are responsible for a $2 billion budget, and yet we are getting half the salary and half of the expenses that some of these people in 309 would get. I think it is wrong. We ought to reappraise our situation and do something about it.

I think the first step is to vote againt this bill, and come out with a good bill that would provide honest, decent wages for those per diem employes who are underpaid, and not give further increases to the poliitcal plums.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to make a few brief comments in connection with Senate Bill 309.

This bill embodies modest pay increases for the present employes of this House, and it also provides for certain additional employes to be added to the payroll.

I think all of us are familiar with the increasingly complex legislative matters with which we are faced. In order for us to deal properly with those matters I feel we must have additional help. We must have an augmented staff for that purpose, and also for the purpose of carrying on the continuing work of the General Assembly.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, referred to the problems of economy in government. We in the Legislature have downgraded ourselves, because it is our job and our prerogative to watch the Executive. The Executive is staffed to a great extent by many, many, many high priced people who are experts in all sorts of fields, whereas we in the Legislature are still struggling along with a few employes, sort of in the horse and buggy days, so to speak.

It has been said many, many times that knowledge is power. In order for us to have the power to operate this Legislature, and through it to legislate for the benefit of all of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we must acquire that knowledge. In order to get that knowledge we must have the tools, the people, the personnl, with which to assemble the knowledge.

In my opinion the increase and the improvement of the staff which will be brought about by this bill will enable this House to assume its rightful dignity, and to recapture in large measure its proper prerogatives.

Mr. Speaker, I certainly urge the Members of this House to support this legislation.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WALSH. In this bill the salaries of the help in the Senate are outlined and we are asked to vote on it. Why are we not allowed to discuss an important part of this bill?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order to discuss any part of the bill, but he is not privileged to criticize or call into question the good faith of the coodinate branch of this House.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, the previous speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, when he spoke about the salaries in the Senate, I think if I understood it correctly, the chair said we can discuss the salaries in the House, but we cannot discuss the—

The SPEAKER. He was talking about the difficulties in removing books and the procedure in the Senate.

Mr. WALSH. I agree that is what he was talking about, but the question was as to the salaries.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman desires to discuss the salary schedule he is provileged to do so

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 991.

It has been my privilege to serve in this House for quite a number of years. I do not know what problems confront the other membership; however I am very cognizant of the fact that we labor as Members in this General Assembly without having sufficient tools to properly represent our constituency.

I can refer to my own particular district, and I represent the same as others do in this House, together with a colleague, about 150,000 people. Now we must of necessity render service to them in good representation in government here. How are we to do this, if we do not have the necessary staff and help at hand in order to help us do this job?

At the present time with the duties of a Committee Chairman, a responsibility to 210 Members of this House and the other members of that Committee, I am asked to function without an individual piece of help. I must draw upon a pool in order to take care of those duties.

Above all else, Mr. Speaker, the people back home want to know, the people back home want a service rendered here. There are 11 million people in the State of Pennsylvania who want to be ably served by their Representatives. Recognize, if you will, Mr. Speaker, we are endeavoring to function with the same staff with a combined budget in the General Fund and the Highways Fund of nearly $2.5 billion, the same staff that we functioned with when government was at a half billion dollar budget per biennium.

I could project my thinking into the future with legislation of this nature. I can visualize that your government becomes so big in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that eventually you will find 210 offices here in this Commonwealth and you will find each of the Members with a secretary in his office. Why must this need be? This need be because the duties that we have to bring us here to Harrisburg in our representative capacity take practically all of our time to peruse the legislation that is proposed so that we may conscientiously vote upon those matters. There again the other services that are required of us by our constituency, Mr. Speaker, would require that we get capable and experienced help; help on a year-around basis so that we can better serve those people. It is that day I look forward to.

I ask that we vote for this proposal as a step toward raising the dignity of this body and to rendering a better service to 11 million people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I ask you to vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mrs. KOOKER filed the following reasons for her vote on Senate Bill No. 309.

My "nay" vote on Senate Bill 309 is not because I am opposed to the features of the bill but because I feel it is very poorly timed.

At present we do not even have a tax program that we have enacted; and we do not know what we are going to do regarding budgetary requirements.

When we have enacted a tax program, know where the money is to come from and that the essential services of the Commonwealth are sufficiently provided for, then I think we can act upon such legislation but until such time I feel we should not vote more expenses upon the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 31
REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. PECHAN, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Ruth, on June 2, 1959, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE LAWS RELATING TO AGRICULTURE

In the Senate, June 2, 1959.

Whereas, The laws of this Commonwealth relating to agriculture and its related fields are numerous. Many of them are obsolete since we have entered into the era of modern farming and animal husbandry; and

Whereas, Local governmental agencies and other law enforcement agencies are unaware of existing statutes and in many cases duplicate ordinances or ordinances in conflict with existing state laws are sometimes enacted; and

Whereas, Inquiries are always being presented in reference to the laws relating to agriculture and many times there is misunderstanding and confusion which results in unnecessary expenditures of the tax payers money; and

Whereas, There is no codification of the agriculture laws and the acts dealing with farms and farming; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the laws relating to agriculture and its related fields; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission revise and modernize the existing laws and draft a proposed codification and report to the next regular session of the General Assembly as to its findings and recommendations.

The PRESIDENT. This resolution will appear on Monday's Calendar.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 112
REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. PECHAN, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Berger and Weiner, on June 2, 1959, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT TO MAKE LAWS RELATING TO CONSUMER CREDIT

In the Senate, June 2, 1959.

Consumer credit has, during the twentieth century, attained a position of major importance in the economy of the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania specifically.

The citizens of the Commonwealth purchasing goods and services through the use of consumer credit are now numbered in millions and the value of such goods and services is now counted in billions of dollars.

The lending of money and the extension of credit for consumer purposes at reasonable and fair charges contributes to a higher standard of living for the citizens of Pennsylvania and promotes a strong and healthy economy and, therefore, the continued maintenance of adequate sources of consumer credit at fair and reasonable charges is of utmost importance to the economic welfare of the citizens of this Commonwealth.

The term "consumer credit" is generally recognized as encompassing all credit extended to consumers whether in the form of a cash loan or in connection with the sale of goods or services.

The purchase of insurance on behalf of borrowers and purchasers by lenders and sellers of goods or services on deferred or installment payment basis is common practice in the consumer credit business and the charges for such insurance constitute a substantial part of the total charges which the consumer is required to pay.

It is the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to encourage and promote the development of adequate sources of consumer credit to meet the needs of our modern economy and, to that end, regulate and control the charges, terms and conditions for the lending of money and the extention of credit for consumer purposes in the interest of and for the protection of both borrower and lender.

With the exception of the Motor Vehicle Sales Finance Act of 1947, applying to installment sales of motor vehicles, there are no laws of the Commonwealth regulating interest and other charges that may be imposed upon buyers of goods or services by the sellers thereof.

There are many ethically conducted and honestly operated lenders and sellers dealing in consumer credit and engaging in the business of financing the sales of goods and services and it appears that there are other persons and companies engaging in the financing of the purchase of goods and services who impose upon the consumer excessive and oppressive charges and otherwise engage in practices which are unjustifiably detrimental to the consumer and inimical to the public welfare.

New methods for making consumer loans and for financing purchases of consumer goods and prefabricated homes, sometimes called "pre-cut," "packaged" and "preconstruction" homes, on an installment basis have been devised and are used by lenders and sellers of goods which impose upon the borrower or purchaser charges which appear to the unreasonable, excessive and oppressive and which are not limited or regulated under existing laws; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study and investigate all matters connected with the operation of and conditions prevailing in the financing in this Commonwealth of the sales of goods or services and perfabricated homes which are sold or supplied on what is commonly known as the installment payment plan, for the purpose of ascertaining the equity and fairness of charges imposed on the consumers and as to any improper burdensome or oppressive practices deemed to be inimical to the public good or which result in disadvantage or detriment to the public generally; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study all existing laws of the Commonwealth pertaining to consumer credit extended on a cash loan basis and to investigate and explore all matters pertaining to individuals and agencies engaged in such business, the practices and methods followed in making such loans, the charges imposed therefor and the adequacy of existing sources of consumer credit; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

The PRESIDENT. This resolution will appear on Monday's Calendar.

DOCTOR FREDERIC BARTH, POSTMASTER, CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, in the halls of the Senate today we have a distinguished Philadelphian, whom I should like to introduce to the Senate at this time.

He is presently President of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy and a member of the Board of Education in Philadelphia. During the last few days, he has been recognized on a National level by the President of the United States, due to the fact that he was appointed Postmaster of the city of Philadelphia.

Of course, Mr. President, this gentleman is a Republican and votes Republican. However, I forgive him for that.

Mr. President, I wish to present to the Senate my very good friend, the Honorable Doctor Frederic Barth.

The PRESIDENT. Will Doctor Barth please rise?

The Senate is indeed, glad to have you with us, Doctor Barth. I know that I speak for all of the Members of the Senate when I offer my congratulations.

HOUSE BILL No. 337 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from page 3 of today's Second Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 337, Printer's No. 71, which previously went over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, earlier today, I asked that House Bill No. 337, Printer's No. 71, be passed over in order. I have no objection to it being called up, except I will have to ask for a recess in order to caucus on this bill.

This bill was not on the calendar yesterday and, therefore, we have not had an opportunity to caucus on this part of the Calendar at all.

If they insist upon calling it up, I will be very happy to do so if they will allow us fifteen or twenty minutes for a caucus in order for us to take caucus action on it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I was under a misapprehension. I thought that the gentlemen on the other side did recess to have a caucus, in order to go over the bills which previously were not on the Calendar. That is, of course what we have done. That is the reason why I called the bill up. I certainly am under a misapprehension, because I thought we could proceed with the Second Reading Calendar after the Democrats had caucused on the bills.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, yesterday, we had a large calendar and, as the Members of the Senate know, when we reached the Second Reading Calendar, all the bills were passed over in their order. We had an opportunity to review quite a number of those bills and we are prepared on some of them. However, it is like our homework. We are not prepared for this homework and we hope the teacher will not penalize us on this part of it. If they insist upon calling these bills up, we will be very happy to caucus on them and take appropriate action.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, may we be at ease?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am waiting to hear from the Minority Leader. I had suggested that we pass the bill on second reading and then if they had any amendments, we certainly would not have any objections whatever or if they wanted further study on the bill, we would have no objection. This is merely a matter of expediting the Calendar, as far as I am concerned.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on the advice of counsel, we will withdraw our objection to moving the bill and ask that it be read for the second time.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, we will now proced with consideration of House Bill No. 337.

BILL ON SECOND READING

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 337, entitled:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 598, Printer's No. 645;
Senate Bill No. 600, Printer's No. 647;
Senate Bill No. 601, Printer's No. 648;
Senate Bill No. 602, Printer's No. 649;
Senate Bill No. 603, Printer's No. 650;
Senate Bill No. 606, Printer's No. 653;
Senate Bill No. 607, Printer's No. 654; and
Senate Bill No. 608, Printer's No. 655.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, in view of the fact that these are all proposed constitutional amendments, I am wondering why the Majority Party continues to carry this legislation over in order. I believe you realize that they are very important and I feel that this Senate should act on them promptly.

Can you tell me the reason for having these bills passed over in order?

Mr. PECHAN. There seem to be some objections to a couple of the bills and we thought it would be wise to have them all acted upon together. We thought that all the constitutional amendment bills should be on the same reading calendar.

Mr. LANE. Probably, they will all ride together back to committee, too. Is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. I hope not.

Some of us, including myself, would like to look them over this week end. That is one of the reasons why we asked to have these bills passed over in order.

Mr. LANE. I understand then that probably there will be some action on them next week.

I believe this is the third week that these bills have been on the Calendar. We, on this side, have been studying them in detail and trying to arrive at some sort of a conclusion. We received the advice and counsel of some very competent Republican attorneys, I might say, and also from some Democrats. However, we feel that the delay is bad. We think that we should have this legislation brought up and properly acted upon. I hope that Senator Pechan keeps his promise and that next week we will have some action on them.

Mr. PECHAN. I am wondering whether Senator Lane wishes to recommit all these bills today.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, far be it from me to even have the votes to recommit them. We are in the minority. I want to see the bills on the Calendar and I think we should examine each and every one of them. I think we should vote our conscience and convictions, and let the people of Pennsylvania know that we have some respect for the committee which has done such a wonderful job with these constitutional amendments.

Mr. PECHAN. That is exactly how we feel over here. You have just spoken my sentiments, Senator Lane.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to say, on behalf of the Democratic Minority on this side, that the action taken by us in Caucus has been that this matter has been taken up for a long period of time by the Committee on Constitutional Revision. However, I do not think that we have had sufficient time in which to study these bills.

I do not subscribe to the thought of the last gentleman who spoke, that we should vote on these matters next week or the following week. I think we should vote on these matters when we feel properly prepared to do so. I do not, as one Member, nor do the other Members of this Caucus, feel prepared to vote on these matters at this time. I think there are a number of problems in these bills which should be looked into further. I would be very happy to discuss this measure with anyone on this floor, and I will point out, as I have found myself, that these bills do not only not spell out what changes are being made, but I think they leave them in a category that is ambiguous about what is being done. We should not press to a vote a matter as important as this, with pressure on the Members to take a stand on this matter when we do not have sufficient information.

Let me tell you about a little problem that I know about. It is one of the problems of the Philadelphia Court where they want to combine it under one single Judge. In other words, do away with seven President Judges. I have my own views and opinions on it. I have received a telegram from the Chancellor of the Bar, who claims that he speaks for all the Members of the Bar, stating that the Bar is in favor of this action. The Judges in Philadelphia, almost uniformly, have taken a position against this.

I am not a judge. I merely practice in front of these courts. I have to take their opinions as they give them to me.

The present President of this Body, Lieutenant-Governor Davis, a former Common Pleas Judge in the City of Philadelphia, has taken a position on this very matter himself.

I do not think it would be very good for me to vote on this matter here today or any other time. I think we should be very cautious and very careful how we move on this matter and not be rushed into anything for fear that we will be embarrassed and criticized for taking such an important step at this time.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, during this Session, I was singularly privileged to work under Senator Pechan in investigating the Department of Public Welfare, and I learned a lot about his wisdom. I believe today he displayed great wisdom in advising hesitancy because, in my opinion, we should hesitate on these amendments to the Constitution.

I respectfully submit that if we adopt these amendments, they will be diversionary in nature. Nothing can save Pennsylvania or help Pennsylvania unless we summon a Constitutional Convention and, once and for all, discard the Constitution of 1874. These are only temporary measures and for this reason, the more we think and the more we wait, the sooner we will come to the conclusion that we need a Constitutional Convention.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bills will go over in their order.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT TO MAKE AND PREPARE AN AUDIT OF THE STATE WORKMEN'S INSURANCE FUND FOR THE YEARS 1955 TO 1959

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 37), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 23, 1959.

In the wake of the dismissal of Mr. Samuel Neff by the Governor, resulting from serious allegations relating to the integrity of the former manager of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, new allegations have been made against Mr. Neff. Serious questions have been raised concerning the misuse of the moneys in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund for partisan political activities in Beaver County. In particular, it is alleged that employes of the Department of Labor and Industry, assigned to work here in Harrisburg, were ordered to perform political services and to run political errands in Beaver County. It is further alleged that these employes were paid the regular wages for their work in Harrisburg which did not do and were paid extra from State moneys for the partisan political activities which they were ordered to do by Mr. Neff. These allegations, if true, are serious not only because they bespeak mismanagement and inefficiencies amounting to gross misconduct in office but also because they are patently dishonest.

Officials in this great Commonwealth are elected and appointed to their positions in order that they might carry out the many activities necessary for the welfare of the people of this State. Taxpayers pay for services; they do not expect, nor will they stand for, any State official spending taxpayers' money for their own use. It is necessary for those State officials, either elected or appointed, who represent the people of Pennsylvania to render the very best public service and to never permit the confidence of the people in State government to be undermined; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania urge the Justice Department to make and prepare an audit of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund for the years 1955 to 1959, the four years Mr. Neff spent as manager of the fund, and to report on the basis thereof to the Governor any misuse of State moneys disclosed during this time, and appropriate action be taken if it is determined that such were the case.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am just going to make a few remarks on the condition which exists as far as Pennsylvania motorists are concerned. I will give you the highlights and I would like the balance of this script to go into the record.

It has to do with the case of young David Patrick Harris of California, Pennsylvania, who, on April 18, 1959, told me that he was driving on a U. S. Route, just a few miles from Orchard Park, and he was stopped by a New York State Patrolman for a routine check. He said:

"As I was going possibly thirty-five miles an hour in a fifty mile zone, he pulled me over and I felt that I did nothing wrong. After making the check, he asked me for my operator's license and I looked through my wallet and I did not have the operator's license. He then instructed me to follow him to the municipal Building at Orchard Park, New York.

"The New York Patrolman's name was Trooper Malovich and his badge number was 18. My cousin accompanied me," young Harris said. "We went to the Municipal Building and they advised me that I would have to put up a fifty dollar forfeit. Since my cousin and I only had forty-six dollars and twenty-six cents, it was an impossibility to put up the fifty dollar forfeit, and so the Trooper called the judge or justice of the peace and they reduced the forfeit to forty-five dollars. We paid the forty-five dollars and then left. This took about two hours."

The father of young David Harris advised me that he received a call when he arrived home from his work in California, Pennsylvania. The call was collect and the call was made by this Trooper from New York State who talked to him for forty-five minutes.

The father said: "Naturally, I was concerned about the release of my son, as he was on a short vacation and was a student at the California State Teachers' College and he did not have to much time off.

"I advised the Trooper," the father said, "that I would leave immediately for Orchard Park and I would bring the license with me and they could look it over.

"The Trooper advised me there would be no use to bring the license to Orchard Park because they felt that the license was illegal as they had viewed others and that the licenses were not properly signed by the Secretary of Revenue."

The boy's father, Mr. Harris, went on in detail to advise me as to what he had done. When the boy got home, they called the State Police in Belle Vernon and they advised them what to do.

This is very interesting reading. It will take a long time. Senator Pechan says he wants to get back to Ford City, and I think most of the others want to leave. Therefore, I would like this to go into the record. I believe that the Department of Highway Safety and the Bureau of Motor Vehicles should view this in detail, as I have documented evidence in my file to support everything that is said in regard to the abuses this young man received by officials from the State of New York.

With the permission of the Chair, I would like to have the balance of this statement spread upon the record.

The PRESIDENT. It may be included in the Journal, and a copy will be sent to the Secretary of Revenue.

STATEMENTS OF ALFRED P. HARRIS, FATHER OF DAVID PATRICK HARRIS

I had just arrived home from work when they called our home in California, Pennsylvania. They called collect and I talked to that trooper for forty-five minutes trying to get some solution for their release. Patrick was going to Teachers' College and he had procured just that much time off to make that trip. I did everything and asked them if they would do everything they could to come up with a solution so that they could be on their way. I even offered to leave immediately and take his license up there. I realized there would be a fine, but I didn't expect it to be $50. Of course that wasn't the problem at the time; it was getting the license there. When I agreed to take the license up, then they told me it would not do him any good to have his license because the license would not be recognized as a valid license, because it was not signed by the Secretary of Revenue. I told him that was beyond our control, that this was the kind of license which was issued to us and certainly they should honor what our state produces to us. He advised that it did not make any difference because that is the way it is. I talked to him from every angle I could think of and then he suggested that I wire the money and they would let them go. I told them I couldn't wire the money because the Western Union Offices were closed in this area. I advised him that I would try to wire the money, if possible, and that I would call them back in about fifteen minutes if I would not be successful. He gave me the exchange and the telephone number, which was IDlewood 4444 and when I contacted the Charleroi Western Union Office, the operator advised that I would have to get the money to her in order that she be able to wire the funds. I then called the Belle Vernon State Police Barracks to see if they might be able to help me with a solution and I talked to the officer who was in charge there and he said that he didn't know of a thing that he could tell me to do. He said that they had other cases like this and the only thing he could tell me to do was to make sure they gave them a receipt for the money that they were to pay and, when they came home, send this to the Department of Revenue. On that basis, I called Orchard Park and I told him I was not able to make the connection with Western Union, that it was impossible. I even asked if he could have the boys contact their uncle in Rochester, because if he couldn't get up there chances were he could find a Western Union Office and send the money. We then got into the discussion again about the money, and the length of time they could have to produce the license and when they could have a hearing. He said, "Well I wouldn't even recommend them to appear for a hearing because there would be anywhere from a $100 to a $150 fine." I knew when he told me that, that he was just bluffing me, but there was nothing I could say. The judge was not there. He was at his home and he would be in later that evening. He did not want us to appear. Then I said, "In other words it boils down to this, that you want $50, period." He said, "That is about what it amounts to." I talked to the boys from time to time on the phone and I told the boys to straighten it out between themselves and the uncle in Rochester; if they didn't to call me back. I didn't hear from them and I didn't know what happened until they arived home.

The Patrolman who issued the receipt was Robert C. Henning, local police officer. The State Patrolman made the arrest, but the fine was paid to the local officer.

I sent this information to the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, just as I was told to do by the officer at the Belle Vernon Barracks. He said that there was no use in going into any detail, other than just sending them the receipt and making a brief statement. That is just what I did.

This receipt number is 842, made out to David Patrick Harris, defendant, residing at 946 Shutterly Avenue, California, Pa., and he is charged with violating 3-20-a-V-T, driving without a license at a Court of Special Sessions in the Town of Orchard Park to be held at the Municipal Building in said town on the 18th day of April, 1959 at 9:00 o'clock in the forenoon, and he was assessed $45.00 of a fine.

James E. Harris, owner of the car was the cousin of David Patrick Harris and I understand that he was cautioned that in all probability he would be charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle in the event he appeared for a hearing.

David Patrick Harris was discouraged from appearing for a hearing. He was informed that if he appeared for a hearing his fine would be $50, but probably $100 to $150. It is indicative that they did not want the hearing. This is nothing more than a shakedown.

I think we should find what the actual fine is for driving a vehicle without your operator's license in the State of New York. We would like to know what happened to the balance of the money they took; $45 bailpiece and if you failed to appear the entire amount was forfeited. We want to know where the money went and why it was forfeited to the sum of $45. It seems to me all they could take would be $5, or whatever the fine may be, plus the costs. Let's look into that angle, too.

Mr. Harris talked with the State Trooper on duty at the Belle Vernon Barracks between 5 and 6 o'clock on this particular date, April 18, 1959.

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "The Vehicle Code" providing for traffic courts in cities of the third class.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. T. H. W. JONES, offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 4 by inserting after "Class": "Borough and Townships of the First Class."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 5 by inserting after "class": "borough and township of the first class."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 6 by inserting after "city": "borough or township."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 9 by inserting after "alderman": "or justice of the peace."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 12 by inserting after "city": "by the burgess of the borough from the elected justices of the peace of the borough and by the township commissioners of the township from the elected justices of the peace of the township."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 12 by striking out "three months" and inserting: "one (1) month."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1201.1), page 3, line 13 by striking out "eligible for the next succeeding appointment" and inserting: "reappointed until each alderman or justice of the peace has served in this court or waived the privilege so to do by notifying the mayor, burgess or the township commissioners, as the case may be, in writing."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, if I am advised correctly, one of the three amendments offered to this bill in this set of amendments provides that where a traffic court is established in a third class city, and also if these amendments are successful, in boroughs and first class townships, the mayor in the case of third class cities and the presiding officer in the case of the other municipal governments, would be required to rotate the aldermen or justices of the peace as the case may be in the handling of the traffic court.

I rise only to oppose those portions of the amendments which would require the mayor of a third class city to rotate the aldermen elected in that city in the traffic court. We have some very excellent aldermen in third class cities. Unfortunately we also have some poor aldermen in third class cities. It is my position that the mayor should have the right to select those aldermen whom he would think competent and qualified to handle the traffic court.

It is quite obvious that aldermen are elected representatives of the people of the districts from which they are elected. It is equally obvious, however, that the mayor is also an elected representative of his people. Of more importance in my opinion is the fact that the mayor and the city government are responsible for the reputation and the public relations dealing with a traffic court, and if the mayor is not to have the power to select the aldermen and is not to have the power to operate the traffic court in a manner satisfactory to him and to the citizens, the fact that he is hog-tied in selecting aldermen whom he doesn't wish will reflect on the city, not the particular alderman.

Therefore, recognizing that both the aldermen and the mayor are elected officials, I think we should leave it to the city to determine whether or not the aldermen should serve in rotation among all of them or whether he should have the right to select aldermen. I therefore request that you oppose these amendments.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I have the privilege of interrogating Mr. Jones?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in the amendments offered by Mr. Jones to Senate Bill 112, do I understand these amendments to say that in the boroughs and townships, first class, the aldermen would be rotated from those areas into the third class?

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. That is not correct, as I understand it, Mr. Speaker. The amendments did two things. There were two of us on this side of the House who wished to amend this bill. It was my original desire to amend it so that traffic courts could be set up, not only in third class cities, but also in boroughs and townships of the first class. The reasons for confining the traffic court to those political subdivisions was simply that I do not think the second class townships have any need for it.

Mr. Isaacs from Delaware County wished to amend the bill to provide that the aldermen or justices of the peace, as the case may be, whether you had a city or a borough, would be rotated evenly, and I decided that it would be preferable to combine my amendments with his. It was not the intention that you could have aldermen serving in a township or anything of that nature.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, the amendments to Senate Bill 112 which the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones is offering, in which the traffic courts would be permitted to be established in boroughs and townships of the first class, we would like to favor these amendments and request that they be voted into the bill, Senate Bill 112.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the statement of the Majority Leader

I do not wish to prolong the debate, but it just so happens in my borough that we have 12 justices of the peace. This is a little unusual, most boroughs have only two, but we have 12. Three of them are Democratic, nine are Republican. It has been the practice for many years for the burgess of the community to designate only those justices of the peace to serve on a de facto traffic court which has no legal status, as suits his political fancy. I do not say this in derogation of the present burgess, but simply because that has been the rule.

If the bill stays the way it is, which is what Mr. Bowman would like, it would mean that the three Democrat justices of the peace would never get to serve, nor would anybody else who was out of favor with the incumbent burgess. While this might be pleasing to some of us, I hardly think that is good public policy.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly want to thank the gentleman. I did not want to bring that point out, but I appreciate very kindly the forthright statement and I think in this case we certainly should be fair, if the situation exists, as it would in many areas, I think it should be handled in just that situation rather than cutting out, whether it be Democrat or Republican, either one.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask that on our side the amendments to Senate Bill 112 be voted upon favorably.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I always hesitate to take issue with our Majority Leader, and while I sympathize with him in his espousal of those amendments extending the provisions of traffic court to townships of the first class and boroughs, I cannot help but agree with my colleague, Mr. Bowman, that it is a serious mistake if we attempt to include in this bill legislation making it mandatory to rotate the assignment in the traffic court among all the aldermen and justices of the peace in the respective municipalities.

It is quite true, as Mr. Bowman has pointed out, that while there are many competent and qualified aldermen and justices of the peace, by the same token there are some who are not. This is a step toward a greater efficiency and more effective enforcement of our traffic laws in our urban areas, and I think it would be a serious mistake if we would adopt the amendments in their totality.

May I ask the Speaker whether or not the amendments as offered are severable or are they all—if we intend to vote against the inclusion of the rotating system, must we perforce vote against the inclusion of first class townships and boroughs?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is advised that the amendments are not severable as drawn.

Mr. GAILEY. I feel that, therefore, Mr. Speaker, to be very regrettable, for I would like very much to vote for the extension of this, but I feel so strongly about the exclusion of the rotating system that I will be forced to vote against the amendment, and I would ask those other Members who feel as I do to vote with me against them.

Mr. BOWMAN. Just one or two words, Mr. Speaker.

I, too, favor the amendments insofar as extending the traffic court theory to the boroughs and townships. It puts one in a rather awkward and difficult position to be forced to vote against such legislation, such amendments, because of opposition to one portion of them.

I will only state that we have said much about home rule in this House. It is an old fashioned, much maligned term. This is an excellent opportunity to permit the elected officials who are responsible for the traffic court, who are responsible for its reputation to exercise home rule in the true sense of the term. Let us stop bantering about home rule and give it its true meaning.

Mr. Speaker, I will be satisfied with a division.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the amendments offered by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones. When the Vehicle Code was first written back, I believe, in the year 1929, it provided that all summary convictions in traffic cases be taken before the nearest available magistrate. That was done to correct the condition whereby the police might single out one magistrate and take them to him because he might be favorable to the prosecution.

I think these are good amendments, and insofar as the statement concerning home rule by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, every alderman in a third class city is a duly elected official, as is the mayor.

The gentleman said that some aldermen are better than others. I will grant him that. Possibly some mayors are better than others. This is a bill which extends home rule, keeps home rule, and the proposition offered by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, takes away home rule.

I ask the Members on both sides of this House to support the amendments offered by the gentleman from Montgomery.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, one hundred and eleven or more than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. T. H. W. JONES offered the following amenment:

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title by inserting after "class": "boroughs and townships, first class."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

NOT VOTING—8

Bell,	Haudenshield,	Moran,	Welsh,
Down,	McKeever,	Thompson,	Willard,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1297 on page 5 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1297, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 6, 1956 (P. L. 1414) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth creating Port Authorities to function in counties of the second class * * *" granting Port Authorities the exclusive right to engage in the business of owning operating and maintaining a transportation of persons in counties of the second class * * *.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, the background which led to the introduction of House Bill 1297, indicates that the problem of securing adequate transportation service in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County has been the subject of much study.

Beginning as early as 1909, studies were made because of the demand for proper public transportation. The matter has become very acute in the past ten years and the most recent studies began in 1949 and 1951 when studies were made by private agencies. As a result of the studies made by private agencies in 1949, in 1951 the Board of County Commissioners in May of 1952 appointed a mass transportation study committee, which made its report in May of 1953. Following the 1953 report, House Bill 179 was introduced in the Session of 1955, but this bill failed of passage.

In April of 1958 a report on the transportation problem of Allegheny County was made for the Allengheny Conference on Community Development by three experts in the field of public operation of transportation systems, the general managers of the Toronto Transit Commission, the Cleveland Transit System and the Chicago Transit Authority. This report was referred to the Board of County Commissioners, and the Board of County Commissioners then reactivated the Mass Transportation Study Committee in 1958. Although there were a number of changes in personnel, the compostion of the 1958 study committee was a broad-based representation similar to that of the 1953 study committee. The boroughs and townships were represented, the city of Pittsburgh was represented, there were representatives of labor, of the school system, of various civic organizations and citizens at large from all parts of the county.

In September, 1958, the Alleghny County Mass Transportation Study Committee made its findings and recommendations, following which the Commissioners appointed a legislative drafting committee to carry out the recommndations of the study committee. House Bill 1297 was drawn up by the Legislative Drafting Committee to carry out the recommendations of the study committee. It might be added that the recommendations of the study committee of 1953 and the study committee of 1958 were both unanimous.

The studies revealed that in addition to the Pittsburgh Railways Company there were some 34 bus lines operating in Allegheny County without coordination of services, schedules or fares. The committees found that no existing transit operator had either the financial ability or the power or desire to coordinate or expand the existing services into one integrated and unified system. The studies revealed that there was much duplication of mileage, and that each system understandably was preoccupied with its own financial condition.

The committees found that an efficient mass transportation system was essential to the economic and social well-being of all the citizens of Allegheny County, and that the present pattern of mass transportation in Allegheny County was not meeting the needs of the community now, nor would it meet the future needs of Allegheny County.

The committees also found that the county faced serious economic loss unless bold and forward-looking steps were taken.

As a result of the studies, the committees made recommendations which can be summed up basically as follows

1. That a unified, integrated mass transportation system was necessary.

2. That operation of such a system by an authority would best permit the most expeditious way of providing the solution.

3. That the authority acquire the existing transportation systems.

4. That the authority regulate competition in the county.

5. That the authority have power to fix fares and determine service patterns.

6. That the authority have the exclusive right to operate a transportation system in the county.

7. That the authority be tax exempt.

The committees found that the unification and integration of all the transportation systems in the county would be of benefit to all of the county because it would permit:

1. The replacement of a disjointed pattern of service.

2. The elimination of economic competition.

3. The correction of traveling through circuitous routes.

4. Enable outlying cross-community routings.

5. Development of new routes and adjustment of present routes.

6. Development of uniformity of fare structures.

7. The standardization of types of equipment, of standards of maintenance and uniformity of operating policies.

8. Experimentation with promotional types of fares.

The committees found that other proposed plans for speeding up existing mass transportation systems were inadequate. The plans generally intended to give the mass transportation systems preference in the use of the streets would mean abolition of parking restrictions, of loading and unloading merchandise and preferential control of traffic signals. The committees found that such proposals would be unsatisfactory, not economical and of no significant benefit.

House Bill 1297 is intended to cary out in general the recommendations of the study committees. This bill would direct an intelligent operating study of an integrated plan, estimates of acquisition costs, estimates of revenues and expenditures and financial feasibility, all of which the board of county commissioners would have before it when the matter is submitted to them for approval, and only after approval would the authority proceed to operate a mass transit system.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, further, we amended the bill yesterday to include a May referendum to give the commissioners the right to call a referendum of the electors, if the electors will clamor for it.

Members of the House, I ask you to support this very important bill to Allegheny County.

Mr. WALSH. At this time I wish to yield to Mr. Dennis Stevens from Allegheny County.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stevens.

Mr. STEVENS. Both sides of the House agreed to an amendment on House Bill 1297. It says in the amendment that the plans of the Allegheny County Transit Authority shall be submitted to county commissioners for approval by resolution or by referendum. It says nothing about the authority being submitted in a referendum to the people.

If a plan is not approved one week a new plan could be submitted the following week. This amendment just repeats what is in the bill on page 29 where the county commissioners have to approve the plans and procedures of the Allegheny County Port Authority.

Mr. Speaker, there are two sides to this bill. The first side is the people. The people of Allegheny County, if this Port Authority is created, will be obliged to pay for its deficit operation by direct taxation imposed upon them by the county commissioners.

Citizens and property owners of Allegheny County are now grasping a new assessment. They are now sweltering under the new rates of a sewer authority. I feel as though at this time if the Port Authority is established and operated under a deficit, which generally a new business is, that the citizens and taaxpayers of Allegheny County will have to foot the bill.

The second side of this story is this: Twenty-five or thirty years ago in Allegheny County, Pittsburgh Railways had the right of way, and had the transportation problem all their own, but by decreasing services, independent bus operators started their operation, and they built their businesses from two to three to four buses. Now some of them today have big businesses, and they have served their people well.

I say with this concrete evidence. I have here from my district 117 pieces of communication; 117 pieces in favor of the independent bus operators. Here are 16 letters, post cards and telegrams, communications, favoring the mass transit authority. Now I am going to represent my people in my county. Here is a sample of 117 and a sample of 16.

Insofar as mass transit authorities in the United States go, it has been proven, a stated fact, that New York operates their transit authority with a $90 million subsidy from the city government. In Chicago, the Chicago Transit Apthority is now moving out into Cook County, and they are requesting a cent gasoline tax be paid to the transit authority by the State of Illinois. They are also getting $5 million in subsidy from the city of Chicago.

Mr. Speaker, I believe this is evidence enough that the taxpayers of Allegheny County don't need a rapid transit authority at this time.

Mr. WALSH. I wish to yield to Mr. Filo of Allegheny County.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, while I have been hesitant to endorse the mass transit plan, with the inclusion of the new amendments to the bill yesterday I can see no reason why any Member of this House should object to voting for the mass transit bill.

I will say that I was right when I voted for a referendum. These new amendments allow the county commissioners in Allegheny County, if they wish or if they see fit, to see that a referendum should be held.

In answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stevens, this bill is laid in the hands of the county commissioners. The understanding I have of this legislation is that this bill cannot move, this trasit bill or mass transit system in Allegheny County cannot function unless approved by the county commissioners of Allegheny, or if they see fit to hold a referendum and the people would decide. I understand and I am led to believe that not one penny of money shall be given to the authority before approval is made by the county commissioners. I am cognizant of the fact that we in Allegheny County have had over the years the most capable commissioners in the state and I feel that the future commissioners, and there maybe new ones, will do a just job on this mass transit bill.

Mr. WALSH. I rise in opposition to House Bill 1297.

First, I am not fully convinced that this bill will do what the proponents say it will do.

Second, I do not think the people of Allegheny County can afford such an expensive luxury at this time.

There are a lot of things in the bill that I do not understand and no one has ever come out to explain to my satisfaction just what they mean.

On page 9, Section 13:

> The term 'transportation system' shall mean all property, real and personal, useful for the transportation of passengers for hire, including but not limited to power plants, substations, terminal garages, bridges, tunnels, subways, monorails, railroad motive power trains, railroad passenger cars and equipment belt conveyors, inclines, car barns, street cars, buses, rails, lines, poles, wires, off-street parking facilities as well as the franchises, rights and licenses therefor. Provided that such term shall not include taxicabs or bus companies the main purpose of which is the transportation of children to and from school.

What I would like to know is what is going to happen to our parking authority garages? Our Parking Authority of Allegheny County tore down a garage that belonged to the Kaufmann department store, and in its place it built two garages at a cost of $5,750,000. These two garages accommodate, one, 500 cars, and the other, 835. The Kaufmann's store has pledged to pay off the principal and interest on these bonds from the parking revenue in a period of 40 years. Of course, there are some stores in there that are also included. Income from the parking meters of the City of Pittsburgh is pledged to guarantee these bonds.

They are also building another large garage, a parking garage, on Sixth Street for Horne's. This will accommodate 650 cars. These garages also have storerooms on the first or street floors. This garage will cost $3,750,000.

There is also another large garage on Third Street. I do not have the figures on that, but it costs in the millions.

What is going to happen to them? If this mass transit bill becomes a law and the garages do not pay, will the taxpayers have to pick up the tab for these bonds?

Then there is the question of the privately owned automobile drivers, if the drivers come into Pittsburgh. In 1955 there were in Allegheny County 417,375 licensed passenger cars and 72,268 commercial vehicles. In 1956 the number was increased to 439,352 passenger cars and 74,352 commercial vehicles. In 1957 we had another rise to 448,172 pasesnger cars and 74,939 commercial vehicles, and in this last year, 1958, their tabulation now over in the Revenue Department showed 458,262 passenger cars. I do not have the figures on the commercial vehicles. But in the last four years there has been an increase of 40,887 cars licensed in Allegheny County.

What is to become of these automobiles? Are we going to put a ring around the city of Pittsburgh and say they cannot come in there? I do not think that is the purpose. And how are you going to tell John Q. Public that he is not allowed to drive his car into the city of Pittsburgh? This is a serious problem.

Now in Section 6, page 15, it gives the authority the right to an executive secretary, a legal staff, technical agents and experts and employes as it may require. This is a blank check. What is it going to cost? What will be the salaries of this excutive secretary; how big a legal staff and how many experts will they decide? What will they be paid? This is vital to the taxpayers of Allegheny County and they should know.

Remember if this authority operates in the red, the county commissioners must subsidize it with our funds or there will be no transportation at all in Allegheny County. Remember just recently when the Pittsburgh Railways was on strike for some 56 days, where would we have been in Allegheny County if it had not been for privately owned bus owners? Now we are kicking these independent bus operators in the teeth. What has become of private enterprise? What is happening to these privately-owned bus companies could happen to any of you gentlemen's private business. The radio, television and newspapers have given a lot of free publicity to this bill. What would they say if a bill were to be introduced to take over all these media of news? God forbid that that would ever happen, and I will guarantee that I will work just as hard to defeat a bill of that type as I am working to defeat this frankenstein we are now creating in Allegheny County.

I could spend the rest of the week picking this bill apart but I want to be fair to you ladies and gentlemen and not infringe too much on your valuable time, but this is the most important piece of legislation affecting the people of Allegheny County that I have been called upon to vote for or against in my four terms in this Legislature.

I am not pleased that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission is ignored under the provisions of this bill. They are our watch dogs. They are equipped with research personnel and all the facilities for checking rates, schedules and what have you. I understand that in this biennium we are appropriating $3,981,957 to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. Is or is it not doing the job? If it is not, let us abolish the Commission and save this $3,981,957.

Then there is the constitutionality of this bill. Will it stand up in our courts? The framers of this bill must have had their doubts about this, otherwise why the severability amendment introduced yesterday?

I have in my possession resolutions, telegrams, letters, from the Allegheny County Burgesses Association, the Allegheny County Boroughs Association, the Pennsylvania State Burgesses and Boroughs Associations opposing this mass transit bill, also from the various cities and boroughs and townships in the Mon-Yough Valley, Allegheny County League of Women Voters, various independent bus operator unions, union members of the American Federation of Labor, local CIO unions and thousands of citizens, all opposed to this mass transit bill. They all want answers to the same questions I am asking, what will it cost; what will it do?

In concluison, I want to specifically state why I am opposed to House Bill 1297. When this bill was first introduced it was a six-headed monster. After some opposition and study, amendments were introduced and passed that removed two of these heads I have reference to when you put this authority under the direct responsibility of the county commissioners. The monster still has four heads. These amendments I refer to are on page 29, Section 13.1.

Two weks ago I asked that this bill be submitted to the voters of Allegheny County for their approval or disapproval. Since they are going to pay the costs, they should be allowed to have their say as to what taxes they can bear at the present time. I am keeping in mind that Allegheny County is burdened with a costly County Sanitary Authority. We are told that it is going to cost about $12 per year per family, and the last I heard it is ranging anywhere from $20 in the city proper to somewhere as high as $75 in the county.

We are also faced with increased assessed valuation on real estate. Our Pittsburgh School District is badly in need of new money. We have to help them perhaps by an increase in real estate millage or a wage tax. Now this extra burden is being placed on them.

Incidentally, this authority will not pay taxes on anything, thereby depriving not only the county and the city of Pittsburgh but the surrounding boroughs and townships of taxes they are now collecting from the Pittsburgh Railways and independent bus companies. McKeesport alone will lose $7,500. When this money is taken off the tax load it has to be picked up some place else. John Q. Public pays it. How much more can he take?

The amendments introduced yesterday remove two more heads from this monster. I refer to the amendment that says the county commissioners may, after study, refer this mass transit plan to the voters of Allegheny County. This is a step in the right direction but it does not go far enough. It should be that the commissioners must refer this mass transit or port authority plan to the voters.

I have all the confidence in the world in the present board of county commissioners, but after January 1 we will have a new majority in the commissioner's office of Allegheny County. One of the members is not up for reelection. He refuses to run, or decided not to run.

I believe that if this House Bill 1297 were given more time and study, a little more thought, a little more kicking around, perhaps we could come up with a bill that we could all accept and live with, thus removing one of the other heads and making it a docile animal instead of a monster.

For the record, let me state that Allegheny County is not just the city of Pittsburgh. My legislative district comprises the twelve wards of the city of McKeesport. McKeesport is a third class city, the largest city in Allegheny County outside of Pittsburgh. It is the hub of a community of close to 300,000 people. We have no transportation problems in our city, neither do our neighbors. If we desire to go to Pittsburgh, the B & O Railroad has an air-conditioned commuter train that takes us into Pittsburgh in about 20 minutes at a cost of 57 cents each way. I ride this train regularly, and the schedule is such that no one is inconvenienced. Besides this B & O, we have regular schedules on the Pittsburgh Railways that takes about 55 minutes at a cost of 40 cents. We also have very good bus service. We are well content and satisfied.

We believe in home rule. We believe if Pittsburgh has a transportation problem, that is their baby. We sympathize with them but we do not feel we should be asked to help pay the cost of solving their problems.

We in McKeesport also have a problem. We have the B & O Railroad running right through the center of our city. It cuts the business district in half. We would love to get rid of this eyesore and inconvenience, but it is a luxury that we the taxpayers cannot afford at this time.

Now I am wondering whether the backers of this mass transit bill would vote to create an authority to remove our problems and let the rest of the county pick up the tab? I am afraid not.

I have some editorials here that I wish to be included for the record. I wish to thank the Speaker and the Members of this Assembly on both sides of the aisle for the courtesies extended to me and I sincerely hope that for the welfare of the taxpayers of Allegheny County that you vote "no" on House Bill 1297.

I ask a slow roll call and only those answering be recorded as voting.

DAILY NEWS EDITORIALS

'PEANUT POLITICIANS'

Now that the State Legislature has delayed a vote on the Allegheny County mass transit bill for two weeks, perhaps it is time to review some of the things which have been said and done in the attempt to ram this controversial measure through the General Assembly in Harrisburg.

The first thing to become clear early in the battle was that the proponents of the bill have absolutely no intention of permitting the people of Allegheny County to vote on the measure if they can help it. The only reason advanced so far for this attitude is that a referendum presentation would not enable the people to understand the complexities of the mass transit problem.

Even though they concede that public mass transit facilities may have to be subsidized with county tax money, they take the rather remarkable position that people intelligent enough to earn the money that pays these taxes are not alert enough to decide whether they need improved mass transit facilities and, if so, whether public ownership is the answer to the problem.

Somehow, we cannot believe that those behind the transit proposal hold the people of Allegheny County in that sort of contempt. It is much easier to believe they know full well the voters who elected them to office are perfectly capable of deciding what sort of transit system they want. It would appear to be the result of that decision they fear.

Instead, they seek a showdown on a measure which affects Allegheny County alone in the State Legislature in Harrisburg. There, the bill will be debated and acted upon by Assemblymen and State Senators from all over Pennsylvania—men who, for the most part, are capable and well-versed in government but who care little about or have little real knowledge of the situation in Allegheny County. It seems more than passing strange, for instance, that while the Allegheny County delegation is split over the need for this transit bill, the Philadelphia delegation—34 strong and controlled by Congressman William Green, Democratic party boss in that community—is convinced unanimously the measure should pass. As a matter of fact, these votes were pledged to the bill before it was brought to the floor of the House for debate.

These then are some of the votes the backers of the measure are depending on for support. Even though no state funds are involved in the public ownership and operation of mass transit facilities in Allegheny County, these are the men the backers of the bill feel are better qualified to decide the future of the county's transit system than the people who live here and will have to pick up the tab for the public transport system if it operates in the red, as many such systems across the country are doing.

This admiration for the ability of State Legislators to decide this question in Harrisburg does not, of course, extend to all members of the General Assembly. Only to those who favor the measure. Those who have the audacity to oppose the wishes of the proponents of County-wide mass transit are termed "peanut politicians" and pictured as a group of country bumpkins who have failed to keep up with the times and whose opinions on the transit bill are hardly worthy of serious consideration.

It is high time everyone realizes these so-called "peanut politicians" are elected by and represent hundreds of thousands of Allegheny County residents who apparently are satisfied with their performance since they return many of them to office time after time. It might be pointed out too that these same people have, in most cases, done a better job of running their own local affairs than some of those who are so quick to criticize them.

If public ownership of mass transit is needed for the future growth and development of Allegheny County as a whole, and there are many who question that premise, then the people of the county are capable of recognizing that and doing something about it.

Why not let them decide the issue instead of Legislators from distant parts of the state whose interest in returning political favors and log rolling for their own pet legislation is a lot higher than their interest in the future of Allegheny County?

THE NEW DRIVE

A new campaign has been hastily-launched in Pittsburgh to compel the State Legislature to do something which it obviously does not want to do —create a mass transit authority for Allegheny County.

A hard-core resistance to this proposal has come from Allegheny County legislators themselves—men whose homes are outside the city limits of Pittsburgh and fear the transit measure as an intrusion on the rights of their constituents.

The new drive is aimed at them and the method resorted to by the Pittsburgh advocates is reprehensible. They plan to shout up the Authority as necessary and enlightened and then induce the voters, many not informed on the matter, to apply political pressure.

It is not odd that those in the van of this new movement are those who, at other times, are promoting all the various schemes to "metropolitanize" the county in the furtive hope that, by this means, they may shove the cost of correcting Pittsburgh's problems on the county as a whole.

These people do not deal in facts. Rather, they deal in generalities as though Pittsburgh's troubles are general troubles and that, generally, all of us must participate in their solution. But there are facts, nevertheless, and we hereby cite a few of them.

Pittsburgh, as of now, does not lack public transportation. Street cars and buses run on regular schedule in and out of the Golden Triangle and throughout the city's residential areas. Three railroads empty passengers daily into Pittsburgh's downtown business districts. Taxicabs are everywhere and readily available.

So how would a county authority, owning the bus and trolley lines and operating them as a unit, provide any more in the way of public transportation than Pittsburgh has now? We doubt if a bus or street car is needed badly anywhere at any time and is not provided for transit companies are hunting business. This is not Pittsburgh's transportation problem.

The problem is one that, through high cost, underlying franchises and a host of other difficulties, has made it impossible for Pittsburgh's transit facilities to charge low enough fares. This happens to be the problem in most other big cities in this expensive age. But, in Pittsburgh, it is not being met at the source. Rather, the effort is to unload an unprofitable Pittsburgh utility onto all the taxpayers of the county.

It is particularly unfair to us in McKeesport. We have no such problem, chiefly because we did not permit it to develop here. Our bus lines adequately serve the public. There are few, if any, complaints. So why should we be compelled by legislative action to surrender our satisfactory system to a county authority in order to accept part of the cost burden of improving Pittsburgh's system?

It is being said, in the new campaign to bowl over the reluctant legislators, that the Pittsburgh problem must be solved—"and solved soon"—to keep that city's "central core" from strangling and decaying. So what does a strangling and decaying central core in Pittsburgh mean to us in McKeesport? We're already at work eradicating our own strangled and decayed central core.

But they answer that, unless Pittsburgh's decay is arrested, it will spread to "outlying communities which owe so much of their very existence to the health of the central city." In this statement, we see revealed the meaning of it all. These are the words of the collectivists—the metropolitanizers who despise home rule and want us all bunched together so we can be regimented and ruled by centralized power.

We intend to fight the mass transit proposal on these grounds mainly. And, in doing so, we mean to continue pointing out one telling and fundamental fact about us. We are not just an "outlying community" to Pittsburgh. We are a self-contained, less problem-beleaguered community than Pittsburgh—the hub of a very busy and progressive area of our own. We do not owe our existence in any way to the city of Pittsburgh. And we would be even better off, and a lot less threatened, if Pittsburgh and her troubles were at the other side of the state.

WHY NOT VOTE?

The Allegheny County Mass Transit Bill is out of committee and on its way through the State Legislature. The measure, designed to empower the County Port Authority to acquire and operate all the independent transit systems in Allegheny County, is expected to come to a vote on the floor of the Legislature this week and there appears to be little doubt that it will be passed.

Even as McKeesport Assemblyman John T. Walsh fought to rally last-ditch opposition to the bill, he conceded that "it looks like it has enough steam to pass." From there, it is expected to move through the State Senate on its way to being signed into law by Governor Lawrence.

So it appears now that Pittsburgh's transportation problems will be solved by the creation of another government monopoly financed at least in part by tax money which all the people of Allegheny County must pay.

The interest of the County Commissioners in creating a mass transit authority is understandable. They have been told by various study groups that only through such a government agency can the county's transit problems be solved. It is a little difficult for those of us who live in the McKeesport district to understand just what transit problems must be solved in such a hurry. We have no difficulty here so we must assume that these "problems" occur in Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh is the largest of four cities in Allegheny County so it is logical and proper that the Commissioners be concerned about and attempt to solve any problems which they sincerely feel affect the welfare of the people of the County. We happen to disagree with the Commissioners on the seriousness of the problem on a county-wide basis but we can understand their concern and determination to try to solve what they believe is a matter vital to the continued growth and prosperity of Allegheny County.

But we cannot understand their reluctance to have the people of Allegheny County express their opinion at the polls on the need for a mass transit authority. Attempts to have the bill submitted to the voters for approval or rejection in the November election have been hammered down in committee and on the floor of the Legislature. The Commissioners yesterday said they intend to take the word of the study groups on the need for the transit authority rather than submit what they termed a "complex problem" to the people for a decision.

We feel the Commissioners are selling the voters of Allegheny County a little short when they say the mass transit problem is something too complicated for them to understand and vote on intelligently.

Last year, the Commissioners themselves submitted a $55,190,000 bond issue to the people for approval. The issue was broken down into three parts and the voters were asked to approve the sale of $39,755,000 worth of bonds to finance highway, bridge and tunnel construction, $10,435,000 for airport and park improvements and $5,000,000 for the purchase of voting machines.

The same people who now are termed incapable of understanding mass transit problems apparently had no difficulty understanding the bond issue referendum. On election day they approved the first two sections of the program and turned down the proposal to purchase new voting machines. That would seem to indicate they understood a complicated financial program last year well enough to vote for what they felt was needed and turn down what they felt was unnecessary.

Yesterday in the Assembly, Walter T. Kamyk, a Democratic Representative from Pittsburgh, described a vote by the people on matters such as these as "a weapon of special interest groups." That's the first time we've ever heard a democratic election in America described in those terms.

The people of Allegheny County may be considered a "special interest group" worthy of little consideration by Mr. Kamyk. But since they pick up the tab for everything that is undertaken by government, including Mr. Kamyk's salary, we feel they are a special interest group which has the right to express an opinion at the polls on matters of such far-reaching importance as the creation of a county-wide mass transit authority.
